Cancer Society has Daffodil Days in TRF

Daffodils, the American Cancer society's flower of hope, will be available March 18-20 in Thief River Falls. The colorful yellow blossoms signal the arrival of spring and the continued efforts toward a world free of cancer.

Brought fresh from West Coast fields, the daffodils are delivered to locations throughout the state by volunteer fliers of the Minnesota Chapter of the 99's and by truckers such as Mohawk/United Van Lines and Hutchinson Transport.

"The daffodils, among the first flowers to bloom in the spring, represent the magic of life," said Maxine McEwen, co-chair with Sylvia Grindley of the Daffodil sale in Thief River Falls. "They are a perfect symbol to help people of the important work that takes place because of their support."

Local volunteers will play a crucial role in distributing an expected two million flowers throughout Minnesota. Proceeds from the 13th annual event will benefit cancer research, education and service and rehabilitation programs in the community.

The flowers are sold in bunches of 10 for a suggested donation of $4. On March 18, 19 and 20 the flowers will be sold locally at Northland Foods, Kmart, Pamida, Northern State Bank, Norwest Bank and Falls Mall.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Changes I Would Make

All we hear about lately is politics, politics, politics. I'm already tired of it and we still have eight more months to go before the election.

All I've been hearing are nasty things about the candidates. The Democrats are, naturally, saying nasty things about the Republicans, and, naturally, vice-versa. All right, I'll admit this Democrat-bashing-Republican and Republican-bashing-Democrat is pretty normal for an election year, and we expect some of it.

But this year this nasty stuff has gotten out of hand. Not only are the Democrats saying nasty things about the Republicans, but they are also saying nasty things about their fellow Democrats. Besides that, the Republicans have also gotten in on it and are saying nasty things about their fellow candidates, too.

I think our political system needs some drastic revamping, and I think I know how to do it.

How about a law that says if the candidate can't say something nice about his fellow candidate, he can't say anything at all. I bet that would shut them all up for a while. Just think how pleasant it would be to hear the candidates saying nice things about one another. After a while, I bet they would get really good at it, too.

Another thing, candidates are beginning to drop out of the race because they have no more money for their campaigns. It appears to me that the man with the most rich friends who can give him money for his campaign is going to get the vote. How did this come to be?

I thought this was America, where anybody could become president, money or not. Silly me. I always thought the president was chosen because he was the best man for the job, not because he had the most money to spend on campaigning.

I have a solution for this problem, too. How about allotting every political candidate a certain amount of money for his campaign. I think everybody who wants to run for president should get one year's minimum wage salary, somewhere around $10,000. Wouldn't that be perfect?

Just think, the candidates could learn to budget and manage on less like the rest of the country. Just think, no more campaign ads on television, or in newspapers and magazines, no more fund-raising banquets and speeches. Just think what a good person we might elect, one who really knew how to manage money and could actually do something about the deficit.

One more little thing about this presidential election, all through this column I have talked about "him" and "he" and the "man." So...did you think I forgot about the women?

Once more considering the fact that this is America, where anyone can become president, WHY NOT WOMEN PRESIDENTIAL CANDIDATES?

When it comes right down to it, women are very good at many of the things a president has to do, aren't they? Think about it.

Women are great at peacekeeping, negotiating, mediating and refereeing. They do it every day when they are taking care of their families.

Women are also great at taking care of money. They can stick to a budget and still feed, clothe and take care of the medical needs of a family. They could do the same for the nation.

Women can be utterly gracious and charming, even under duress. In fact, haven't we all noticed that the more stress, the sweeter a woman's smile? Just think, no more Capital Hill squabbles if a woman were in charge, because she would just smile and charm all of those senators and representatives right out of their bad moods.

Gee, maybe with a woman president, there would be no more wars. Someone charming in the White House could surely persuade all of those crabby kings and presidents to quit fighting with one another, couldn't she?

Mildred Splittstoesser, 88

Thief River Falls — Mildred Splittstoesser, 88, died March 4 at the Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held March 9 at the Belmont Funeral chapel with Rev. D. Josh Nelson officiating. Special music was provided by Grace Hammer. Interment was in the Union cemetery in Maplewood. The Belmont Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mildred M. Faimen was born Feb. 14, 1904 at Thief River Falls, the daughter of Julius and Marie (Vlasek) Faiman. During the summer of 1904 the family moved to Agdar township, Marshall county. She completed eight years of elementary school at District 159 (the Busy Beehive school) in Agdar township. She attended Holt high school and Lincoln high school, graduating in 1924. She worked as a beautician in Chicago and later at the Fabarage company in St. Paul, retiring in 1959. She was married to Carl Splittstoesser in St. Paul. He died in September 1964.

She is survived by five sisters: Florence Faimen, Frances Rhude, Anna Nygaard Olson and Julia Alexander, all of Thief River Falls and Alica Johnson of Alma, MI.

She was preceded in death by her husband; her parents; two brothers and two sisters.

Ralph Hamlin, 63

Thief River Falls — Ralph I. Hamlin, 63, died March 2 at his home in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held March 7 at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Crookston. Interment was in the Calvary cemetery at Crookston. The Stenshoel-Houske Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Ralph I. Hamlin was born Nov. 24, 1928 near Mahnomen, the son of Felix and Susan (Kopel) Hamlin. He grew up in the Twin Lakes area near Mahnomen and attended school there. In 1948 he moved to New Jersey and worked as a gravel truck driver for 15 years. On Mar. 9, 1950 he was united in marriage to Marion Bircher in Wall, NJ. The couple moved to Crookston in 1962. He worked on the construction of the Mount St. Benedict school in Crookston and on jobs at the Grand Forks air base. They left Crookston in 1963 and moved near Thief River Falls. He worked as an engineer in the Land O'Lakes processing plant in Thief River Falls from 1975 to 1985, when he retired.

He is survived by his wife; seven sons: Robert of Barnesville, Ralph Jr. of Colton, CA, Richard of Lebanoa, OR, David of Pequot Lakes, James of Corona, CA, Les of Sioux Falls, SD and Michael of Thief River Falls; four daughters: Mrs. Tom (Patricia) Doyea of Crookston, Mrs. Ray (Susan) Thorsoo of Moorhead, Mrs. Bruce (Lynn) Hodgson of Gentilly and Jeanne Brinkmen of Thief River Falls; 31 grandchildren; one great-grandchild; three sisters: Dorothy Thompson of White Bear Lake, Margaret Valley of Crookston and Mrs. Jim (Rosalie) Fey of Twin Valley; and two brothers: Felix of Fisher, IA and Ronald of Crookston.

He was preceded in death by his parents; one brother, Lester; and an infant sister.

Hagen donations helped 19 students

Donations by Mrs. Eunice Hagen and the late Delmar Hagen of Gatzke to the Sue Stigen scholarship loan fund at Northwest Medical center have assisted 19 students with pursuing their career goals toward becoming Licensed Practical Nurses or Registered Nurses at the Thief River Falls Technical college or Northland Community college.

The fund was established by Mr. and Mrs. Hagen because of the quality of care shown by Sue Stigen, an LPN at the medical center, toward Delmar and many other medical center patients.

"Mrs. Hagen's most recent contribution assures that many more students will benefit from the scholarship loan fund and from the caring qualities that Sue Stigen shared with many patients at Northwest Medical Center," states Michael D. Parker, director of human resources at the medical center.

Dear Readers,

Often we hear a bereaved person say, 'I can't believe it!' But we must believe it before we can learn to bear it. Viewing the body in the casket helps a family face the reality of death. It is an important step toward 'believing' and 'accepting'. Many families find comfort in moments spent quietly with the physical remains. This is a painful time, but also an important beginning toward healthful mourning.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Larry Belmont

Marshall county restrictions on roads start soon

Effective date of road restrictions on all Marshall county roads will be concurrent with the placement of restrictions on trunk highways in the area, according to the Marshall county highway department. Updates concerning placement of restrictions by the state are available by calling 612-297-2093.

Restriction limits are based on gross axle weight which includes the weight of the vehicle and the load it carries. Erection of signs on any highway governs the effective date of the restriction. As long as signs remain in place, restrictions are in effect.

No permits will be issued for overweight axle loads exceeding legal or posted axle weights.

During the period when signs are in place, any county or town gravel road is restricted to five tons gross weight per axle. If signs are erected, the restrictions as indicated on the signs shall govern. If no signs are erected, the five-ton gross weight restriction will apply.

Most rural bituminous county state aid highways (CSAH) will be posted at seven tons gross weight per axle. Exceptions posted at nine tons include the following:

CSAH 1 from CSAH 3 to CSAH 4; CSAH 4 from CSAH 38 to CSAH 28; CSAH 7 from TH 59 to TH 32; CSAH 13 from CSAH 5 to the Kittson county line; CSAH 14 from CSAH 3 to CSAH 38; CSAH 26 from CSAH 27 to the Kittson county line; CSAH 27 from CSAH 1 to CSAH 26; CSAH 28 north from CSAH 4 to TH 59; CSAH 28 east from CSAH 4 to TH 32; CSAH 36 from Polk county line to CSAH 14; and CSAH 38 from CSAH 14 to CSAH 4.

The following bituminous county state aid highways located within corporate city limits and segments of selected highways are designated as nine-ton roads:

CSAH 28, Newfolden; CSAH 56, Alvarado; CSAH 57, Argyle; CSAH 58, Grygla; CSAH 60, Middle River; CSAH 61, Oslo; CSAH 62, Stephen; CSAH 63, Strandquist; and CSAH 64, Warren.

Three animals available

Thief River Falls animal pound has three animals being held in the animal pound.

Each animal will be kept for a minimum of five days from the date of impoundment. Animals may be claimed by owners who prove ownership. Pound fees, license fees and any other expense incurred by the department will be assessed prior to release.

The following animals are being held in the police animal pound: an apricot poodle, caught February 8 at Oakland Park; a black cat caught February 29 at 3223 North Tindolph; and a female coltie cross caught March 9.

For more information contact the Thief River Falls police department at 681-6161.

Sister Mardelle Mohs and Valerie Larson put the final touches on a pizza. They were among the many volunteers last week who helped make pizzas for a St. Bernard's Catholic church fund-raiser. About 7,100 pizzas were made during two days. This is the 10th year the church has held the fund-raiser.

Conferences on Agriculture set

Farmers and researchers will discuss environmentally sound farming practices that increase farm profits at four March sustainable agriculture conferences.

The "Agricultural Choices" conference workshops will cover mechanical and reduced chemical weed management, integrated pest management, manure management, intensive rotational grazing, conservation tillage, cover crops and fertility management. Information booths will highlight on-farm demonstrations that help reduce energy.

The conferences are: March 10 at the Kahler Hotel in Rochester; March 11 at the Sunwood In Convention Center in St. Cloud; March 17 at Mount St. Benedict Center in Crookston, and; March 19 at the Best Western in Marshall.

Registration begins at 9 a.m. The workshops and exhibits will be open until 4 p.m. The $10 per person, and $15 per couple registration fee includes lunch and informational materials.

For more information contact Mary Hanks at (612) 296-7673.

Roseau library exhibits work

Original pencil drawings and framed prints by Hallock artist Rock Bakken are featured in March at the Roseau public library. The library is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Friday, until 8 p.m. Thursday and Sunday from 2 to 4:30 p.m.

Bakken's work includes wildlife scenes, farm animals, old buildings and other outdoor scenes. He has limited his work primarily to pencil drawings and does his own framing, selecting neutral mats and dark frames to accent the black and white drawings.

His favorite drawing, which will be on display, is a large drawing of a woods scene with several deer that took him nearly 100 hours to complete.

At their regular 7 p.m. meeting March 19, Let's Look at Art participants will discuss the Bakken exhibit and basic elements of design in four prints by a noted illustrator of children's books.

Boy Scout council chops its budget

Northern Lights Boy Scout council is planning for budget changes that will have an approximately $160,000 impact on its operations for 1992, according to Dean Ertel, scout executive. Scouts in the Thief River Falls area are served by the Northern Lights council.

Changes planned are projected to cut $102,000 off the top of the 1991 actual expenses while a special effort will be made to raise an additional $58,000 in new "Friends of Scouting" money from across the council. Among major efforts will be the closing of a 321-acre camp and exploring the possibility of offering it for sale.

Ertel summarized the situation as follows:

The Northern Lights council served 13,636 youth and nearly 5,000 volunteers in 1991. Council territory covers all of North Dakota, two counties in Montana, two counties in South Dakota and 18 counties in western Minnesota.

Over the past 10 years the council has attempted to adjust to a changing financial climate that has forced the council to cut its professional staff from 18 to 12, making it very difficult to serve one of America's largest councils in geographic area.

One trend has seen the traditional "Friends of Scouting" campaign (families of Scouts, community and business supporters) being maintained at a consistent level while the overall level of United Way and Community Fund giving (35 council-wide) has decreased by 26 per cent over the past 10 years. As the United Ways add more needy agencies, the pie get smaller. We hope this trend is changing in that a number of United Ways have begun to increase their support in 1991 and we hope this will continue in 1992.

The council executive board, having reviewed the financial status of the council, has decided to make some major changes affecting the 1992 operating budget:

(1) The council has two major camps. Metigoshe is a 321-acre, year-around camp on Lake Metigoshe just north of Metigoshe State Park near Bottineau, ND. Wilderness is a 2,400-acre, year-around camp just north of Park Rapids. Wilderness serves a much larger number of youth (2,283 in 1991), therefore operating $116 in the black in 1991 while Metigoshe (545 campers in 1991) ended the year with a $33,000 loss.

In order to try to make ends meet and reduce the council deficit, the board decided to close Metigoshe Scout Reservation as of March 31, 1992. An extra week of camp will be added at Camp Wilderness to help make room for units that wish to transfer to Wilderness for camping.

(2) The council properties committee will evaluate all council properties and make a recommendation to the board listing the properties that the council cannot afford to keep.

(3) The council will actively explore the feasibility of selling Metigoshe Scout Reservation.

(4) Any revenue from property sales will be used for debt reduction up to the total amount of debt. The remainder will be placed in a council trust fund.

(5) Due to a lack of funds, we will not be able to replace at this time the Frontier Trails District executive in Bismarck, ND, or the Flickertail District executive in Jamestown, ND. To try to service this territory until funds are available to hire replacements, the assistant scout executive will serve the Bismarck/Mandan area and the district director in Fargo will serve the Jamestown/Valley City service area. The council executive will also help.

(6) In order to save money in 1992 we will need to temporarily close the Bismarck area scout office and reduce the Minot and Grand Forks area scout offices to part time. The Minot and Grand Forks offices are open part time due to a large volume of use, the Minot office processes all the youth and adult registrations on the western side of the council and we own the Grand Forks office. New office hours and information will be mailed to scout units by mid-March to assist volunteers in obtaining awards and other program items.

(7) The council will not be able to replace the Honker District aide position in Devils Lake, ND. The district will be divided, with the Bisbee/Devils Lake area being served by the Grand Forks scout office and the Lake Agassiz district, Grand Forks, ND. The Harvey/Rugby, ND, area west will be served by the Minot, ND, scout office and the Tomahawk District, Minot.

The changes will effectively cut $102,000 right off the top of the 1991 actual expenses. This, plus raising an additional $58,000 in new "Friends of Scouting" money from across the council in 1992, will give the Northern Lights council a chance to operate in the black in 1992.

The council is also running a low-key capital campaign this winter in an effort to raise funds to make major repairs at camp, reduce the council debt, build a trust fund for scouting and to try to ensure that our large rural council can continue to serve rural Minnesota/North Dakota along with out major population centers.

People with questions can call Dean Ertel, scout executive, at (701) 293-5011. The Northern Lights council is a United Way agency.

Attending a dairy meeting from Monday till Thursday at the Land O'Lakes Convention Center in Minneapolis, were Milton and Janice Peterson, Ervin and Lucille Weiss, Jerry and Carol Gerardy and Lloyd and Wavell Sorenson.

Lt. Col. Ingvold Berg

Lt. Col. Ingvold Berg, retired U.S. Air Force, passed away at his home in Gig Harbor, WI, on February 16, 1992, at the age of 73 years. He was born at Badger, the sixth son of Peter and Marie Sunderlund Berg. He attended and graduated from the LaFayette High School in Red Lake Falls and attended the University of Minnesota, where he earned a Bachelor of Science degree. He later earned a Masters Degree in Education. He taught High School Math, and Industrial Arts, and other classes for twenty years. In World War II he enlisted in the U.S. Air Force, and received his wings at a Texas Air Force base. He flew a transport plane in the Indo-China, Burma Theatre, flying missions over the Himalaya Mountains. He is survived by his wife Viola (Gruys) Berg, and a son and wife, Bruce and Janet, and two grandchildren. He is also survived by brothers, Phillip, and wife Lillian, of Eugene OR, Lloyd, and wife Barbara, of Anchorage, AK, and a sister, Clara Hesse of Plummer. He was preceded in death by his parents, and three brothers, Joseph, Conrad and Henry.

Saturday dinner guests of Art and Avis Frolland were Daryl and Leona Sorenson of Stillwater, Muriel and Vernon Thomas of East Grand Forks, and Mary Thomas and Mike Burback of Aberdeen, SD. Afternoon guests were Corlan Magnell, Bob Kleinschmitz of Hutchinson, Lloyd and Wavel Sorenson, Sheila, Mallory and Brett Gerardy, Becky, Trisha and Todd Willett, and Rick, Arlene and Jerilee Frolland. The out-of-towners were also guests of the Sorenson brothers.

Della Rewertz, Gladys Roston and Gary Hofius left Tuesday for Rochester, where Gladys had a check-up at the clinic. They also visited with Clayton, Jackie Moen and family, and George and Irene Bourdon. (Mrs. Bourdon was the former Irene Hegga of Plummer). They returned Thursday.

Tuesday supper guests of Bunny DuChamp were Bertha Hughes and Edna Hyde.

Sympathy goes out to Bud and Jim Zimple on the death of their aunt, Melvina Gagner, of Red Lake Falls.

Guests at Idella Rewertz Sunday were Paul and Ruth Wilkens, Donny, Sherrie and Sheila Rewertz, the Barry Rewertz family and Terry Rewertz family, Oscar and Blanche Brown of Thief River Falls, Lorette Hesse and Gladys Roston.

Mrs. Gertie Haugen of Goodridge, and Mrs. Tony Blaine of Grygla, came Saturday with their sister, Bunny DuChamp. The ladies enjoyed dinner at Third Base, also there, and a dinner guest was Bunny's daughter, Kathy DuChamp of Thief River Falls.

Lawson and Jessie Paton of Niche, ND, came down on Friday and spent the weekend with Edna Hyde. Also there for the weekend was Denny Hyde of Bad Medicine, Roger Hyde and Gert Marty, were also Sunday guests.

Wednesday supper guests of Ruth and Paul Wilkens were Heidi and Terry Rewertz, Dennis and Sherry Wilkens, Lillie Halvorson and Rev. Bob Schurr.

The Phantom of the Opera and Les Miserables presented by the Twin River group, will be at the Plummer school gym at 7 p.m. on March 14, to entertain those that weren't able to attend this production when it was in Red Lake Falls. Lunch between shows will be served to those in attendance. See you there!

Wavell Sorenson visited with Emilie Skjerven on Monday, and enjoyed seeing Emilies' pretty quilts that she is making.

Our little birds are house cleaning their little bird house, and guess where they are depositing their garbage? On my front step! Do you suppose they are telling me something—like March is the time to house clean???

Plummer Senior Citizens Meet March 18!

The Plummer Senior Citizens will meet at the Plummer Hall on Wednesday March 18, for their March dinner, which will be served by the last half of the alphabet furnishing the food. The program committee has been busy lining up some interesting entertainment which I'm sure will be rib-tickling for one and all. Effie Vigstol will tell us of her "Fun in the Sun." We will have a special drawing and special prizes, so come "wearing green" as all good Irish people do, and get your name in the "green bucket." Remember there will be two gifts for wearing green, one for a lady and the other for a man. Let's break the record and have a great crowd. Remember March is peanut month, and lots have a nutty good time.

The Plummer Snowmobile Club held their annual supper for its members, and landowners of its area trails, on February 29, at the Plummer Legion club with a good turn out. Winners of the prizes were Jon Burns, who won a helmet, hat winners were Theresa Mattison, Rodney Duden and Steve Roston.

Bertha Hughes, Gertie Marty and Edna Hyde attended the March meeting of the Holly-Hock Homemakers club, at the Sue Hagge home at Brooks. Bertha conducted the business meeting. Sue called roll and secretary's report, and had a quiz on "How well do you know your Presidents?" Dianne Gagner gave the treasurer's report, and both were accepted. Lorna Neilson, a guest, also joined our group so Welcome, Lorna. Following adjournment we made fabric Easter eggs, under Sue's supervision, and Sue served lunch to the nine members present. The April meeting will be at LaDonne Steinkopf's home on April 7, with LaDonne and Dianne in charge of the craft.

Russell Sorenson of Roseau, visited Sunday with the Sorenson brothers.

one or more times a month. However, when Roseau respondents were asked what was their second most shopped in town, 32 per cent replied "Grand Forks" as opposed to 19 per cent who listed Thief River Falls. The Roseau figure is significantly larger.

"A question on outshopping household expenditures by merchandise category, showed that it is two to three times greater in Grand Forks than in Thief River Falls. For example, whereas almost 25 per cent of sampled households spent between 31 and 100 per cent of women's clothing dollars in Grand Forks, only six per cent spent the same percentage in Thief River Falls. In men or boy's clothing, 20 per cent of households spent between 31 and 100 per cent in Grand Forks. Only five per cent of Roseau households spent that percentage in Thief River Falls.

"The first and second store choices of Roseau respondents for female and male clothing was dominated by stores located in Roseau and the Columbia Mall in Grand Forks, ND."

Red Lake Falls:

The study summary made the following comments about Red Lake Falls: "Households in the Red Lake Falls sample visit Grand Forks and Thief River Falls frequently and do substantial outshopping particularly in the category of clothing. Thief River Falls is the primary outshopping destination of Red Lake Falls with 54 per cent of households visiting Thief River Falls two or more times a month. Also, 56 per cent of the respondents listed Thief River Falls as their second-most-shopped-in town, 14 per cent listed Crookston and only 11 per cent cited Grand Forks.

"In terms of expenditure patterns of sampled Red Lake Falls households, about an even percentage spent between 31 and 100 per cent of their women's wear and girls' clothing dollars in Grand Forks and Thief River Falls with the actual proportions being 37 per cent for Grand Forks and 40 per cent for Thief River Falls. The men and boys' clothing category is very similar to the women and girls' category. In the remaining good categories with the exception of autos, household appliances and furniture, Thief River Falls received a much larger portion of Red Lake Falls outshopping dollars than did Grand Forks. For example, 34 per cent of sampled households reported spending between 31 and 100 per cent of their smaller household item dollars in Thief River Falls whereas only 19 per cent of households reported spending a comparable percentage in Grand Forks.

"The first and second store choices of Red Lake Falls respondents for female and male clothing were about evenly divided between stores in Thief River Falls and Grand Forks. The major store choices in Thief River Falls for clothing were K-Mart, JC Penney and Pamida."

Conclusions:

The study summary presents the following conclusions after completing the study:

Thief River Falls is the dominant retail structure in northwestern Minnesota with retail sales in Standard Industrial Classifications between 52-59 of about $93 million in 1990 according to Minnesota Department of Revenue retail sales statistics. The only other community with fairly high retail sales in the area would be Crookston with 1990 retail sales of about $62 million.

As stated in the conclusions portion of the secondary study which was presented to the Thief River Falls business community on August 6, 1991, the primary concerns of the Thief River Falls community should be trade area population decline and the encroachment of the Grand Forks, ND, trade area into the historical trade area of Thief River Falls. The encroachment problem is evident in both Red Lake Falls and Roseau. Although Red Lake Falls in many ways uses Thief River Falls as its primary outshopping destination (measured by frequency of visitation and selection of Thief River Falls as most-shopped-in town), it seems to split evenly its outshopping clothing dollars between Grand Forks and Thief River Falls. It is important that the Thief River Falls retail community be aware of the struggle occurring only 16 miles south in Red Lake Falls. Since clothing is such a dominant shopping good, it is possible that households which become loyal to Grand Forks for clothing might transfer that loyalty to other goods categories. Similarly, if Thief River Falls can increase the clothing shopping loyalty of Red Lake Falls households, then this might positively effect other goods categories sold in Thief River Falls. Currently, however, Red Lake Falls households spend most of their outshopping dollars in non-clothing categories in Thief River Falls.

> "Currently, however, Red Lake Falls households spend most of their outshopping dollars in non-clothing categories in Thief River Falls."

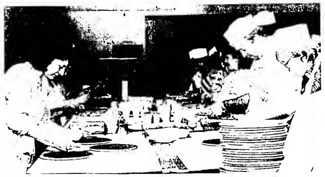
Roseau households sampled indicated that they visited Thief River Falls almost as frequently as they visited Grand Forks, but when asked for second-most-shopped-in town, by 32 per cent to 19 per cent, they listed Grand Forks. Roseau is about 115 miles from Grand Forks and only about 60 miles from Thief River Falls; or, in terms of time, a four-hour rather than a two-hour round trip assuming good road conditions.

Based upon similar studies in other communities, Thief River Falls should have more pulling power in Roseau than it apparently does. For example, in similar studies done in Fosston and Bagley, a much smaller percentage of household retail budgets were spent in Grand Forks even though those communities are much closer to Grand Forks and they are connected by a divided, four-lane highway. Thief River Falls retail business community should attempt to strengthen its northern trade area penetration.

For more information about the study contact the Small Business Center at the Technical College, 681-5424.



St. Bernard's Catholic church held a pizza-making fund-raiser last Friday and Saturday. About 7,100 pizzas were made. This is the 10th year the church has held the fund-raiser. This year, ingredients were pre-measured and a new 250 gallon container for mixing the sauce was added. Last year the congregation made about 8,100 pizzas.

NCC celebrates men's basketball championship

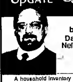
INSURANCE Update



by Dave Nelson

A household inventory will help you determine if certain items will need coverage beyond that provided by a basic homeowner's policy. Those items most likely to warrant additional coverage include jewelry, furs, antiques, collectibles, or fine art. All such items should be professionally appraised to determine adequate insurance limits. Special policies available are known as "riders" or "floaters". They are so named because they "ride on", or "float above" the basic policy.

NORTHERN STATE AGENCY will do its best to provide you with the appropriate coverages to meet your specific insurance requirements. Our office is conveniently located in the Northern State Bank building. To reach us, call 681-4042. Office hours are from 8:30-5 Mon - Fri ; 8:30-6 Thurs.

Note: Ask us for a form that provides guidance for a home inventory.

Watercolor class to be offered here

Northern Prairie Artists association and the Thief River Falls Community Arts council are sponsoring a watercolor workshop by Rose Edin on May 4, 5 and 6 in Thief River Falls.

Class membership is limited and is being offered on a first come, first served basis. Cost is $45 for members of the Northern Prairie Artists association and $55 for nonmembers. Registration and fee payment should be sent to the association at P. O. Box 15, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Persons with questions may contact Cathy Mueller at 681-4554 or LaVonne Forsberg at 681-8151.

Food service

Interactive television course for food service workers, dietary managers and human development workers will be held Saturdays, April 4 and 11, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks technical colleges.

The course is approved and required for Minnesota school food service certification and has also been pre-approved for recertification hours by the Dietary Managers' association.

Fee is $35 and pre-registration may be made by calling the Thief River Falls office at 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

Plays given at Plummer Saturday

Presentation by the Two Rivers Area Theater of the musical revue of "Phantom of the Opera" and "Les Miserables" will take place Saturday at 7 p.m. in the Plummer high school gymnasium in Plummer.

The musical revue was originally presented by the area cast as a three-night dinner theatre presentation with sold-out performances. The encore revue only is being presented due to public interest and demand.

Advance tickets can be purchased at Schiefert Hardware, Plummer and Oklee schools, Brooks Cozy Bar and Arvidson's Variety in Red Lake Falls as well as at the door Saturday evening. Proceeds will be used to purchase band instruments and music for the Plummer school music department.

Principal roles for "Phantom of the Opera" will be played by Lowell Arlt, Carol Kankel, Bill Ferreault and Sherry Noyes with Bruce Arvidson, Jim Scott, Amy Arlt and Andrea Liston also in the cast. Keith Pearson will be narrator.

Major roles in "Les Miserables" will be played by Lowell Arlt, Andrea Liston, Bruce Arvidson, Sherry Noyes, Bill Ferreault and Amy Arlt with Jim Scott, Carol Kankel, Lisa Seeger and Cody Wichterman also in the cast. Chris Van Emmerick will be narrator.

Chorus for both revues will include Cindy Arlt, Susan Wetenkamp, Stephanie Nelson, Amy Arlt, Chris Van Emmerick, Steph Sorenson, Ross Arlt, Dick, Grant and Lisa Seeger, Jim Scott, Andrea Liston, Cody Wichterman, Patti Van Emmerick and Yo Hoshizaki.

Director is Carol Kankel, music teacher at the Plummer school.

Commercial driver course

Six-hour commercial driver's license preparation course will be held Monday, March 30, from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Thief River Falls Technical college. Course fee is $25.

Content of the commercial driver's manual will be covered and those attending are asked to pick one up at the Motor Vehicle department, read it and bring it along to class. Each section will be covered by the use of a video, lecture and use of visuals and a practice test will be given and discussed.

For more information or to preregister contact the customized training services center at the Thief River Falls Technical college at 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

FmHA program will explain loans

Persons interested in buying a new home but unable to obtain the financing are invited to attend a Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) open house Thursday, March 12, from 5 to 7 p.m. at the FmHA office on Dale street off highway 59 south in Thief River Falls.

Persons attending will be given information about FmHA's new guaranteed housing program and the direct housing program, either of which could provide a new home. Annual income eligibility is between $18,250 and $28,150, depending on the number of people in the household.

For more information on eligibility and qualification for guaranteed or direct housing loans, attend the March 12 open house.

was promptly followed by a Ryan Kraft power play goal at 1:57 as he beat Boldt to the glove side.

Shut-out bid by Moorhead sophomore goalie Troy Brekke was spoiled by the Rams' LeEarl Rugland with just 39 seconds remaining as he put a quick shot up high from about 20-feet out.

With Boldt on the bench for an extra attacker, Moorhead controlled a center ice face-off and Josh Arnold hit the open net from near the red line with 19 seconds left to wrap up the scoring.

Scoring

First period - Moorhead, Louie Paquin (Steve Dillore-Justin Wagner), 6 49.

Second period - Moorhead, Jason Blake (Rob Oramor), 6 40

Third period - Moorhead, Ryan Krall (Paquin), 1:57; Roseau, LeEarl Rugland (Ryan Ulvin-Dion Waage), 14.21; Moorhead, Josh Arnold (Blake), 14.41.

Goalie Saves

Moorhead - Troy Brekke 10-4-6 – 20; Roseau - Ross Boldt 9-5-10 – 24.

Molstre, Dyrud to lead mission conference at Our Saviour's

Rev. David Molstre and Rev. Connely Dyrud will be speakers for the 11th annual missionary conference beginning Sunday, March 15, at Our Saviour's Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Rev. Molstre, formerly a pastor at Our Saviour's in Thief River Falls, is now serving a home mission congregation in Palmdale, CA.

Rev. Dyrud, a native of the Thief River Falls community, has been a missionary in Brazil with his wife Carolyn since 1969.

Schedule of services for the missionary conference is as follows:

Sunday, March 15—Early service at 8:30 a.m. with Rev. Molstre as speaker, followed by Sunday School at 9:45 a.m. Second service at 11 a.m. with Rev. Molstre as speaker. Youth missions service will be presented at 12 noon with Rev. Dyrud as speaker. Potluck dinner at 6 p.m. will be followed by an evening service at 7:30 p.m. with Rev. Molstre again bringing the mission message.

Monday-Wednesday, March 16-18—Bible Study daily at 10 a.m. and evening service nightly at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Molstre will be the speaker Monday and Tuesday and Rev. Dyrud will be the speaker on Wednesday.

Our Saviour's Lutheran church is located at 401 St. Paul Avenue South. The public is welcome to attend any of the mission services.

Award plaque from the Girl Scout program in recognition of many years of service to the organization was presented Monday evening to James and Renae Vedbraaten. Kitty Comalt made the presentation at the annual Girl Scout banquet held at Redeemer Lutheran church. The Vedbraatens assisted the Girl Scout program actively in a number of ways for a number of years and now have resigned from the organization.

by villages for a cultural view of Switzerland and day and night-time education and training sessions. Girls will be attending the event from many countries.

Following the experience at "Our Chalet," the Pine to Prairie group will stay in Munich, Germany for four and one-half days. Activities will include a half-day city tour, half-day tour of the Dachau concentration camp site and one full day in the Black Forest. The group will return to the United States on July 13.

Nicolle has been in the Girl Scout program for nine years and now has Senior Scout ranking. She has earned the Silver Award in 1990 and the God and Country Award in 1991 and is working toward the Gold Award, highest rank in the Girl Scout program.

She has been active in many phases of the scouting program including serving as director for the day camp at Camp MOE last summer. In 1989 she attended an encampment at National Center West at Tensleep, WY.

Also making the trip from the Pine to Prairie council will be Stephanie Beito of Roseau and eight girls from North Dakota. The group has been working hard the past two years on projects to raise money for the trip, learning foreign languages and studying customs and history of the sites to be visited.

"It's a lot of work," Nicky said, "but I know it will all be worth it."

It won't be long before migrating wood ducks are back in this neck of the woods, looking for a summer home. Allan Paulson, an active member of the Pennington County Sportsman club, built two wood duck boxes this spring and put them up late last week on sportsman club property north of Thief River Falls. The boxes are made to state specifications with plans from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources. Wire mesh is fastened to the inside of the box to allow the newly-hatched ducklings to climb to the opening and exit the nesting box. Recovery of wood duck numbers has been attributed to placement of artificial nesting sites across the ducks' range to replace the hollow trees naturally used by the tree-dwelling waterfowl. Paulson reminds others thinking of putting up wood duck nest boxes to get them up soon before the birds arrive on their house-hunting trip.

NEW HOME LOAN PROGRAM

If you are interested in buying a new home, but cannot obtain financing, then you should attend the Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) Open Hours from 5:00 P.M. to 7:00 P.M., Thursday, March 12, 1992.

This visit will give you a chance to learn about the FmHA's new guaranteed housing program and direct housing program that could put you into a new home.

If you have an income below $18,250.00 and $28,150.00 (depending on the number of people living in the house) you may qualify for a guaranteed housing loan or a direct housing loan.

Be sure to visit your FmHA office by attending their Open House, it may be the most important thing you do towards finding that home you need and can afford.

Impressions . . .

Remember the old adage that goes something like this: If March comes in like a lamb it will go out as a lion? Well, March certainly arrived as a gentle lamb last weekend, didn't it?

Remember the warm weather on Sunday, March 1st? Did you go for a walk out of doors that day? We did. It seemed as if we were the only individuals walking quickly that afternoon. It seemed as if everyone we saw out walking was strolling in the lovely sunshine that first day of March.

That first day of March was also the day for bicycles and rollerblades and hockey without ice. That first day of March also was the day for the first appearance of skateboards.

That lovely first day of March was a day to peer around your yard to see if any first signs of spring bulbs were visible. That first lovely, sunny, warmish day of March was the day that melting of our snow piles seemed to begin.

That first day of March was when the puddles began to appear everywhere. That first day of March was when drains began to gurgle in earnest as the melted snow began to flow into them. That first day of March was the day that puddles not only appeared, but decided to stay around as mud puddles.

Thankfully, our town has lifted the ban on streetside parking during this springish weather. Those of us with driveways on the alleys of town are particularly pleased to be able to park in the street and so avoid the mudholes in our driveways!!! How lovely Spring could be without the mud!!

This past weekend we took a trip to the Twin Cities. The particular town we were visiting on the way to the Cities was a town in which I had never before been. I had been told by a friend that the countryside near this town was beautiful. Well, March and early Spring certainly did not let me see the scenery on our trip. The first of March was sunny—a few days later, as we were traveling, all we could see was fog.

Fog is a part of early spring. I guess that the melting snow, and the puddles that form before the frost leaves the ground, and the warmer temperatures all combine to create the menace of March—fog. This past weekend as we traveled, we traveled through more fog shrouded miles than I care to remember. Fog gives a cozy feeling to me if I'm safely at home. But, if I need to travel in it I become somewhat crazed. My family will vouch for my insanity as we travel in fog!

I did see a few encouraging signs of spring during the few occasions in which the fog lifted during our recent travels. The most encouraging sign of returning warm weather was the flocks of geese I saw this weekend—heading north. The animals must be beginning to acknowledge the near end of winter when we begin to see their yearly migrations.

Another sign of spring I saw was the greening grass in the Twin Cities. Grass that is greening there must let us know that soon that green will travel northward to us. I observed on my trip that the trees were definitely changing into their early spring colors. The willows were a shade of yellow and the apples were a bit pink. Even the plants know that warmer days are soon to be.

As I'm writing this column, the signs of spring are once again not clearly visible. A wind has come up that is cold, not warm. The sky cleared of the fog, and in the clearing, snowflakes were produced. A winter storm is being forecast for parts of our state—the parts that looked to be so green to me this weekend.

March is fickle. She teases us with warm weather and melting snow. She gives us mud and fog. And then, just when we think that we have made it through another March, she sends us a snowstorm or two for good measure!!

I'm waiting for that end of the winter snowstorm. The first one we had this winter found me in an unsettled state as it occurred while my family and I were moving. I would ~~sort of like~~ to have a good snowstorm to even out this winter and give me a chance to enjoy the coziness of being at home and at peace with myself and with my family. Maybe March in her fickleness will bring me that snowstorm. I'm waiting for her to exit as a lion just as she entered as a lamb.

4-H focuses on awareness

4-H clubs across the nation are focusing their attention on global awareness this year in an attempt to promote a better understanding of our international neighbors. This Saturday 4-Hers from across the region will pick up that theme when they come together in a "Crossroads of Culture" at the Red Lake Falls community hall.

The event is sponsored by 4-H Youth Development in Red Lake, Polk and Clearwater counties in cooperation with the Northwestern Minnesota Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls. 4-H members from northwestern Minnesota will have an opportunity to meet teenagers from across the globe, who have chosen to spend part of their high school career in the United States, studying at Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls.

Red Lake County Extension Agent, DeeAnn Leines says "Crossroads of Culture" is sponsored through a grant from the Minnesota 4-H Foundation. She says international students will share "before and after images of the U.S.A. with a brief overview of U.S. values, a panel discussion, luncheon and international music. Where else would you have the chance to talk with people from 11 different countries at the same time?"

Activities begin at 9:45 a.m. and continue through the early afternoon. Media guests are welcome to join us for the International Luncheon, beginning at 12:30 p.m. The Red Lake Falls Community Hall is located at 102 Second Street in Red Lake Falls. For more information contact DeeAnn Leines at 253-2897.

"Cousin Millie from the Hills of Beverly" was one of the entertainers Monday evening at the Agri-Woman banquet held at the Best Western Inn. She participated in the fashion show and followed that impressive entrance with a humorous presentation about life in the hills. In what is considered real life, "Millie" is Collette Vatch, an employee in the sales department of KTRF-KSNR radio.

Pat Gaffaney stirs up a mess of pizza sauce. Gaffaney used a drill motor and stirring tool to mix up a batch of pizza sauce in a new 250 gallon mixing container. Gaffaney was stirring up the sauce for a fund-raiser for St. Barnard's Catholic church. About 7,100 pizzas were made in two days at the church.

NJCAA Region 13 men's basketball tournament...

Pioneers lose first start

Both sides took turns cranking out points during second half scoreboard runs Friday afternoon, but two-time defending Region 13 champion North Dakota State College of Science met the challenge presented by host Northland Community College to come out a 105-94 winner in the opening round semifinals of the National Junior College Athletic Association men's basketball tournament.

Northland, after winning its first-ever Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament, was trying to knock off a twice-beaten Wahpeton team that was the season-long leader in the coaches poll for Region 13, which covers Minnesota, North Dakota, Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

The Wildcats, who beat the Pioneers twice during the regular season, had a 28-16 lead near the midway mark of the first half, but Northland chipped away at that 12-point deficit, eventually going ahead 38-37 with 3:14 remaining when a technical foul slapped on the NDSCS bench set Kelly Dahl up with four free throws.

It was a back-and-forth first half finish that ended on a basket by Fred Sculfield off a loose rebound just before the horn, pulling the Pioneers within 49-48 at intermission.

NDSCS reopened a 10-point cushion at the start of the second half, but Northland stayed in it with a string of 10 unanswered points as Larone Greer grabbed a long rebound and went in for a lay-up, Joe Comstock scored on a drive, Dahl finished off a fast break, Greer came back with a short jumper and Comstock did likewise to tie it 66-66 and force the Wildcats into a time-out call with 13:12 remaining.

It proved to be the right decision for NDSCS assistant coach Greg Stemen, who wound up calling the shots when head coach Ed Toohey missed the game after suffering a broken ankle and ligament damage in a pick-up basketball game days earlier.

After the momentum-breaking time-out, the Wildcats put together what would prove to be a game-winning 16-1 four-minute run. It started when Wayne Charles stripped the ball out of the hands of a Northland rebounder under the NDSCS basket and turned it into a three-point play.

While NDSCS standout guard Prentiss Perkins was picking up eight of those 16 points in the Wildcats' outburst with a combination of inside and outside production, the next six Northland possessions produced just a single free throw as the Pioneers fell behind 82-67 with 9:15 left.

"We hit a spot where we missed a lot of shots," noted Northland coach Chet Engelman. "We had some open shots, but they just didn't go in."

The North Dakota state champions led by as many as 21 points – 96-75 with 4:30 remaining – before Northland managed to close the gap down the stretch.

"They're a great team," pointed out Engelman. "We just got beat by a better team, that's all. There's not many teams who come out of our region as good as they are."

Perkins, a 5-11 sophomore from Minneapolis, poured in 35 points to lead a group of five Wildcats in double figures. Rest of them included 6-3 Donta Edwards with 21 points, the 6-6 Charles with 17, 6-0 Eric Henderson with 16 and 6-3 David Lausen with 11. Charles also had 12 rebounds and blocked four shots, while Edwards had six assists.

"They have a lot of weapons," said Engelman.

Travis Brown, a 6-6 sophomore from Cleveland Heights, Ohio, had a big 32-point, 11-rebound game for the Pioneers, while the six-foot Greer, another Cleveland Heights product, scored 16 points and handed out 10 assists. Northland also received 12 points from Howard Lake's Comstock and 12 rebounds from East Grand Forks' Nate Carlin.

Northland's fast-paced offense put up 101 shots, but the Pioneers hit only 37 of them because of a below-par 4-for-24 effort on three-pointers.

"We've shot the three-point well all year, but we didn't hit them today," offered Engelman.

Meanwhile, NDSCS was 34-for-67 from the field – 5-for-13 from three-point range.

The Wildcats were also a tournament-record 32-for-43 at the free throw line, where the Pioneers went 14-for-19. Previous Region 13 free throw mark was a 26-for-33 showing by Normandale in 1977.

Northland finished with a 51-35 rebound advantage. The Pioneers also had more turnovers, 19-14.

Scoring

	1	2	T
NDSCS	49	56	105

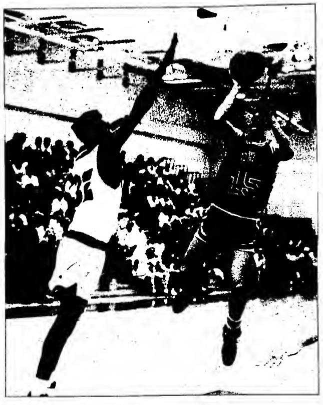
NDSCS - Eric Henderson 16, Wayne Charles 17, David Lausen 11, Mike Heidlebaugh 2, Donta Edwards 21, Chad Steinocker 2, Dwyane Hawthorne 1, Prentiss Perkins 35

Northland - Larone Greer 16, Donald Hardaway 6, Joe Comstock 12, Travis Brown 32, Kelly Dahl 8, Fred Sculfield 4, Nate Carlin 7, William Mitchell 7, Paul Lofberg 2.



Northland guard Joe Comstock sailed toward the basket against North Dakota State College of Science defender Wayne Charles Friday during the first-day semifinals of the Region 13 basketball tournament played in Thief River Falls. The defending champion Wildcats beat the Minnesota state champion Pioneers 105-94.

Milwaukee Tech downs Gogebic

Milwaukee Area Technical College spotted Gogebic Community College a 2-0 lead, but that was the only time the Wisconsin state champions trailed Friday as the Lakestormers rolled to a 93-69 win in the opening game of the 1992 National Junior College Athletic Association Division I Region 13 men's basketball tournament in Thief River Falls.

It was a 6-6 game when Milwaukee went on a 12-4 run that produced a lead that would stand for the rest of the afternoon.

Gogebic was still within 46-35 at halftime, but whatever comeback hopes the Ironwood, Michigan team had quickly disappeared when the Samsons were out-scored 14-5 in the first 6 1/2 minutes of the second half to fall behind 60-40.

Five Milwaukee scorers hit double figures, led by 6-4 forward Jerry Wilson with 23 points. Guards Steve Grunwald and Keith Young scored 18 and 16 points, respectively, off the bench.

Chris Fiszer, a 5-9 Gogebic guard, shared game-high scoring honors with Wilson by hitting five of six three-point attempts.

Milwaukee was 34-for-65 from the field and 19-for-35 at the free throw line. Gogebic went 23-for-76 from the field and 14-for-18 at the line. The winners had a 47-40 rebound edge, but they also had more turnovers, 16-12.

Scoring

Wrestlers compete at state

Joel Davis

Matt Kaushagen

Joel Davis wound up going 4-2 – giving the Thief River Falls senior a fifth place finish – in the individual portion of the 1992 Class AA Minnesota state high school wrestling tournament conducted Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the St. Paul Civic Center.

Teammate Matt Kaushagen lost two state tournament starts.

Davis, 32-0 en route to a Section 8AA title at 125 pounds, made his state tournament debut with a 1:26 first round pin over Mustafa Shabazz of Minneapolis South.

Andy Reigstad handed Davis his first loss of the season in the quarterfinals, 8-4, but he stayed alive in the wrestle-backs by beating Mike Tressel of St. Paul Como Park 5-4 and Allan Horst of Blaine 9-6. His bid for a third place finish disappeared in a 14-9 loss at the hands of Vis Ratsabouth of Worthington, but Davis bounced back to shut out Sean Sherk of St. Francis 6-0 in the fifth place match.

Reigstad wound up as the 125-pound Class AA state champion, while Ratsabouth was a third place finisher for the second straight year.

Kaushagen came into the Class AA 160-pound competition as the 27-5 Section 8AA runner-up. Making his second straight state meet trip, Kaushagen lost a 6-1 first round match to Haakon Midness of Minnetonka and dropped a 7-2 decision to Jeremy Novak in the first round of the wrestle-backs.

Novak wound up fourth and Midness placed fifth.

"Our kids did a nice job down there," reported Thief River Falls wrestling coach John Anderson. "The biggest thing is to get there, and to work hard when you're there. They did. They didn't embarrass themselves."

The Class AA 125-pound weight class might have been the most competitive of the entire tournament, pointed out Anderson. "You wrestle those 16 kids six times and you would probably have 10 different state champions," he explained. "They were all tough. Joel wrestled real well. He wound up in situations where he hadn't been before – where he had to take kids to their backs for points. Not that he hasn't done it, but he's never been in the position where he had to do it to win. But he did a nice job. He led Reigstad 3-2 going into the third period, but we became a little too cautious. He was right with Ratsabouth, but there were a couple of calls on the edge of the mat that hurt us."

Kaushagen was his usual consistent self in his two state meet matches, noted Anderson. "Matt wrestled pretty well, overall," he said. "He wrestled two good matches. Matt would beat 90 percent of the kids he faced this year wrestling like he did this weekend. He's always solid, always consistent. But down there you have to wrestle inspired. He needed that extra spark."

TRF Sports Boosters to meet on Thursday

Barb Natvik of the Backcourt Club will be the guest speaker at the 12-noon Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club luncheon meeting Thursday in the back room of the Rex Cafe.

Region 13 tournament third place game...

Gogebic rally beats NCC

Gogebic overcame a 17-point second half deficit Saturday to beat Northland 104-102 in the third place game of the 1992 National Junior College Athletic Association Region 13 Division I men's basketball tournament in Thief River Falls.

The Samsons' Quiney Ward, a 5-6 sophomore guard from South Bend, Indiana, pulled up and hit a short jumper with 3.6 seconds remaining to break a 102-102 tie. The Pioneers didn't get the clock stopped until it hit 1.3 – leaving them with little options except a half-court desperation toss by Fred Sculfield that was well off the mark at the horn.

The 206 points set a Region 13 tournament record for most points by two teams, beating the combined 204-point total turned in by Suomi, Michigan and Bismarck, North Dakota in 1981.

Gogebic, beaten by Milwaukee Area Technical College 93-69 in Friday's opening round semifinals, finished the year at 16-9. Northland, out-scored by North Dakota State College of Science 105-94 the previous afternoon, wound up 16-11.

Ahead 53-50 at halftime, Northland fell behind briefly at the start of the second half before a three-point basket by Joe Comstock began a 17-2 scoreboard run that gave the Pioneers an 85-68 cushion with 11:23 remaining.

It was still a 14-point spread at 91-77 on a William Mitchell free throw with 8:02 left, but Gogebic suddenly caught fire behind the shooting of 6-4 forward Tim Morrissette, who scored 14 points during a 25-6 comeback burst that provided the Ironwood, Michigan team a 102-97 lead with 1:06 to play.

Northland came right back to tie it 102-102 on a three-pointer by Comstock, a Gogebic turnover and a short turnaround jumper by Travis Brown with 24.7 seconds showing.

Gogebic then held the ball until Ward hit his game-winner.

Allowing a 17-point second half lead to slip away in the final game of the year is a bitter way to end the season, acknowledged Northland coach Chet Engelman. "That's certainly not the way we wanted to finish," he said. "I think we played relatively well to that point, but then we quit playing. They shoot the ball too well to start coasting like that."

Despite his small stature, Ward came up big for the Samsons. His game-winner gave him a team-high 22 points for the day, to go along with 14 assists and seven rebounds. Chris Fiszer, his backcourt partner, netted 21 points, while Morrissette scored 20 and 6-5 center Tony Mortier had 19.

Comstock finished with a game-high 26 points to lead the Pioneers, while Kelly Dahl hit 20, Brown 14 and Donald Hardaway 11. Brown also had 13 rebounds and Larone Greer collected 11 assists.

In a two-point game, the free throws loom large. Gogebic went 17-for-18 at the line for the game, while Northland missed 11 times of 29 free throws.

Scoring

	1	2	T
Gogebic	50	54	104

Gogebic - Quincy Ward 22, Chris Fiszer 21, Chad Lindeman 10, Tim Morissette 20, Derek Sheridan 4, Darrin Weber 8, Tony Mortier 19.

Northland - Larone Greer 7, Donald Hardaway 11, Joe Comstock 26, Kurt Leader 2, John Clark 3, Travis Brown 14, Kelly Dahl 20, Fred Sculfield 4, Nate Carlin 2, William Mitchell 6, Paul Lofberg 6.

NDSCS wins title

North Dakota State College of Science won its third straight National Junior College Athletic Association Region 13 men's basketball tournament title Saturday with a 98-90 win over Milwaukee Area Technical College in the finals of the four-team NJCAA national tournament-qualifying event hosted by Northland Community College.

The Wahpeton squad, 26-2 and a season-long leader in the Region 13 coaches poll, led only 47-44 at intermission, but the Wildcats out-scored the Wisconsin state champions 25-12 in the first nine minutes of the second half open up a 16-point, 72-56 cushion.

Milwaukee cut the difference to 10 points on five different occasions over the next six minutes, but never faced less than a double-digit deficit until 6-4 forward Jerry Wilson canned a three-pointer with 2:02 remaining in what was then an 88-81 game.

The Wildcats kept the Lakestormers at bay, however, with eight free throws in the next minute as the margin shot back to 95-81. In fact, the winners scored their final 16 points at the line. A fast break lay-up by Prentiss Perkins that gave NDSCS an 82-70 lead with 6:12 remaining was the final field goal of the day for the Wildcats, who were 26-for-33 at the line the the game.

Perkins, a 5-11 sophomore guard from Minneapolis who was named the tournament's most valuable player, finished with 29 points. Eric Henderson, his backcourt partner, netted 22.

Wilson wound up with a Region 13 championship game record 38 points for the Lakestormers, who finished the year 22-6, while Oliver Jones and Joe Zellner scored 14 and 13 points, respectively. John Maclin of Anoka-Ramsey had the previous title game record with a 37-point game in 1980.

In addition to its busy afternoon at the free throw line, NDSCS was 34-for-59 from the field for the day (58 percent). Milwaukee made 10 of 20 free throws, finished with a 37-27 rebound edge and had only 12 turnovers to 13 for the winners.

The Wildcats set a Region 13 record with 203 points in their two wins. Previous 183-point standard was set by Normandale in 1975 and tied a year later by Waukesha.

NDSCS will host an NJCAA national tournament first round game Friday, with the winner advancing to the final field of 16 in Hutchinson, Kansas.

TRF draws Bemidji in first round

Thief River Falls will be at Bemidji Thursday for a first round North Sub-Section 8AA boys high school basketball tournament game.

Detroit Lakes will be at Alexandria that same night.

Semifinals Saturday will have the Thief River Falls-Bemidji winner at Fergus Falls and the Detroit Lakes-Alexandria winner at Moorhead.

Championship game Tuesday, March 17, will be played at a neutral site. All North Sub-Section 8AA games will be played at 7:30 p.m.

Coaches seeding meeting was held Saturday, with the top spot going to Moorhead, No. 2 - Fergus Falls, No. 3 - Bemidji, No. 4 - Alexandria, No. 5 - Detroit Lakes and No. 6 - Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls, 2-20 for the year, was winless in eight regular season games against North Sub-Section 8AA foes this winter, including 68-55 and 87-74 setbacks at the hands of Bemidji.

Moorhead is the defending North Sub-Section 8AA champion. Alexandria was shifted from South Sub-Section 8AA this year when Sauk Rapids and Elk River were added to the South line-up.

North Dakota State College of Science guard Prentiss Perkins took the ball to the basket despite the defensive efforts by Nate Carlin of Northland Community College Friday in the NJCAA Region 13 basketball tournament semifinals at Northland.

Middle River girls win final start

Holly Gram scored eight of her 15 points in the fourth quarter Friday, leading Middle River to a come-from-behind 50-44 Section 8A Sub-Section 4 girls high school basketball tournament third place game win over Roseau at Warroad.

Roseau led 15-14, 28-22 and 36-34 at the quarter stops before the Skippers doubled the Rams 16-8 in the final eight minutes.

"It was a nice way to finish," said Middle River coach Tom Neibauer. "If you would have told us at the beginning of the year, with five new kids in the line-up, that we would wind up third, I wouldn't have believed you."

Krissi Super matched Gram's 15-point out-put for the winners, while Sara Melby came through with four free throws in the final minute to secure the win. "Sara had another real good floor game, then she came up with the free throws at the end when Roseau had to foul," pointed out Neibauer.

The Rams' Sue Roadfeldt led all scorers with 21 points – getting 16 in the first half.

"We had a tough time containing Roadfeldt in the first half," acknowledged Neibauer.

Middle River was 19-for-41 from the field (46 percent) and 12-for-13 at the free throw line.

The Skippers finished the year 15-10 overall.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Middle River	14	8	12	16	50
Roseau	15	13	8	8	44

Middle River - Denise Johnson 4, Sara Melby 6, Andi Nelson 6, Krissi Super 16, Robyn Iverson 4, Holly Gram 15

Roseau - Toresa Gotzlamen 8, Julie Kindzerski 7, Charissa Lundbohm 4, Bobbi Jo Whitchurch 3, Sue Roadfeldt 21.

North Sub-Section 8AA girls high school basketball...

Alexandria ends TRF season

Alexandria led from start to finish Saturday as the host Cardinals defeated Thief River Falls 54-36 in the North Sub-Section 8AA girls high school basketball tournament semifinals.

The No. 3-seeded Prowlers quickly found themselves trailing the No. 2-seeded Cardinals by 10 points before cutting that gap in half by the end of the first quarter, 19-14.

However, Alexandria re-opened a 29-19 spread at halftime and maintained a 40-29 difference heading into the final quarter.

A 25 percent shooting performance cost the Prowlers, who hit just 13 of 52 attempts for the night.

"We just couldn't hit anything," said Thief River Falls coach Sally Wiltse. "We did what we had to to and what we were able to do defensively, but offensively we just couldn't get going."

Senior guard Jodi Kruta, the Prowlers' all-time scoring leader, finished her high school basketball career with a 20-point game, but none of her teammates came up with more than six points in Thief River Falls' second-lowest offensive effort of the season.

"Jodi worked hard for her points," noted Wiltse. "Well, they all worked hard," she pointed out, "but we need more balance than that."

Balance is what Alexandria enjoyed as 5-10 freshman Molly Reif scored 15 points, 6-0 senior Jenny Jackson netted 12, 5-10 sophomore Sara Andert collected 11 and 5-11 junior Gretchen Reif contributed 10.

While the Prowlers were struggling offensively, the Cardinals were shooting 44 percent from the field on a 25-for-57 night.

Thief River Falls was 7-for-14 at the free throw line, where Alexandria went 3-for-6. The Cardinals had a 36-29 rebound edge. The Prowlers topped the turnover charts 15-13.

The loss ended a 14-10 season for the Prowlers, while the Cardinals move into the North Sub-Section 8AA finals tonight (Tuesday) at No. 1-seeded Bemidji. The Lumberjacks handled No. 5-seeded Moorhead 65-40 in Saturday's other semifinal.

Winner of the Bemidji-Alexandria contest will take on Brainerd Friday in the state tournament-qualifying Section 8AA finals. The top-seeded Warriors beat second-seeded Elk River 63-53 Saturday in the South Sub-Section 8AA championship game at St. Cloud State University.

NDSCS won 105-94.

MCC tips Warriors with rally

A late-game comeback lifted Marshall County Central past Warroad 57-54 in a Sectian 8A Sub-Section 4 boys high school basketball tournament quarterfinal game at Stephen that got underway Thursday night, but was completed Friday afternoon because of a power failure.

Marshall County Central had a 10-9 first quarter edge and led 24-20 when the lights went out with 31 seconds left in the first half. After a long delay officials decided to pick up the game at that point the next afternoon.

Warroad came back Friday with an 8-for-10 third quarter shooting perfarmance to take a 40-31 lead.

The Warriors still enjoyed a seven-paint advantage with three minutes left before their inability to cash in on free throw opportunities began to feed a Marshall County Central rally that included two key three-paint baskets by Jeremy Tallum.

"It was a real good perfarmance under same strange circumstances," pointed aut Marshall County Central coach Ran Ueland.

The Nordics received 17-point games from Ivan Hirst and Tim Olson, and a 13-point effort from Robbie Anderson. Troy Mattern and Chris Bergstrom led Warraad with 17 and 16 points, respectively.

Marshall County Central was 24-for-60 from the field (40 percent) and went 6-far-6 at the free throw line. Warroad had a 20-for-41 game from the field (49 percent), but missed 10 of 19 free throws.

Hirst grabbed 14 rebounds Marshall County Central beat Warroad an the boards 41-24. The Warriors tapped the turnover charts 15-9.

TRF boys lose 99-57 contest at Moorhead

A Feb. 11 Moorhead visit to Thief River Falls produced a 96-55 boys high school basketball win for the Spuds. And there wasn't much change in the score when they met in a regular season-ending rematch Friday night in Moorhead, where the Prowlers last 99-57.

"They're a fine team," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Scott Brekke. "We hung with them for a while, but they just keep sending people at you all night long. They just wore us down in the second half."

The Spuds' consistent offensive productian included three 25-point quarters and one 24-point period. They led at the stops 25-14, 49-26 and 74-36.

Corey Zimmerman, a 6-4 senior, scored 31 points for the winners, with Jeremy Newton netting 13, Jason Karch 11 and Scott Kohler 10. The Prowlers were led by Darin Wald with 21 points, while Tom Upham and Tony Greene both scored 10 points.

Despite getting beat by 42 points, the Prowlers shot 50 percent from the field an a 20-for-40 showing. Moorhead, however, shot 58 percent by hitting 37 of 64 attempts. The Spuds were also 21-far-27 at the free throw line, where the Prowlers went 14-for-24. Moorhead finished with a 34-24 rebound advantage and Thief River Falls had more turnovers, 14-12.

Thief River Falls finished its regular season schedule 2-20. The Prowlers will take a 15-game losing streak to Bemidji Thursday for a first-round North Sub-Sectian 8AA tournament game.

Grygla-Gatzke season ends in overtime

Grygla-Gatzke went 3-0 in overtime games during the regular season, but the law of averages caught up to the Eagles Saturday with a 52-50 loss at the hands of Argyle – in overtime.

The setback in the Section 8A Sub-Section 4 boys high school basketball taurnament quarterfinals at Warroad ended a 14-9 Grygla-Gatzke seasan that, in additian to the single, dauble and triple-overtime wins, also included five regulation victories by four points or less.

"I guess it was a fitting way to lose," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnsan. "We lived on the edge all year. We had our share of close wins, naw I guess it was just time for us to lose one."

Argyle had a 17-15 first quarter lead and took a 20-16 edge into halftime on a three-point buzzer-bester by Chris Feller. Grygla-Gatzke still faced that four-point deficit, 31-27, at the end of the third quarter, but had a 50-47 lead on a pair of Ryan Bakken free throws with 21 seconds left in regulation time.

However, Argyle's Nathan Lubarski was fouled on a three-point shot with 11 seconds to play, and he hit all three free throws to tie it 50-50. A final shot at a regulatian time victory slipped away from Grygla-Gatzke on a turnover with two seconds remaining.

Grygla-Gatzke had just one possession in overtime, and that also ended in a turnover. Argyle then held the ball for the final two minutes, a strategy that produced the only points in the extra session when Feller fed off to Shawn Anderson for a basket with three seconds showing on the clock.

"It was an even game," noted Jahnson. "Both teams played well. It was a darn good game. We're disappointed with the loss, of course, but we've gat nothing to be ashamed of."

Feller finished with a game-high 22 points. He was the only Argyle dauble figure point-producer. A balanced Grygla-Gatzke attack included Jeremy Engelstad with 16 points, Bakken 15 and Mitch Bernstein 14.

Grygla-Gatzke was 19-for-45 from the field (42 percent) and 6-for-10 at the free throw line. Argyle went 19-for-49 from the field (39 percent) and 7-for-9 at the line. Grygla-Gatzke finished with a 25-21 rebound edge, and the turnovers were minimal on both sides – six far Argyle; five for Grygla-Gatzke.

Scoring

Section 8 Tier I hockey finals...

Spuds win 4-1

A Moorhead program that has been making waves in youth hockey in recent years finally made a big splash at the high school level Friday when the Spuds beat perennial champion Roseau 4-1 in the 1992 Section 8 Tier I tournament finals at the Thief River Falls Sports Arena.

Moorhead scored once in each period for a 3-0 lead, then hit an open net in the final seconds to go 22-3 for the year and make amends for a 5-1 loss to the Rams during the regular season. It's the first Section 8 title for Moorhead, ending a two-year title reign for the Rams, who were shooting for their 27th state tournament trip. They finished the year 15-8-2.

The Spuds will meet Section 1 champion Rochester Mayo in the Tier I state tournament opener Thursday at the St. Paul Civic Center. Mayo beat Owatonna 3-1 in the Section 1 finals Friday.

A bit of slick stick-handling by Moorhead's Louis Paquin put the little speedster in front of Roseau goalie Ross Boldt at 6:49 of the first period and he fired the puck through the netminder's pads for a 1-0 lead.

It became 2-0 when Jason Blake wound up in front of Boldt with the puck at the 6:40 mark of the second period and got off a quick ice-hugging shot that caught the inside of the post to the goalie's right.

Roseau comeback hopes died early in the third period when a Todd Hagen tripping penalty at 1:06

Section 8A Sub-Section 4 boys basketball...

Nordics advance 76-59

Marshall County Central moved into the Section 8A Sub-Sectian 4 boys high school basketball tournament semifinals Saturday with an impressive 76-59 quarterfinal victory over Tri-County at Stephen.

Tim Olson scored 20 points and Robbie Anderson had 19 for the Nordics, but they alsa received a 10-point game from Chad Bjorgaard and an 8-point, 10-rebaund performance from Jerod Olson.

"We played about as well as we've played all year," reported Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We did a lot of things well. We had good balance, and our guards (Anderson/Bjorgaard) had great games."

Marshall County Central had a 17-14 first quarter lead, used a late second quarter surge to go into halftime with a 37-30 edge and then doubled Tri-County 18-9 in the third quarter en route to a 55-39 spread.

The Nordics were 26-for-63 from the field (41 percent), while the Wildcats went 18-for-50 (36 percent). The two teams combined to shoot 61 free throws – Marshall County Central hitting 23 of 34; Tri-County making 18 of 27.

Marshall County Central outrebounded Tri-County 44-26. The Wildcats had more turnovers, 11-8.

Corey Spilde led Tri-County scorers with 21 points, while Jonathan Pearson netted 15 and Tam Engen had 11.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Marshall Co. Central	17	20	18	21	76
Tri-County	14	16	9	22	59

MCC - Ivan Hirst 6, Jerod Olson 8, Tim Olson 20, Robbie Anderson 19, Chad Bjorgaard 10, Jeremy Tallum 4, Latt Bjennes 2, Shane Borg 5, Kent Rokke 2.

Tri County - Jonathan Pearson 15, Mark Thompson 2, Jeremy Folland 5, Tom Engen 11, Jon Kujava 3, Matt Kasprowicz 2, Corey Spilde 21.

Rams hold off MCC in semifinals

Roseau out-scored Marshall County Central 19-8 in the third quarter Manday ta erase an eight-point halftime deficit and spark the Rams past the Nordics 50-46 in the 1992 Section 8A Sub-Section 4 boys high school basketball tournament semifinals at Warroad.

The setback drops Marshall County Central to 12-13 for the year heading into a season-ending 6:30 p.m. third place game match-up with Stephen Thursday back in Warroad.

The Nordics turned a 12-11 first quarter Roseau lead into a 24-16 Marshall County Central halftime advantage, but found themselves trailing 35-32 at the start of the final period. They faced a nine-point deficit with 1:11 left befare putting together a final minute rally that cut the Rams' lead to 49-46 on a three-point basket by Chad Bjorgaard.

But the comeback hit a wall when the Nardics missed both a free throw and a basket on the inside after grabbing the rebound on the foul shot. A free throw by the Rams' Jeff Taylor completed the scoring.

"We did what we had to do to win the game, but we didn't do it lang enough," explained Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We didn't play all that well in the first half, but we played with a lat of intensity. We missed a lot of good shots in the second half. If we would have hit them, we could have maintained a lead and controlled the tempo of the game. Instead, they (Rams) got their transition game going and we became frustrated. We started taking more chances on defense, and they got away from us."

Taylor, a 6-7 sophamore, led all scorers with 21 points. Teammate Tom Nikunen netted 13. Tim Olson and Shane Barg both had 11 points games for the Nordics, while Ivan Hirst finished with 10.

Marshall County Central shot only 35 percent from the field for the game (17-far-48). The Nardics were 8-for-12 at the free throw line. Roseau shot 40 percent from the floor (19-for-48) and had an 11-for-18 night at the line. The Nardics had a 30-24 rebound edge, but also wound up with mare turnovers, 13-8.

Scoring

CARD OF THANKS

I would like to give thanks to my friends and relatives for the gifts, flowers, money and cards when I was in the hospital and at home and thanks to Pastors James Molstre and Del Palmer, for prayers, and friends who brought me lunches after I came home.

Thanks to all
Lilly Sund, TRF

IN MEMORY

Let us reflect a moment and
Think of two very special people.
Two special people, husband and wife.
Loved by family and friends
One taken to be with our Lord
January 20th, 1988 and the
Other March 9th, 1991.
We think often about good times and bad,
But thru it all both endured
Picture in your mind, just for a moment.
Now that husband and wife are reunited,
The heavens sings, they are Wrapped in God's light, never to be Hurt or sick, never to be unhappy.
With this thought in mind, how Could we grieve anymore? We do
Know we will be reunited
With them someday, yes, the Promise is true.
In loving memory of Allen and Gloria Harder.
Missed by the Homme and Harder families. "May their memory be blessed".

On motion by D. Nelson, seconded by J. Gerardy, and unanimously carried the following resolution was approved: BE IT RESOLVED, That the Governing Board of Northwest Vocational Center approve the Final Expenditure Budget for 1991-92. Total Budget $525,714.

GENERAL ADMINISTRATION DIRECTOR'S REPORT

B. Hahne met with his General Advisory Committee on March 2, 1992 at Center School. There was a good turn out.

The only classes that will stay at Center School for the 1991-92 school year will be Allen Assoby's Machine Shop/metals, Ken Johnson's Small Engines/Recreational Vehicle, and possibly Diane Rothschedl's Personal Services. The remaining classes will be at Lincoln High School and the Technical College.

The next meeting was scheduled for April 20th at 6:00 P.M. at the District Service Center.

Dr. Duncan would like all the out-of-town schools to send their 1992-93 school calendar to his office as soon as possible.

School District #564 Proceedings

S.D. 564 meeting held February 10

- Joyce Froschheiser, ECFE Coordinator, presented information concerning screening of four-year olds.
- Dr. Orley Gunderson reported that the TC is considering offering aviation program courses at Hibbing.
- A number of mid-year increases were approved by the board.
- Approved the request for proposals for Architectural and Engineering services for a proposed Thief River Falls building project.

Several other motions were made and approved by the board.

REGULAR BOARD MEETING
February 10, 1992
7:00 p.m.
S.D.S.C. Conference Room

A Regular Board meeting of Independent School District #564 was held on Monday, February 10, 1992, at 7:00 p.m. in Conference Room A of the School District Service Center.

The following Board members were present: Larry Belmont, Carl Clark, Hank Hallstrom, Dennis Kiesow, Harry Sjulson and Darla Twomey. Also present was Dr. Robert Duncan, Superintendent.

Chair Larry Belmont called the meeting to order and Clerk Darla Twomey established that a quorum was present.

A motion was made by H. Hallstrom and seconded by C. Clark to approve the agenda as amended. Motion carried unanimously.

Information was distributed concerning the MSBA Phase II Orientation Workshop scheduled for March 30th at St. Cloud and April 4th at Plymouth. Information concerning a workshop titled "Transforming K-12 Education During Time of Scarce Resources" to be held March 5 in St. Cloud was also distributed.

The following were recognized for their achievements and donations: VICA Region of Skills Contest Winners: Auto Body - Davin Vesolka, Lynn Berard, Scott Mostrom, Jamie Brandon, Jacob Johanson; Auto Mechanics - Scott Smsky, Chris Larson; Machine Shop - Scott Pnnek, Steve Staveness, Marc Donarski; Small Engines - Ryan Barth, Adam Biggo, Chad Larson; Electronics - Shawn Lens, Allen Mehrkens, Dustin Anderson. The TRF Backcourt Club was recognized for their donation of $400 for the Girls Basketball Tournament and the following businesses for sponsoring a program to provide first graders with "My Favorite Book": Belmont Funeral Home, St. Hilaire Co-op Elevator, Pizza Hut, Tony Dom, Inc., Farmers Union Oil Company, and Taco John's. The Minnesota Alliance for Arts in Education was recognized for the grant of $600 for lighting equipment.

Rod Johnson, Chairperson of the Outcome-Based Education Steering Committee presented the committee's recommendations to the Board. The recommendations include hiring and funding a Strategic Planner, funding strategic planning committee work, training and staff development, develop and OBE process using various aspects of different processes presently available, keep the community well informed regarding OBE and the strategic plan, and the district's Staff Development Committee address OBE issues and concerns. The plan would be monitored by the district's Strategic Plan Committee and the plan would be presented to the Board for action and implementation at the earliest date possible.

Joyce Froschheiser, ECFE Coordinator, presented information concerning new legislation regarding the screening of four year olds and learning readiness requirements.

Bruce Felt and Connie Haus updated the Board on activities of the Music Curriculum Committee indicating all 3rd, 5th and 7th graders in district would be tested to establish a baseline for measurement in the future.

Reports were given by Darla Twomey concerning the PER Committee and Dennis Kiesow concerning the TC Subcommittee. Dennis indicated the TC District Board has developed the search procedure for a CEO of the Northwest Technical College District.

Assistant Superintendent Orley Gunderson reported that our TC is considering offering aviation program courses at Hibbing.

Superintendent Robert Duncan discussed the possibility of approaching the Education Foundation to consider a project of retrofitting the seats in the Lincoln Auditorium by selling seats to individuals and/or corporations. Estimated cost of the project would be $90,000 or approximately $100/seat for 900 seats. Board concensus was to approach the Foundation Board for their consideration.

Dr. Duncan also discussed the proposed building project with the Board asking them to consider establishing a Citizens Facilities Committee to Oversee the Project made up of approximately 20 individuals, a Facilities Site Selection Committee of about 5-6 people and a Grade 5 Study Group to advise the Board on proposing a PreK-4 or PreK-5 elementary school. Board members decided to hear potential architect proposals the week of March 2 as recommended by the construction manager.

Superintendent Duncan also updated the Board on progress of the Tech Prep program and changes in vocational course offerings for the upcoming school year. Information was presented on restructuring of the regional delivery system and the MSBA School Board Member Day at the Capitol scheduled for March 2. Board concensus was to hold a Staff Appreciation Banquet again this year and members Maryel Anderson, Carl Clark and Darla Twomey will be in charge of that event.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED IMPROVEMENTS
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of Thief River Falls will conduct a hearing on Monday, March 23, 1992, at 7:00 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the Thief River Falls City Auditorium, to consider the making of the following improvements, pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Sections 429.011 to 429.111:

1. STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Sioux Street: Chippewa Avenue to Horace Avenue; Armory Parking Lot - 15,000 sq. ft. parking lot adjacent to existing Armory Parking Lot.

The recommended construction would be excavation of unsuitable soils and backfilling with aggregate materials. Bituminous surfacing and curb and gutter are not proposed as part of this project but would be installed in the future under other projects and hearings. The areas proposed for excavation and aggregate backfill are indicated on Exhibit A.

The total estimated project cost of Street Excavation and Backfill is $33,000 and the City Council has recommended that no assessments be levied for the project cost. Future curb and gutter benefits and bituminous surfacing will be assessed under a later project.

II. SIDEWALK IMPROVEMENTS

SIDEWALK REPLACEMENT: State Avenue - Fourth Street to Sixth Street; Arnold Avenue - First Street to Tenth Street; Duluth Avenue - Eighth Street to Eleventh Street; Knight Avenue - Tenth Street to Eleventh Street; Second Street - Arnold Avenue to Duluth Avenue; Fifth Street - Arnold Avenue to Duluth Avenue; Sixth Street - State Avenue to Arnold Avenue; Tenth Street - Duluth Avenue to Knight Avenue; Red Lake Blvd. - Third Street to Sixth Street; Dewey Avenue - Fourth Street to Eighth Street; Reserve Avenue - Seventh Street to Eighth Street; Sixth Street - Dewey Avenue to Red Lake Blvd.

The proposed improvements would consist of removal and replacement of segments of existing sidewalks, deemed unsafe for pedestrian traffic. Concrete driveway and entrance walk replacement from curb to back of sidewalk will also be replaced as necessary.

Sidewalks proposed for replacement or installation and corresponding areas to be assessed are indicated on attached Exhibit A. Total estimated project cost is $137,000. The City Council has recommended that properties benefited by the proposed improvements be assessed for a portion of the cost.

B. 6" THICK SIDEWALK REPLACEMENT. Arnold Avenue - Second Street to Third Street, Third Street - State Avenue to Arnold Avenue.

The proposed improvements would consist of removal and replacement of the existing 4" thick sidewalk adjacent to the above school district property. The new installation would be 6" thick sidewalk to accommodate vehicular snow removal operations.

The sidewalks proposed for replacement and corresponding areas to be assessed are indicated on attached Exhibit A. Total estimated project cost is $18,000. The City Council has recommended that properties benefited by the proposed improvements be assessed for a portion of the cost.

The total estimated cost of all proposed improvements is $188,000. Such persons as desire to be heard with reference to the proposed improvements will be heard at this meeting.

NOTICE OF HEARING
PLANNING COMMISSION
CITY OF THIEF RIVER FALLS

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Chapter 11 of the Thief River Falls City Code that Kenneth and Evelyn Berg, 101 Idlewood Court, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, and owners of property located at the Southeast corner of the intersection of Oete Street and Belmont Drive, have requested that the Zoning for the following described properties be amended from C-2 General Business District to R-4 Multi-Family Residential District.

That part of Lot One (1), Block One (1), Oakville Second Addition to the City of Thief River Falls according to the Official Plat thereof on record, described as follows: Beginning at an iron pipe monument at the Northwest corner of said Lot One (1), thence North 88 degrees 33 minutes 35 seconds East, assumed bearing along the Northerly line of said Lot One (1), a distance of 94.82' to an iron pipe monument, thence continuing Northeasterly along said Northerly line along a tangential curve concave to the Northwest having a radius of 127.72' and a central angle of 17 degrees 48 minutes 00 seconds 39.88' to an iron pipe monument; thence North 48 degrees 45 minutes 34 seconds East along said Northerly line 10.00' to an iron pipe monument, thence South 42 degrees 37 minutes 57 seconds East 237.82'; thence South 47 degrees 22 minutes 03 seconds West 234.47' to the Westerly line of said Lot One (1); thence Northwesterly along said Westerly line along a non tangential curve concave to the Northeast having a radius of 230.00' and a central angle of 01 degrees 51 minutes 07 seconds, 7.45' to an iron pipe monument, thence North 23 degrees 28 minutes 25 seconds West along the said Westerly line 285.06' to the point of beginning, containing 1.11 acres, more or less.

Approval of the Zoning Amendment Request would allow the owners to sell the above described property to a developer who proposes to construct multi-family housing on the site. The developer proposes to construct a 15 unit apartment building, 15 single stall garages, along with related site improvements.

Notice is further given that the Planning Commission will hold a Hearing on the Zoning Amendment Request at 5:00 P.M. on Monday, March 23, 1992, in the City Council Chambers, City Auditorium. All persons wishing to comment on the Zoning Amendment Request will have the option to be heard at this time. Persons who wish to submit written comments prior to the Hearing or who have questions should address them to the Office of the Community Development Director, City Auditorium, P.O. Box 528, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, or telephone 218-681-2500.

NOTICE OF ROAD
RESTRICTIONS FOR 1992

The effective date of road restrictions on all Pennington County roads will be concurrent with the placements of restrictions on state trunk highways in the area.

Restriction limits are based on gross axle weight which includes the weight of the vehicle and the load it is carrying.

The erection of signs on any highway governs the effective date of the restriction. As long as signs remain in place, restrictions are in effect.

No permits for overweight axle loads exceeding legal or posted axle weights will be issued.

During the period when signs are in place or road restrictions are in effect any county or township road is restricted to (5) tons gross weight per axle except as otherwise signed. If no signs are erected, the (5) ton gross weight provisions shall apply.

All rural bituminous Pennington County State Aid Highways will be posted at (7) tons gross weight per axle except as noted below.

Exceptions posted at (10) tons gross weight per axle are as follows:

CSAH #17 from CSAH #3 to 1st Street in Thief River Falls

CSAH #3 from T.H. #32 to T.H. #59

Exceptions posted at (9) tons gross weight per axle are as follows:

CSAH #3 from the Polk County Line to T.H. #32

Allows readers to speak out on a variety of issues

The on again, off again presidential primary in Minnesota is on again and is slated to remain that way, at least through this year's election process. The primary will require local units of government to needlessly spend millions of dollars that could desperately be used to pay the cost of basic city services.

The League of Minnesota Cities took a lead role in attempting to forestall the implementation of the primary until the 1996 election year. Our legislative efforts were successful and a bill to postpone the primary was passed, overwhelmingly, in both the House and Senate during the January "short session." However, in mid-January the action was vetoed by Governor Arne Carlson; an action which necessitated override attempts in both chambers of the Legislature.

The override in the Senate was highly successful and passed out on vote of 56 to 10. The action was different in the House, however, as a bipartisan effort saved the governor's position on a 77 to 49 vote. Ninety votes were required in order for the override to succeed.

Many legislators who support the concept of a presidential primary do so on the basis of finding new methods to involve as many citizens in the election process as possible. While we laud these attempts, the real issue is not good government or open elections but a question of what can be afforded. Those who are now going to suffer are communities whose budgets are stretched to the limits, yet must fund one more mandated program, ordered from St. Paul. The real losers are going to be the kids in towns everywhere who won't have as good a 'recreation' program as they could have had because funds are going to be taken to pay the cost of an election of debatable value.

No one's life is going to be made better because a presidential primary will be held in Minnesota on April 7. Yet many individuals will be adversely affected because city councilors are going to cut existing programs to pay for a "beauty contest."

So when a community swimming program is shortened, or a new respirator for the town's ambulance isn't purchased, don't blame your local city councilors. They lost control of their community's budget when the governor and the Legislature decided that people wanted to have a presidential primary instead of local control of community projects. All this, and we're still looking at cutting programs in education, health care, transportation, conservation, recreation, and everything else in order to make up an anticipated $500 million state revenue shortfall that no one is even talking about today.

LEC receives few reports

Few reports have been made to the law enforcement center in Thief River Falls in the past week.

Hit and run. On March 3 at 7:03 a.m. police received a report from Celeste Marie Bjerken, Thief River Falls, stating that sometime during the night while her car was parked in the 300 block of West State, another vehicle struck the rear of the vehicle and left the scene of the accident. Through investigation, officers have cited James Elroy Sletten, Thief River Falls, age 21, for leaving the scene of an accident. Damage loss to both vehicles was unknown.

Assault. On March 3 at 2:20 p.m. police received a report of an assault in Riverview trailer court. Upon investigation, a local woman claimed that Cary Allen Leas, 24, Thief River Falls, had pushed her down and kicked her. She did not require medication attention. Leas was cited for fifth degree assault.

Thefts. Charges could be brought against an Iowa man following an investigation into the theft of video camera equipment from Trinity Lutheran church. The camera and equipment, valued at $4,000, was reported missing on February 18. On February 26, Myron Oargus, Thief River Falls, reported that the camera had been sent back to the church. The camera was sent to a repair shop for repairs, but no estimate on the amount of damage has been reported. Charges could be brought against a 20-year-old male from Garner, Iowa, following the investigation by police.

On March 6 at 9:35 a.m. the Occupational Development Center reported that chains and binders valued at $500 had been taken.

On March 6 at 5:10 p.m. a resident living in the 200 block of North Sherwood reported that two boxes of football cards valued at $104 had been taken from his garage. A 14-year-old male and a 15-year-old male both of Thief River Falls face charges of theft.

Accidents. On March 3 at 4:20 p.m. the police department received a report of an accident at First and Pennington avenue. According to the report, a 1987 four-door Oldsmobile driven by Janice Oarlene Peterson of Grygla was making a left turn onto Pennington from First street when a 1989 Mercury driven by Shannon Jalane Mosbeck, Thief River Falls, was traveling east on First. The vehicles collided. Damages were estimated at $2,000 to the Peterson vehicle and $1,000 to the Mosbeck vehicle. There were no injuries in the accident or citations issued.

Driving while intoxicated. On March 5 at 10:18 p.m. police received a report of a car in a ditch at First and Barzen. There were a number of people in the vehicle which was partially submerged in water. No one was injured, but the driver, 18-year-old Jeffrey Edward Nelson of Thief River Falls was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

On March 6 at 1:25 a.m. while on patrol a police officer stopped a vehicle which allegedly was being driven without headlights and which had crossed the centerline. Milan Watt Iverson, 34, Thief River Falls was arrested for driving while intoxicated.

Vandalism. On March 8 at 8 a.m. police received reports that obscenities had been painted on at least three residences and a city power box.

On March 8 at 2:33 p.m. police received a report of vandalism in Lincoln high school. Damage was estimated at $200.

Consumption under age. On March 7 at 2:40 a.m. after making a traffic stop officers allege that two males in the vehicle had been drinking alcohol. Charged with consumption under age were: Kurt Michael Quam, 19, Goodridge; and Brandon Lee Blaine, 18, Goodridge.

Police in Thief River Falls have announced that calendar parking is no longer in effect unless it snows again.

The Second Section

Local American Legion and Auxiliary, Post 117, distributed coupons at local grocery stores last week. The coupons could be redeemed for a free gallon of milk if the user also purchased two boxes of Kellogg's cereals. The promotion will benefit research into the causes and cures for retinitis pigmentosa (RP), Usher syndrome (deaf-blindness), macular degeneration and related eye diseases. Pictured from left are Gary Anderson, manager at Hugo's, and former Mayor, Bob Carlson and his wife Vivian.

Local Legion Post assists in promotion

Local American Legion and Auxiliary members, Post 117 in Thief River Falls, handed out coupons at three local grocery stores for two days last week.

With the support of Kellogg, The American Legion family, and the stores, funds are being donated to find the causes and cures for retinitis pigmentosa (RP), Usher syndrome (deaf-blindness), macular degeneration and related eye diseases that affect millions of Americans. RP, which is usually diagnosed in children and young adults, leads to gradual loss of vision and in many cases, total blindness.

The coupons offer a free gallon of milk with the purchase of two of four boxes of Kellogg's cereal listed on the coupon. American Legion and Auxiliary members in Thief River Falls handed out the coupons at Northland Foods, Ken's Hartz Market, and Hugo's in Thief River Falls.

Kate McLane, public awareness representative for the RP Foundation, said the coupons are being handed out throughout Minnesota and in key areas of Wisconsin, North Dakota and South Dakota. Phase one also includes Florida. McLane said this is the first time this promotion has run. They won't know how much money is raised until phase one is completed. She said they hope it will raise $100,000.

Tax Time! Most commonly asked questions of experts

This is the first installment of a two-part series. The second installment will appear in the next edition of The Times.

Minnesota department of revenue has prepared a list of the most commonly asked and some not so commonly asked questions in an effort to assist taxpayers trying to prepare tax returns.

What if I have a question about my Minnesota taxes? Who do I call or write?

If you have any questions about your taxes we can answer them during normal business hours from Monday through Friday. If you have a touch-tone phone, you may call at any time for recorded answers to common questions. Call (612) 296-3781 from the Twin Cities area or toll-free 1-800-652-9094 from elsewhere in Minnesota. You may also write to Minnesota Department of Revenue; Taxpayer Information Division, St. Paul, MN 55146-4450.

What is the difference between the Internal Revenue Service and the Minnesota Department of Revenue?

The Internal Revenue Service collects taxes for the United States government. The Minnesota Department of Revenue collects taxes for the state of Minnesota. Each state has its own revenue department. Although the computation of Minnesota's income tax starts with your federal taxable income, the two agencies are separate and independent and should not be confused with each other. If you have a question about your federal taxes, contact the Internal Revenue Service. If you have a questions about your Minnesota taxes (income, corporate, sales, or withholding), you should contact the Minnesota Department of Revenue at 296-3781 from the Twin Cities area, or 1-800-652-9094 from elsewhere in Minnesota. The IRS information line is 644-7515 in the Twin Cities area, or 1-800-829-1040 elsewhere in Minnesota.

I hear that low income families now have a special credit available. What credit is that?

The Minnesota working family credit. It is similar to and depends on your federal earned income credit. If you are eligible for the federal earned income credit, you are also eligible for the Minnesota working family credit. If you work and have wages and self-employment income of less than $21,250 and your child under age 19 lives with you, you probably are eligible for the credit. To claim the credit, complete federal Schedule EIC and a Minnesota income tax return. The Minnesota credit equals 10 per cent of the federal credit. The state credit is allowed only for persons whose income is taxable by Minnesota. If you have any questions, call 296-6417 from the Twin Cities area or toll-free 1-800-937-KIDS from outside the Twin Cities area.

How do I know whether or not I should make estimated tax payments?

Generally, you have to make estimated payments if the balance that will be due on your Minnesota return is over $500, and the amount withheld from your paycheck is less than 90 per cent of Minnesota tax and 100 per cent of your 1990 Minnesota tax. This usually happens when someone has substantial income that isn't subject to withholding. Examples of income not subject to withholding are income earned by self-employed people and investment income (such as interest, dividends and capital gains). If you should have paid estimated tax for 1991, but didn't, complete Form M-15 to determine if you owe a penalty. If you are required to make estimated payments for 1992, use Form M-14, Deposit coupons to make quarterly estimated payments. Contact the Department of Revenue to get Form M-15 and Form M-14. For more information, call 296-3781 from the Twin Cities area, or toll-free 1-800-652-9094 elsewhere in

THE ANIMALS PORTRAY THE MIRACLE OF GOD'S CREATION

With spring just around the corner and the world coming alive again, it's time to reflect upon the incredible intelligence that God has bestowed on the animal kingdom. The birds are returning from their flight south for the winter, with no maps to point out the directions. Hibernating animals will be waking up from their long naps without any alarm clocks. It is arranged, without a calendar, that many animals are born in the spring, when there is ideal weather and an abundance of food. And so on. God gave man the ability to understand these achievements, and He asks only that we respect them. At your House of Worship, learn that all of this illustrates the wonder of God's creation, and that along with the animals, we are a vital part of it.

Praise to thee,
my Lord, for all thy creatures.

Most commonly asked questions during tax time

Minnesota.

Is there any credit for day care expenses?

You may be able to receive credit for child care costs on your Minnesota income tax return if your income as reported on line 31 of your federal Form 1040 or line 16 of Form 1040A is less than $27,640, and:

• The expenses are for a dependent child under age 13, your disabled spouse, or another disabled person who receives more than 50 per cent of his or her support from you;

• the person lived with you;

• you are a single parent or married filing a joint return;

• you paid for child care while working or looking for work;

• you paid someone for the care service; and

• you paid more than half the cost of running the household for the year.

If you feel you may qualify, get Schedule M-1CD, Child and Dependent Care Credit. For forms, call 296-3781 in the Twin Cities are, or 1-800-652-9094 elsewhere in Minnesota.

If I don't have to file a federal income tax return, do I still have to file a Minnesota return?

If you are required to file a federal return, you must file a Minnesota return. However, if you are not required to file a federal return, you do not have to file a 1991 Minnesota tax return. If you are not required to file a Minnesota return but your employer withheld taxes, you have to file a return if you want a refund of the tax that was withheld. If you lived in Minnesota only part of the year or were not a Minnesota resident, but earned income in Minnesota, you must file if your Minnesota income was $5,550 or more. For assistance, call 296-3781 in the Twin Cities area, or 1-800-652-9094 elsewhere in Minnesota.

What do I do if I owe Minnesota income tax, but can't pay the entire amount?

File your return and pay as much as you can by April 15. The Minnesota Department of Revenue, by law, cannot defer payment of income tax if you cannot afford to pay. However, you may call the department and make arrangements for a payment schedule for the balance of what you owe. You will be charged penalty and interest on the amount not paid by the April 15 deadline. For further information, call 296-3781 in the Twin Cities area, or 1-800-652-9094 elsewhere in Minnesota.

I moved into Minnesota in 1991. How do I figure my tax?

If you moved into or out of Minnesota in 1991, you must file a Minnesota income tax return if you meet the income tax filing requirements. Generally as a part-year resident, you must file a return if your Minnesota income was more than $5,550. For more information on what is Minnesota income and how to figure your tax as a part-year resident, read both the Income Tax Booklet, and Schedule M-1NR, Minnesota Income Non-residents and part-year residents. For further information, call 296-3781 from the Twin Cities area, or 1-800-652-9094 elsewhere in Minnesota.

The second installment of this series will appear in the next edition of The Times.

Allows readers to speak out on a variety of issues

MN Dept. of Public Safety

In December 1984, more than 2,000 people were killed and many more seriously injured when a lethal gas, methyl isocyanate, escaped from a chemical plant in Bhopal, India.

Seven years later, many Americans recall the shock of that tragedy, but relatively few are aware of the steps that have been taken in the United States to better protect people and the environment from the dangers of hazardous materials.

In 1986, Congress passed the Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act, also known as SARA Title III. Although the law is complex, its premise is simple: the best way to protect people from chemical risks is to give them access to information about hazardous materials in their communities and encourage communities to plan for chemical emergencies.

Hazardous materials can expose us to immediate risks from fires, explosions, spills, and other accidents. And routine releases of toxic chemicals create potential long-term risks. These risks aren't limited to industrial areas. Hazardous materials can be found in potentially dangerous quantities in many places, including schools, warehouses, farm suppliers, stores, utilities, and sewage treatment plants.

Since the passage of SARA Title III, Minnesota has made substantial progress preparing for emergencies and setting up systems to track information about hazardous materials. Under the direction of the Minnesota Emergency Response Commission (ERC), which is part of the Department of Public Safety, regional review committees have been set up to coordinate local emergency planning. The committees review local emergency plans, the basic "blueprints" for responding to chemical emergencies.

Under the law, facilities must make information available about hazardous materials they use, store, manufacture or release. Currently, more than 5,000 facilities in Minnesota submit information to the ERC.

In addition, information about routine chemical releases from large manufacturing plants is accessible through a computer database called the Toxic Release Inventory. In 1990, 550 plants in Minnesota reported 66 million pounds of toxic chemicals released into the environment or sent to sewage treatment plants and hazardous waste facilities.

The use of new computer software that can provide instant information about the characteristics and location of a hazardous material release gives emergency response personnel a valuable tool for responding to accidents quickly and safely. And local emergency response personnel are receiving information and training to help them deal more effectively with chemical emergencies.

While the progress is encouraging, the full potential of SARA Title III is yet to be realized. Additional improvements in training and data management can make our emergency response system even more effective, and expanded reporting requirements can provide better information about hazardous materials, particularly in regard to toxic chemicals released into the environment.

But the value of SARA Title III does not hinge solely on increased technical sophistication and more prompt and thorough chemical reporting. In the long run, its effectiveness also depends on our willingness to make greater personal responsibility for decisions about hazardous materials in our communities.

SARA Title III is based on the idea that, if citizens have access to information about hazardous materials, they will take appropriate action to protect themselves and their communities. Unfortunately, many communities are not fully prepared for potential emergencies, often because citizens aren't aware of the law or the risks the law was designed to guard against.

Here are some things you can do to become better informed about hazardous materials and emergency planning in your community:

• Contact the ERC to find out who is responsible for emergency planning in your area. Make sure you local elected officials are aware of activities required under SARA Title III.

• Review your local emergency plan and participate in our support local emergency planning efforts.

• Contact the ERC or regional review committee to find out what facilities in you area use, store, manufacture, or release hazardous materials. Ask these facilities what they're doing to prevent accidents and reduce toxic chemical releases.

• Offer to work cooperatively with local facilities to develop policies and programs to prevent accidents and reduce pollution.

The use of hazardous materials is common, and often essential in manufacturing products an providing services. While we can't entirely eliminate them to better protect ourselves, our families and our communities, we can learn more about them and take steps localty to reduce their risk.

For more more information about the Emergency Planning and Community Right-to-Know Act, contact the Emergency Response Commission at (612) 643-3000.

Student council at Knox elementary school in Thief River Falls has been involved in a number of activities since being elected last September. Included were planning of a theme day each month, operating the school store twice a week, conducting the contest for ideas for new school shirts (won by Justin Disterheupt) and sponsoring a reading challenge. The challenge was for Knox students to read 800 books during February as "I Love to Read" month; the students responded by reading 1,208 books. Council members (left to right) include, front row, third graders Nikki Eggleston, Chad Borneman, Nate Sorvig, Joe Bruno and Kyla McFarlane; second row, fourth graders Beth Carpenter, Zach Olson, George Haj, Casey Enge and Ann Newton; back row, fifth graders Michael Swanson, Aaron Sorvig, advisor Jodie Olson, Matt Voecks and Wade Chiodo. Not pictured are third grader Kim Schneider and fourth grader Kristin Neplin.

Brantl completes work at school

Robin Brantl has just completed a cooperative education work experience with Central Valley public school, Buxton, ND, where she has been employed as the head varsity volleyball coach, since November 1991. Robin is the daughter of Gary and Sue Brantl of Plummer.

Robin's major is elementary education and she will be graduating after the winter quarter. Besides receiving academic credit for the experience, Robin has gained the necessary career-related work experience that future employers want.

The Central Valley public school hired Robin through the Mayville State University Cooperative Education program. According to Jay Henrickson, cooperative education director at the University, the Co-op program offers students the opportunity to alternate classroom study with a series of paid professional work placements related to their field of study.

Mark and Laureen Johnson and Kayla of Grand Forks, were overnight guests at the Curt and Carol Johnson home Saturday. They were supper guests Sunday, at the Lester and Violet Muzzy home. A Sunday afternoon coffee guest at the Muzzy home was Odin Hansan of Silverton.

Snowmobiling

Harold Halvorson enjoyed about 300 miles of snowmobiling last week. Monday Harold, together with Hillary Stoltman and John Jaransan drove out to the Halvorson cabin at Shotley, and enjoyed snowmobiling in the Northome area. The next day the three snowmobile enthusiasts drove to Bemidji, and back to the cabin. They returned home Tuesday evening. Thursday Harold and Alpha Halvorson and Alvin and Mildred Rondorf motored to Bemis Hill, and spent an enjoyable afternoon with excellent weather and snow conditions, snowmobiling in the area.

Acquaintances of Ruth Twete of Minneapolis, may be interested to learn she fell and broke a hip about a month ago, and has been a resident of Walker Methodist Home since. She is getting along fine.

Supper guests Saturday, February 29, at the Lester and Violet Muzzy home were Jerry and Shirley Bonnet of Twin Valley.

Raymond Rausch has been convalescing at his home since Sunday, February 23, after a siege in Northwest Medical Center. The Hospice borrowed him a hospital bed and also will come out to check on him whenever he is called. He appreciates being strong enough to eat his meals at the table. We all hope he will soon be back to normal health.

A Sunday evening coffee guest at the Alfred Solem home was Art Mortensen, who is presently employed at the Edward Carlson farm of Strandquist.

Nick and Debi Drees, Nicholas, Michael and Jon motored to Fargo Saturday, and stayed overnight at the Holiday Inn, helping Debi celebrate her birthday, which was February 22.

The Strandquist Junior Citizens have done an excellent job collecting and writing the news this week, for which I say "Thank You all very much." The following school news is as it was written:

February birthdays were celebrated at the Strandquist school on Friday, February 20. They were treated to a special meal at lunch time and everyone sang Happy Birthday. Lonnie made a very beautiful cake in the shape of a heart and it was delicious. Those celebrating February birthdays were Yvonne Been, Renee Hanson, Anne Mickelson, Anna Levenhagen, Emilie Johnson, Daniel Stusynski, Shannon Clark, and Michael Braget.

Mr. Westberg's third grade class put out a newspaper this week. It contained news from our school and interviews of the staff, and also news from the elementary basketball program. It was very interesting to read.

Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom were to Red River Lutheran church in rural Kennedy on Thursday afternoon to attend the funeral services for Annie Lindgren. They were among the many relatives and friends who were supper guests at the Kenneth and Audrey Lindgren's that evening. They stopped by Hallock later, and visited Ted and Lori Johnson and family.

LaVol Thun, Arnold and Vernice Larson and Bud and Blanche Lafstrom helped Ed Carlson celebrate his birthday on Tuesday evening.

Sunday afternoon Elmer and Anna Holmstrom and Carol and Karl Thompson of Red Lake Falls, visited Isaac and Betsy Thompson.

Kelly Donarski shopped and brought groceries to her folks, Earl and Ebba Sihlberg. It is a pleasure to see children doing these sorts of kindnesses for their parents.

Pearl Thompson, Elsie Lefrooth and Agnes Vagle accompanied Betsy Thompson to Marie Johnson's, to celebrate her birthday on Friday.

Dave and Elaine Grovum of Thief River Falls, and Pearl THompson visited Elsie Lefrooth on Sunday. Shirley Lefrooth had lunch with Elsie Lefrooth on Monday.

Betty and Mike Johnson of Warroad, spent some time visiting Elphie Adlis on Saturday. They were returning from a trip to Florida, where they had visited Jan Hilton and children, Katari and Chris. They had also stopped in the Cities to see their son, Richard and Paul and Susan Adlis and Bud Harrison.

Roy Vagle was a dinner guest at Isaac and Betsy Thompson's on Monday. Betsy had been helping him type the news while I was out in Montana. Thanks Betsy and Isaac!

Audrey Rasmusson from Walker, sent word up here that Glen Rasmussen had surgery at St. Luke's hospital in Fargo, and is doing fine at this time. His father, George Rasmusson, is still staying with Virgil and Ruth Rasmussen in the Cities. With all this nice weather we are having, it may not be too long before the robins will be coming back, followed by George closely behind. We are all looking for you, George.

Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom visited with Lois Cerrico on Wednesday evening. Lois is recouperating from surgery and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Carlyle and Lila Larsen and LaVol Thun visited Don Carlson on Friday evening.

Ellen Stromberg and Frank Grochowski visited Frank and Judy Kleinvachter Monday evening.

Elsie Lefrooth was a supper guest of Otto and Doris Song on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlyle Larson came on Thursday, to spend a couple of days at LaVol Thun's. They came to attend the 80th birthday celebration for Waldy Larson, at Karlstad on Saturday.

Marian Pederson had coffee with Frank and Judy Kleinvachter on Thursday morning. Elmer and Anna Holmstrom and Ellen Stromberg visited in the evening.

Elsie and Ivan Kimbrough visited at the Carl Johnson home on Thursday evening.

Peter E. and David Thompson went to Lake of the Woods, to fish on Wednesday. I don't know how lucky they were because when I stopped out there today they had already consumed them.

Voting: The Guardian Of The Constitution

First place in the American Legion's local oratorical contest was won by Lars Dyrud, son of Lowell and Mary Dyrud and a senior at Lincoln high school. He subsequently placed second in the district contest in Detroit Lakes. Following is the text of his oration on a selected portion of the U.S. Constitution:

Voting: The Guardian of the Constitution

This last summer I had the privilege of attending Boys State. The week gave me my first experience with serious voting. At the end of the week, we held our state elections where we elected our state officers such as Governor, Lieutenant Governor and Justices. In his final campaign speech, one candidate used a play of words where he implied that his opponent had done something he hadn't done. The party he was running for was dumb-founded. Fortunately, nobody fell for his method of vote-getting.

Tragically, however, the public is often suckered by sugary speeches and slick slogans. Candidates often make promises they can't keep and use slogans just to get the votes. These candidates may win the election, but the promises made are often not fulfilled and the gimmick usually returns to haunt the office winner.

We see a good example of this in the 1964 election with Democratic nominee Lyndon Baines Johnson. Johnson promised to pull U.S. troops out of the Vietnam War if he were elected. He gave every assurance that he was a Dove when it came to the war in Vietnam. Johnson's opponent, Barry Goldwater, on the other hand, was known as a Hawk on war issues.

Because of his promises about the war, Johnson won the Presidency and Goldwater was soundly defeated. As we all know, the U.S. just got deeper in the war and Johnson's promise went unfulfilled. Johnson was finally forced to pull out of the next election after the 1968 primary in New Hampshire. His popularity had dropped to an all-time low and the public viewed him as a liar.

In a more recent case, we see another campaign promise made and not kept. In the election of 1988, Republican nominee George Bush used the slogan, "Read my lips, no new taxes." But, alas, similar to Johnson, he could not keep his promise. Time will tell if the voters react the same way to him as they did to Johnson. In both cases the candidates wanted the office so badly that they misled the voters; in both cases the electors received just the opposite of what they thought they were voting for.

The voter in a democracy must always be wary, careful and cautious. Why? Voting is the single most important aspect of a democracy. The Constitution of the United States of America describes rights and freedoms for the American citizen. It is the longest surviving constitution in the world. Many of the 26 amendments to the Constitution give a detailed picture of our rights as voters in the United States. In fact, a great portion of the Constitution is devoted to voting. I will mention seven of the most important amendments that deal specifically with the right to vote.

The Twelfth Amendment, passed in 1804, allows the people to elect a President and Vice President.

The Fourteenth Amendment, passed in 1868, gives the right to vote to anyone 21 years of age and older.

The Fifteenth Amendment, passed in 1870, guarantees that no one can be denied a vote because of "...race, color, or previous condition of servitude."

The Seventeenth Amendment, passed in 1913, gives us the right to elect Senators.

The Nineteenth Amendment, passed in 1920, ends voting discrimination based on sex.

The Twenty-Fourth Amendment, passed in 1964, says that failure to pay a Poll Tax or other tax is no reason to deny the right to vote.

The Twenty-Sixth and last Amendment, passed in 1971, lowers the voting age to 18.

With all of these amendments dealing specifically with the rights of the voter, it is truly an important part of our government and our country.

With so much emphasis then on voting in our Constitution, why do so few people vote? People many times say that they're too busy. Others say that the incumbent has too much of an advantage. Some say that there are too many scandals in politics; that politicians are lining their own pockets. All of these are empty excuses and are crippling our democracy.

But what does it take to make people aware of the importance of voting? What can we do to bring people to the ballot box? Maybe we should consider a tax break to get people to vote. Some of you might think that is going too far, but is it?

Why do people give money to a campaign? Is it because the candidate is good looking, has wavy hair, pretty eyes or straight teeth? No. It is because they know that down the road the way the candidate will vote might profit the contributor. What then is wrong with giving a tax break to voters up front? Perhaps this would cause people to take a more active part in their government.

Maybe we should consider limiting terms. I don't believe that the original framers of the Constitution intended that Congressmen serve for decades. Some of our Congressmen have served for half a century. How can this possibly demonstrate correctly a democracy when one man stays in office so long?

George Washington served two terms as President and felt he had served long enough, and if he had stayed longer he would send the wrong message to people in a democracy. And he was right. Because today voters are disillusioned. We know that the incumbent has the advantage. Voters think, "Why should I vote when the incumbent will win anyway?"

Maybe the time has come when we should limit terms. Perhaps we should consider no more than three or four terms for Representatives and no more than two terms for Senators. Perhaps this would encourage voters to feel that their vote makes a difference.

Maybe we should consider making voting a Sunday activity. Many countries in Europe have used Sunday voting for years and have better turnouts than we do. For those who argue that it would interfere with worship services, what could be more sacred than exercising our God-given right to vote?

If we voted on Sunday, no one could say that his work interfered. If we voted on Sunday, no one could say that he was too busy. Sunday voting, I am sure, would result in a several per cent increase. However, if some people find Sunday voting offensive, maybe we should consider a national holiday on the second Tuesday of November and call it National Voting Day or Constitution Day or even Democracy Day. Call it what you will, it would eliminate excuses for not voting.

The writers of the Constitution realized the importance of voting, but in the last 200 years people seem to have forgotten the importance. If we don't take action now, we may not see the Constitution last another 200 years.

This fall I will take part in my first Presidential election. This fall I will take part in the most important activity for a citizen of a democracy. And my dream is that one day we will no longer be a nation where only 40-some per cent of the population votes, but a nation where everyone who enters the voting booth knows that he is the most powerful person in the country, and the people he's voting for are the servants. For that was the intent of the writers of our Constitution and that is why we must make these drastic changes to bring people back to the polls!

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

Wetland forum at Goodridge this Saturday

Minnesota Wetland Conservation Act of 1991 will be the topic for a public education forum to be held Saturday, March 21, beginning at 9 a.m. in the Goodridge community center attached to the Goodridge school. The session is expected to last until about 11 a.m.

Presenters will include Julie Bleyhl, director of legislative services for the Minnesota Farmers Union; Mike Peloquin, area hydrologist for the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources; and Tim Finseth, representing the Marshall County Soil and Water Conservation district;

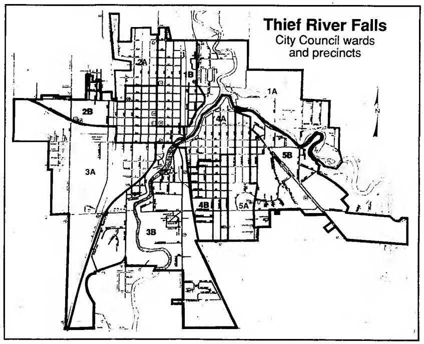
Also Gary Lane, representing the Pennington County Soil and Water Conservation district; Brian Dwight, Bemidji, representing the Minnesota Board of Water and Soil Resources; Lowell Enerson, executive director of the Red Lake Watershed District; State Senator LeRoy Stumpf and State Representative Wally Sparby, both of Thief River Falls.

Moderating the panel of participants for the discussion will be Marcella Gonsorowski, member of the Marshall County Board of Commissioners.

Wetland legislation and regulations have been and will continue to be a major land use issue for the 1990s. The Minnesota Wetland Conservation Act was one of the major pieces of legislation adopted by the 1991 Minnesota Legislature.

As a result of the legislation which went into effect Jan. 1, 1992, every government entity, property owner, farmer, developer, lender and road contractor must be aware of the previous laws as well as the provisions of the new legislation. Decisions to purchase property, build, zone, plat, appraise, fill or drain property can be properly made only with the understanding of wetland regulations to avoid penalties and unnecessary cost.

Saturday's forum is being sponsored by the Pennington and Marshall county boards of commissioners and the Pennington and Marshall County Farmers Union.



Women's History Month observed

March has been designated as Women's History Month at Northland Community College. A wide variety of activities has been planned to emphasize the contributions of women throughout history. Activities remaining include the following:

March 18—Educating Rita will be shown in Room D 62 at 7 p.m. Discussion will be led by Sue Minnick and refreshments will be served following the movie.

March 18—Women of Other Cultures will be presented at 11:10 a.m. in the theater. Guest speakers from the Global Institute will discuss the roles of women in their culture. Speakers will include: Darika Chotivichit, and 18-year-old from Bangkok, Thailand; Yukiko Yamazaki, a 17-year-old from Osaka, Japan; Katarina Prokopic, a 15-year-old from Zagreb, Croatia; and Fanny Schafer, who is from Ecuador.

March 19—Trivia Contest - 3:00 p.m. in Room D 61. Topic will be women in history.

March 24—Shirley Valentine will be shown in Room D 62 at 7 p.m. with discussion led by Yolanda Martinez. Refreshments will be served.

March 25—Reader's Theater, Out of Our Father's House, will be shown at 11:10 a.m. in the theater.

Redistricting plans take shape

Tuesday night, Thief River Falls city council got its first look at a redistricting plan that would reduce the number of precincts from 15 to 10.

Currently, each of the five wards in Thief River Falls consist of three precincts — thus there is a 1A, 1B and 1C etc. . . . The new plan calls for two precincts per ward.

The city council is required to approve a re-districting plan by March 31. The plan should provide equal representation for the city's 8,010 residents. Although the city's population declined from 9,105, there doesn't appear to be any major shifts in population or in the boundaries of current wards. Residents will find some significant changes in precincts, however.

Roger DeLap, city finance officer, explained that one of the reasons for the reduction in the number of precincts had to do with cost. Every time an election is held, at least three judges have to be hired for each precinct. Three precincts per ward also added to confusion over what precinct a voter lived in and added to the length of time it took to count each vote.

After a count, each ward will contain roughly 1,602 people, plus or minus 10 per cent. A map of the proposed precincts should be in this edition of the newspaper. However, residents interested in the issue can look at large maps on display in the council chambers of the city auditorium. A public hearing will be held 7 p.m. March 24. Following the public hearing the council is expected to adopt a final plan.

Pennington county commissioners will be following the plans of the city council very closely. Despite representatives of both organizations working together, there may be more heat over changing the boundaries of wards for county commissioners. At least one group of citizens is organizing an effort to make sure that at least three of the five county commissioners are elected from Thief River Falls. Currently, only two of the five are elected from Thief River Falls.

17th Fantasy on Ice Saturday and Sunday

"Around the World and Across the U.S.A." is the theme for the 17th annual Fantasy on Ice skating show to be presented Saturday and Sunday, March 21 and 22, at the Huck Olson Memorial arena in Thief River Falls.

Show times will be 7 p.m. Saturday and 2 p.m. Sunday with Ila Anderson as program director. The show is presented by the Thief River Falls Park and Recreation department and the Thief River Falls Recreational Skating committee.

Guest skaters this year are Jennifer Johnson and Lynnae Broten, both former members of the Thief River Falls Skating club and selected from auditions to perform with professional skating shows.

Jennifer will follow the show-opening number by the junior precision line by opening the "Rhythm Nation" segment of the program. Lynnae will skate to "Happiest Girl in the Whole U.S.A." just prior to the ice show finale.

Local skating club members who will be skating as soloists in the ice show will be Sarah Koland, "Brazil Cha Cha;" Jeny Stumpf, "Zorba;" Teresa Johnson, "Russe Ballet;" Tami Mooney, "Cable Car;" Becky Mooney, "Heartland;" and Katie Lendobeja, "Dixie Dawn."

Special ensembles include Jocelyn Goldesberry and Carly Dee, "What a Wonderful World;" Erica Owen and Kim Stenseth, "Black or White;" Andrea Vigen and Kami Twomey, "Tijuana Shuffle;" Elizabeth Odette and Becky Kenner, "Spanish Kicks Tango;"

Also Kim Schneider, Stephanie Wiseth, Jessica Loftus, Leah Kenner and Katie Furuseth, "Gypsy Dance;" Lauren Lavalier, Becky Mattson and Carissa Pederson, "I Can Can;" and Amy Johnson, Michelle Haugen and Robin Bollesen, "New Orleans Jazz." Becky and Beth Mattson will sing "Top of the World" during the show finale.

Other special portions of the show will include a number of fathers skating with their daughters in a portion of the program called "Daddy Will You Dance with Me?" and a number by the juvenile precision line to open the second half of the program following an intermission.

Many groups of younger skaters in theme costumes will also perform during the show.

Serving as general chairpersons for the show are Sue Lamm and Deb Stenseth. Show directors are

Little Brothers need adults to volunteer

The Little Brother/Little Sister program began in Thief River Falls in 1987. It was recognized that many youth in our community live in single-parent homes and, while some single-parent children have a close and constructive relationship with their absent parent, many do not. Hence, a need was perceived for those children to have a positive consistent adult role model in their lives, a big brother where there is a missing dad or a big sister where mom was missing from the home.

The big brothers and big sisters are mature, stable personable men and women volunteers of good character who are willing to help unfortunate youngsters along the road to healthy self-esteem and good citizenship. The organization, however, desperately needs adult male volunteers to be big brothers. Some of the following boys have been waiting for over three years to be matched with an adult. Anyone interested should contact Bev at 681-8740 or 681-3103.

Some of the boys who need a big brother include the following.

"Rob"

This 14-year-old enjoys hands-on experiences like computers, Nintendo and drawing and will watch most sports, but doesn't do well in team sports, becomes hurt easily. He would like someone to help build interest in reading. Rob is easy to be with, very pleasant and has nice manners and a good sense of humor.

"Tom"

This 6-year-old enjoys bowling, snowmobiling, three-wheelers and fishing. He is friendly and outgoing and eager to please. There are no male role models in his life and he needs someone who can do more aggressive activities than Mom can.

"Eddie"

This 7-year-old is a new kid on the block and has a hard time making friends. He enjoys watching birds, biking, fishing, Walt Disney movies, as well as building Legos and playing with cars. He needs a friend who will be true for a longer period of time.

"Mike"

This 7-year-old is very sociable and loves people. He hasn't developed any sports interests but enjoys doing most activities. He enjoys cartoons, music, camping and needs someone to be with, that shows they care, because he only sees his father twice a year.

"Chris"

This 8-year-old needs someone to look up to. He is very quiet and loves anything with a ball, basketball especially. He also enjoys reading. He has never had an opportunity to camp, fish or hunt but would enjoy these things. His relationship with his father is not good.

"Tim"

This 7-year-old is very active and loves adult attention. He needs to learn to trust adult males, as his experience with his father was not positive. He enjoys hockey, softball and fishing.

"Bruce"

This 11-year-old, who lost his Dad in a car accident, misses having someone to do male-type activities with. He has his own fishing equipment and BB gun but needs someone to help him learn how to use them. He is good at working with his hands, likes bowling and football and is very sensitive and needs someone who has a positive outlook.

"Ken"

This 7-year-old is very friendly and outgoing and loves stories and movies about animals. He enjoys softball and watching hockey and fishing and needs to learn to trust adult males, as his experience with his father was not positive.

"Dennis"

This 5-year-old enjoys playing games, books, balls, frisbee and going to the park. He is a typical little boy, friendly and outgoing. His father lives out of state, so he never sees him.

"Randy"

This 14-year-old is very thoughtful and has a good sense of humor. He is good at target shooting and enjoys basketball, fishing and working with his hands.

"Neal"

This 13-year-old likes airplanes and wants to join the Air Force when he grows up. He loves horses and likes to ride whenever he can. He also enjoys snowboarding, hockey, fishing, camping and video games.

"Rodney"

This 6-year-old is very shy and finds it difficult to make friends easily. He enjoys matchbox cars and models, riding bike and Nintendo and would like to try hockey but hasn't had the opportunity.

"Joe"

This 13year-old wants to be a semi driver when he grows up. His main interest is fishing and he wishes he had his own lake. He likes riding bike, skating and watching hockey.

"John"

This 11-year-old is interested in becoming a lawyer when he grows up. He likes sports of all kinds but baseball is his favorite. He also enjoys cooking.

Speaking Of . . .

. . . Do We Have a Monarchy, or What?

When I first heard about these rubber checks some of our representatives have been writing, I thought it was much being made of nothing. So, they wrote a few checks before the money got to the bank—so carelessness does not mean corruption—does it?

I got a little more concerned when I heard how many checks and how much money was involved with some of the overdrafts. One fine fellow wrote more than 850 bad checks totalling $150,000, and another wrote 400 bouncing checks for more than $180,000. I decided this involved more than a few checks before payday.

Holy cow, come to think of it, if Mr. Average Joe from Thief River Falls wrote bad checks like that, he would end up being visited by the sheriff in a hurry, no ifs, ands or buts about it.

Speaking of ifs, ands or buts, many of the representatives got wind of the coming expose and started making excuses for their dirty deeds before their names came out in the newspapers.

I heard one excuse his bouncing checks by saying he lived, like his constituents, from pay check to pay check. Hum, poor fella, was he insinuating that he needs to vote himself another raise, since he, obviously, cannot live on the one he voted himself last year (which was, after all, the highest in history)?

Minnesota Democratic Representative Gerry Sikorski said his tummy hurt when he went through his records and saw the 671 bad checks he wrote. My goodness, any normal person would get a stomach ache if he or she wrote 671 checks without money in the bank to cover them.

Even though his wife appeared by his side at the press conference and tried to take some of the blame by saying that she wrote checks on the account, too, Mr. Sikorski stood up like a man and took responsibility for the whole thing. His bad checks totalled $119,966 over a three-year period. That's enough to make a tummy ache, all right.

Another Minnesotan, Republican Vin Weber, wrote 125 checks for a total of $47,987. I wonder if he has a tummy ache, too.

Several representatives have been putting the blame for their overdrafts on poor bookkeeping habits. Yup, I've heard and read about them blaming their own adding and subtracting. (I haven't heard any of them blaming their wives for the adding and subtracting yet, but I don't doubt that it will come to that sooner or later.)

Nevertheless, it is hard to believe that we have gone and elected such nincompoops as these grown men who cannot balance their own check books. Maybe we should be more careful of whom we are electing.

My very favorite excuse was the representative from California who said he wrote just one rubber check and that was for $100 for rocks to make an outdoor shrine to the Virgin Mary. I wonder how long it took him to think that one up.

Anyway, after I heard some of the lame excuses those representatives came up with, I became a whole lot more concerned about this rubber check business. I decided it must be a pretty serious thing, after all, since so many of the culprits were squeaking so loudly about either their simplicity or their sincerity. This type of action usually means there is something fishy going on.

Now we must remember that this was a very special bank, a private one just for members of the House of Representatives, nothing like the banks we ordinary people use. From what I have read, the bank staff was advised to treat the members like "royalty," and cater to their every wish. I guess the bank didn't want to bother the royalty with such mundane matters as insufficient funds to cover their checks.

It seems to me that the issue here is not the fact that our elected officials wrote bad checks. The issue here is the fact that these representatives were allowed to write these rubber checks as general practice, just because they were who they were. One more example of the "perks" of being in politics in this country.

One can't help but wonder if the special treatment and privileges might not be going to some congressional heads. Next thing you know, being treated like royalty and all, they'll think those heads should wear crowns!

Hattie Melin, 90

Thief River Falls — Hattie Melin, 90, died March 10 at the CNC unit of Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held March 14 at the Black River Lutheran church, rural St. Hilaire, with Rev. Neil Gladen officiating. Special music was provided by Diane Johnson, soloist, and Ruthie Mosbeck, organist. Casketbearers were Gary Mosbeck, Peter Mosbeck, Kelly Mosbeck, Paul Mosbeck, Ira Cota and Scott Sorvig. Interment was in the church cemetery. The Belmont Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Hattie Eleanora Larson was born Sept. 12, 1901 in Wylie, the daughter of Emil and Lulu (Drake) Larson. She grew up in Wylie, where she attended school. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith at Black River Lutheran church. On Jan. 10, 1923 she was married to Henry L. Melin in Thief River Falls. They lived and farmed in Polk Centre township, Pennington county, until 1957 when they moved to Red Lake Falls. In 1965 they returned to Polk Centre township. In 1986 they moved into Thief River Falls, residing at Valley Home. Her husband died on June 1, 1988. She entered the CNC unit of Northwest Medical center in February 1992. She was an active member of the Black River Lutheran church and served as church organist for several years.

She is survived by two sons: Melvin Melin of Red Lake Falls and Donald Melin of Falling Waters, WV; one daughter, Marian DeBoer of Climax; 12 grandchildren; 20 great-grandchildren; two great-great-grandchildren; three sisters: Irene Christenson of Minneapolis, Lillian Anderson and Lulu Mosbeck, both of Thief River Falls; a son-in-law, George Hermon of Palmer, AK, a daughter-in-law, Dorothy Witzel of Newport and a sister-in-law, Alma Larson of Thief River Falls.

She is preceded in death by her husband; one son, Vern; one daughter, Evelyn; her parents; a grandson, Michael; and a great-grandson, Brian.

Thief River Falls — Stella Stenberg, 91, died March 14 at the Oakland Park Nursing Home in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held March 17 at the Green Funeral Home in Thief River Falls, with Rev. D. Josh Nelson officiating. Special music was provided by Jan Peterson, soloist, and Dorothy Larson, organist. Interment was in the Greenwood cemetery in Thief River Falls. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Stella Ann Burdick was born Feb. 12, 1901 in Garner, IA, the daughter of Fred and Mary (Rahons) Burdick. She moved with her family to Thief River Falls in 1904 and attended elementary school in Silverton township and grew up there. On Apr. 10, 1920 she was united in marriage to Norman Stenberg in Thief River Falls. The couple farmed for a short time in Silberton township and moved into Thief River Falls in 1921. They also lived for many years in Baudette, where she clerked in a grocery store and clothing store. In 1964 they returned to Thief River Falls and had lived there since then. Her husband died on Jan. 1, 1974.

She is survived by two sons, Vernon Stengerg of Thief River Falls and Kenneth Stenberg of Yakima, WA; six grandchildren; and two brothers: Edward Burdick of Grand Rapids and Emil Burdick of Moorhead.

She was preceded in death by her husband; her parents; one sister, Clara Listol; and one brother, Frank Burdick.

Dear Readers,
The clergy are our spiritual guide and play an important part in funeral service. Their experience with life and death, their understanding of human feelings, and their own faith makes them invaluable to you as you face and work your way through the grief process. Families are fortunate to have a minister who is intimately acquainted with them. The clergy will coordinate your religious beliefs into the funeral service and be a source of strength and support to your family.
Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home
Larry Belmont

Concert Association Review
by Constance Haus
S.D. 564 Orchestra Instructor

On Monday, March 9, the Thief River Falls Concert association presented its fourth concert in the Lincoln high school auditorium. The performers were the Ecco Trio, a string trio consisting of a piano, violin and cello.

Some of the pieces played were the Beethoven trio in D major (Ghost Trio), Mendelssohn trio in d minor, and folk songs by Dvorak.

The trio did a wonderful job, however, there was a surprise for the audience. The violinist was not the original player from the Ecco Trio. Junko Ohtsu had gone home to Japan for a visit, and when it was time to return to America, the Japanese government would not let her out of the country in time for the Ecco Trio's tour.

The remaining two-thirds of the trio had to quickly find another violinist and put together a concert in three days. They found Sung Ju Lee, a graduate of the Juilliord School of Music, who is also a wonderful violinist. In three days they put everything together and performed an outstanding concert with much enthusiasm and intensity.

Being a cellist, I was especially impressed by the richness of the cello and how well the trio fit together with such a warm sound. They truly did an outstanding job.

Community Ed class offerings are announced

Several courses to be starting soon have been announced by the community education department of the Thief River Falls public schools.

Dairy feeding meeting aims at production

To look at how to cut dairy feed costs without also cutting production, a dairy nutrition meeting will be conducted Friday, March 20, at 1:30 o.m. In the basement meeting room of the Pennington county courthouse in Thief River Falls.

"Since feed usually accounts for over 50 per cent of the total cost of a dairy operation," points out Howard Person, Pennington county agricultural agent, "cutting feed costs can make a big impact on total expenses. However, when you start trimming the feed bill, you need to be very careful that you aren't also cutting your milk production."

One of the topics for the Friday meeting will include mixing dried distiller's grains with the protein mix to reduce cost and provide valuable bypass protein to the high producing cows. Also considered will be cheaper ways to add fat to the ration as well as using barley to balance the ration. Other ways to increase profits without additional cash expense will also be presented.

The meeting is open to the general public and all interested persons are invited to attend. For additional information call the Pennington county extension office at 681-2116.

Kennedy Home and Craft sale

Kennedy Lions club will hold its 30th annual Home & Craft Sale April 4 and 5. A number of interesting, educational and entertaining events are being planned.

Greg Wilson of Wilson's Landscaping in Hallock will discuss "Insects and Diseases of Landscape, Garden and House Plants." Lyndon Johnson of Hallock will provide musical entertainment entitled "Songs of the Scandinavian Immigrants".

Saturday April 4 will be a special day in Kittson county. Besides the Home and Craft sale, the Hallock and Karlstad communities will be hosting the Kittson County Health Festival from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

There are still a few booth spaces available. For information contact Dan Lundberg at (218) 674-4495.

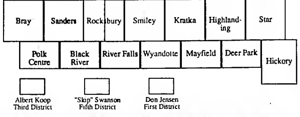
Proposed Pennington County Commissioner Districts



Boundaries of a proposed re-districting plan for Pennington County Commissioners has been prepared. Not mapped out above are the precinct boundaries for districts in the city. Precincts for First District Commissioner Don Jensen include: 1A, Cloverleaf, Deer Park, Goodridge City, Goodridge township, Hickory, Highlanding, Kratka, Mayfield, North, Reiner, Silverton, and Star. Precincts for Second District Commissioner Ken Murphy include: 1B, 2A, and 2B. Precincts for Third District Commissioner Albert Koop include: 3A, Black River, Bray, Norden, Numedal, Polk Centre, River Falls, Rocksbury West, Sanders, and St. Hilaire. Precincts for Fourth District Commissioner Bill Penning include: 3B, 4A, and 4B. Precincts for Fifth District Commissioner "Skip" Swanson include: 5A, 5B, Rocksbury east, Smiley, and Wyandotte.

Note: A map of proposed precincts in the city also appears in this issue.

Finnish student to visit FMS

Kim Lindholm, a 19-year-old student from Finland, says Finland is much like central and northeastern Minnesota — a land of forest and lakes where his friends play hockey in the winter and enjoy wind-surfing in the summer.

Lindholm, from the Helsinki suburb of Espoo, will speak with students in Walter Redinger's classes this Wednesday (March 18) at Franklin Middle School in Thief River Falls. Lindholm is the fifth in a series of international speakers arranged in cooperation with the Northwestern Minnesota Global Studies Institute.

This is Lindholm's first visit to Minnesota. As a senior at Lafayette high school in Red Lake Falls and the international son of host parents Allen and Sandy Bertilrud, Lindholm is getting a first hand look at rural America. Rural America is also getting a first hand look at him.

What do new friends want to know about Finland? Lindholm says he is often asked about the tradition of Finnish saunas. "Everyone likes the sauna, every home has one. My family will use the sauna once a week, others use it daily. Some people say it's good for the heat. I don't know, but it is the thing to do."

Lindholm will return to Finland in June and spend nine months in the army before continuing two years of "pre-college" and his university career.

Lindholm will visit with classes throughout the day, answering student questions about the politics, family values, geography, and traditions of Finland.

Residents asked to help delivery

Delivery of the Northern Watch takes place on Friday after 7 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon. Please leave a screen door open for delivery.

The Times has received numerous complaints from residents about the Northern Watch being left on door-steps or in their yard in the past week. Much of the problem could be solved if a screen door was left open.

Carriers delivering the newspaper would also like to remind residents to leave their pets inside or chained away from the door so that the newspaper can be delivered.

City council considers plan for redistricting of city wards

The proposed plan for Pennington County Commissioner districts includes the following:

- First District Commissioner Don Jensen picks up Deer Pork, Hickory, Kratka and Mayfield townships and drops Precinct 1B. His district includes: 1A, Cloverleaf, Deer Park, Goodridge city, Goodridge township, Hickory, Highlanding, Kratka, Mayfield, North, Reiner, Silverton, and Star.
- Second District Commissioner Ken Murphy's entire district is in the city of Thief River Falls, therefore the precincts in his district change significantly. The precincts in Murphy's district include 1B, 2A, and 2B.
- Third District Commissioner Albert Koop picks up 3A and drops 4A. Townships and precincts in his district include: 3A, Black River, Bray, Norden, Numedal, Polk Centre, River Falls, Rocksbury west, Sanders and St. Hilaire.
- Fourth District Commissioner William Penning's district is entirely in the city so his precinct number change. Precincts in his district include: 3B, 4A and 4B.
- Fifth District Commissioner Skip Swanson drops Deer Park, Hickory, Kratka, and 5C. His district includes: 5A, 5B, Rocksbury East, Smiley and Wyandotte.

Pennington county has to complete its re-districting by April 20, but much of the proposed re-districting depends on what the city of Theif River Falls does. A public hearing will also be held on re-districting in Pennington county.

Spring banquet for Audubon Sanctuary set

Tenth annual spring banquet for the Wetlands, Pines and Prairie Audubon sanctuary will be held at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 7, at the American Legion club rooms in Warren.

Keynote presentation will be by Mary Lou Martin of Eagan. Her program is entitled "Animal Adventures" and she brings with her an "animal stoff" which may include hawks and owls, talking birds, reptiles in all shapes and sizes and other creatures.

Musical entertainment will be provided by Chuck Suchy of Mandan, ND, who was named North Dakota's Centennial Troubador in 1989.

A brief presentotion will unveil plans for developing the sanctuary as a regional environmental education center to serve northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota.

Banquet tickets at $15 each for adults, $7.50 for children 12 and younger, are available by sending the proper amount by March 25 to WPPA Sanctuary, Route 2, Box 45A, Warren, MN 56762. All proceeds go to the nature center building fund.

NW Senior Federation to meet March 19

Nomination for new officers will be held and Jane Crocker will speak on "seams and rip-offs" when the Northwest region of the Minnesoto Senior federation meets Thursday, March 19, at 10 a.m. at the Heritage Community center. Registration begins at 9:30 a.m.

Officers will be elected at the annual convention April 23 at the Heritage center.

Impressions . . .

Are you ever overwhelmed by the "what-ifs" of life? All of us can probably look back on our lives and in the looking back find the times when we will always wonder "what if I had not done that?", or "what if I had done this instead?"

But there is a different kind of "what if" that can overwhelm us in the day-to-day living we do. This present time "what-if" overwhelms us when we allow it to consume us.

In case you don't know what I mean by the present time "what-ifs", let me give you a few examples:

What-if the coffee filter which filters many cups of coffee for me in a year causes cancer? Can I really trust the filter makers to have done the necessary research so that I know that I won't get cancer from coffee filters?

What-if the water I drink carries unknown harmful bacteria? Can I trust that only the good germs have been allowed to filter through to my house's water system?

What if the airplane I travel in has difficulty while I am in it in the air? Can I trust that the mechanics have seen to it that the plane is safe? Can I trust that the personnel on that plane have been trained to respond in emergencies in the very best way possible?

What-if that drug the doctor wants me to take does something strange to me? Can I trust the doctor and the pharmacological researchers to know the safety of medications?

What-if the punishment I give my child causes him to rebel against me, his parent? Can I trust that the love I show to him even in times of punishment will outlast any negative feelings?

What-if my spouse doesn't hear often enough from me that he is loved by me? Can I trust that my loving actions will be so evident that my love is never in doubt?

What-if the school you choose to attend should become not the school that meets your needs? Will you be able and willing to change your goals or change your school?

What-if you choose to paint your house blue and then find that the blue you chose is truly the wrong color of blue?

What if that outfit you chose to wear today is the wrong outfit for the weather, or activity?

There are oh so many what-if's we face every day. They range from the "What am I going to wear?" what-ifs, to the life changing what-if I choose the wrong school, or the wrong mate?

When I allow myself to think of all of the many possible reactions to any action I take, I can find myself bogged down in inaction. I don't like to be in a state of inaction. We human beings are made with minds and with feelings. We are made to be active. We need to know that we will make wrong choices sometimes in our lives. But, we need not be overwhelmed by the possibilities of each choice we make.

Each "what-if" is really a choice we make. Making a choice assumes that we use our minds to think through the possible choices we can make. Making a choice assumes that we not only think through the possibilities, but we also trust our personal feelings about situations. When we live our lives fully, our thoughts and feelings help us to sort out the "What-ifs" so we need not be overwhelmed by them.

The future for all of us will depend on the choices we make today. But, I dare not allow the "What-ifs" to overwhelm me, for when they do overwhelm, the inaction they create can destroy my future as well as my today.

So, next time one of the "What-ifs" of your life—be it a major decision you need to make or not—threatens to overwhelm you, rely on the brain the Lord gave you to make your choice. Be thankful that you have choices to make. Be thankful for the action the choices you make create. Be thankful for the lack of inaction you choose when you decide to not allow the "What-ifs" to consume your life.

Lincoln students learn much at Close-Up session

Five students from Lincoln senior high school learned a lot about government and their nation's capitol during a seven-day Close-Up Foundation program in Washington, DC, February 16-22.

Participating in the program were Erica Alberg, Darla Ayers, Lisa DeLap, Jeny Stumpf and Stephanie Vigen. Advisor to the group was Lynn Dyer who worked with the students in preparation study for the trip as well as assisting in Washington, DC.

This was the second year Lincoln has participated in the Close-Up program which began last year with Dyer's law class. Dyer said he would like to see the participation continue with the trip limited to five to seven students.

Cost of the trip was $1,030 per student which included transportation, meals, lodging, admissions and all other expenses except personal items such as souvenirs. Fund-raising by the students through several projects produced about $1,800 and another $2,500 was received in donations from organizations. Individual cost to the participants was reduced to about $200 each.

Stoying in the same area of the hotel at Silver Spring, MD, was the Minnesota delegation and student groups from California, Florida and Missouri. Dyer said the instructors in the program were very complimentary of the students, saying they were well prepared and enthusiastic about their participation and learning.

Activities for the group began on Sunday, February 16, with separate dinners for teacher/staff and students. Workshops were conducted at 8:15 p.m. and an orientotion at 9:30 p.m.

Monday events included a keynote address by Robert Blair, a Washington lawyer who is a frequent speaker and writer on privacy, information law and intellectual property topics. Also speaking was Brian Barger, a special assignment correspondent for the Cable News Network who spent 10 years covering U.S. foreign policy in Central America.

Visits were made on Monday to several points of interest, including a monument study visit which included background and information on a number of the well-known monuments in the Washington area.

Tuesday speakers provided a seminar on the judiciary, the Commonwealth of Independent States and domestic issues. Topical seminars were also held on media coverage and campaigning, the recession and health care.

Minnesota participants from Karlstad, Thief River Falls, Alexandria, Battle Lake, Fergus Falls, Frazee-Vergas, Hawley, Minnewaska, Morris and Perham met Wednesday with Congressman Collin Peterson of Detroit Lakes.

Thursday sessions began with a 9 a.m. seminar on national security at the Pentagon and concluded with the professional theatre performance of "Seven Brides for Seven Brothers" at Toby's Dinner Theatre in Columbia, MD.

Friday included visits to the Smithsonian Institution and a number of other attractions which the Thief River Falls group had decided the previous evening to visit. Final meetings of student and teacher groups were held at 4:30 p.m. and a banquet and dance concluded the evening.

Saturday morning wake-up for Minnesota students was 4 a.m. with departure at 5 a.m. for the Washington National Airport and 7 a.m. flight to Minneapolis.

On Capitol Hill Day Wednesday, participants were required to attend seminars with Congressperson, Senator or staff, breakfast or lunch with the group, at least two committee hearings of the house, visit to the House and/or Senate in session and make a visit to the Supreme Court. The court was not in session when Thief River Falls students were there, so they were provided with "behind the scenes" visits.

Rumors of TRF drug bust are just bad rumors

by David Hill
Times Associate Editor

Editor's Note: Several weeks ago I began receiving information from a number of people about a possible drug investigation in Thief River Falls. Over the past two weeks the number of phone calls and contacts have snowballed — and so too have the rumors.

My investigation included looking into every court record and file possible. It included discussions with officials at every level of law enforcement. Frankly, I discovered that the rumors were simply rumors.

After discussing what to do about the rumors, we had decided pretty much to let them die a natural death. Unfortunately, the rumors are growing and becoming even more ridiculous and widespread. Tuesday I learned that the rumors had spread to Red Lake Falls, Grand Forks, ND, and Fargo, ND. Later that morning I received a letter from one of the individuals who has been the subject of many of these rumors.

The following is a letter to the editor from Marty Collins:

"It honestly saddens me to write this letter, but because of all the malicious rumors an innuendo I feel that it is imperative. I was born in a very poor family in Thief River Falls. We didn't have running water until I was a junior in high school. We were always clean, and never lacked for food on the table, although we didn't have nice clothes and drove a 20-year-old Ford truck. Both my parents worked to make ends meet. Upon graduation I worked on the assembly line at Arctic for one season. I then worked two years on a road construction crew and then landed a desk job as a loan officer for ITT Financial Corp. In 1975 I started working for Jon Larson at Larson Music during the day and delivered pizza at night for Jerry Fessler at the Pizza Hut. I started dating Sally Bruggeman, who then managed the Pizza Hut, and we married in 1976. Sally worked at the Pizza Hut for five years and started working at the New McDonalds in 1979 where she still works today. In 1980 I purchased a building from Carmen Aaseby for $25,000. I told Carmen all I had was $2,500 in savings. Carmen agreed to take that as a partial down payment and gave me three months to come up with $2,500 more, and she would finance the balance on a contract for deed. I sold our car cashed in my life insurance policy, borrowed $4,500 from Northern State bank for inventory and opened the Record Barn in 1980. The first few years were pretty tough and all the money the store made went "back in" to build inventory, so we pretty much lived off Sally's salary. In 1982 we purchased the Borry home from Arctic Ent. My business has went thru many changes including opening a gym in the basement in 1985. We also now sell televisions, VCRs, camcorders, home and car stereos. We changed our name to Budget Electronics in 1991 and the store is doing well.

"My wife and I have two very lovely boys and we are extremely proud of Zack, age 6, and Jake, two and one-half years. We plan on raising our family in Thief River Falls, which is what concerns me. I was raised to believe that you work as hard as you can at whatever you do and you will be compensated accordingly. People will respect you and admire you for your good work ethic. Apparently this does not ring true in our community. In our community you are rewarded for your good work ethic by being branded as a cocaine dealer.

"Yes, we drive a cadillac. Yes, we drive a new pickup and yes, we have the "big fancy house", but my wife and I work very hard for everything we have. Because we were both poor once and it's not much fun, I know in my heart that there are those of you who won't believe one word of this letter, and that is your right. Unfortunately, my wife and family don't have the right, or ability to stop people from gossiping, lying and expanding on rumors. If you would concern yourselves with increasing the balance of your own savings account, maybe you wouldn't have the time to be so concerned about mine."

Signed,
Marty Collins.

Eva Hansen, who has a visual impairment, visits with Bill O'Keefe, owner of McDonald's in Thief River Falls. Hansen is a member of the local Options board. Options is an independent living resource center for handicapped individuals. Hansen and members of the local Options board recently discussed how difficult it was for her and others with visual and mental impairments to read menus. So, Hansen approached McDonald's and asked if they would provide a braille and large picture menu. O'Keefe and the corporate office agreed with Hansen and now the Thief River Falls McDonald's has a braille and large print menu.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

There seems to be a lot of talk these days about politics and the economy. Well, I predict Paul Harvey to win the Presidential bid, providing he chooses Oliver North as a running mate!

The economy, on the other hand, seems to be headed for a major overhaul. Who knows what will happen next? Too many major lay-offs in the working class, without a drastic cut-back in bureaucratic positions is certain to make for an angry public. Taxes will continue to go up, while the working man's income will go down. Tax paid positions in governmental jobs will flourish, while the farmer and the small businesses will be taxed to death.

Too many governmental jobs, combined with high-taxed entertainment businesses have robbed our state of the conservative working man's image. I suggest we return to sound politics, with volunteer politicians (let their speaking fees be salary enough!), a rapid reduction in the tax charges to productive businesses, and more profit sharing by the large industries of the state.

City and state government projects take too long, cost too much, and create too many new government positions, which leads to higher taxes and less free enterprise...and the bureaucrats win again!

Why would a preacher like me vocalize these thoughts anyway? Because a return to a sound economy will also result in stronger churches and more productive households. The major principles of God's Word have always been on the side of the "little guy." And, I believe it pleases God when all forms of government line up with His principles, instead of contrary to them! Good government SERVES, and doesn't STEAL from the public...jobs, money or power!

Realistically yours,

To The Editor:

There may be some people in the Pennington county area that feel that animals should not be used for food and clothing. I agree that all individuals have the right to their own opinion, however, we enjoy many other products that are made from animals and their by-products.

What would camping trips be without roasting marshmallows over the campfire? Marshmallows are made from gelatin found in animals. The fatty acids found in beef enable our kids to enjoy crayons and candies. My home is insulated with a fiber that is made from an animal by-product. The linoleum on my floors and the wax I use to keep them looking shiny are made from animal by-products. Even the film used for the photographs in this newspaper is probably made from an animal by-product.

I have several friends and relatives who are diabetics. They would not be alive if insulin was not available. Insulin is made from the pancreas of beef animals. The blood from some animals is used to make medicines that treat RH factor types. My daughter wouldn't be alive without it. The bone marrow from animals can be used to treat blood disorders, and the soft cartilage may be used in plastic surgery.

Last night I watched a movie about a disabled airplane on TV. In the movie they sprayed the runway with foam because the plane's wheels wouldn't work properly. Did you know that runway foam is made from an animal by-product? So is hydraulic brake fluid, car polish and some textiles used in upholstery.

So you can see that there is more to the use of animals than the obvious. With National Agriculture Day coming up on March 20, we need to thank the farmers and ranchers who make these and many other products possible.

INSURANCE Update

by Dave Nelson

When a homeowner has decided to 'improve instead of move', it's time to take a look at the effect the new addition will have on existing homeowner's coverage. The creation of remodeled or added living space not only increases the market value, it also increases its replacement cost. Since the amount of homeowners coverage is based on the cost of replacing or rebuilding the home with the same kind of materials and design the home had at the time of the loss, it is of critical importance to pinpoint the replacement cost after the improvements. In many cases, it is not accurate to simply add the cost of the addition to the home's old replacement cost. A better way to arrive at an improved home's new replacement value is to have it reassessed.

NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is ready to assist you in arriving at the replacement cost of your home. We can discuss various options of coverage and help you decide what is best for your individual insurance needs. NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is located in the Northern State Bank building. To reach us, call 681-4042. Office hours are 8:30 -5 Mon.-Fri., 8:30 - 6 Thurs.

Note: Homeowner's coverage should be maintained at a minimum of 80% of its replacement value.

NATIONAL POISON PREVENTION WEEK
March 15 - 21, 1992

During National Poison Prevention Week, we urge parents and grandparents everywhere to check their homes for these potential hazards.

1. Keep all household cleaning products and medicines out of sight and reach of young children. A locked cabinet is your best insurance against curious hands.
2. Store all medicines separately from household products. Store all chemical products away from food.
3. Keep all items in their original, labelled containers. Read all labels before using.
4. Never refer to medicine as "candy" in front of children.
5. Always turn on the lights when taking or giving medication.
6. Clean out medicine cabinets regularly. Empty and flush all expired contents before disposing of containers.

Matt Carlson was named as the most valuable performer on the 1991-92 Thief River Falls boys high school swim team during the Prowlers' annual post-season banquet Monday.

Other varsity awards went to Brad Cota, most improved; Tony McEnelly, hardest worker; Adam Jacobson, most spirited; and Brad Kragness, Coaches Award.

Kragness and Daryl Kiesow were selected 1992-93 swim team co-captains.

Carlson and Jacobson served as 1991-92 co-captains.

Cota is a sophomore; the others earning the special honors are all juniors. The Prowlers did not have a senior on this year's roster.

Junior varsity swimmers given special recognition were eighth grader Chris Efta, most improved; sixth grader Nate Keller, hardest worker; and seventh grader Charley Follett, Coaches Award.

The Prowlers came up short team-wise this winter, acknowledged Thief River Falls head coach Ryan Lokken, but individually, they had a banner season, he said, with nearly everyone meeting or exceeding personal goals.

"It was an exceptionally good season," Lokken pointed out. "The varsity swimmers were a lot quicker than I thought they would be this year, and the junior varsity kids had some fantastic improvements."

Thief River Falls went just 1-4 in dual meet competition, and did not challenge for team honors in five regular season multiple-team outings, or the post-season Section 8 meet. But it wasn't for a lack of effort, mentioned Lokken. The Prowlers may not make it as a team, he said, but they are in position to advance individuals to state.

"We may never be a section champion – we just don't have the depth some of the top teams have," Lokken explained. "But there are still individual goals and personal accomplishments to shoot for."

And with a 1991-92 team that was full of over-achieving underclassmen, next year's squad will be trying to better this year's top times, hoping to keep pace, or close the gap, between them and the rest of a ever-improving Section 8 field.

"It's an excellent group of kids to work with," said Lokken. "They're very coachable; very dependable."

The Prowlers' 1991-92 letter winners included juniors Tony Sculthorp, McEnelly, Carlson, Jacobson, Kiesow and Kragness; sophomores Ryan Browning, Guy Drevlow and Cota; freshmen Simon Krystosek and Steve Lyman; eighth graders Sam Adams, Chris Hagman, Aaron Hall and Justin Stevensen; plus student managers Jane Bentson and Becky Hanson.

Participation certificates went to eighth grader Chris Efta; seventh graders Jarnhmia Efta, Jason Curfman, Josh Engevik, Matt Gustafson, Alex Morken, Chris Pribula and Follett; along with sixth graders Josh Curfman, William Kramer, Dustin Fede, Nick Tveitbakk and Keller.

Kragness led the Prowlers in scoring this year by accumulating 288 points, followed by Carlson with 275, Kiesow 246, Jacobson 220, Cota 198, McEnelly 187, Hall 87, Krystosek 54, Drevlow 49, Browning 43, Hagman 36, Sculthorp 29, Adams 25, Lyman 24, Curfman 18, Follett 6, Morken 1.

8A, 8AA girls basketball...

H-K, Brainerd win titles

Hallock-Kennedy won Section 8A honors and Brainerd took the Section 8AA title in weekend girls high school basketball tournament play.

Section 8A tournament, featuring the winners in Sub-Sections 1-through-4, was played Friday and Saturday at the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

In Friday semifinals, Hallock-Kennedy was a 51-50 winner over Walker-Hackensack-Akeley and Climax defeated Fosston 61-55.

Hallock-Kennedy got by Climax 50-47 in Saturday's title game, while Fosston edged Walker-Hackensack-Akeley 65-63 in the third place game.

Meanwhile, once-beaten South Sub-Section 8AA champion Brainerd ended the unbeaten status of North Sub-Section 8AA winner Bemidji 53-45 Friday in the Section 8AA finals at Detroit Lakes.

State tournament play opens Thursday -- Class A at Williams Arena in Minneapolis and Class AA at the Met Center in Bloomington. Hallock-Kennedy will face Section 3A winner New London-Spicer in the 1:05 p.m. Class A tournament opener, while Brainerd takes on Section 4AA champion Mounds View in the 9 p.m. Class AA finale.

Other first round Class A games include Hancock vs. Virginia, 3 p.m.; Caledonia vs. New Prague, 7:35 p.m.; and St. Peter vs. Tracy-Milroy, 9:30 p.m.

Rest of the Class AA quarterfinals include Owatonna vs. Roseville, 12:30 p.m.; Willmar vs. Burnsville, 2:30 p.m.; and Fridley vs. Duluth Denfeld, 9 p.m.

Met center will be the site of the Friday semifinals and Saturday finals in both classes.

Rosters are listed for hockey series

Rosters have been announced for the third annual Minnesota Amateur Hockey Association District 15/16 Pee-Wee and Bantam all-star hockey series scheduled to be played April 4-5 at the Moorhead Centennial Arena.

The games match second-year players in the Pee-Wee and Bantam age groups from District 15 – Moorhead, Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls, Wadena, Long Prairie, Alexandria, Little Falls and Brainerd – and District 16 – Bemidji, Baudette, Warroad, Roseau, Thief River Falls, Red Lake Falls, Crookston, Hallock and East Grand Forks.

Thief River Falls players selected for the series include Kaine Martell, Brian Howe and Tim Barry in the Bantams, along with Tanner Martell in the Pee-Wees.

Two doubleheader sessions are scheduled Saturday, April 4. It starts with the Pee-Wees at 10:30 a.m., followed by the Bantams at 12:30 p.m. The evening twinbill includes the Pee-Wees at 6:30 p.m. and Bantams at 8:30.

Sunday, April 5, games feature the Pee-Wees at 1 p.m. and Bantams at 3.

Ron Novak of Thief River Falls and Dennis Bushy of Moorhead serve as series directors. Steve Rhineberger (Bantams) and Jerry Hanson (Pee-Wees) are the general managers.

Bushy will coach the District 15 Bantams, while Jeff Kraft of Moorhead and Dick Gustafson of Alexandria coach the District 15 Pee-Wees.

District 16 coaches include Dick Johnson of Roseau and Son Shaugabay of Warroad (Pee-Wees), along with Don Miller of Bemidji and Jeff Tunberg of Thief River Falls (Bantams).

An additional District 15 Bantam coach will be named, and four or five more District 15 Bantam players will be added to the roster before the series gets underway.

Northland Community College women's basketball team fell short of preseason goals, but it wasn't for lack of effort, pointed out Pioneers head coach Sue Barnd.

A three-game season-ending losing streak kept the 9-13 Pioneers from finishing above .500, and a buzzer-beating, tie-breaking basket by rival University of Minnesota-Crookston in the 1991-92 Northwest Division finale put the Trojans, not the Pioneers, in the Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament.

It was a Northland team that featured two all-state front line performers in 5-10 Thief River Falls sophomores Rhonda Rothschadl and Alice Dunning, but it was also a shorthanded squad that had just seven players on its end-of-the-year roster.

The inside game was Northland's strength, but 5-5 freshman point guard Susie Bengston (Hallock) was just as important to the Pioneers' success until she ran into an injury problem that cost her playing time and took away from her effectiveness when she was on the court.

"You always want to do better," noted Barnd. "When you have two all-state players in the line-up, you anticipate a better finish. But it takes more than two players to make a team, and we just didn't have the depth you need to be more competitive."

"But it was still a fun year," Barnd quickly added. "The kids we had worked hard."

Northland won, explained Barnd, when the Pioneers came up with a balanced inside-outside attack, took care of the basketball and pressed effectively. Conversely, they had trouble when they had to rely solely on the inside game, ran into turnover problems and weren't able to count on their pressure defense to slow down the opposition.

Rothschadl averaged 23.3 points and 12.8 rebounds per game this winter. She finished No. 2 on the Pioneers' career scoring charts with 905 points – just five points behind record-holder Janelle Lundin, who played at Northland during the 1986-87 and 1987-88 seasons.

Dunning, meanwhile, averaged 18 points and 13 rebounds per game.

Rothschadl wound up No. 3 and Dunning finished No. 4 in school career rebounding with 487 and 482, respectively.

Only other Northland player sporting a double figure scoring average this season was 5-10 Plummer freshman Jill Brantl, who finished with a 10.6 figure.

Rothschadl was named the most valuable player, Dunning was recognized as the hardest worker and Brantl was selected most improved when the Pioneers announced post-season team awards.

Dunning earned all-state honors for the first time; Rothschadl, who also finished as the Pioneers' top career shot-blocker with 114, was a repeat MCCC all-state pick.

"Alice matured a lot as a basketball player from her freshman to her sophomore season," pointed out Barnd. "Her intensity really picked up. Rhonda's skills just continued to grow."

Barnd also praised the efforts turned in by the two other Northland sophomores – 5-10 forward Nanette Berg from Middle River and 5-6 guard Nikki Anderson from Grygla. "Nanette was a very consistent player for us, and Nikki stepped in when Susie got hurt," she noted.

Maria Ditsch, a 5-2 guard from Roseau, joined Bengston and Brantl as first-year players on the Pioneers' season-ending roster.

There are some major holes to fill with new recruits, acknowledged Barnd.

Northland's 5-6 MCCC record this year included wins over Hibbing 80-65, Mesabi 74-42 and Itasca 82-40 from the Northeast Division and a 69-45, 79-68 sweep of Northwest Division foe Brainerd.

But the Pioneers lost to Northeast Division teams Rainy River 73-64 and Vermilion 76-68, and failed to pick up a win against Northwest rivals Fergus Falls and University of Minnesota-Crookston. The Spartans beat Northland 90-56 and 82-58, while the Trojans swept the Pioneers 72-62 and 66-64.

NCC has 33 out for baseball

A 33-member Northland Community College baseball team is currently working out in preparation for the upcoming 1992 season.

The Pioneers will head to Omaha, Nebraska for a series of scrimmages and work-outs March 31-April 5 before opening the year April 7 against the Bemidji State University junior varsity in Bemidji.

The Northland home opener and first Minnesota Community College Conference outing will be a Saturday, April 11, doubleheader against Fergus Falls.

Northland went 12-12 a year ago, and return their top three hitters – outfielder Tim Spaeth (Waubun), an MCCC All-Northern Division pick and team MVP who was 25-for-64 for a .391 batting average; first baseman/pitcher Kevin Hanson (Kennedy), 22-for-58 for a .379 mark; and outfielder Dennis Carpenter (Oslo), 11-for-39 for a .355 figure. Hanson and Spaeth also ranked 1-2 in the Pioneers' runs-batted-in department with 22 and 20 RBI, respectively.

Other sophomores on hand include third baseman Brenden Wiltjer, Richfield; third baseman Pete Steichen, Waubun; second baseman Marvin DeMers, Fordville, ND; second baseman Jesse Coffield, Karlstad; outfielder/pitcher Dan Boushee, East Grand Forks; and outfielder Jeff Aberle, Karlsruhe, ND.

Boushee is the Pioneers' most experienced pitcher on hand. He was 4-2 last spring with a 2.88 earned run average, 35 strike-outs and 33 walks in 41 innings.

Freshmen on the current roster include outfielder/pitcher George Haskell, Bagley; second baseman Mike Elke, Cavalier, ND; first baseman/pitcher Nate Carlin and third baseman Jarrod Spoor, East Grand Forks; outfielder Scott Fearson, Lakeville; outfielder/ pitcher Wade Burns, Grafton, ND; catcher Randy Burkel, Roseau; outfielder Jason Carlson and outfielder/pitcher Ryan Bothum, Karlstad; catcher Blue Olson, Northome; second baseman Tyson Treat and outfielder/pitcher Mike Swanson, Thief River Falls; third baseman/pitcher Kelly Gray, Warroad; shortstop Sean Deringer,

Shelly Ebbighausen, daughter of former Thief River Falls residents Harvey and Kathy Ebbighausen, was the winner in the women's 100 butterfly Thursday during the NCAA Division II swimming and diving championships held at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. Ebbighausen, who turned in her best time with a 56.85 to win the event when she was named the most valuable swimmer in the North Central Conference meet at the Hyslop Pool Feb. 21-22, won her national title with a 57.16. The Burnsville High School graduate is the granddaughter of Thief River Falls residents Fred and Grace Ebbighausen and Olga Engevik.

RLF is tournament winner

Red Lake Falls defeated Roseau, Middle River, the Thief River Falls Rebels and Crookston to win the fifth annual Thief River Falls Backcourt Club/McDonald's Invitational girls sixth grade basketball tournament.

Entries from Viking, East Grand Forks, Oklee, Grygla, Bemidji, Plummer and Karlstad also took part in the 16-team event. A similar tournament was held for sixth grade boys earlier.

A public thank-you from tournament officials was extended to McDonald's Restaurant, Kitty Cornell, School District 564, the city of Thief River Falls, time-keepers, scorers, referees and to those who helped with the concessions.

Late-reported tournament results include:

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Basil Elseth who passed away March 12, 1991.

One year has passed since that sad day,
The one we loved was called away.
It broke our hearts to lose you,
But you did not go alone.
For part of us went with you,
The day God call you home.

NOTICE OF ROAD RESTRICTIONS FOR 1992

The effective date of road restrictions on all Pennington County roads will be concurrent with the placements of restrictions on state trunk highways in the area.

Restriction limits are based on gross axle weight which includes the weight of the vehicle and the load it is carrying.

The erection of signs on any highway governs the effective date of the restriction. As long as signs remain in place, restrictions are in effect.

No permits for overweight axle loads exceeding legal or posted axle weights will be issued.

During the period when signs are in place or road restrictions are in effect any county or township road is restricted to (5) tons gross weight per axle except as otherwise signed. If no signs are erected, the (5) ton gross weight provisions shall apply.

All rural bituminous Pennington County State Aid Highways will be posted at (7) tons gross weight per axle except as noted below.

Exceptions posted at (10) tons gross weight per axle are as follows:

CSAH #17 from CSAH #3 to 1st Street in Thief River Falls
CSAH #3 from T.H. #32 to T.H. #59

Exceptions posted at (9) tons gross weight per axle are as follows:

CSAH #3 from the Polk County Line to T.H. #32

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED IMPROVEMENTS

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of Thief River Falls will conduct a hearing on Monday, March 23, 1992, at 7:00 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the Thief River Falls City Auditorium, to consider the making of the following improvements, pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Sections 429.011 to 429.111:

I. STREET IMPROVEMENTS

Sioux Street: Chippewa Avenue to Horace Avenue; Armory Parking Lot - 15,000 sq. ft. parking lot adjacent to existing Armory Parking Lot.

The recommended construction would be excavation of unsuitable soils and backfilling with aggregate materials. Bituminous surfacing and curb and gutter are not proposed as part of this project but would be installed in the future under other projects and hearings. The areas proposed for excavation and aggregate backfill are indicated on Exhibit A.

The total estimated project cost of Street Excavation and Backfill is $33,000 and the City Council has recommended that no assessments be levied for the project cost. Future curb and gutter benefits and bituminous surfacing will be assessed under a later project.

II. SIDEWALK IMPROVEMENTS

SIDEWALK REPLACEMENT: State Avenue - Fourth Street to Sixth Street, Arnold Avenue - First Street to Tenth Street, Duluth Avenue - Eighth Street to Eleventh Street, Knight Avenue - Tenth Street to Eleventh Street, Second Street - Arnold Avenue to Duluth Avenue, Fifth Street - Arnold Avenue to Duluth Avenue, Sixth Street - State Avenue to Arnold Avenue, Tenth Street - Duluth Avenue to Knight Avenue, Red Lake Blvd. - Third Street to Sixth Street, Dewey Avenue - Fourth Street to Eighth Street, Reserve Avenue - Seventh Street to Eighth Street, Sixth Street - Dewey Avenue to Red Lake Blvd.

The proposed improvements would consist of removal and replacement of segments of existing sidewalks, deemed unsafe for pedestrian traffic. Concrete driveway and entrance walk replacement from curb to back of sidewalk will also be replaced as necessary.

Sidewalks proposed for replacement or installation and corresponding areas to be assessed are indicated on attached Exhibit A. Total estimated project cost is $137,000. The City Council has recommended that properties benefited by the proposed improvements be assessed for a portion of the cost.

B. 6" THICK SIDEWALK REPLACEMENT: Arnold Avenue - Second Street to Third Street, Third Street - State Avenue to Arnold Avenue.

The proposed improvements would consist of removal and replacement of the existing 4" thick sidewalk adjacent to the above school district property. The new installation would be 6" thick sidewalk to accommodate vehicular snow removal operations.

The sidewalks proposed for replacement and corresponding areas to be assessed are indicated on attached Exhibit A. Total estimated project cost is $18,000. The City Council has recommended that properties benefited by the proposed improvements be assessed for a portion of the cost.

The total estimated cost of all proposed improvements is $188,000. Such persons as desire to be heard with reference to the proposed improvements will be heard at this meeting.

Dated this 4th day of March, 1992.

-s- Gerald A. Wigness
City Clerk-Treasurer

Reports to LEC decline during past few weeks

Reports to the law enforcement center in Thief River Falls seem to be on the decline. Fewer reports have been coming in to the law enforcement center.

Accidents. On March 10 at 7:50 p.m. police received a report of an accident at Eighth and Davis. According to the report, a car driven by Vickie Halsa, route 2, Thief River Falls, was east bound on Eighth street while a station wagon driven by Kurt Kainz, route 1, Goodridge, was northbound on Davis and slid through the stop sign. Damages resulting from the collision were estimated at $600 to the Halsa vehicle and $300 to the Kainz vehicle.

On March 11 at 10:38 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of an accident on County road 70 in Norden township. According to the report, a vehicle driven by Lynda Smith, Thief River Falls, was going north on County road 70 in Norden township when the vehicle began to sway. She lost control of the vehicle which went into the ditch and rolled. Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $1,000. She complained of a bump to her head.

On March 13 at 8:44 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of an accident on Highway 1, just east of the Technical College entrance. According to the report, a 1988 Ford pickup driven by Keith Eugene Nelson, Thief River Falls, was traveling east on Highway 1 when the throttle stuck and Nelson lost control. The vehicle slid across the highway and struck a light pole. Damage to the pickup was estimated at $1,500. There was no damage estimate for the light pole.

On March 15 Pennington county sheriff's department received a report of an ATV accident that happened at about 3:10 p.m. According to the report, an ATV driven by 17-year-old Eric Bruce Halbert of Thief River Falls, pulled up behind an ATV driven by 16-year-old Mark Hanson, when Hanson backed up. Halbert was injured and taken to Northwest Medical center.

Consumption under age. On March 11 at 3:28 a.m. police stopped a vehicle and alleges that Eric Aslakson, route 1, Aneta, ND, age 20; Darla Needham, Grand Forks, ND, age 20, were drinking and charged them with consumption under age.

On March 12 at 4:03 a.m. police received a complaint of a loud party. Chandra Nelson, 18, Thief River Falls, and Kristie Olson, 19, Thief River Falls, were cited for consumption under age. Stephanie Green, 19, Thief River Falls, was cited for consumption under age and public nuisance.

Driving while intoxicated. On March 8 at 1:53 a.m. Pennington county sheriff's office arrested Mark Allen McCraw, 23, Thief River Falls, for driving while intoxicated.

On March 11 at 1:14 a.m. police arrested Brenda Marie Schroeder, 28, Thief River Falls, for driving while intoxicated.

Thefts. Following an investigation into a theft and burglary at Lincoln high school, a 14-year-old and 15-year-old male from Thief River Falls, face charges of theft and burglary.

On March 10 at 12:03 p.m. Northern State Bank reported a youth attempting to cash a personal check that looked suspicious. The check belonged to a local citizen which had been stolen by another youth from a locker room at Lincoln high school. A 16-year-old male from Thief River Falls faces charges of forgery, fraud, and conspiracy. A 17-year-old boy from Goodridge who took the check faces charges of theft under $200 and conspiracy to commit theft.

On March 15 at 12:45 p.m. Kmart reported catching a 15-year-old and 16 year-old female from rural Greenbush taking about $143 in merchandise from the store. They have been charged with theft.

On March 15 at 9:07 a.m. the law enforcement center received a report that a 1990 Polaris 500 snowmobile, registration YE613 Minnesota, had been taken from the back of a pickup parked in the back driveway in the 100 block of North St. Paul. The snowmobile, valued at $3,000, belonged to Brad Johnston, Thief River Falls.

Furnishing alcohol. On March 13 at 10:15 p.m. an officer on patrol in the 200 block of North Merriam observed a young man put a beer in his pocket after he saw the officer. Upon investigation, a young woman in the car was found to be holding an open container of alcohol, and another 17-year-old male in possession of alcohol. Jason Michael Nelson, 19, Thief River Falls, was cited for furnishing alcohol. A 16-year-old female from Middle River was cited for open bottle; and, a 17-year-old male from Thief River Falls was cited for possession.

Beich appears in TRF court

Steven Mark Beich appeared in a Ninth District court in Pennington county Monday on two counts of possession of a controlled substance in the fifth degree.

Charges against Beich stem from a search conducted on December 3, 1991. That search resulted in the discovery of 22 ounces of marijuana and 16 ounces of hashish. On Monday in Thief River Falls, Beich waived a reading of his rights and a reading of the complaint. He also entered a plea of not guilty to the two counts. An omnibus hearing was scheduled for March 30 at 10:30 a.m.

Beich was remanded into the custody of Kittson county authorities where he faces drug related charges. Although he is in the custody of Kittson county authorities, he is being held in a Marshall county jail in Warren.

TRF man enters not guilty plea

Randy Lee Berg has pled not guilty to a charge of attempted murder and assault in the second degree in a Ninth District court in Pennington county.

Charges against Berg stem from an incident reported to police on March 1. Berg allegedly slashed another man with a knife outside a residence in Northwest trailer court in Thief River Falls.

Monday, Berg pled not guilty to one count of attempted murder in the second degree and assault in the second degree. An omnibus hearing was scheduled for March 30 at 10 a.m. Bond of $10,000 was continued, although Berg is currently serving six months in Pennington county jail on another charge.

Improvements hearing on city sidewalks set

Thief River Falls city council will conduct a public hearing on proposed street and sidewalk improvements on March 23. Total project costs have been estimated at $188,000.

Construction on Highway 32 in downtown Thief River Falls is scheduled to take place next summer, so public officials decided not to undertake any other large construction projects. Sidewalk improvements, however, will continue. The city council will hold a public meeting in the basement meeting room in the city auditorium Monday, March 23, at 7 p.m. to discuss scheduled sidewalk improvements.

Street improvements include the following: Sioux street from Chippewa avenue to Horace avenue; the armory parking lot to include 15,000 square feet of parking lot adjacent to the existing Armory parking lot.

The recommended street construction would include excavation of unsuitable soils and back-filling with aggregate materials. Bituminous surfacing and curb and gutter are not proposed as part of the project but would be installed in the future under other projects and hearings. The total estimated project cost is $33,000. The city council has recommended that no assessments be levied for the project cost.

A large number of areas will be included in the portion of the project scheduled for sidewalk improvements. The sidewalk replacements include: State avenue from Fourth street to Sixth street; Arnold avenue from First street to Tenth street; Duluth avenue from Eighth street to Eleventh street; Knight avenue from Tenth street to Eleventh street; Second street from Arnold avenue to Duluth avenue; Fifth street from Arnold avenue to Duluth avenue; Sixth street from State avenue to Arnold avenue; Tenth street from Duluth avenue to Knight avenue; Red Lake boulevard from Third street to Sixth street; Dewey avenue from Fourth street to Eighth street; Reserve avenue from Seventh street to Eighth street; Sixth street from Dewey avenue to Red Lake boulevard.

The purpose of the project is to remove segments of existing sidewalks deemed unsafe for pedestrian traffic. Concrete driveway and entrance walk replacement from curb to back of sidewalk will also be replaced as necessary.

The total estimated project cost is $137,000. The city council has recommended the properties benefited by the proposed improvements be assessed for a portion of the cost.

Six-inch thick sidewalk replacement has been scheduled for Arnold avenue from Second street to Third street; and on Third street from State avenue to Arnold avenue. The improvements would consist of removal and replacement of the existing four-inch thick sidewalk adjacent to the school district property to accommodate vehicular snow removal operations. The total estimated cost of this portion of the project is $18,000. The city council has recommended that properties benefit by the proposed improvements be assessed for a portion of the cost.

Property owners affected by the proposed improvements are encouraged to attend the meeting.

The Second Section

Commonly asked tax questions and answers

This is the second installment of a two-part series on common and uncommon questions asked of the Minnesota department of revenue during tax time.

Can I file the short Minnesota tax form, M-1A?

Many Minnesotans should be able to file Form M-1A. If you filed federal Form 1040A or 1040 EZ, you probably can file Form M-1A. In order to file Form M-1A, you must have lived in Minnesota all of 1991, and you must not have itemized deductions on your federal return. There are some other restrictions as well. To be sure if you are eligible to file Form M-1A, go through the checklist on page 5 of the 1991 Minnesota income tax booklet. To order forms and instruction booklets, call 296-3781 from the Twin Cities area, or 1-800-652-9094 elsewhere in Minnesota.

What happens if I don't check any State Elections Campaign Fund box? A friend told me, the department will check a box if I don't.

Your friend is wrong. The department does NOT check a box if they are left blank. If you do check a box, however, the $5 will not be deducted from your refund nor increase your tax. The money comes out of the state's general fund.

If I donate money to the Non-game Wildlife Fund, what happens to it?

The money goes to the non-game wildlife fund of the Minnesota department of natural resources. It is used to help preserve Minnesota's non-game wildlife, such as bald eagles and loons. If you donate, the amount will be subtracted from your refund or added to your tax. For more information about the fund, you may write to: Non-game Wildlife Fund, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155.

I read in the newspaper recently that I might be able to file my Minnesota taxes "electronically." How can I do this?

If you expect a refund for 1991, you may file your income tax electronically and you will receive your refund within 15 days. Ask your professional tax preparer if he or she offers electronic filing. If you prepare your own return, a tax preparer or transmitter can file your return electronically for you. If you file electronically, you will need to fill out a brief form, M-1EP, to authorize the electronic transmission.

Why doesn't the Department of Revenue lower taxes?

The Department of Revenue administers the state's tax laws. It does not make them. The state's tax laws are drafted by the Minnesota legislature and signed into law by the governor. While the department makes recommendations and suggestions each year, it is the legislature and the governor who have the final say. If you have a concern about a particular law or a particular kind of tax, you should contact your state representative or state senator to express your thoughts.

How much does the state collect each year in taxes?

During the two-year budget period that covered fiscal years 1990 and 1991, Minnesota collected $14.4 billion in revenue. Of the taxes that came in, 40.1 per cent were from individual income tax, 29.8 per cent came from sales and motor vehicle excise tax, 6.4 per cent came from corporate income tax and the rest came from miscellaneous taxes and other sources of revenue. If you owned property, you paid property taxes, but that money goes to local governments, not to the state.

What can I do if I disagree with the Department of Revenue on the amount of taxes I owe, and I can't seem to get my situation resolved?

The Minnesota Department of Revenue now has a Taxpayer Rights Advocate whose job is to resolve differences between the department and taxpayers who cannot get their problems resolved through normal channels. The position was created under the Minnesota Taxpayer Rights program passed by the 1990 Minnesota Legislature. The taxpayer advocate is housed in the Revenue Department building. She has the authority to overrule many department decisions and challenge Revenue procedures. Only the commissioner can veto her decision. For further information, call 296-0989 from the Twin Cities area, or 1-800-652-9094 elsewhere in Minnesota.

Why should I use the label that came on my income tax booklet?

Using the label will speed up the processing of your return and, if you have a refund coming, get it to you faster. If any information on the label is wrong, however, be sure to cross out the wrong information and write in the correct information. If you did not get a label, be sure to type or clearly print the information requested in the heading of your form.

I turned 65 years old in January. Does that mean I am eligible for the subtraction for the elderly?

Not this year. You or your spouse must have turned 65 by December 31, 1991, in order to be eligible to take the subtraction on your 1991 income tax return. If you turned 65 in January, you may be able to take the subtraction on your 1992 Minnesota tax return if you meet the income qualifications.

I filed my 1991 Minnesota tax return, but I think I made a mistake. What do I do?

Call or write to the Department of Revenue and ask for Minnesota Form M-1X (88-91), Amended Minnesota Income Tax return. Fill out the amended return, making all corrections, and send it to the Department of Revenue. If you owe additional taxes and file it by April 15, you will not be charged

Hallock Kitty Cat race results

Kitty Cat Power Racing Organization held its last race of the season in Hallock recently. The Kitty Cat races were held as part of the Snow Daze festival in Hallock. Racers participated in a wide variety of races that day including Stock-oval and Mod-ovals.

Results of the stock-oval race include the following: 1 Chris Swanson of Thief River Falls, 2 Michael Bauer of Thief River Falls, 3 Donnie Gausen of Warroad, 4 John Twamley of Kennedy, 5 Denise Bjerklie of Iron, and 6 Jamie Gausen of Warroad.

There were 23 racers in the stock-oval class. Tropies were given to the top six racers.

Results of the mod-ovals include the following: 1 Richie Laager of Lancaster, 2 John Twamley of Kennedy, 3 Brandon Johnson of Holt, 4 Melissa Adamson of Thief River Falls, 5 Jamie Gausen of Warroad, and 6 Denise Bjerklie of Iron.

There were 14 racers in the modified ovals class. Tropies were given to the top six racers.

Cross-country race results include the following: 1 John Twamley of Kennedy, 2 Chris

Unemployment increases in County and Statewide

Minnesota's unemployment rate increased from 5.3 per cent in December to 6.0 per cent in January, while Pennington County's unemployment rate increased from 11.5 per cent to 12.9 per cent, according to the Minnesota department of Jobs and Training. The comparable U.S. unemployment rate in January was 8.0 per cent. On a seasonally adjusted basis, Minnesota's January unemployment rate was 5.4 per cent, unchanged from December. The U.S. seasonally adjusted unemployment rate was 7.1 per cent in January, also the same as in December.

The increase in the state's rate was primarily caused by seasonal factors rather than further weakening in the economy. Commissioner R. Jane Brown noted that Minnesota's rate was above the level of a year ago, 5.5 per cent. "January data show little change in these sluggish labor market conditions we have experienced for some time. The unemployment rate has been running above the year-ago level for 22 of the last 26 months."

The northwest region of the state had the highest unemployment rate in January, average 10.8 per cent. However, this year's rate in the northwestern region was lower than a year ago, when it was 11.7 per cent.

Red Lake County remains the leader in unemployment in region 1, which includes the counties of Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau. Red Lake's unemployment rate showed an increase from 19.1 per cent in December of 1991. The unemployment rates for the counties in the region were as follows: Kittson 10.8 per cent, Marshall 10.8 per cent, Norman 18.4 per cent, Norman 9.3 per cent, Pennington 12.9 per cent, Polk 8.6 per cent, Red Lake 13.7 per cent, and Roseau 6.5 per cent. Roseau had the lowest rate of unemployment in the region.

The Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area had the lowest rate, 4.9 per cent.

The monthly survey of employers showed a drop of 53,900 jobs, or -2.5 per cent, from December. This change was slightly less than the average of the past five years but somewhat greater than the aver-

GOD'S LOVE APPEARS IN THE LOVELY PASTELS OF SPRING

When winter snows have joined the past,
With skies no longer overcast,
The sun will shine and soon, at last,
A new day it will bring:
Announced by every balmy breeze,
While barren branches by degrees
Will turn to green upon the trees,
Where birds begin to sing.
The butterflies are everywhere,
And flowers' perfume fills the air;
Their pastel beauty meant to share
With every living thing.
Your faith will help you understand
The love of God, when He has planned
That everything upon the land
Will come to life in spring.

— Gloria Nowak

For thee the
earth puts forth
sweet flowers.

Effie's Trip!

Dear Readers; I arrived home last Tuesday after a wonderful winter of travel out west. I left on December 21, and spent Christmas with my daughter, Anne Andreson and family, in Santa Ana, CA. After the cold of November and December here in Minnesota, California seemed most balmy. Then I spent several days each with my brother, Joe Brower and his wife Esther, who live in Sky Valley Mobile Park, at Desert Hot Springs, CA, and my sister, Crystal and Cliff Pence in Ontario, CA. They took me to the Lawrence Welk Village, Oak Glen Apple Country, the date palm area near Indio, and a tour of Graver's Olive plant. Then back to Anne's. In late January she and I flew to Hawaii, to visit my daughter, Meribeth and Scott Miller, who are wintering near Hilo. We visited Pearl Harbor, and the International Market, in a brief overnight stay in Honolulu, before flying to the Big Island.

Some of the sights we saw there were Kilauea National Park with its steam vents and sulphur springs, big crater, lava walks and lava tube, sugar cane fields, lava fields, the big Parker Ranch, which is the largest ranch privately owned in the US, lovely Hapuna Beach, Kona, where a lot of international sports tourneys are held, the South Point where the early Polynesians first landed and settled the island, various parks, the Akaka Falls, the Macadamia Nut plant, as well as the beautiful flowers and foliage that has made Hawaii famous. It is a land of contrast. While in Kona we attended a Lutheran church where Miss America's father is pastor.

Rain set in the last few days we were there, and we flew back to Los Angeles on February 6th, to another rain season, which is rare in CA. Both states welcomed the rain. Some of the people we visited in that area were Kern and Alice Tillman in Anaheim, Don and Nancy Skjerven in Santa Ana, Chuck and Shirley Wheaton, and Dorothy Myhre in Ramona, cousin, Valborg Torkelson in Chula Vista, granddaughter, Tammie Poencet and family in Temecula, and granddaughter, Jacquie Farrel and family in Orange. One day classmates, Anne Anderson, Shirley Myhre Wheaton, and Pat Jorgenson Bartalone, Dorothy Myhre and myself, lunched together in San Juan Capistrano, in pouring rain, but rain never stopped the girls from Minnesota before, and it didn't that day either.

Later in February Anne drove me to Oregon, and we visited many points of interest along the way, Solvang, Morro Bay, Monterey Peninsula, Pismo Beach, San Francisco's Fisherman's Wharf, Fort Point at Golden Gate Bridge, Crooked Lombard Street, various lighthouses and beaches and the Sea Lion caves. We spent one night in Paso Robles, where we visited Charlotte Spong, another school friend of Anne's. We spent two nights at the home of my granddaughter, Connie and David Lowe at Danville, CA. She took us up Mt. Diablo, for a panoramic view of the Bay area.

Jerry and Jerry Jr. Skjerven returned home last week after spending some time at the Mike and Don Skjerven homes in California.

In Oregon we visited my brothers, Sterling Brower and family in Springfield, and Robert Brower and family of Oregon City, and with several friends and cousins near by. They took me up the McKenzie River, around and up on Mount Hood, and to Mt. St. Helen's, where reconstruction from the 1980 volcanic eruption is under way. I flew home from Portland on March 3rd, glad to be home again. It was an exciting, educational, and fulfilling trip, but my heart is in the great state of Minnesota.

Many thanks to good friends, Edna and Bunny, for taking over this column while I was away, and keeping you informed of the happenings right here.

Hillcrest Visit

Immanuel women of the Faith circle, who visited Hillcrest Nursing Home in February, with a devotional program, and treats were Bertha Hughse, Bunny DuChamp, Dorothy Raese, Amalia Eskell, Wilma Huotari, and Alice Johnson, also Pastor Johnson.

All Conference Girls

Congratulations go out to Jenny Walter, who was recently named one of the 14 players to the 1991-92 Northern Galaxy All Conference Girl's high school basketball team. Congratulations also to Cheryl Greenwald, who was an honorable mention choice. Both girls are seniors and have been active in sports for PHS for several years.

Lucille Kvasager and Bernice Larson of Minneapolis, recently returned from a week's visit with their sister, Gladys and Arnold Narverud, who are wintering in Tucson, AZ.

Olga Konickson and Tilmer Johnson visited the homes of Mrs. Elaine White, and Mr. and Mrs. John Dohl of Oklee, on Tuesday afternoon.

Greg, Nancy and Danielle Holmes moved on Tuesday, to Oshkosh, WI, where Greg is employed as an airline mechanic.

Open House

Tom, Tina and Christopher Hesse, accompanied by Don Hesse, arrived in Plummer on Tuesday, the 3rd. Tom has been transferred from Oak Harbor, WA, to Cherry Point, NC, and will vacation here until Friday. On Sunday his parents, Don and Loretta Hesse, held an open house, to celebrate the young couple's 1st wedding anniversary. Attending were Mel and Peggy Hesse, and DJ, Diane, Amanda and Ericka Grinde of Elk River, Syl and Ivan Hesse, Bill, Diane, Billy Jr. and Scotty Simpson of Thief River Falls, Chuck, Jolayne, Tracy and Patrick Simpson. Best wishes to Tom and his family, as they leave for their new post.

Redeemer Ladies Aid

Redeemer Ladies Aid was held Thursday evening, following the Lenten service. President Fern Hesse conducted the meeting and Peggy Hesse served lunch.

WELCA Meets

The Women of Immanuel met on Thursday evening at the church. Clara Hesse conducted the business meeting, and the program was given by the Mary Elizabeth circle. It was presented by Carole Wright on "Children of Namibia" and other members of the circle assisted. Charlene Leining gave the offering meditation. Hostesses who served lunch were Deb DuChamp, Sher Fox and Amelia Eskell.

Steve Vigstol of St. Francis, Derek and Adam visited on Thursday afternoon at Effie Vigstol's, and again on Sunday, after a fishing trip to Lake of the Woods.

Birthday

Wavell Sorenson entertained at a birthday dinner for uncle, Neuben Sorenson and son-in-law, Tom Willen on Thursday. Others there were Art and Avis Frolland, Sheila Mallory and Brett Gerardy.

World Day of Prayer

World Day of Prayer was observed on Friday morning, March 6, at Immanuel church. Hazel Ollie was in charge of the service, assisted by readers from sister churches in town. This has been an annual event for many years now, and is a very ecumenical service in our community. So, too, is the Thursday morning prayer group with meets each week at 9 a.m., presently at Immanuel. This is an informal group, that would welcome others who have concerns, or would just enjoy the fellowship.

Birthday

A belated birthday party supper honoring Emilie Skjerven, was held at the Lantern on Thursday evening. Friends who joined her were Stella Howard, Connie Hughes, Reinette Walter, Lorraine Fisher, Edna Hyde and Medonna Lallier. Stella brought the special dessert for the birthday.

Fern Hesse spent several days in Fargo, at the home of her daughter, Vicki and Ross Olson, taking care of their baby, as Vicki has to have some minor surgery.

Idella Rewertz and Gary Hollus accompanied Allen Hanson to Fargo on Friday, where he remained for medical attention. Idella and Gary visited and had lunch with Penny Rotzer, before returning home.

Jodi and Dale Story of Warroad spent the weekend at the home of her mother, Doris Malwitz.

Wavel Sorenson attended the 75th birthday party for her friend, Frances Opdahl, at the C'mon Inn of Thief River Falls on Saturday. Karl, Kassandra and John Sorenson of Wannaska, Sheila Mallory and Brett Gerardy also attended.

Karl Sorenson of Wannaska, visited at the Jon Berns home of Oklee on Saturday evening.

George and Hazel Ollie spent Sunday afternoon at the John Kuiper's of Red Lake Falls, helping Evelyn celebrate her birthday.

John Shirley and Amber Haglund of Baudette, and Clara Hesse were Sunday afternoon and supper guests of Florence and Sonny Tvedt. Charlene Tvedt and Lisa Paquin were there too.

Ernie and Dorothy Pederson went to Bemidji on Sunday afternoon, and visited relatives and friends.

AAL Branch Meets

AAL Branch 2444 held their monthly meeting on Sunday, at the Don Hesse home. The Branch will serve lunch at the musical production to be held at the school on March 14. New voting member is Dixie Koskela, and junior to adult members are Ryan Wichterman and Mindy Simpson.

Sunday visitors at the Burton Carlson home were Merlin and Judy Carlson, Don, Shar, Deb and David Fox, Jason and Paula Cater. The Caters had come north, to attend the baptism of their nephew Lucas Cater of Middle River, and returned to their home in St. Paul on Sunday afternoon.

Arnie and Wilma Arlt visited Dorothy Greenwald, at Hillcrest Nursing home on Tuesday afternoon.

Dinner guests of Joyce and Burton Carlson on Wednesday, were Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Polkow of Springfield. Deb Fox spent part of the day there also.

age of the past 10 years. Seasonal cutbacks in trade following the holiday shopping season (-22,200), in services (-9,600), and in construction (-9,400) accounted for most of the downturn.

Compared to a year ago, the number of wage and salary jobs in Minnesota was up by 11,100, a 0.5 per cent increase. Job growth was noted in services — particularly health services (14,500 or 2.7 per cent), finance/insurance/real estate, (2200 or 1.7 per cent), and government particularly local education (7,200 or 2.1 per cent). This more than offset losses in construction (-2200 or -3.5 per cent), trade (-5500 or -1.1 per cent), and manufacturing (-4500 or -1.1 per cent).

Several metropolitan areas in Greater Minnesota are posting strong job gains. The St. Cloud area added 2,800 jobs over the past year, a 3.5 per cent increase. Not far behind was Duluth-Superior which added 2,400 jobs, a 2.5 per cent growth rate. Except for the trade industry in St. Cloud, jobs have been added in all major industry groups in both areas. Slower job growth has been registered in the Rochester area (680, 1.0 per cent) due to a significant loss of manufacturing jobs. The Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area has gained 5,500 jobs, a 0.4 per cent growth.

The addition of jobs in Minnesota continues to be weak when compared to previous years. The average growth per year over the past 10 years is 40,400 jobs. Nevertheless, Minnesota has not experienced the serious job loss felt in other parts of the country. Over the past year the number of U.S. jobs has dropped by nearly 650,000 or -0.6 per cent.

interest. If you file it later than April 15 and owe additional taxes, you will be charged interest on the difference. If you discover that your refund should have been higher, you will receive a check for the difference, plus interest. For further information, call 296-3781 from the Twin Cities area, or 1-800-652-9094 elsewhere in Minnesota.

What should I do if I forgot to attach a copy of my federal form to my Minnesota return?

Do nothing until you hear from the Department of Revenue. If you send it in before we contact you, we cannot determine where it belongs. We will contact you if we need any information that is missing.

I am 87 years old and have trouble figuring out my taxes. I can't afford to get help. What can I do?

Free volunteer income tax assistance is available to senior citizens, low income, disabled and non-English speaking taxpayers at various Volunteer Income Tax Assistance/ Tax Counseling for the Elderly (VITA-TCE) program sites throughout the state. This service helps taxpayers complete the basic federal and state income tax returns as well as the Minnesota property tax refund return. For the location nearest you, call the Minnesota Department of Revenue at 297-3724 in the St. Paul area, 297-3725 in the Minneapolis area, or 1-800-652-9094 from outside the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

Inspection of farm trucks

Effective April 1, all commercial vehicles registered in Minnesota as farm trucks with gross vehicle weight between 26,001 and 57,000 pounds must display a valid safety inspection decal.

Farmers may have their trucks inspected at a state patrol weigh scale free of charge or at a dealership or repair facility with a certified inspector; or the farmer may become a certified inspector and inspect his own truck, according to the state public safety department.

GOD'S LOVE APPEARS IN THE LOVELY PASTELS OF SPRING

When winter snows have joined the past,
With skies no longer overcast,
The sun will shine and soon, at last,
  A new day it will bring:
Announced by every balmy breeze,
While barren branches by degrees
Will turn to green upon the trees,
  Where birds begin to sing.
The butterflies are everywhere,
And flowers' perfume fills the air;
Their pastel beauty meant to share
  With every living thing.
Your faith will help you understand
The love of God, when He has planned
That everything upon the land
  Will come to life in spring.

— Gloria Nowak

For thee the wonder-working
earth puts forth
sweet flowers.

Effie's Trip!

Dear Readers; I arrived home last Tuesday after a wonderful winter of travel out west. I left on December 21, and spent Christmas with my daughter, Anne Anderson and family, in Santa Ana, CA. After the cold of November and December here in Minnesota, California seemed most balmy. Then I spent several days each with my brother, Joe Brower and his wife Esther, who live in Sky Valley Mobile Park, at Desert Hot Springs, CA, and my sister, Crystal and Cliff Pence in Ontario, CA. They took me to the Lawrence Welk Village, Oak Glen Apple Country, the date palm area near Indio, and a tour of Graver's Olive plant. Then back to Anne's. In late January she and I flew to Hawaii, to visit my daughter, Maribeth and Scott Miller, who are wintering near Hilo. We visited Pearl Harbor, and the International Market, in a brief overnight stay in Honolulu, before flying to the Big Island.

Some of the sights we saw there were Kilauea National Park with its steam vents and sulphur springs, big crater, lava walks and lava tube, sugar cane fields, lava fields, the big Parker Ranch, which is the largest ranch privately owned in the US, lovely Hapuna Beach, Kona, where a lot of international sports tourneys are held, the South Point where the early Polynesians first landed and settled the island, various parks, the Akaka Falls, the Macadamia Nut plant, as well as the beautiful flowers and foliage that has made Hawaii famous. It is a land of contrast. While in Kona we attended a Lutheran church where Miss America's father is pastor.

Rain set in the last few days we were there, and we flew back to Los Angeles on February 8th, to another rain season, which is rare in CA. Both states welcomed the rain. Some of the people we visited in that area were Kern and Alice Tillman in Anaheim, Don and Nancy Skjerven in Santa Ana, Chuck and Shirley Wheaton, and Dorothy Myhre in Ramona, cousin, Valborg Torkelson in Chula Vista, granddaughter, Tammie Poencet and family in Temecula, and granddaughter, Jacquie Farrel and family in Orange. One day classmates, Anne Anderson, Shirley Myhre Wheatan, and Pat Jorgenson Bartalone, Dorothy Myhre and myself, lunched together in San Juan Capistrano, in pouring rain, but rain never stopped the girls from Minnesota before, and it didn't that day either.

Later in February Anne drove me to Oregon, and we visited many points of interest along the way, Solvang, Morro Bay, Monterey Peninsula, Paloma Beach, San Francisco's Fisherman's Wharf, Fort Point at Golden Gate Bridge, Crooked Lombard Street, various lighthouses and beaches and the Sea Lion caves. We spent one night in Paso Robles, where we visited Charlotte Spong, another school friend of Anne's. We spent two nights at the home of my granddaughter, Connie and David Lowe at Danville, CA. She took us up Mt. Diablo, for a panoramic view of the Bay area.

Jerry and Jerry Jr. Skjerven returned home last week after spending some time at the Miko and Don Skjerven homes in California.

In Oregon we visited my brothers, Sterling Brower and family in Springfield, and Robert Brower and family of Oregon City, and with several friends and cousins near by. They took me up the McKenzie River, around and up on Mount Hood, and to Mt. St. Helen's, where reconstruction from the 1980 volcanic eruption is under way. I flew home from Portland on March 3rd, glad to be home again. It was an exciting, educational, and fulfilling trip, but my heart is in the great state of Minnesota.

Many thanks to good friends, Edna and Bunny, for taking over this column while I was away, and keeping you informed of the happenings right here.

Hillcrest Visit

Immanuel women of the Faith circle, who visited Hillcrest Nursing Home in February, with a devotional program, and treats were Bertha Hughes, Bunny DuChamp, Dorothy Raese, Amelia Eskell, Wilma Huotari, and Alice Johnson, also Pastor Johnson.

All Conference Girls

Congratulations go out to Jenny Walter, who was recently named one of the 14 players to the 1991-92 Northern Galaxy All Conference Girl's high school basketball team. Congratulations also to Cheryl Greenwald, who was an honorable mention choice. Both girls are seniors and have been active in sports for PHS for several years.

Lucille Kvasoger and Bernice Larson of Minneapolis, recently returned from a week's visit with their sister, Gladys and Arnold Narverud, who are wintering in Tucson, AZ.

Olga Konickson and Tilmer Johnson visited the homes of Mrs. Elaine White, and Mr. and Mrs. John Dahl of Oklee, on Tuesday afternoon.

Greg, Nancy and Danielle Holmes moved on Tuesday, to Oshkosh, WI, where Greg is employed as an airline mechanic.

Open House

Tom, Tina and Christopher Hesse, accompanied by Don Hesse, arrived in Plummer on Tuesday, the 3rd. Tom has been transferred from Oak Harbor, WA, to Cherry Point, NC, and will vacation here until Friday. On Sunday his parents, Don and Loretta Hesse, held an open house, to celebrate the young couple's 1st wedding anniversary. Attending were Mel and Peggy Hesse, and DJ, Diane, Amanda and Ericka Grinde of Elk River, Syl and Ivan Hesse, Bill, Diane, Billy Jr. and Scotty Simpson of Thief River Falls, Chuck, Jolayne, Tracy and Patrick Simpson. Best wishes to Tom and his family, as they leave for their new post.

Redeemer Ladies Aid

Redeemer Ladies Aid was held Thursday evening, following the Lenten service. President Fern Hesse conducted the meeting and Peggy Hesse served lunch.

WELCA Meets

The Women of Immanuel met on Thursday evening at the church. Clara Hesse conducted the business meeting, and the program was given by the Mary Elizabeth circle. It was presented by Carole Wright on "Children of Namibia" and other members of the circle assisted. Charlotte Leining gave the offering meditation. Hostesses who served lunch were Deb DuChamp, Shar Fox and Amelia Eskell.

Steve Vigstol of St. Francis, Derek and Adam visited on Thursday afternoon at Effie Vigstol's, and again on Sunday, after a fishing trip to Lake of the Woods.

Birthday

Wevell Sorenson entertained at a birthday dinner for uncle, Neuben Sorenson and son-in-law, Tom Willett on Thursday. Others there were Art and Avis Froiland, Sheila Mallory and Brett Gerardy.

World Day of Prayer

World Day of Prayer was observed on Friday morning, March 6, at Immanuel church. Hazel Ollie was in charge of the service, assisted by readers from sister churches in town. This has been an annual event for many years now, and is a very ecumenical service in our community. So, too, is the Thursday morning prayer group which meets each week at 9 a.m., presently at Immanuel. This is an informal group, that would welcome others who have concerns, or would just enjoy the fellowship.

Birthday

A belated birthday party supper honoring Emilia Skjerven, was held at the Lantern on Thursday evening. Friends who joined her were Stella Howard, Connie Hughes, Reinette Walter, Lorraine Fisher, Edna Hyde and Madonna Lallier. Stella brought the special dessert for the birthday.

Fern Hesse spent several days in Fargo, at the home of her daughter, Vicki and Ross Olson, taking care of their baby, as Vicki has to have some minor surgery.

Idella Rewertz and Gary Hofius accompanied Allen Hanson to Fargo on Friday, where he remained for medical attention. Idella and Gary visited and had lunch with Penny Retzer, before returning home.

Jodi and Dale Story of Warroad spent the weekend at the home of her mother, Doris Malwitz.

Wevel Sorenson attended the 75th birthday party for her friend, Frances Opdahl, at the C'mon Inn of Thief River Falls on Saturday. Karl, Kassandra and John Sorenson of Wannaska, Sheila, Mallory and Brett Gerardy also attended.

Karl Sorenson of Wannaska, visited at the Jon Berne home of Oklee on Saturday evening.

George and Hazel Ollie spent Sunday afternoon at the John Kuiper's of Red Lake Falls, helping Evelyn celebrate her birthday.

John, Shirley and Amber Haglund of Baudette, and Clora Hesse were Sunday afternoon and supper guests of Florence and Sonny Tvedt. Charlene Tvedt and Lisa Paquin were there too.

Ernie and Dorothy Pederson went to Bemidji on Sunday afternoon, and visited relatives and friends.

AAL Branch Meets

AAL Branch 2444 held their monthly meeting on Sunday, at the Don Hesse home. The Branch will serve lunch at the musical production, to be held at the school on March 14. New voting member is Dixie Kaekela, and junior to adult members are Ryan Wichterman and Mindy Simpson.

Sunday visitors at the Burton Carlson home were Merlin and Judy Carlson, Don, Shar, Deb and David Fox, Jason and Paula Cater. The Caters had come north, to attend the baptism of their nephew Lucas Cater of Middle River, and returned to their home in St. Paul on Sunday afternoon.

Arnie and Wilma Arlt visited Dorothy Greenwald, at Hillcrest Nursing home on Tuesday afternoon.

Dinner guests of Joyce and Burton Carlson on Wednesday, were Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Polkow of Springfield. Deb Fox spent part of the day there also.

age of the past 10 years. Seasonal cutbacks in trade following the holiday shopping season (-22,200), in services (-9,600), and in construction (-9,400) accounted for most of the downturn.

Compared to a year ago, the number of wage and salary jobs in Minnesota was up by 11,100, a 0.5 per cent increase. Job growth was noted in services — particularly health services (14,500 or 2.7 per cent), finance/insurance/real estate, (2200 or 1.7 per cent), and government particularly local education (7,200 or 2.1 per cent). This more than offset losses in construction (-2200 or -3.5 per cent), trade (-5500 or -1.1 per cent), and manufacturing (-4500 or -1.1 per cent).

Several metropolitan areas in Greater Minnesota are posting strong job gains. The St. Cloud area added 2,800 jobs over the past year, a 3.5 per cent increase. Not far behind was Duluth-Superior which added 2,400 jobs, a 2.5 per cent growth rate. Except for the trade industry in St. Cloud, jobs have been added in all major industry groups in both areas. Slower job growth has been registered in the Rochester area (680, 1.0 per cent) due to a significant loss of manufacturing jobs. The Minneapolis-St. Paul metropolitan area has gained 5,500 jobs, a 0.4 per cent growth.

The addition of jobs in Minnesota continues to be weak when compared to previous years. The average growth per year over the past 10 years is 40,400 jobs. Nevertheless, Minnesota has not experienced the serious job loss felt in other parts of the country. Over the past year the number of U.S. jobs has dropped by nearly 650,000 or -0.6 per cent.

What should I do if I forgot to attach a copy of my federal form to my Minnesota return?

Do nothing until you hear from the Department of Revenue. If you send it in before we contact you, we cannot determine where it belongs. We will contact you if we need any information that is missing.

I am 87 years old and have trouble figuring out my taxes. I can't afford to get help. What can I do?

Free volunteer income tax assistance is available to senior citizens, low income, disabled and non-English speaking taxpayers at various Volunteer Income Tax Assistance/ Tax Counseling for the Elderly (VITA-TCE) program sites throughout the state. This service helps taxpayers complete the basic federal and state income tax returns as well as the Minnesota property tax refund return. For the location nearest you, call the Minnesota Department of Revenue at 297-3724 in the St. Paul area, 297-3725 in the Minneapolis area, or 1-800-652-9094 from outside the Twin Cities metropolitan area.

Inspection of farm trucks

Effective April 1, all commercial vehicles registered in Minnesota as farm trucks with gross vehicle weight between 26,001 and 57,000 pounds must display a valid safety inspection decal.

Farmers may have their trucks inspected at a state patrol weigh scale free of charge or at a dealership or repair facility with a certified inspector; or the farmer may become a certified inspector and inspect his own truck, according to the state public safety department.

Feds Not Sharing Info On Redistricting Maps

Following editorial comment was written by [illegible] and published in the Minnesota Newspaper Foundation publication NewsCurrent.

City and county officials all across Minnesota are being held hostage because they still lack an important piece of election year information—a mysteriously missing set of federally court-ordered redistricting maps.

Final resolution of Minnesota's legislative and congressional redistricting dilemma now rests with the U.S. Supreme Court, along with a backlog of several similar cases from other states.

Further delays in the court's disposition of the case will cause plenty of headaches for Minnesota's local officials in some 275 cities, already hard-pressed to carry out the daunting task of simultaneously redrawing ward and precinct lines.

Normally, detailed information abut the exact location of district boundaries needed by cities and counties could be obtained from the Secretary of State's office in St. Paul. Indeed, the state plan and maps have been distributed.

State officials haven't been able to provide much assistance, however. The reason is simple: There aren't any copies of the federal maps being made available on a ready basis. Quite a strange tale, considering the Secretary of State's office is supposed to serve as the primary source of information for all municipalities in Minnesota needing maps for local redistricting.

Additional inquiries into the status of the missing maps leads to a disturbing conclusion: for some reason, federal officials are not sharing public information that will play a key role in this fall's elections.

Summary listings (not maps) of the federal districts are available, but the documents don't provide the meets and bounds detail that's needed for the proper redrawing of city boundaries. Worse yet, those working in the state legislative system administrator's office have been told to give only general guidance about the issue, despite the fact they share the redistricting information on the same computer.

It very well may be the more well-known state plan will be the one approved by the Supreme Court, making the issue a somewhat moot point. However, not having information or maps available about both plans and their potential political differences is a subtle form of censorship. Federal officials must be more cooperative and release copies of their redistricting maps, in order to keep the political process free and open, if not democratic.

Errors Discovered In School Textbooks

Things are probably a lot different today, but in the olden days when we were in school we accepted what was in the school book or the teacher's interpretation as gospel. If it was in the book it was, for there was no higher authority to question or dispute it. If it had said the chief exports of Alaska were bananas and coconuts we would have never questioned it.

And because there must be at least some school children today who accept what is being presented to them without question, we cringe when we read that the Texas State Board of Education voted last November to postpone until this January the adoption of $20 million worth of new school history books after it was found the contained more than 5,200 factual errors!!

The errors were discovered by Mel and Norma Gabler of Longview, TX, whose Conservative Christian group has been reviewing textbooks for 30 years. When one of the state school board's members decided to make the errors public at a news conference, the ensuing uproar resulted in 10 of the history books being sent back to the publishers for correction, along with a warning from the board that it would not tolerate such errors in the future.

What is equally scary about finding of the 5,200 factual errors is that many of the 10 textbooks already are being used in uncorrected form in seventh through 12th grade elsewhere in the United States.

What kind of mistakes were there?

In American Voices: A History of the United States," Volume 2, published by Scott, Foresman and Co., it was stated that President Truman's description of the Korean War as a "police action" was correct because, in the book's words, "the United States easily settled the conflict by using the bomb." The bomb—accepted in common usage as the nuclear bomb—was only used against Japan and brought a conclusion to World War II.

The same history book reported that Jimmy Carter was the first Democrat to be elected to the Presidency since Truman, overlooking the election victories of John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson.

Another book, American Odyssey: The U.S. in the Twentieth Century, published by Glencoe-Macmillan/McGraw-Hill, described Sputnik as "the first intercontinental ballistic missile launched by the Soviet Union," adding that it "carried a nuclear warhead." Sputnik was the first man-made satellite to orbit earth in 1957 and had nothing at all to do with missiles or warheads.

These uninformed errors or mistaken assumptions, and others, prompted the Dallas Times Herald to comment that "apparently educated people no longer are being used to write history textbooks."

Someone once said that you can't change history, and it is true that what has happened can not be changed. But the way in which that history is recorded can certainly change the way it is viewed in the future. What is reported in error may be less serious than what is selectively excluded or intentionally misinterpreted. It would seem that objectivity may be severely lacking.

The Gablers, who first exposed the glut of factual errors, say this is only part of the problem. "Many of those now writing the textbooks were members of the 1960's counterculture," they point out. "Much worse than the factual errors is the bias against free enterprise....They censor the costs and problems connected with government intervention."

Combine such writing in textbooks with the generally liberal faculties in colleges and universities which train teachers and the ability of school children to obtain an objective viewpoint on history will be increasingly difficult.

Letters To The Editor and Corrections

Letters To The Editor: The Times encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in The Times exclusively: letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The Times believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will no longer withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by The Times for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication. The Times encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention at 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Strandquist News

F. Myrtle Vagle

The Strandquist Junior Citizens have been very busy this last week and we are glad to have their news to report and hope you really enjoy reading about them. They are, as you know, the future of this region.

The Tri-County Schools (grades K-3) journeyed to Grand Forks and the Chester Fritz Auditorium on Friday March 6. We attended the presentation of Peter and the Wolf by the Greater Grand Forks Symphony Orchestra with narration by Mike and Maggie. A slide presentation was given along with the story of Peter and the Wolf. The students pictures that were chosen for the slide show from our school were Jessica Berg and Noah Sjoblom. It was a very fun day for all of us and we would like to thank our bus drivers and chaperones for helping us out.

It is National Breakfast Week at Tri-County Schools. Our cooks are making it a special week for us. Each day we sign up for a chance to win a free breakfast. At the end of the week a drawing will be held and prizes will be given away. One of those prizes is a radio with headphones.

Mrs. Schindele's second grade class is presenting a dinosaur program entitled, "Dinosaur Days." It will be held on Friday, March 13 from 1:45-2:30 in the second grade classroom. The second graders are working hard on their parts and the music. We are hoping our moms and dads will be able to join us for our program.

Mrs. Berggren's students are finishing their "Book a Trip" and most of us have reached our goals. We have read books from six different continents including Africa, Europe, Asia, Australia, North America, and South America. It was a great adventure.

Mrs. Helling's third grade had a going away party for Jenny Schwede on Thursday, March 5th. They surprised her with cake, pop, balloons, and a special class book for her to take with her. They will miss her very much and wish her "Good Luck" at Roseau.

Mrs. Helling's class has spent the past two weeks in "outer space"! They've been studying about the Solar System. They got together as partners and researched the nine planets. They wrote research projects, planet travel brochures, and rocket stories! We're now back to earth and beginning a unit on the United States.

We now have collected 8,517 Campbells soup labels. If you have any labels at home please save them and pass them on to the students to bring to school.

Mrs. Rodahl's first grader's are doing a unit on maps and map reading. We have a big map on our bulletin board that we made with a key for all kinds of stores and houses. We are also reading books by Eric Carle this month. One of our favorites is "The Very Hungry Caterpillar."

Alletia Slueynski celebrated her birthday on March 3rd and shared treats with her first grade class. Thanks for the treats, Alletia.

I have an apology to make to Philip and Yvonne Boen for not getting their news item in last week. My sister, Hazel, had written it for me and I put it in my pocket instead of my folder. My half-zeimers (I don't have alzheimers) promptly erased it from my mind until the other day when I wore the jacket again. I'm sorry, Philip and Yvonne.

Brent and Carla Boen, Nancy and Jordan Larson from Minneapolis, spent the weekend at Philip and Yvonne Boen's. They together with Michelle Boen of Grand Forks, Corey Boen of Fargo, Mike, Krista, Mark, Matthew and Brent Proulx of Crookston, Paul, Jackie, Chase and Chelsea Boen and Grandma Greve Boen, were dinner guests to help Yvonne celebrate her birthday on Sunday.

Clarice Hanson of Hallock visited at Wayne Stromgren's on Sunday.

Morris and Hazel Anderson were dinner guests at Paul and Shirley Anderson's on Sunday.

Lorraine Setton returned home on the 29th, after spending ten days with her daughter, Julie Ann, in Heron Lake, and a week in Concord, CA, where they visited her sister, Geneva Megow, and grandson, Justin, who is stationed on the Abraham Lincoln aircraft carrier at Alameda. Justin is in the Nuclear Division of the Navy. The temperature in San Francisco was 80° the day we visited Pier 39, and saw the sea lions, who had taken over the pier as a resting place. The ships no longer may dock there.

Art Kleinvachter visited Frank Kleinvachter's Wednesday afternoon. In the evening Marlan Pederson brought some of her birthday lunch for Frank and Judy's supper. It was very good. Thanks Marlan.

Jim Wetterlund of East Grand Forks, spent Wednesday and Thursday with the Morris Andersons and Keith Brittens.

LaVonne and Brian Johnson visited at Peter and Pearl Thompson's on Saturday. On Sunday Becky and Jeremy Johnson visited them.

Visitors and luncheon guests on Sunday afternoon at Julius Kleinwachter's to help Julius celebrate his birthday were Ben Kleinwachter, Mark, Brian and Sara, Wayne and Pat Larson, Abby, Kate and Rebecca, Terry and Betty Pietruszewski, Michael and Kevin, Fr. John Kleinwachter of Thief River Falls, Frank and Judy Kleinvachter of Karlstad, Bud and Marle Steffen and grandson, Barry of Argyle, and Steve Benson and friend, Kathy of Rochester.

June Kasprowicz and Don Larson took Judy Kleinvachter to Grand Forks on Tuesday, for a check-up at the clinic. Judy suffered a bad break in her leg when she fell a couple of months ago. She is taking physical therapy at the Karlstad Hospital, and is coming along as well as can be expected.

Morris, Hazel and Konrick Anderson spent Saturday with Jim, Cindy and Christy Wetterlund in East Grand Forks, and went shopping.

Peter and Pearl Thompson, Hazel and Morris Anderson, and Gloria and Danny Renstrom had dinner with Roy and Myrtle Vagle on Friday evening.

Adrienne Lefrooth visited Frank and Judy Kleinvachter on Friday. Gary Benson and friend from Rochester, stopped in the afternoon as did Marie and Bud Steffen in the evening. Pearl Thompson and Eisle Lefrooth visited with Roy and Myrtle Vagle Sunday evening, bringing birthday greetings to Roy.

Kari Kasprowicz came to see Grandpa and Grandma Kleinvachter Monday noon. Bud and Marie Steffen of Argyle, came to see Frank and Judy on Tuesday afternoon.

Friends and relatives of Adella Underdahl had wished she could have lived until April 25, which would have been her 75th wedding anniversary, but were aware last week when some of them had been to see her that perhaps she wouldn't be able to do so. She passed away on Thursday. Her obituary is in the news.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

It has been one year since the loss of our loved one, Dennis Hallstrom. Adusting to life without him has been very difficult.

Please know that we truly appreciate the kindness, understanding, prayers and genuine concern shown us from the many friends and relatives in this community. We extend our thank-you for your expressions of concern and a special thank-you to Rev. Luther Anderson for his faithful support during this time.

We couldn't have made it this far without your help and your gestures of Christian love.

Sincerely,
Virginia Hallstrom

Little Oak News

Mrs. Arnold Haugen
378-4367

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Meyer of Richfield, are the proud parents of a baby girl born on March 3. She weighed seven pounds six ounces, and they named her Meghann Alice. The proud parents are Gary and Sherron Johnson of Goodridge, grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Myers of Benson, great-grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bert K Johnson of Thief River Falls and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haugen of Trail. Arnold Haugen's have three great-grandchildren born on March 3. They are Adam Riffle of Salt Lake City, UT, Katie Ackman of Champlin, and Meghann Myer.

Sherron Johnson left for Richfield, on Sunday morning to spend a few days with Tim and Robyn Myer and baby, to get acquainted with her little granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haugen were coffee guests at the Ernest Mostrom home Tuesday afternoon.

Those from our neighborhood who attended dinner at the Community Hall in Gully on Wednesday were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Burreck, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Christlenson, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Arveson and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Haugen.

Renee Marquis, Cory, Andrea and Megan visited at the Kenneth Peterson home on Thursday.

Darren Arveson visited at the Arnold Haugen home on Sunday afternoon. Ted Roy called there on Friday.

Mrs. Arnold Haugen enjoyed telephone calls from Edna Hawk of Issaquah, WA, and Orrin Haugen from Hibbing.

Dr. Lee to discuss health issues at Karlstad church

Consider these principles of the Newstart program (Nutrition, Exercise, Water, Sunshine, Temperance, Air, Rest, and Trust In Divine Power).

"The relation that exists between the mind and body is very intimate. You will discover the many facets of a dynamic growing health as Dr. Lee explores the latest findings on the mind body relationship. How can you gain the benefit of a lifestyle that addresses the physical, mental, social and spiritual dimensions of our lives as they were created to be?

Dr. Sang Lee

Dr. Sang Lee M.D. was born in Tongahn, China, and graduated from Yonsei University, College of Medicine in Korea in 1967. After three years military service he completed an internship in Toledo, residency in Internal Medicine at Wayne State in Michigan, and a Fellowship in Allergy and Clinical Immunology at University of California in Irvine. He built up a thriving practice in Southern California. In 1982 Dr. Lee joined the staff at Weimar Institute where he teaches, does research, and helps patients from all over the world to regain and enhance their health as they learn and except the principles of a health enhancing lifestyle. As a result of his experience and research he is in great demand as a speaker all over the world. He has been featured for 15 hours of prime time television by Korean Broadcasting System, and recently returned from speaking engagements in Australia, Japan and South America.

Dr. Lee will be presenting some of the most recent findings in regards to the intricate workings of the mind with the genetic make-up of the body and the profound potential of lifestyle in enhancing an joy of living.

His presentation will be held March 26, 27 and 28 at the Karlstad Seventh-day Adventist church. Topics include the following: "Love and Life" at 7 p.m. Thursday; "Our Immune System and Health" at 7 p.m. on Friday; "Health Message in First Angels Message", 11 a.m. Saturday; "Is Cancer Reversible" 2:30 p.m. Saturday; "Is Diabetes Controllable" 6 p.m. Saturday.

For more information contact Pastor Dale Rosette (218) 436-2480 or Jay Hayek (218) 436-2426.

"Eat Right" theme is used to emphasize proper food during Nutrition Month

"Eat Right America" is the theme for National Nutrition Month being observed across the nation in March.

Kathy Barry, Registered Dietitian and director of nutrition services at Northwest Medical Center, and Tammy Vatthauer, R.D., clinical dietitian, are presenting various nutrition related events throughout the hospital and community this month to promote National Nutrition Month.

Planned are a Nutrition Tea for hospital and clinic employees, supermarket tour for hospital and clinic employees, presentation on fat and cholesterol to the Rotary club, judge and moderator for the regional 4-H Knowledge Bowl.

Message contained in the theme for March is to eat nutritious foods from the Basic Four food groups and to limit the intake of fat, cholesterol and sodium, Barry said.

She listed the food groups printed below and the recommended servings people should consume from each group daily. "Remember to watch your fat intake," she reminded. "If you indulge in higher fat foods, do so in moderation and start eating lean today."

The Lowfat Kitchen

"Stock up on these lean foods and follow the dietary guidelines when planning your menus. Build meals around complex carbohydrates such as pasta, rice or potatoes, vegetables and legumes. Use meat and cheese in small portions," Barry added.

Dairy—2 to 4 servings daily, choose skim or low fat dairy products.

Meat and Meat Alternatives—2 to 3 servings daily; total 5-7 ounces. Choose lean cuts of meat, roast bake or broil to eliminate extra fat.

Breads Grains Cereals—6 to 11 servings daily. Choose whole grains and those that are plain and low in fat. Avoid croissants, pastry, butter crackers, doughnuts, etc.

Sweets—Eat in moderation. Cookies: Fig bars, ginger snaps, graham crackers, vanilla wafers and ladyfingers. Frozen Yogurt, Lowfat, non fat gelatin desserts, angel food or chiffon cake, lowfat cake mixes, ice milk sherbet, Italian ices and frozen fruit bars.

Fruits—2 to 4 servings daily. All are allowed.

Vegetables—3 to 5 servings daily. All are allowed.

Fats/Salads/Dressings/Oils—Up to six teaspoons daily. Choose reduced and low fat dressings.

Work Readiness loss helped by General Assistance

Since December of 1991, approximately 5,000 people in Minnesota have lost Work Readiness benefits because of legislative cuts. For many persons who have not yet faced unemployment, understanding this program is difficult but knowing about it may help you prevent another's personal tragedy.

Work Readiness is the Minnesota safety net program designed to help people who do not qualify for any other benefit programs. Participants are required to attend job skill classes and actively seek employment. Any job must be accepted. Despite their efforts, many people in the Work Readiness program have been unsuccessful at accessing regular jobs because they may have sporadic work records, lack skills and job training, or suffer from physical and mental problems. Although they want to work, such persons face double difficulty finding work in a recession economy.

The $203 monthly benefit is usually limited to five consecutive months within any 12-month period. For example, if a person receives Work Readiness for a month, then works for three months, he or she will only be eligible for one more month of Work Readiness payment the rest of that year. Loss of Work Readiness benefits can mean that an individual is totally without income and could become homeless.

Certain people who have lost Work Readiness benefits may be able to find help through another program, General Assistance (GA). The GA program, like Work Readiness, is designed primarily for single adults, but to be eligible, persons must fit into a category which demonstrates an inability to work at a regular job. The $203 benefit is the same as the Work Readiness benefit but GA does not have a five-month time limit.

Persons who face a loss of Work Readiness benefits and have physical or mental problems may benefit from requesting a review of their GA eligibility to determine whether they fit in one of the categories of eligibility for GA. Briefly the categories are: a 30-day spell of illness or injury, the need to care for an incapacitated household member, residence in a rehab or battered women's facility, mental illness confirmed by a doctor's statement, application for SSI or Social Security Disability with disability certification by a doctor, over age 55 or younger with limited work ability, labeled unable to work by a Work Readiness provider, having a documented learning disability, emancipated minor, seven months pregnant, a full-time student who qualifies as a displaced homemaker, lives more than two hours round trip from any job site, involved with court ordered services that prevent work, or a family not eligible for AFDC.

Human nature seems to dictate that when a person is laid off and seeking help from the county, he or she minimizes problems that may very realistically be barriers to employment. People typically will not have told the county GA intake worker that they have such problems as illiteracy, chronic depression, psychological or CD problems. It may be critical for persons who have lost Work Readiness to disclose such potentially embarrassing problems so they might qualify for income through the GA Program.

These programs account for 1.5 percent of the total Minnesota Welfare budget.

If you know someone who has been cut off Work Readiness, tell that person to contact the county about any problem they may have which fits into one of the GA categories. Also, if that person has found a job, but is facing an eviction or other crisis because he or she won't be paid immediately, Emergency GA may help.

NWRDC seeks nominations

Northwest Regional Enterprise Fund is seeking nominations for persons to represent economic development organizations, women, townships and minorities. The enterprise fund, in conjunction with the Northwest Regional Development Commission, operates a revolving loan fund for businesses in the seven counties of northwest Minnesota. The loan program assists local business and industry by providing gap financing for projects which create new jobs.

Meetings are held quarterly and the membership terms are for three years. Interested persons are encouraged to contact Donna Christianson at 681-2637 or 1-800-537-0601. Nominations should be mailed to the following address by April 3: Northwest Regional Enterprise Fund, 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Turning Back The Times

1892 — One Hundred Years Ago

—School at St. Hilaire will close for the spring vacation next Friday and will not reconvene until May.

—A couple of parties were in St. Hilaire last week looking the town over with a view to starting a jewelry store.

—Farm machinery seems to sell well this spring and a large number of drills and seeders are being sold by area machine firms.

1902 — Ninety Years Ago

—Lumbermen are worried over the scarcity of water this spring. The rivers will be very low.

—The annual fair of the Catholic church will be held this year on May 1.

—William Bloom will erect a $5,000 saloon, restaurant and lodging house on the site of Joe Ryson's livery stable.

1912 — Eighty Years Ago

—The recently organized Automobile club of Thief River Falls will hold a banquet March 27 at the Evelyn hotel.

—The Junior-Senior reception will take place at the Lincoln high school next Friday evening, since a suitable hall could not be secured down town.

—The reading and spelling contests at the Thief River Falls schools were well attended Friday evening.

1922 — Seventy Years Ago

—Local Legion post has secured quarters in the basement of the First & Peoples State bank.

—Area farmers have contracted for all of the 200 acres of sugar beets allotted to Pennington county.

—T. S. Brokke was named as assistant postmaster here, succeeding F. A. Gobler, who moved to Rice Lake, Wisconsin.

1932 — Sixty Years Ago

—In the biggest spontaneous demonstration in the history of this city, the champion Lincoln high school basketball team, coached by Roger Dooley, was given a royal welcome on its return from the state tournament in Minneapolis.

—A. W. Mickelson of Minot, North Dakota is the new manager of the local Montgomery Ward store.

—At the request of the Thief River Falls Taxpayers' league, the city council postponed indefinitely the purchase of a motorized fire-fighting unit.

1942 — Fifty Years Ago

—A father-son banquet will be given Monday by the local chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota March 19, 1942

From The Times Files of Fifty Years Ago

Council Accepts Bids Friday

"The city council at an adjourned session Friday evening accepted the bid of James B. Clow & Son to supply 1,200 feet of four-inch cast iron water main and fittings at a price of $979.09, to be installed on Crocker av. S., where sewer mains were installed in 1941. The J. C. Penney company, low bidder, was awarded the contract to supply six police uniforms of 18-ounce material with two pairs of trousers on its bid of $249. The council also accepted the bid of the Home Lumber company to furnish fifty gallons of all-purpose aluminum paint at a price of $4.45 per gallon. The material will be used to paint the trickling filter at the sewage disposal plant."

Rural School Teachers To Meet

"Pennington county rural school teachers will assemble in the district courtroom in the courthouse Saturday morning at 9:45 to receive instructions for carrying out the Victory Garden program in their respective districts, it was announced today by Miss Judith Lockrem, county superintendent of schools. Following the county meeting Saturday each teacher will arrange for a meeting in her own school district to pass on the information to parents in her area."

American Flage Being Cleaned At No Charge

"Mrs. E. C. Karwand, director of the women's division of the county civil defense council, announced today that Narverud's and the Zephyr Cleaners have offered free service in cleaning American flags brought in by local residents. She added that the Zephyr Cleaners are also cleaning without charge the uniforms of servicemen home on furlough."

Storhaug Named Licensing Agent For Explosivee

"Henry Storhaug, Pennington county clerk of court, recently was appointed as explosives licensing agent for this county. He has been designated to issue vendors', purchasers' and foreman's licenses under the terms of the federal explosives act passed by congress last December. The designation will be in effect until the termination of the war, or until revoked by R.R. Sayers, director of the bureau of mines of the U.S. department of the interior. The cost to the applicant will be 25 cents, and the applicant must be given an oath by the licensing agent."

—We are reminded that in the last World War sugar sold for as much as 30 cents a pound. If rationing will prevent a recurrence of that situation, it will be well worth while.

—He is a lucky farmer who didn't sell his flax last fall.

—And now we hear they are going to make cigars an inch shorter because the last inch is always thrown away anyway.

—There may or may not be room for debate as to whether worship or warship is more essential to success in the current war effort.

—The hope that the artificial rubber supply will shortly meet domestic demands strikes us as artificial.

—A lot of folks resent that charge of complacency made by administration leaders against the rank and file of the American people. Surely the progress of the war to date should be enough to convince anyone that we have nothing to be smug about.

—We can breathe a sigh of relief now that we got safely past another Friday the 13th and the anniversary of that tragic blizzard of March 15, 1941.

—Sin, they tell us, is an obsolete word for what is now known as experience.

—It seems there is something out of line when the United States senate, in these critical times, can devote day after day to debating the nauseous Senator Langer case.

—Cheer up, girls. If rationing compells you to go stockingless this summer, at least you won't have to worry about keeping your seams straight.

—Yes, indeed, it would be wonderful if the automobile and tire restrictions would cramp only the careless drivers.

—Winston Churchill may not wear a crown, but his head must lie uneasy these days.

Designation changed for ambulance

Ambulance service provided in Pennington county by Midwest Ambulance has been reduced from advanced life support to basic life support.

Midwest Ambulance Service and the Minnesota Department of Health have mutually agreed to drop Midwest Ambulance's advanced life support designation because the company did not have enough paramedics, according to Wayne Arrowood, department of health EMS section. Arrowood added that Midwest Ambulance Service will be able to apply for an advanced life support designation in one year.

Pennington County Sheriff Bob Wold said the loss of advanced life support in the ambulance service does not affect the agreement the county has with Midwest Ambulance Service.

That statement was confirmed by Pennington County Attorney Dave Olin, who was asked to research that very question.

Pennington county recently agreed to purchase an ambulance, which will be used by Midwest Ambulance. That was before county commissioners learned that the ambulance service would not be able to provide advanced life support.

The ambulance service will use the new ambulance when construction of the new ambulance is completed. The loss of advanced life support does not affect the agreement the ambulance company has with the county.

Sheriff Wold said the ambulance service will continue to provide service to the county but it will be basic life support. Basic life support means that individuals using the ambulance service will be transported to the hospital before receiving specific care.

Sheriff Wold also said, according to what he knows of the agreements to provide service between the ambulance service and other communities or counties, Midwest will continue to provide service. The agreements only say that they will provide "ambulance service".

According to officials at the department of health, the agreement has not been officially approved. It will be made public only after it has been approved. Dave Schneider, owner of the ambulance service, could not be reached for comment.

TRF City Council looks at proposed sidewalk project

Property owners express concerns at public hearing

Thief River Falls city council held a public hearing on the 1992 sidewalk and street improvement project Monday night. About 25 property owners attended the meeting, many to voice their concerns about proposed Improvements in the area of Dewey and Red Lake boulevard.

City technical and engineering services director, Ron Lindberg, explained Monday night that the city began a long over due sidewalk replacement project in 1990. It started as a result of surveys conducted in 1989 and 1990. In 1991 the plans were refined and reviewed. Last year, the city improved roughly 75,000 square feet of sidewalk. This year, the city proposes to improve roughly 51,000 square feet.

The total cost of the sidewalk improvement project is estimated at $155,000, which includes some work around Washington elementary school. The city proposes to use the same formula it has used over the past few years to determine assessments. The property owner will pay 80 per cent of frontage feet plus 100 per cent of driveways and entry walkways. The city will pay 20 per cent of frontage cost, and 100 per cent of the side streets. As a result, the actual split works out to about a 50/50 break. Lindberg said the lineal foot benefit rate is estimated at $10, which means the cost per benefited square foot will be about $2.20.

Property owners have the right to hire their own contractor to have the work completed. The city, however, has engaged in these projects to assist property owners. There are advantages to the city doing the project: the cost of the project is spread out over 12 years, it gets one big bid, which hopefully saves money, and the city picks up 20 per cent of the cost.

Ultimately, Lindberg pointed out, it is the responsibility of the property owner to repair and maintain sidewalks. It is the city's responsibility to notify property owners.

Property owners should also be aware of the fact that it has been the policy of the city to improve only those sidewalks currently in existence. It does not want to put sidewalks where there have never been sidewalks before, unless it is necessary to ensure the safety of pedestrians moving to and from a specific area or if requested by a property owner.

It is also the policy of the city to replace current sidewalks with sidewalks that are four and one-half feet wide. Lindberg said that allows plenty of room for two people to walk side by side.

Property owners should also be aware of the fact that the contractor provides a one year warranty on the work.

Since this is not the first year the city has had a sidewalk improvement project, the city has had some experience with complaints about the sidewalks. Lindberg said he has received about three types of complaints: water on sidewalks, clean up, and turf establishment.

Some property owners have complained about water and ice build up on their new sidewalks. Lindberg said, the contractor is required to put the top of the sidewalk at the same level as the yard.

Business hears tech prep story

Representatives of business and industry in the Thief River Falls community heard basics of the tech prep program and their role in its success at a meeting Monday noon at the Best Western Inn.

Bev Arnston, coordinator of the program for School District 564, told the group that input and support was needed from business leaders to assure success of the program. She said that it is important for children to make decisions on what courses to take in high school as they relate to planned careers.

Tech prep will involve revising the curriculum to provide for applied courses, and that will require teachers working together to develop courses, Arnston said. It will also involve reaching out into the community for information and assistance.

"Tech prep is about linking solid academic preparation in high school to the world of work," she said, "helping students see that courses in math, communications and science have a relationship to career interests and employment potential.

"Tech prep is about changing social attitudes to keep up with changing social needs. Traditionally we have encouraged high school graduates to enter a four-year bachelor degree program. But the fact is that only 20 per cent of Minnesota graduating seniors ever complete the bachelor's degree program.

"Today, employment opportunities are shifting to technical careers," she said. "Thirty-four per cent of the job growth in the next 10 years will be in technical occupations. The future will need four-year degree graduates and advanced degree professionals, but we also need adaptable, well-trained, knowledgeable technical workers.

Funds requested for Good Lake project Phase II

Appropriation of $310,000 for the second phase of the Good Lake water control project on the Red Lake Indian reservation cleared committee in the Minnesota House of Representatives last Thursday, according to Rep. Wally Sparby of Thief River Falls.

Funds would come from state bonding and would represent half of the remaining state share required to complete Phase II and III of the project. Rep. Sparby said he is optimistic the funding will be made available by action of the full legislature.

The Good Lake project is being planned and administered by the Red Lake Watershed District and is well underway, according to Lowell Enerson, administrator for the watershed district. He said the project area is entirely within the Red Lake Reservation but will provide flood control benefits to approximately 4,000 acres of private land in eastern Pennington county as well as downstream areas all along the river. It will also benefit wildlife and provide water for rice operations on the reservation.

Total project cost is estimated at $1,880,000 and will create an impoundment area of 1,800 acres capable of storing 11,300 acre feet of water—equivalent to 2.9 inches of run-off from the 73 square mile drainage area.

Initial funding of $100,000 was expended in 1989 to get the project underway and Phase I work last year involved $500,000 to build three miles of dike, excavate an outlet ditch into the Red Lake river and create a road with the spoil from the ditch.

Phase II and Phase III work would involve another nine miles of dike, construction of an outlet structure on the outlet ditch, construction of an inlet ditch which would extend three miles north of highway 1, and related construction.

Enerson said the outlet structure would be on the southwest corner of the project about half a mile south of Good Lake itself and just north of the Red Lake river. It will likely be constructed this year if funding clears the full legislature as expected and is not vetoed by the governor.

Project cost remaining at this time is about $1.2 million, of which the state share is half.

Kezar wins state contest

Curl Kezar, a second year student in electronics at the Thief River Falls Technical college, won first place in the Electronic Product Servicing division of the state Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (VICA) competition Friday in Willmar.

Paul Hanson of Eden Prairie, a winter quarter graduate of the aviation mechanics program who took a number of electronics credits in addition to his A&P courses, finished third in the electronics technology division.

Kezar said the competition included a 40-question written test, a six-part practical test series and a comprehensive four-hour, 100-question exam which required use of a calculator to compute many of the answers.

The series of practical tests were 20 minutes per session and included four on trouble-shooting television problems, one on parts identification for a video recorder (VCR) and one on calculating power dissipation on a four-stage amplifier.

Curl is the son of Donald Kezar of Thief River Falls and a 1980 graduate of Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden. He was introduced to electronics during five years in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Carl Kezar, who will complete the two-year electronics program at the Thief River Falls Technical college this spring, won first place last Friday in the state VICA competition. He gained advancement to the national contest by winning in Electronic Product Servicing.

THE TIMES' WEDDING POLICY

THE TIMES' policy on wedding write-ups is as follows:

◆ If the wedding took place within one month from date of receipt at THE TIMES office, a detailed write up will be published from information provided, along with a picture if submitted.

◆ If the wedding took place from one to three months before receipt at THE TIMES office, there will be brief write up, including names of participants but no description of decor, gowns, flowers, etc.

◆ For a wedding that took place from three to six months before submission to THE TIMES, we will run a brief social announcement or a picture with a short caption stating names of the bride and groom, names and addresses of parents, date and place of the wedding, and where the couple is residing.

◆ There will be no publication of weddings after six months have elapsed.

◆ Every effort will be made to publish the wedding write up within two issues of receipt.

◆ Forms are available free of charge at THE TIMES office to help in organizing information about the wedding for publication. Nearly all information can be filled in on the forms prior to the wedding. To request forms by mail, send a self addressed stamped envelope to THE TIMES, P.O. Box 100, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

◆ Photographs may be picked up at THE TIMES office after the wedding write up has been published. Photographs will only be returned by mail if accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope.

She was preceded in death by her husband; one son, Daniel; two daughters: Lucy Knoll and Delores Mason; four grandchildren: Brenda Kay, Bruce and Brad Steiger and Kathy Mason; and four brothers: Henry, Edmund, Adolph and Joseph.

Dear Readers,
Grief does not end with the funeral. You may not believe that you will survive the pain. "Why does it still hurt so much?" The depth of sorrow diminished so very slowly. The down times will come again and again. It is a long process, sometimes taking years, but healing comes. It will come to you.
Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home
Larry Belmont

Donald L. Olson, 73

Thief River Falls — Donald L. Olson, 73, died March 21 at [illegible], ND.

[illegible] services will be held [illegible] at the [illegible] with Rev. David [illegible] officiating. Special music will be provided by [illegible]. Casketbearers will be Jim W[illegible], [illegible] Wallis, [illegible] Wurst, [illegible] Berth, Bill Kallis, John Michael Anderson and Clark Hendrickson. Interment will be in the Greenwood cemetery. The Belmont Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Visitation will be held Wednesday from 1 to 9 p.m. at the Belmont Funeral Home with a 7:30 p.m. family service.

Donald L. Olson was born Mar. 1, 1919 in Grand Forks, ND, the son of Harold J. and Ella (Burud) Olson. He lived in Grand Forks and in Larimore as a young child, later moving with his family to Thief River Falls, where he attended school and graduated from Lincoln high school in 1937. Following graduation, he moved to California where he worked for the Bank of America and for Lockheed Aircraft company. He was in the Finance Corps of the U.S. Army during World War II, serving in Germany and France. In 1945 he returned to Thief River Falls and, on Oct. 26, 1946, was united in marriage to Sylvia Borchert. He worked for the Pontiac agency in Thief River Falls and later started an accounting business. He was the accountant for radio station KTRF and, together with three other partners, purchased the station in 1952. He was the general manager of KTRF until his retirement in 1982. He was an avid sports fan and did color commentary and play-by-play from 1946 until 1982. He was recently inducted into the Minnesota High School Hockey Coaches Hall of Fame, and on Mar. 12, 1992, Don Olson Day was proclaimed by Gov. Arne Carlson.

He was a member of Trinity Lutheran church where he served as a trustee, taught Sunday school and worked on various other church committees. He was a member of the Elks club, Eagles club, Rotary International, VFW Post 2793 and American Legion Post #117. He was a past president of the Thief River Falls chamber of commerce. WIC & EPS Hold April Clinics

Women, infants and children supplemental nutritional educational program (WIC) is being held during the month of April.

Infants and children up to the age of five and women who are pregnant or breastfeeding may be eligible for the program. Prenatal nutrition is a vital part of producing a healthy baby. It is considered important to apply for WIC early in pregnancy; no proof of pregnancy is needed.

All potential clients must write to the EPS-WIC service and complete an application.

The schedule for WIC and EPS clinics for April includes April 6, 13, 15 and 16, all at the Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls.

Immunizations will be given April 15 from 9 to 9:30 a.m. only, at $3 per immunization.

For further information concerning the WIC and EPS programs, call or write: WIC/EPS, Quin County, Park Place Mall, Red Lake Falls, MN 56750 or telephone (218) 253-2125 or 1-800-223-1591 (toll free).

The WIC program must treat everyone the same. You can not be treated unfairly because of your race; color, national origin, age, sex or handicap. If you think you have been treated unfairly, you should write to: Administrator, Food and Nutrition Services, U.S. Department of Agriculture, 3101 Park Center Drive, Alexandria, VA 22302.

Speech team at Lincoln third in meet

Lincoln high school speech team placed third at the East Grand Forks Sacred Heart speech meet last Saturday, March 14, and will compete this Saturday in Fosston. Lincoln will also host a speech tournament Saturday, March 28.

Sub-Region 8AA speech contest will be conducted Saturday, April 4, in Bemidji with winners advancing to the regional contest in Brainerd on Monday, April 13. State contest will be held April 24 and 25 in Forest Lake, according to Connie Stock, speech team advisor.

At East Grand Forks Sacred Heart last Saturday Angie Hasnedl placed first in humor and Megan Browning first in novice humor. Lars Dyrud was third in original oratory and Ben Schmitz third in novice prose.

Ellie Ehrenstrom earned a fourth place in creative expression, Becky Gaffaney fourth in poetry, Kate Ihle fourth in novice prose and Joe Lafriniere, fourth in novice humor.

Sixth place was earned by Rachael Marshall in drama, Maja Turenne in prose, Samantha Olson in poetry, and Lisa Dicken (novice competing at varsity level) in storytelling.

Excellent ratings were received by Amber Peoples and Alecia Bernier in prose.

According to advisor Stock, the speech team has been actively participating in meets since February 22 when the novice team traveled to East Grand Forks. Since then both novice and varsity teams have competed in Bemidji February 29 and Park Rapids March 7. At Bemidji Angie Hasnedl placed second in humor and Megan Browning received an excellent rating in humor.

"Beach Party" for children set March 26

Law enforcement center receives variety of reports

Reports to the law enforcement center in Thief River Falls have been down in the past few weeks. During the past week the number of reports picked up slightly.

Thefts. On March 13 Black River Church in Black River township reported that a VCR had been missing from the church since the end of January. Theft loss was estimated at $400.

On March 18 Polk county authorities arrested Steven John Newark, Grand Forks, ND, for Pennington county on a warrant for issuance of a dishonored check, a gross misdemeanor.

On March 18 at 5:14 p.m. Roseau police received a report that $100 had been taken from a local apartment in Thief River Falls. The theft report was transferred to the Thief River Falls police department. Heidi Tangen, 22, Roseau, was cited for theft under $100.

On March 20 a local residents reported that $250 cash had been taken from his bedroom dresser. It is under investigation.

Vandalism. On March 16 at 2:41 p.m. Pennington county sheriff's department received a report from Pennington county highway department about a double arrow sign that had been destroyed. Damage loss was estimated at $78.

On March 22, Joseph Jagol, route 2 Goodridge, and Russell Hedeen, route 2, Oklee, reported that their mailboxes had been damaged. On March 18, Mrs. Howard Sletten, Rocksbury township, reported that her mailbox had been damaged.

On March 20 at 5:23 p.m. police responded to an alarm at the Center school. Officers discovered that an office door had been damaged. Damage loss was estimated at $125.

Accidents. On March 21 at 8:51 a.m. police received a report of a three-vehicle accident on East Eighth street. According to the accident report, Lesa Keogh, route 1, Waubun was going west on Eighth street when she suffered a seizure. Her vehicle struck the rear of a stationwagon driven by Glen Kajewski, Thief River Falls, twice. Keogh's vehicle then struck a parked car owned by Thomas Christensen, Thief River Falls, and then ran up into a yard and struck cement steps and a hedge owned by Kermit Malberg. Damages were estimated at $500 to the Kajewski vehicle, $1,200 to the Keogh vehicle and $1,500 to the Christensen vehicle. There was no damage report for the Malberg property. Kajewski complained of a stiff neck.

On March 20 at 9:08 p.m. the sheriff's department received a report of an accident at the Best Western. According to the report, a car driven by Heather Wolbeck, route 6, Thief River Falls, was going south on the service road by the Best Western, stopped at the entrance and then pulled away and struck a parked car owned by Henning James Erickson, route 5, Thief River Falls. Damages were estimated at $600 to the Wolbeck vehicle, and no damage to the Erickson vehicle. Wolbeck complained of a head injury and was token to the hospital where she was checked and released.

On March 21 at 1:05 p.m. police received a report of an accident in the Hugo's parking lot. A car driven by Orley Gunderson, Thief River Falls, was making a turn in the parking lot when he stopped. A bike ridden by Christine Shetler also traveling in the parking lot was unable to stop and struck the car causing about $350 damage. There was no damage to the bike. Shetler complained of a sore ankle.

Consumption under age. On March 22 at 12:41 police received a report of a loud party on East Greenwood. The following were cited for consumption under age: Todd Ratty, Napolean, ND, age 20; and Richard Dumas, Hoople, ND, age 20.

On March 22 at 1:03 a.m. police received a report of a loud party on North Arnold. The following were cited for consumption under age: Jamarr Louis, Bloomington, age 19; Patrick Hickey, Bloomington, age 20; and Christopher Anderson, White Bear, age 19.

Disorderly conduct. On March 22 at 8:30 p.m. police received a report of a disturbance at a residence on West 12th street. As a result of an investigation, Michael Souder, 27, Thief River Falls, was arrested for disorderly conduct.

Trespass. On March 23 at 1:26 a.m. police received a report of a person outside a local residence. The subject entered the entryway. Jarod Alby, Thief River Falls, was cited for trespass and consumption under age.

Assault. On March 21 at 9:57 a.m. police received a report of an assault. According to the report, Mitchum Johnson, 26, Thief River Falls, was cited for fifth degree assault for assaulting an 8-year-old boy and threatening him.

Sometimes, because of many factors, the boulevard is actually higher. This results in standing water on sidewalks. In the past, the water may have seeped through cracks in the sidewalks. Standing water may also be a result of tree roots pushing up other portions of sidewalks. Wherever possible, the city tries to save trees by going around them or by making some cuts in the tree according to instruction from the city forester.

The time it takes to clean up an area after improving the sidewalks is another common complaint. Lindberg said it has been the practice of some contractors to remove a sidewalk, proceed to another area, come back and set forms or pour concrete, move on to another area and then at the end of the project return to clean up the areas. Lindberg said he could tighten up the requirements, but this would probably result in higher costs to property owners.

Because of the way contractors complete projects, turf establishment may not take before winter sets in, Lindberg said. The problem can be remedied by requiring the use of sod or tightening up requirements. Both would result in a higher cost to the property owners.

Lindberg said the city is trying to provide property owners with a safe sidewalk at a low cost. As a result there will be a temporary inconvenience to property owners.

To ensure that the property owner has a sidewalk that will last several years, the city has set some standards for the concrete to be used for sidewalks. Those standards are currently more stringent than what is the norm. Lindberg also suggested that property owners fix any sewage problems they may have before the sidewalk is replaced so that the new sidewalk isn't cut by a need to repair the sewer.

Proposed sidewalk improvements consist of the following: State avenue from Fourth street to Sixth street; Arnold avenue from First street to Tenth street; Duluth avenue from Eighth street to Eleventh street; Knight avenue from Tenth street to Eleventh street; Second street from Arnold avenue to Duluth avenue; Fifth street from Arnold avenue to Duluth avenue; Sixth street from State avenue to Arnold avenue; Tenth street from Duluth avenue to Knight avenue; Red Lake boulevard from Third street to Sixth street; Dewey avenue from Fourth street to Eighth street; Reserve avenue from Seventh street to Eighth street; and Sixth street from Dewey avenue to Red Lake Blvd.

Most of the more than 20 property owners attending the public hearing Monday, were against some work on Red Lake boulevard, Sixth street and Dewey avenue.

Some complained that there is no need because children do not live in the area any more. Another complained that forcing people to cross one section of a street to another is unsafe, such as at Red Lake boulevard and Sixth street. Another stated that people have been walking on the street for years, and asked why put in the sidewalk. Another said people could walk on the mowed grass. Yet another said they couldn't afford the cost of the project.

The city council will take into consideration all of the comments and letters they received when they decide on what to keep in the project. Monday night, the council adjourned until Tuesday when they are expected to make a decision on the project. If the project proceeds as anticipated, bid openings will take place in May or June and the contractor might be able to begin work in the middle of June.

District gardeners to meet

How to use fewer chemicals and still have control of weeds and pests in the garden will be discussed by Janese Thatcher when the 13th District Horticultural society holds its annual spring workshop Saturday, March 28, at the Viking school.

Registration will begin at 11 a.m. and a catered luncheon at a cost of $3 will be served starting at 11:30 a.m. The country store for sale of plants will start at 12 noon and the program at 1 p.m. Business meeting will follow the program.

District gardening awards will be presented, followed by awarding of door prizes and serving of refreshments by the host Viking Town and Country and Argyle garden clubs.

A special feature of the day will be a display of banners made by the various clubs in the 13th District Horticultural society. The general public is invited to attend the day's activities.

Janese Thatcher is a plant pathologist whose main area of interest is in organic gardening and farming. She is an instructor in the aviation mechanics program at the Thief River Falls Technical college.

"As gardeners we care about our environment," stated district publicity chairman Beattie Mickelson, "and do not want to see the day of 'Silent Spring' as predicted in a popular book 20 to 30 years ago."

A former resident of the Viking area, he recently moved to Thief River Falls with his wife Vincinza, sons Kevin and Danny and daughter Tina. He is employed part-time by Digi-Key and in June, following his graduation from the electronics program, he will be employed with the City of Thief River Falls utilities department.

As winner of the state contest he is eligible to enter the national VICA competition which will be held June 22-27 at Louisville, KY, along with his instructor, Darryl Tveitbakk.

NW Senior Assembly meets here

Delegate assembly of the Northwest region of the Minnesota Senior Federation met Thursday, March 19, at the Heritage Community center in Thief River Falls.

Nominations were made for the annual convention to be held April 23. Nominated were Al Sollom, Thief River Falls, president; Marion Gusa, Middle River, first vice president; Arnold Skiple, Clearbrook, second vice president; Olga Engevik, Thief River Falls, treasurer; and Sam Honebrink, Thief River Falls, secretary.

Nominated as county vice presidents were James F. Dahlem, Roseau county; Olive Lunke, Pennington county; and Graydon Postier, Clearwater county. Other vice presidents will be nominated at the April 23 convention at the Heritage Community center.

Also at the meeting Virginia Hanson was introduced as community organizer and she reported on her visitation in the area. Report was given by Bruce Leier, field director, on the proposed health care reform bill, pointing out some of the things it doesn't do.

Jane Crocker of the Northwest Regional Development Commission reported on scams and rip-offs for seniors to be aware of and avoid.

Susan Jacobs reported on the ombudsman program, saying that a great need exists for the program. A resolutions committee was also appointed to prepare resolutions for the April convention.

Volunteers assisting with the Thief River Falls area food shelf in the basement of the Falls Mall were swamped with donated items Saturday morning when Boy Scout and Cub Scout units from Thief River Falls, Newfolden, Holt and Viking held their annual food collection. Bags containing donated items were collected from area homes and carried down to the food shelf where they filled the room and extended well into the hallway. More than two tons of food and nearly $350 in cash donations were collected in the Saturday morning project.

Beth Johnson

On St. Patrick's Day last week, our family bade farewell to one of our family members. Playee, our cat, had been a member of our family since December of 1974. She was dropped off by some thoughtless person. We found her in the church we served in Youngstown, Ohio, during the church's annual Santa Lucia Day celebration. We brought her home, and there she decided to stay.

Our cat, pitch black as she was, looked more like a Halloween black cat than a saintly being, even though her beginning and ending days in our family fell on the holidays of ancient saints.

Playee was one of those cats you had to know to love—or even appreciate. She spent most of her life pretending we did not exist. Every once in awhile, when we least expected it, she would hop up on a lap to be petted. She would purr, but if you dared to let her see the hand that petted her, she would attempt to bite you even as she continued purring!!

Playee did not exist as far as most of our friends and acquaintances knew. She played the disappearing act under a bed, or in a corner, or under a table when company arrived at our house. In her younger days, she sometimes greeted visitors at the door—but that was a few years ago. Now, the only persons she would came to greet were those who were confessed cat dislikers!!

Playee was finicky about her food, as is typical of many cats. In fact, the only times during the day when she would make her presence known to us were morning and evening at meal time. If we did not want a crabby cat yowling at us we dared not feed her anything except her routine soft food in the morning and semi-soft at night. If we dared alternate her food between morning and evening specialities, she would disdainfully look at the food and then proceed to be starved until we gave her the proper food for the time of day.

Playee was a house cat who lived in all of the houses we lived in except the first home we lived in. To protect the woodwork in the houses and to protect our furniture as well, we had her front claws removed many years ago. Now, I've heard many people say that that is a way of preventing a cat from being able to defend itself, or to catch mice—but, I guess Playee was different. She definitely earned her keep in our home in which we lived in Michigan which happened to be in the country and happened to be blessed with a fair share of mice. I did not know the quantity of mice she rid our home of until we had moved from there. But, my family tells me that Playee very nicely kept our house mouse free—leaving for evidence nothing except the tails of her victims!

Playee has existed quite well with the dogs our family has had through the years. Our current dog and she had an understanding about life together. They each decided that the other had to be feared. But both knew that the other would not harm her, so each in her own way would try to get away with about as much as the other would allow. But, put either one of them on the stairs and the other would be totally intimidated to pass the one who had been first on the stairs.

Playee, being all black, was able to tolerate the different climates we have lived in to varying degrees. The heat in Kansas found her outdoors a great deal keeping cool under some plant in my garden. The cold here in Minnesota kept her in one house exactly under the only heating vent the basement had, with her back along the furnace. In our current home, the radiators with their lovely warm heat kept her aging body nice and cozy day and night.

This column is only able to give you a glimpse of the cat our family fed and watered and nurtured and put up with and ultimately loved for 16 years. A bit of all of us died with her this week. But, in each of us a bit of her lives on in our memories. We were in the end, privileged to be partners in the life of Playee.

Local business hears tech prep story Monday

Tech prep provides encouragement and solid preparation for two-year post-secondary instruction in technical careers."

Amston said tech prep is also about how students learn. Approximately one-half of the general population learns best if the course of study is applied to the "real world" through laboratory, project or community experiences. "The 'real world' of technical employment is everywhere in our community and is a vital resource in helping students apply their learning," she said.

Participating in the program were David Strong and David Beito, who recently attended a meeting on tech prep in Dallas, TX, and Ila Flesche, a teacher in medical careers at the Northwest Vocational Center.

Mrs. Flesche outlined the medical careers program which involved three of her students last year at Northwest Medical Center. During the summer the students were employed by the medical center at $5 per hour, 40 hours per week for 12 weeks. They learned about the career they were considering through the program as well as providing meaningful work for the hospital. This is the type of work experience that the community can provide to assist the tech prep program.

Strong said that the conference attended in Dallas had been planned for about 800 people and 1,800 attended, indicating a growing nationwide interest in technical preparation. He said several other states have taken the lead in the program and that Thief River Falls' tech prep effort is one of seven programs in the state of Minnesota.

He quoted from Anthony Patrick Carnevale in America and the New Economy" to answer the question of why some students are not learning.

"American schooling sequesters students from the real world, breaks knowledge down artificially into theoretical disciplines, breaks disciplines down into component pieces and demands that students commit fragments of knowledge to memory," he said. "Applications are reserved for pen and paper exercises at the back of the chapter. Interdisciplinary applications are rare and applications in the context of working groups are even more rare."

Strong emphasized that technician programs do not have to be "second-rate" alternatives and that there are well-paying jobs and rewarding careers in technical areas of engineering, business, information management, health and certain human service areas.

"Most community and technical college programs dedicated to training technicians do not currently teach advanced skills because the students they receive are generally deficient in the basic academic skills of math, science and English. You just can't teach advanced skills in most technical fields without the basics," Strong said.

He added that reports from America's employers indicate that educators have failed to reform public education. Workers are needed who have advanced technical skills, who have mastered the basic academics and know how to apply them to solve problems.

"On average, if you have at least two children, one will not be involved seriously in a high school college-prep program," Strong said. "The current educational offerings usually don't do much for those children who are not headed 'full steam ahead' toward a four-year college program. So they are allowed to 'finish school' without a plan and with minimal requirements in academic subjects.

"It's no wonder we don't want our own children in this so-called 'general track.' It leads nowhere. I would suggest that kids in general track programs who drop out of school before graduation may not have lost very much."

David Beito added that one of the goals of tech prep is to strengthen skills in math and science, and that reaching such a goal will require a lot of work for the people involved in planning and teaching.

But the key to the success of the program is that the teaching will be in applied physics, applied communication, applied math and applied biology and chemistry. And a prerequisite is that the courses must be "do-able" by non-college students.

He explained that under the tech prep program students would be expected by ninth grade to select and enter a structured or prescribed program of study in either college prep or tech prep. This does not mean that students are "tracked," because they can switch from one to the other—up through the 11th grade—without losing significant credit toward high school graduation. Either choice means they are heading toward a realistic goal, not just wandering through school.

Upon completion of the four-year high school, students in a tech prep program have three educational choices:

(1) Continue their education in community or technical colleges (full or part-time) to sharpen both their head skills and hand skills:

(2) Enter full-time employment in their chosen fields, with the option to continue their education at a later time or part-time; or

(3) Change their minds and elect to enter baccalaureate programs at colleges or universities.

Beito said that tech prep programs can be the greatest reform for public education in three decades and business can help.

Approximately 75 farmers attended the morning session on grain marketing conducted by Mark Skogerboe of Benson-Quinn company in Grand Forks, ND, during Ag Day Monday at the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls. Sponsored by the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce and the University of Minnesota extension service as part of the March Ag Month observance, Ag Day included about 15 exhibits and afternoon mini-sessions on seed selection, nitrogen management and tax management tips. A $1 dinner at noon was served to nearly 200 people.

Retiring UND president to be honored

University of North Dakota alumni and friends from the Thief River Falls area are invited to attend a "Thank-you, Tom!" dinner Tuesday, March 31, at the Best Western inn to recognize Thomas J. Clifford who will retire in June as president of UND.

Social hour will begin at 6 p.m. with the dinner to be served at 7 p.m. Tickets are $9 each and reservations can be made by contacting local arrangements coordinators Dennis and Snooky Bondy, 1801 Robin Hood Drive, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or calling 681-6527.

Clifford has been involved with UND for almost 50 years as a student, faculty member and administrators. He received an accounting degree in 1942 and a law degree in 1948, both from UND, and a master's degree in business administration from Stanford University.

He joined the business law and accounting department faculty in 1945, was appointed an associate professor in 1948 and full professor in 1949. At age 29 he was appointed Dean of the College of Business and Public Administration, making him UND's youngest dean. He became president on July 1, 1971.

More than half of the students ever to attend UND did so after Clifford became the university's president. He has a reputation for sharing a special relationship with UND students and a high priority for their concerns.

Speaking Of . . .

by Sharon LaCoursiere

. . . Chain Letters

I got a chain letter the other day. It's been a long time since I've gotten one. I used to get a lot of them. I think I was on everybody's chain letter hit list at one time.

Maybe the raise in postage rates cut down on chain letters, or maybe all my friends realized I was the "weak link" in their chain and quit sending them to me, but I haven't received any for years.

Back in the olden days, I remember getting chain letters about money. Yup. "Send a dollar to the name at the top of the list, send the letter on to six friends, and in a few weeks you will receive $10,000 or more!"

I think those letters were illegal, because they stopped as abruptly as they had started. I never did decide whether or not I should send that dollar to the name at the top of the list, so I didn't, and I just couldn't see burdening any of my overworked friends with such a letter, either. None of us had an extra dollar back then, anyway.

Somebody else must have had trouble raising a dollar, too, because I remember getting a chain letter that told me to send a quarter to the name at the top of the list. I really should have responded to that one, just because it would have been an interesting experience to take 10,000 quarters to the bank, had I been so lucky as to get them.

I got many chain letters about good luck and bad luck. The bad luck letters were just plain nasty, I thought, and usually even the good luck chain letters included some warning, such as, "John Brown scoffed at this Good Luck Letter did not mail copies off to six of his friends. Two days after the deadline, John Brown did not have good luck—his house collapsed and he was in it (or, he fell of a bridge) (or, he lost his job) (or, he was run over by a cattle truck and broke all of his bones)!!!!!"

Like John Brown, I took a chance and didn't bother to mail those (so-called) Good Luck Letters to my friends. Something about them made me really mad! Unlike poor John Brown, I am still around. Good Luck Letters or not, and so far my house has not collapsed, I haven't fallen off a bridge, I haven't lost my job, I haven't been run over by a cattle truck that ran amok and my bones are, more or less, intact.

By the way, if you are the person at the top of the list in the chain letter I received that asked for prayers, I did. I did not, however, send the letter on to my friends.

I received several chain letters about recipes, "Copy your favorite recipe and send to the name at the top of the list, then send this letter on to four (or five, or six) of your friends and in a few weeks receive 10,000 favorite recipes!"

I could always use recipes. I would send my recipes off, send the letter to my friends, and sit back and wait for my 10,000 recipes to arrive.

I remember one chain letter about children's books. At that time I had several little people in the house, and decided to give it a try. I faithfully sent my little book off to the name at the top of the list, copied off the letter and sent it to five or six of my friends with children, and sat back and waited for my books to arrive.

I'm glad I didn't hold my breath while I waited for my recipes and books to arrive. I would have died, then the Good Luck/Bad Luck Letters would have been able to use my name.

I sat home and waited, and can you believe it—I never received one recipe or one book. I still wonder what happened to all my recipes and books. They must have gotten lost in the mail!

Also, about that same time, a lot of my friends quit speaking to me. I figured it may have had something to do with all of those chain letters I was sending them, so I swore off chain letters.

I've done really well. I pop them right into the garbage now, without hesitation. I've managed to build up my supply of friends again, too.

But the letter I received on Friday was something new. It says I can receive 30 dish towels if I send one to the person at the top of the list and then send my letter off to six of my friends. I really need dish towels. Besides, I know I have at least six friends again now.

It surely wouldn't hurt to buy one dish towel and send it off to the person at the top of the list, would it...

With the word processor, it will be a simple matter to print off six letters...

Postage is only 29 cents...

Forty dish towels, just think, one for every day of the month and ten more besides...

Gretchen Beito returns from leader seminar

Gretchen Beito of Thief River Falls returned March 11 from Washington, D.C., where she participated with over 300 other citizen leaders from 30 states at the National Land-Grant University Lay Leaders Seminar.

Delegates to the seminar represent community leadership from throughout the nation. They bring knowledge about problems facing citizens which the Land-Grant system must address. During the 1992 seminar, delegates participated in 18 "town meetings" to contribute their perspectives on concerns and problems they would like to see become part of Land-Grant priorities for the 90's.

Several issues were addressed at the annual leadership development event including creating a future for our youth, the future of farming, land use, waste management, economic outlook and educational concerns at the local and state levels.

Three major speakers addressed the group of leaders including: Dr. John Lombardi, President, University of Florida; Dr. Durward Bateman, Dean of Agriculture, North Carolina State University; and Dr. Patrick J. Borich, director, Minnesota Extension Service.

University of Minnesota had 12 citizen leaders participating in this year's seminar, held at the National 4-H center in Chevy Chase, MD.

The National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges represents 150 state universities across the United States involved with research, teaching, extension and public service.

Local man faces sex crime charges in TRF

Police have arrested and charged a 25-year-old local man with two counts of criminal sexual conduct in the second degree.

According to a police spokesperson Thursday, Russell Zielke, 25, Thief River Falls was arrested on Wednesday and charged with two counts of criminal sexual conduct in the second degree. According to the report, charges against Zielke stem from alleged incidents of criminal sexual conduct with a 10-year-old female, once during the Spring of 1991 and once during the Fall of 1991.

Zielke was able to make bond of $1,500, which was set during the hearing.

Goodridge at regional fair

Several students from the Goodridge school competed at the regional science fair recently at Bemidji State university, according to Patty Johnson, science instructor at the school.

Receiving blue ribbons were eighth grader John Gallagher, son of John and Esther Gallagher; seventh grader Jennifer Vad, daughter of Lynn and Laurie Vad; seventh grader Danelle Hyland, daughter of Aldon and Trudy Hyland; and seventh grader Christy Nelson, daughter of Lee and Donna Nelson.

Receiving a red ribbon was seventh grader Carl Dahlen, son of Bob and Sheila Dahlen.

Most of the students were also winners in the school science fair held last week. There were 50 entries in the school science fair from fifth through ninth grades with judging done by Terry Wiseth of Thief River Falls and Don Fox of Plummer.

Burglary at Plummer locker plant

Red Lake county sheriff's department received a report of a burglary at the Plummer Locker plant Saturday.

Sometime Friday night, March 20, or early Saturday morning, someone broke in through the back door of the Plummer Locker Plant. According to a dispatcher for the Red Lake County sheriff's department entry was gained by breaking the padlock on the back door. An amount of money was taken, but the amount has not been released.

Red Lake County Sheriff's department is continuing its investigation into the incident.

Borlaug will speak at UMC

Norman Borlaug, whose high-yield wheat varieties are credited with saving millions from starvation and earned him the 1970 Nobel Peace Prize, will be in Crookston Wednesday, March 25.

He will speak to assemblies at Central high school at 9 a.m. and Kiehle auditorium at UMC at 10 a.m. The public is invited to either or both addresses and there is no charge.

Borlaug will speak to students on world population and hunger issues and the need for students with science backgrounds to pursue agricultural careers.

Born March 25, 1914, Borlaug earned a bachelor's degree in forestry and master's and doctorate degrees in plant pathology. His Nobel Prize was for developing wheat varieties that produced eight to nine bushels where only one had been produced before.

American Legion Ecklund-Holmstrom Post No. 117 in Thief River Falls donated $850 to Lincoln high school students traveling to Germany this summer. Joe Forberg, post commander, presented the donation to Brad Cote, one of the nine students participating in the two week trip.

Joel Johnson, son of Rev. Mark and Beth Johnson and a senior at Lincoln high school, earned a second place finish in the regional Citizen Bee contest in Bemidji and will advance to state Citizen Bee competition May 1 in St. Paul. Charlie Cornell is the advisor for the Citizen Bee program at Lincoln high school.

INSURANCE Update

by Dave
Nelson

When considering the purchase of homeowner's insurance think in terms of the home's replacement value in the event of a total loss. The rebuilding cost, not the home's market value, is the key to purchasing the right amount of coverage. Because a home's market value takes into account the land, foundation and market conditions, it does not accurately represent the amount it would take to reconstruct a home. To determine replacement cost, a homeowner may want to get a quote on square foot replacement costs from your insurance representative. Most insurance companies will require that your home be insured to a minimum of 80% of its rebuilding cost.

NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is available to discuss your insurance requirements. We will do our best to provide you with the most comprehensive coverage possible. Our office is conveniently located in the Northern State Bank Building. To reach us call 681-4042. Office hours are 8:30-5 Monday - Friday, 8:30-6 Thursday.

Note: Replacement cost coverage on contents is not automatically included on every homeowner's policy. The coverage can be added by endorsement, however.

Dick Anthony

First Baptist to sponsor sacred concert

First Baptist church in Thief River Falls will sponsor a sacred concert by Dick Anthony Sunday, March 29, at 11 a.m. in the church.

Arranger and producer of the Sixteen Singing Men and the Melody Four quartet, Anthony will present a concert including vocal solos self-accompanied on the piano, vocals with symphonic background on tape, organ solos and verbal sharing of personal spiritual experiences.

Anthony has been musical director for Word of Life, WMBI radio, Day of Discovery, Radio Bible Class and others. He joined Northwestern college in St. Paul and its radio ministry in 1985, co-hosts a Saturday program called "Keep Praising" and is director of Rhapsody in Praise, Northwestern's annual touring group of singers with orchestra.

The public is invited to the Sunday morning concert. There is no charge but a free-will offering will be received, according to Rev. Carroll Erickson, pastor.

Gospel Singalong at Fosston Friday

Monthly Gospel Singalong at the Embassy Community center in Fosston will take place Friday, March 27, at 7:30 p.m. Special guests will be The Gospel Strings and all persons who play musical instruments are invited to participate in accompaniment for the singalong portion of the program.

Correction:

The "Owl and the Pussycat" will be performed at Lincoln high school as stated in a recent article. The play will not be at Northland community college as stated in the headline.

Catch and release idea on Lake of the Woods promoted

Lake of the Woods Area Catch and Release Program committee has announced the kick-off of a three-year, $25,000 voluntary catch and release fishing program for Lake of the Woods and Rainy River.

Catch and Release Committee was formed in 1991 in an effort to continue and to coordinate a program initiated by the Lake of the Woods Area Chamber of Commerce headquartered in Baudette. Through the support of area organizations and a $7,225 matching grant to be awarded by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources' Core Project, the group hopes to make the public more aware of the importance of returning some of their catch back to the lake or river.

According to recent DNR creel census findings, fish stocks on Lake of the Woods and Rainy River show both waters to be in a healthy condition. The group's main emphasis is to promote the idea of voluntary catch and release to maintain the quality of fishing for generations to come. A special effort will be made to recognize anglers who release part of their catch. Distribution of catch and release rulers will enable the angler to easily participate.

Education of correct releasing methods through seminars, billboards and other programs will be presented. A yearly "take a kid fishing day" will complete the ambitious project.

Through the cooperation of area residents, organizations and individual anglers, project officials will host a dinner/workshop April 11 at the Baudette American Legion. For dinner/workshop reservations and additional program information, call 1-800-382-FISH.

Annual Skater Appreciation

Fifth annual Skater Appreciation Day will be held at the Old Arena on Monday, March 30.

Skating sessions for boys and girls will be free at the Old Arena during the Fifth Annual Skater Appreciation Day. Free Skating sessions include the following: 3:45 to 4:45 for students in grades 0-5; 5 to 6 p.m. for grades 6-12; and for everyone from 6:15 to 7 p.m. There will be lots of food and door prizes during Skater Appreciation Day Monday, March 30.

New Canadian fishing restrictions approved

Anglers returning from Canadian fishing vacations would be required to transport their catch whole if a change in regulations proposed by Northern Minnesota resort owners is approved.

Currently, state regulations allow anglers to fillet fish, leaving a one-inch patch of skin for identification. The change would require that cleaned fish be left intact for inspection.

The Department of Natural Resources (DNR) will hold three public meetings – Wednesday, March 25, at Rainy River Community College in International Falls; Thursday, March 26, at the city hall in Warroad; and Wednesday, April 1, at the Kelly Inn State Capitol Best Western, I-94 and Marion Street in St. Paul. All three meetings will be held from 7 to 9 p.m.

"We have a group of extremely concerned constituents who have asked us to consider this new regulation," Sando said. "I am taking their request seriously. However, I recognize that this could have a serious impact on other Minnesotans. I need to get additional input from other business owners, anglers and other constituents."

If approved, the new regulation would be in effect at the start of this year's walleye/northern pike fishing season, which is May 9.

Archery club sponsors event this weekend

Thief River Falls Archery Club will sponsor a tournament in Thief River Falls this weekend.

The archery club is taking on a new challenge with this tournament. It is introducing "Archers Against Hunger", a tournament where the proceeds go to the Area Food Shelf, located in Thief River Falls.

The tournament will be held above the Old Arena on Saturday and Sunday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Ribbons will be awarded in all classes, divisions and styles. The entry fee is $5 per person per event.

They will be shooting a standard NFAA indoor 360 round from 20 yards. Registrations will be accepted on the day of the event.

Spectators are encouraged to watch this first time event. For more information contact Dana Klos at 681-7592.

Deer Hunters meet Thursday

Thief River Falls Chapter Minnesota Deer Hunters Association will have their monthly meeting Thursday, March 26 at 7 p.m. in the basement of the Eagles Club.

Guest speaker Bruce Pierce, DVM, will discuss Lyme Disease. Everyone welcome.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I guess it's about time I write another letter. We, the people from Thief River Falls, are going through another National Hockey League season without coverage from the Times on Tim Bergland, the hardest-working person to ever come from this town.

The playoff season is now coming upon us and I cannot believe there is still no coverage. Tim has a chance to win a Stanley Cup. For you guys in the sports department, that's the championship trophy. I can just imagine if they won the cup, you guys at the Times would try and jump on the bandwagon. Well, I hope you guys fall off.

Your sports department, I feel, is an embarrassment to our community. Sure, you have some good articles, but you should just put it into perspective. Tim is playing professional hockey on a third place team overall. I truly believe the media could truly help give Tim the credit he deserves. It's really funny you people don't know that. If you people would put half as much effort as you do putting someone's name in the paper for a petty misdemeanor, we would have a heck of a role model to look up to.

The last time I wrote a letter about Tim, there was a little tidbit in the sports section. What a coincidence. I imagine you'll do that again this time.

Before I go, let me tell you a couple things about my idol, Tim. Tim has played about one out of four games this year for the Washington Capitals. It's been hard to crack the line up due to the lack of injuries.

The Capitals recently held a team shoot-out for accuracy. Tim was the overall champion. I believe he won a Jet-Ski watercraft and trailer. I think that's pretty impressive. Overall, I'm just trying to say, we demand more coverage on Tim.

Sincerely,
Jeff Saxbaug

To the Editor:

On behalf of the Roseau High School, I would like to thank the Thief River school district and the entire community of Thief River Falls for its tremendous show of hospitality at the Section 8 hockey tournament. I would like to commend the tournament organizers for the marvelous job of organizing and making the tournament run so smoothly.

For three days I watched the organizers run a first class tournament. They remained cool under pressure and remained personable the whole time. In conclusion, I would also like you to convey a thank you to all those others involved for a positive and rewarding experience for our team, coaches, cheerleaders, and parents.

Sincerely,
Terry Gotziaman

Wrestling program to begin

Wrestling for students in grades 1 through 6 will begin Thursday, March 26.

Students in grades 1 through 6 are invited to participate in elementary wrestling, which will be held at Washington Elementary school in Thief River Falls. At the first practice, which will be held from 4:30 to 5:30 p.m. on Thursday, students will be given the schedule for the remaining practices. Other than the first practice, all of the practices will begin at 3:30 p.m.

The program is open to all students in grades one through six and there is no fee for the program. John Anderson will be the coach. The program is sponsored by the St. Hilaire Lion's club.

DNR News

Metallic Minerals Leases

A sale of state metallic minerals leases, to be conducted April 16, has been announced by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources Minerals Division.

The sale will be conducted beginning at 11 a.m. in the Fourth Floor Conference Room of the DNR Headquarters, 500 Lafayette Road in St. Paul.

The leases are for land located in portions of Aitkin, Beltrami, Itasca, Koochiching, Lake of the Woods, Morrison, St. Louis and Todd counties.

Leases are to prospect for, mine and remove metallic minerals in trust fund lands, lands and minerals forfeited for non-payment of taxes, lands and minerals otherwise acquired and other state-owned land under the jurisdiction of the DNR commissioner.

Each application and bid, together with a $100 certified check, cashier's check or bank money order payable to the State Treasurer, must be submitted in a bid envelope obtained from the DNR commissioner before 4:30 p.m. April 15, 1992.

Additional information can be obtained by contacting William Brice, Division of Minerals, Minnesota Department of Natural Resources, Box 45, DNR Building, 500 Lafayette Road, St. Paul, MN 55155-4045.

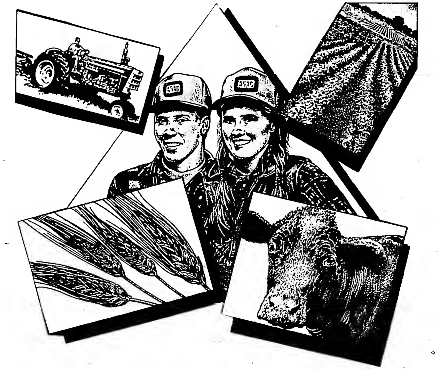
THANKS...

WE'D LIKE TO SAY THANK YOU TO ALL THE MEN AND WOMEN IN THE AGRICULTURE FIELD NOT ONLY DURING AGRICULTURE MONTH BUT EVERY DAY OF THE YEAR! YOU PROVIDE FOR NOT ONLY OUR NATION BUT FOR ALL THE OTHER NATIONS OF THE WORLD.

THANKS FOR A JOB WELL DONE!



"Whoever makes two ears of corn, or two blades of grass to grow where only one grew before, deserves better of mankind, and does more essential service to his country than the whole race of politicians put together." — Jonathan Swift

AG facts

Agriculture and the Food and Fiber System

- ■ Represents 16% of our nation's GNP.
- ■ Provides one out of every six jobs.
- ■ Generates are estimated 21 million jobs, about 17% of the entire U.S. work force, with almost 90% of these jobs off the farm.

Our Food and Fiber System is a Production Miracle

- ■ One American farmer/rancher provides 128 people; 94 in the U.S. and 34 abroad.
- ■ The percent of income spent on food:

USA	France	Japan	USSR
10%	16%	18%	28%
Thailand	Mexico	China	India
29%	32%	48%	53%

- ■ The U.S. agricultural labor force (including forestry, hunting and fishing), represents .3% of the world's agricultural labor force, yet it produces 11% of the world's food grains, 16% of the world's feed grains, 25% of the world's beef, and 11% of the world's pork.

U.S. Agricultural Exports

- ■ The U.S. is the world's largest exporter of agricultural products.
- ■ In 1990 the U.S. exported $40.2 billion dollars worth of farm products, cutting our deficit in non-farm trade by about 17%.
- ■ Every dollar in agricultural exports generates another $1.59 in economic activities, such as transportation, financing, warehousing and production.
- ■ Who buys the most U.S. ag products? In 1990 the top 10 markets were: Japan, the European Community, Canada, Mexico, South Korea, the USSR, Taiwan, Egypt, Hong Kong, and Saudi Arabia.
- ■ Less than 1% of the U.S. farmland is foreign-owned and most of that is timberland.

Life on the Farm

- ■ Less than 2% of the U.S. population lives on farms today; in 1920 it was 30%, and when the Constitution was signed it was 90%.
- ■ Like other independent business, many U.S. farms are incorporated, but most — almost 87% — are family-held.
- ■ The average farm is 463 acres, with assets of $373,700 and debt of about $70,500.
- ■ 53.9% of U.S. farmers work second jobs off the farm.
- ■ The median age of the rural population is 33.6 years, a little higher than that of the U.S. population as a whole, which is 32.6.

Environment and Food Safety

- ■ 31 different laws authorize 12 federal agencies to spend an estimated $1.4 billion annually to support food and agricultural safety and quality inspection.
- ■ It is estimated the private sector combined with state and local governments spend an additional $7 billion on similar activities.
- ■ The Department of Agriculture's Food Safety and Inspection Service examined over 125 million meat animals (lamb, pork, and beef) and 6.3 billion birds (poultry) in 1990.
- ■ More than 2 million land users have signed up with local conservation districts to apply conservation measures on their farms and ranches.
- ■ Approximately 33.9 million acres of farmland are in the Conservation Reserve Program designed to protect highly erodible land.
- ■ The quality, quantity and variety of foods we enjoy today are important factors in improving the quality of life in the U.S. Since 1900, the average life span of a child born in the U.S. has increased from 47.3 years to 74.7 years.
- ■ To develop a new crop protection chemical, researchers need between five and ten years and close to $50 million — most of which is spent on testing for safety.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN: That default has occurred in the conditions of that certain mortgage dated February 4, 1991 executed by JEREOLD M. KAPPES, a single person, as mortgagors, to NORWEST MORTGAGE, INC., mortgagee, filed for record in the office of the County Recorder in and for the County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, on February 5, 1991, recorded in Pennington County Records as Document No. 134179; thereafter a Corrective Mortgage was filed for record and recorded in the office of the County Recorder in and for the County of Pennington, and State of Minnesota, on February 20, 1991, as Document No. 134239; which mortgage was thereafter assigned by said mortgagee to MINNESOTA HOUSING FINANCE AGENCY by Assignment dated February 4, 1991 and filed for record and recorded in the office of the County Recorder in and for the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota on February 22, 1991, as Document No. 134252; the original principal amount secured by said mortgage being Twenty-three Thousand Two Hundred Fifty-one and No/100 ($23,251.00) Dollars; that no action or proceeding has been instituted at law to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof; that there is due and claimed to be due upon said mortgage, including interest to date hereof, the sum of Twenty-four Thousand Six Hundred Ninety-eight and 27/100 ($24,698.27) Dollars; that all conditions precedent to the acceleration of the indebtedness have been complied with; and that pursuant to the power of sale therein contained, said mortgage will be foreclosed and the tract of land lying and being in the County of Pennington, State of Minnesota, described as follows, to-wit:

Lot Five (5), Block Ten (10), Oakland Addition to Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota according to the official plat thereof on record will be sold by the sheriff of said county at public auction on May 5, 1992, at 10:00 o'clock A.M., at the main lobby of the Pennington County Sheriff, Pennington County Law Enforcement Center, in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county and state, to pay the debt then secured by said mortgage and taxes, if any, on said premises, and the costs and disbursements allowed by law. The time allowed by law for redemption by the mortgagors, his personal representatives or assigns is six (6) months from the date of said sale.

"THE TIME ALLOWED BY LAW FOR REDEMPTION BY THE MORTGAGOR, THE MORTGAGOR'S PERSONAL REPRESENTATIVES OR ASSIGNS, MAY BE REDUCED TO FIVE WEEKS IF A JUDICIAL ORDER IS ENTERED UNDER MINNESOTA STATUTES SECTION 582.032 DETERMINING, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THAT THE MORTGAGED PREMISES ARE IMPROVED WITH A RESIDENTIAL DWELLING OF LESS THAN 5 UNITS, ARE NOT PROPERTY USED FOR AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION, AND ARE ABANDONED."

Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701
NOTICE OF ROAD RESTRICTIONS FOR 1992

The effective date of road restrictions on all Pennington County roads will be concurrent with the placements of restrictions on state trunk highways in the area.

Restriction limits are based on gross axle weight which includes the weight of the vehicle and the load it is carrying.

The erection of signs on any highway governs the effective date of the restriction. As long as signs remain in place, restrictions are in effect.

No permits for overweight axle loads exceeding legal or posted axle weights will be issued.

During the period when signs are in place or road restrictions are in effect any county or township road is restricted to (5) tons gross weight per axle except as otherwise signed. If no signs are erected, the (5) ton gross weight provisions shall apply.

All rural bituminous Pennington County State Aid Highways will be posted at (7) tons gross weight per axle except as noted below.

Exceptions posted at (10) tons gross weight per axle are as follows:
CSAH #17 from CSAH #3 to 1st Street in Thief River Falls
CSAH #3 from T.H. #32 to T.H. #59
Exceptions posted at (9) tons gross weight per axle are as follows:

NOTICE

Pursuant to Internal Revenue Code, notice is hereby given that the Annual Report of the Thief River Falls Foundation for the taxable year ended November 30, 1991 is available for inspection during regular business hours by any citizen who requests the inspection within 3 years of the date of publication of this notice. The report is available at the Thief River Falls Foundations office at 216 Crocker Ave. N., located at Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701. The treasurer of the Foundation is Mr. Ronald L. Hanson.

March 24, 1992
School District #561
Goodridge, Minnesota

The following minutes are not official until approved by the Board at the next regularly scheduled meeting.

Proceedings: Special meeting, March 11, 1992, 8:30 p.m.

Members present: Larry Vigen, Marlin Kotrba, Aldon Hyland, Norma Hanson, Joe Philipp, John Gallagher.

Members Absent: None

Also Present: Superintendent Holtert, Principal Henrickson.

The meeting was called to order at 8:45 p.m. by Chairman Vigen. Hanson moved, Hyland seconded, to approve the March 11, 1992, special meeting agenda and waive regular meeting agenda items. Motion carried.

The Board discussed District goals and objectives for the superintendent to pursue. The consensus of the Board was to direct the superintendent to: First, work on plans to keep the District intact with present programs as long as possible, and secondly to formulate alternative plans for Board review and action for cooperation and combination with other districts where necessary based on the State Department of Education study.

Vigen and Hyland volunteered to meet in committee on March 12, 1992, with the State Department of Education program and facilities study representatives and Goodridge administration as well as representatives of the Grygla District.

The Board expressed the need for the public to be informed of the results from the State Department of Education program and facilities study as soon as it is completed.

Meeting adjourned at 10:40 p.m.

Proceedings: Regular meeting, March 17, 1992 3:00 p.m.

Members present: Larry Vigen, Marlin Kotrba, Aldon Hyland, Norma Hanson, Joe Philipp, John Gallagher.

Members Absent: None

Also Present: Superintendent Holtert, Principal Henrickson.

The meeting was called to order at 3:00 p.m. by Chairman Vigen. Pledge of Allegiance was given.

Hanson moved, Kotrba seconded, to approve the March meeting agenda. Motion carried.

Hanson moved, Hyland seconded, to approve the minutes of the February 18, 1992, regular meeting. Motion carried.

Hanson moved, Hyland seconded, to approve the minutes of the March 11, 1992, special meeting. Motion carried.

The Board discussed concerns over the amount of money being spent on staff development workshops and substitute costs throughout the year. It was recommended that the faculty establish staff development program priorities.

The Board discussed the outcome-based education program. The consensus of the Board was to direct the administration to contact the northwest E.C.S.U. to reduce the number of faculty participants in the O.B.E. program from 6 to 3.

Kotrba and Philipp presented the audit of monthly bills. Kotrba moved, Philipp seconded, to approve for payment the February handpayables $51,362.91, the February extra payroll $7,033.88 and March computer checks $24,598.46 for a total of $82,995.25. Motion carried. (see report #3.11-#3.13 attached to the official board minutes.)

Superintendent Holtert gave the District budget report, cash flow and investment reports. The District showed an investment of $108,990 as of February 29, 1992. (see report #3.21-#3.23 attached to the official board minutes.)

No patron concerns, student council, G.E.A. or support staff reports were given.

The master schedule of classes and student registration for 1992-1993 was reviewed. The consensus of the Board was to urge the Grygla Board to share a band/music instructor for the 1992-1993 school year. (see report #6.1 attached to the official board minutes.)

Principal Henrickson reviewed the health scope and sequence curriculum for grades kindergarten through grade six. (see report #6.2 attached to the official board minutes.)

Gallagher moved, Hanson seconded, to approve the 1992-1993 tentative school calendar as presented. Motion carried. (see report #8.1 attached to the official board minutes.)

Superintendent Holtert announced that the State Fire Marshall has plans to inspect the school within the next two months. The Board discussed the possibility of having an engineering firm do a structural engineering study following the fire marshall visit.

The Board gave a number of suggestions to take back to the Pairing Committee on an individual and season athletic ticket prices for the 1992-1993 school year. The Board also discussed the possibility of charging a participation fee for participants in each sport. (see report #8.5 attached to the official board minutes.)

Hanson moved, Gallagher seconded, to counter-offer Ruth Sackett's request for early retirement incentive funds as follows: To remain on single coverage group health insurance up to age 65 or for 5 years whichever comes first with payments for said coverage to be paid semi-annually by the individual requesting early retirement. Motion carried.

Hanson moved, Kotrba seconded, to accept Mark Muster's resignation as music teacher effective at the end of the 1991-1992 school year. Motion carried.

Hanson reported on plans for the Staff Appreciation supper and Agriculture Recognition Day.

Kotrba and Philipp reported that the District's future and financial condition was discussed at the school climate meeting.

Hyland reported on the N.W. Regional Inter-District Council Board meeting and L.E.A. Restructuring Committee meeting.

Vigen reported that there will be very few classes offered at the N.W. Vocational Center School in 1992-1993.

Superintendent Holtert reported on the status of restraining order and hearing on student policy #745.64 scheduled for court on March 27, 1992.

The consensus of the Board was to set the next regular meeting for April 21, 1992 at 9:00 p.m.

The Board discussed the Association Rule in the Student Policy Book. The consensus of the Board was to support keeping the Association Rule next year, but to more clearly define what is a violation.

Meeting adjourned at 6:00 p.m.

1992 STREET & SIDEWALK IMPROVEMENTS
ASSESSMENT AREA LOCATION MAP

March 24, 31, 1992
NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED IMPROVEMENTS
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of Thief River Falls will conduct a hearing on Thursday, April 9, 1992, at 7:00 p.m. in the basement meeting room at the Thief River Falls City Auditorium, to consider the making of the following improvements, pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Sections 429.011 to 429.111:

GREENWOOD STREET - HWY 59 TO 1,600 FEET EAST OF HWY 59

The recommended improvements would be placement of a 12 inch thick layer of aggregate base, 3 inch thick layer of bituminous surfacing and aggregate shouldering upon the existing rural sectioned roadway. The improvements are meant to satisfy the immediate access needs of the adjacent properties in the future when areas east of the project area are developed, it will be necessary to improve the entire roadway to a more permanent urban design with curb and gutter.

The estimated project cost for upgrading the existing rural sectioned roadway is $38,000 and the City Council has recommended that properties benefitted by the proposed improvements be assessed for 100% of the cost. The roadway segment proposed for improvements and corresponding areas to be assessed are indicated on attached Exhibit B.

The total estimated cost of all proposed improvements is $38,000. Such persons as desire to be heard with reference to the proposed improvements will be heard at this meeting.

Dated this 17th day of March, 1992.

Business of Year applications sought

The month of May will be "Business and Industry Month" in Thief River Falls. Each year the president of the United States designates a week in May as Small Business week. Events are being planned in Thief River Falls for May 10-16, as part of the month's emphasis on small businesses.

For the past five years specific businesses and entrepreneurs have received special recognition during Small Business week. Area individuals, agencies, and businesses are encouraged to help identify candidates for the 1992 awards. The Business of the Year award recognizes outstanding business owners and operators for their achievements in running a successful business that has had some impact on the community, the owners/managers of the business have demonstrated creativity (in product development, marketing, production, methods or service delivery) and community involvement. Businesses in all sectors of the economy are eligible. The Entrepreneur award is for someone who has started a successful, new operation within the last seven to eight years, has demonstrated creativity and overcome constraints or barriers.

Nominations should include: category of nomination, the name of the business, name of the owner/manager and a brief statement describing how the criteria are met and why the business should receive recognition. Nominations can be called in to the SBDC (681-5424) or the Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720 or mailed to: Chamber of Commerce, 2017 Hwy 59 SE, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or to the Small Business Development Center, Thief River Falls Technical College, 1301 Hwy One East, Thief River Falls, MN

County agents meet with legislators

County agricultural extension agents Howard Person of Pennington county and Rhonda Amundson of Red Lake county represented extension Cluster 5 at a breakfast with more than 60 Minnesota legislators recently in St. Paul.

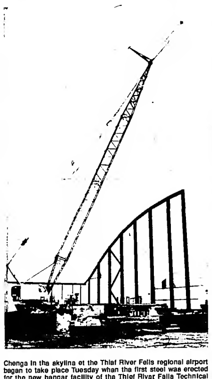
Cluster 5 is one of 18 multi-county clusters in the state extension service system and includes the counties of Lake of the Woods, Roseau, Kittson, Marshall, Red Lake and Pennington.

The breakfast is held to give legislators from all areas of the state a chance to become familiar with the broad spectrum of programs conducted by the service in agriculture, youth development, home economics and special issues such as water quality and solid waste.

Programs given special attention were the dairy initiatives effort, keeping the farm in the family, food safety, rural leadership, teen pregnancy prevention, youth alcohol decisions and rural/urban environmental protection.

Because time did not allow agents to cover all programs conducted across the state, each cluster group concentrated on programs within a specific area. Person and Amundson concentrated on water quality and solid waste issues.

Construction takes off —



Change in the skyline at the Thief River Falls regional airport began to take place Tuesday when the first steel was erected for the new hangar facility of the Thief River Falls Technical College aviation mechanics program. Planes were removed from the previous hangar (shown in the background at right) last week prior to placement of steel for the new building.

Private Industry Council seeks more members

Northwest Private Industry council (PIC) is soliciting membership from the private sector and community based organizations. The council provides planning and oversight to the Job Training Partnership Act programs in seven counties of northwest Minnesota.

Representatives of the private sector must be owners of business concerns, chief executives or chief operating officer of non-governmental employers or other private sector executives who have substantial management or policy responsibilities.

Representatives of community based organizations must be from private non-profit organizations which are representative of communities or significant segments of communities and which provide job training services, and organizations serving non-reservation Indians, as well as tribal governments.

For nomination forms contact the Northwest Private Industry Council, 424 North Broadway, Suite A, Crookston, MN 56716 or call 1-800-262-6027. Completed applications are due April 30.

Non-profits must file annually to maintain status

Non-profit corporations in Minnesota must file an annual registration form with the office of the Secretary of State before the end of the calendar year, according to Joan Growe, Secretary of State.

Registration forms were mailed to each non-profit corporation in early February. "If a form has not been received by your corporation, please call us to get one," Growe said.

To check your non-profit corporation's record, call the business information phone line at (612) 296-2803. Operators are available to provide assistance from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Hiring people with disabilities topic of meet

Interactive television seminar about disability discrimination law will be conducted Friday, April 10, from 9 a.m. to noon at Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks Technical colleges and the University of Minnesota—Crookston.

Fee is $15 and pre-registration is requested by Monday, April 6. Send checks payable to SBDC to the Small Business Development Center, Thief River Falls Technical College, 1301 Highway 1 East, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

GOD APPOINTED US CUSTODIANS OF THE WORLD HE GAVE US

The word "conservation" should become increasingly a part of our everyday vocabulary; not just as an expression but as a mandate to preserve our environment and ultimately, life itself. When God gave us this planet for our home, He did so as a sacred trust, expecting us to take care of it as conditions warrant. For example, in a normally dry area or during a periodic drought, it is only common sense not to waste water. And with our landfill disposal sites growing into towering mountains, it behooves us to recycle containers or re-use them as best we can, to at least slow down the process. Learn at your House of Worship that the earth is ours to inhabit and enjoy, but also to maintain; so let us assume our share of the responsibility for it. It's the only home we'll ever have.

When we see land as a community to which we belong, we may begin to use it with love and respect.
— Aldo Leopold

"...wasting and destruction are in their paths."

HAVE YOU INCLUDED CROP INSURANCE AS PART OF YOUR FARM MANAGEMENT PROGRAM FOR 1992?

Farming is still a year-at-a time business; and experience tells you that a year of bad weather is unpredictable, as well as unavoidable.

In the event of a crop failure, MULTI-PERIL CROP INSURANCE will help you achieve your goals for 1992.

For assistance with your crop insurance program, stop and see Dave Nelson at NORTHERN STATE AGENCY.

Don't buy a lemon.

They don't do well in this area. Neither do many other fruit and shade trees advertised as "hardy" by mail order catalogues. At Bergeson Nursery, we have over 55 years of experience growing trees in this often hostile climate. We propagate varieties of hardy apple trees which the large suppliers have forgotten. We have hardy grapes, fall bearing raspberries and many other small fruits. Call or write for our complete catalog.

Strandquist

The Strandquist Junior Citizens have had another busy week by the news they have reported. I feel sure that all who read about them are glad that these young students are having the best and complete educational facilities that is possible to be offered anywhere. We can all be very proud of them.

March birthdays were celebrated at Tri County schools at Strandquist on Friday, March 13. Those celebrating March birthdays were Elliot Lefrooth, Yvette Baumgarner, Joshua Kazmierczak, Anders Berggren, Aletia Stusynski, Natalee Johnson, Eric Danzl, Patsy Boen and Mr. Westberg. Lonnie made a leprechaun cake and our table was decorated all in green. Mr. Westberg also got a cake with his picture on it. It was a special day for all of us celebrating March birthdays.

Our National Breakfast week ended on Friday and the winner of the free breakfasts were Alicia Stechmann, Tracy Johnson, Elizabeth Englund, Abby Larson, and Jeremy Braff. The winner of the giant banana was Nathan Ryan and the winner of the radio was Dustin Johnson.

Mrs. Schindele's class finished their unit on dinosaurs and presented a dinosaur program to the elementary students and to the family and friends of the second graders. The dinosaur program consisted of fingerplays and songs and drawings done by the second graders. They did a great job and we thank Mrs. Schindele and the second graders for inviting us to their program.

Those students filing their passports on Mrs. Berggren's "Book A Trip" were Kaylena Kuznia, Nathan Ryan, Amanda Clinton, Sara Rud, Cory Dembiczak, Justin Tuziw, and Brent Johnson.

Special visitor this week was Monkey Man. He made a surprise visit to the custodians early Friday morning, and visited the kitchen on Monday morning. We haven't had a visit from Monkey Man since Halloween so it was great to see his happy face again.

Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom, Eunice Lofstrom and Dorothy and John went to Cando, ND, to attend the funeral service of Della Underdahl at the Cando Lutheran church. They were among many relatives and friends who were guests at Evan and Debbie Miller's home for refreshments later. Debbie is the granddaughter of the Underdahls.

Kristopher Anderson accompanied a group of young people from the Gospel Tabernacle in Karlstad on a trip to Steinbeck, to take part in a Youth Music Concert at the Steinbeck Tabernacle on Monday.

Arnold and Vernice Larson, Shirley Lefrooth, and Leonard Torkelson were Thursday visitors at LaVol Thun's.

Jean Kleinvachter visited Frank and Judy Kleinvachter on Tuesday afternoon. Morlan Pederson visited them on Friday afternoon.

Mike, Krista, Brent, Matthew and Mark Proulx of Crookston, Michelle Boen of Grand Forks, Paul, Jackie, Chase and Chelsea Boen and Grace Boen were dinner guests at Phillip and Yvonne Boen's on Sunday, to help Phillip celebrate his birthday. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anderson also came and had coffee and cake with Phillip. It is soon time for him to stop counting birthdays one at a time and go by fives instead, some of us can't count so high, and we have only so many toes and fingers to count on. But we do wish you to have many more, Phillip.

Kathy and Allison Britten accompanied by Morris and Hazel Anderson spent Saturday in Grand Forks, with Jim, Cindy and Christy Wetterlund. They took in the craft show at the Chester Fritz, and also did some shopping.

Joe Clark of Minneapolis, called at the Wayne Stromgren's on Sunday.

Morris and Marcelyn Lindstrom spent the weekend with their daughter, Diane and family at Bemidji, and their son, Jeff and family at Akeley.

Scott Thun of Fargo, came Friday evening to spend the weekend with his mother, LaVol Thun.

Elphie Adlis went to Argyle on Sunday, to help celebrate her daughter, Linda's birthday. She was accompanied by Toni Kasprowicz, who visited her brother, Peter Gajeski near Argyle.

Mary and Donna Renstrom and Pearl Thompson visited Elsie Lefrooth on Sunday evening.

Peter and Pearl Thompson and Elsie Lefrooth helped Roy Vagle celebrate his birthday Monday evening. Adrienne Lefrooth had coffee with Elsie earlier in the afternoon.

Leonard Jacobson visited Earl and Ebba Sihlberg on Sunday, and showed pictures of his recent stay in Hawaii. He had some interesting ones of Pearl Harbor, and some of the devastation from the active volcano there.

Nelson LaDoux was a dinner guest at Isaac and Betsy Thompson's on Sunday.

Claudia and Jessie Berggren, Judy Kasprowicz, Don Larson, Marla and Bud Steffan and Barry Lewis visited Frank and Judy Kleinvachter's on Sunday. Marla and Bud also took Frank and Judy to Julius Kleinvachter's to help Julius celebrate his birthday.

Geno, Diane and Kent Kleinvachter hauled wood to Earl and Ebba Sihlberg's this past week. Maybe Ebba is looking for some more winter. I hope she won't find it!

Morlys Lefrooth had lunch with Elsie Lefrooth on Thursday. In the evening Darwin and Pat Holmstrom of Grand Forks, had dinner with grandma.

On Thursday, Elsie Lefrooth and Pearl Thompson accompanied Betsy Thompson to Agnes Vagle's for a Women's Ministry service.

[illegible] Thompson went to Lake of the Woods on Monday to fish. Here's hoping they come home with some big ones, and that they don't all get away.

Brooks........

Monday guests at Lillian Hince were Barb Slavar and Diane Plante.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hince, Evangeline Grove and Mae Sabourin visited with Lillian Hince on Wednesday.

Welcome home Ruby Bruggeman! Ruby recently returned after six pleasant weeks on Maui Island. Maui is one of the chain of Hawaiian Islands.

"Rubbergate" Scandal A Bunch Of Bunk

The public—or more properly the press—furor over Congressmen having overdrafts on their accounts at the House bank (dubbed the "Rubbergate scandal) is a bunch of bunk. With all the other problems they have in trying to deal with major problems which face our nation, it's a shame Congressmen have to spend time on such a trivial complaint

Public reaction to the many newspaper and television accounts of overdrafts is predictable, given the general dissatisfaction with government today and the seeming importance attached to the practice by the media. But the situation is probably greatly misunderstood by the public and very little has been done by the media to clarify it. Let's take an objective look at what is involved.

First of all, the House bank was basically a financial convenience for members of Congress. It served as a depository for their salaries and reimbursements for expenses as well as a checking account service. What is important to remember is that all of the money in the bank was private money deposited by Congressmen. None of the money deposited in the bank was public money. The only public involvement in operation of the bank was that the few workers there were public employees and the room used for the bank was provided without charge on public property.

While Congressmen used the House bank for some 130 years as a convenience, they received no interest on their deposits and the deposits were not protected by government insurance. In fact, some members of Congress chose not to use the bank because they could earn interest on their deposits elsewhere.

Consider also that checks issued beyond the depositor's balance were honored by the bank and no recipient was deprived of payment. The checks did not "bounce" and were not "bad checks" for recipients as frequently stated or at least inferred in the media, because those cashing them received immediate payment. This does not equate with NSF checks issued by individuals where the bank is not authorized to use other depositor's funds to cover payment.

Congressmen occasionally must expend funds for which they are reimbursed, such as airline tickets for return trips to their districts. Reimbursement is frequently slow and tickets are costly. The House bank did allow expenditure of funds beyond the account balances of members for such checks. We fail to see any harm in such a practice.

We would agree that some persons using the House bank abused the overdraft privileges which seemed to be an acceptable practice. We would also agree that this was a privilege or "perk" not available to the general public (without paying a fee for the service). And we find some validity in the contention that people who are inept at handling their personal finances may be suspect in their ability to handle the nation's finances.

But in general we see no harm to the public from the overdrafts and we think the suggestion of wrongdoing is greatly exaggerated and misunderstood. Responding to the flap has taken a good deal of time from the Congressmen and their staffs and undoubtedly has cost the public a much greater financial loss than the now defunct House bank ever did.

"Safe Sex" Isn't Safe At All

It was once said that there is nothing so temporary as a permanent wave nor so permanent as a temporary tax. Add to that analysis that there is nothing so risky as "safe sex."

The following commentary by Tom Prichard, executive director of the Berean League, gives that organization's views on the question. The Berean League is a non-partisan, pro-family public policy organization based in Minnesota. Here is what Prichard writes:

Despite the explosive spread of sexually transmitted diseases and the growing specter of the deadly AIDS epidemic, health and education officials continue to tout "safe sex" as the answer.

The answer for some of our state legislators this year is mandating school-based health clinics in every public school in the state. These clinics do more than merely take temperatures and treat colds—they spend a good share of their time dispensing contraceptives.

What should be of concern to all Minnesotans, and especially parents, is the attempt by family planning groups like Planned Parenthood to sell their wares to a captive audience of teenagers in our public schools.

First, let's look at the notion that "safe sex" is safe. Studies show that condoms fail 15.7 per cent of the time among married couples and 36.3 per cent of the time among young, unmarried minority women. These failure rates are for pregnancy prevention. Add the fact that the HIV is 450 times smaller than the sperm and can be contracted at any time and you have a recipe for disaster. Teaching kids to rely on condoms to prevent the spread of STDs and AIDS is criminal. In fact, don't be surprised to see, some day, soon, lawsuits by parents of HIV infected kids against schools teaching safe sex.

Not only is "safe sex" a lie—a deadly lie—but underlying it is the debased view that sexual activity is merely a biological act without social, moral and spiritual consequences.

Just as disconcerting as the notion of safe sex is the rationale underlying the reliance on it—the notion that teenagers can't, or won't, control themselves sexually. Safe sex advocates usually agree: "Well, there are some who will have sex no matter how often you tell them not to." If that's the case, then it's foolish to discourage behaviors like drug use or shoplifting because some people are still going to engage in them no matter what.

In reality the ability to abstain is weakened by a culture bent on hedonism, the ubiquitous promotion of sex on TV, billboards and magazines and the message to teenagers that safe sex is OK.

If you're tired of the safe sex lie, let your school officials and legislators know that our children are too precious to be given over to the "safe sex" advocates of school-based health clinics.

Those are Prichard's comments for the Berean League. We would invite supporting or opposing views through signed letters to our public opinion column.

To The Editor:

This is a critical year for the country. It is an election year with unknown consequences for the future. In the 1960's the rock group Steppenwolf sang a song called "Monster." In its lyrics it said, "There's a monster on the loose, it's got our heads into a noose, and it just sits there watching."

What is this monster? Then and now, I believe its is prejudice and apathy.

In the first head of the monster, we have prejudice or self-centeredness. All political problems or social circumstances are lumped into one neat little package. In the process, justice, individuality and fairness are forgotten. Current issues include tax fairness, health insurance, foreign aid and environment.

If we think of only our own interests, we promote isolationism and no progress can be made. On a personal level, I know what it is to not just think of myself. I have a brother waiting for a heart transplant. It makes my problems seem small in comparison. Let's keep an open mind.

The second head of the monster is apathy. Some American swill choose not to vote in November. This is a mistake. Those who are elected to public office are accountable to us, whether it be the local, state or national level. To choose not to vote only feeds the monster. Be open-minded and vote, or the monster will tighten the noose and we as a nation will cease to exist.

Sincerely,
Allen L. Rux

To The Editor:

We would like to make a comment about the many rumors making their way around Thief River Falls and surrounding areas.

Rumors are very damaging to not only the individuals named but also to their innocent families, innocent businesses and to the town of Thief River Falls itself. A rumor which started out small soon has ballooned and distorted to unbelievable proportions.

If you don't know the facts, which most of us don't, what you are helping to spread are these damaging rumors. Think how you would feel if you were in the shoes of these people.

I guess now would be the best time to say this: I moved here about a year and a half ago, when I got married, to join my husband who was already here. I could not believe what a cold and unfriendly community Thief River Falls was, and how I wished I was back in my "old" home town. Thank goodness I had a wonderful husband to listen to me.

I have since healed—time has helped heal and I have since met some truly wonderful people and great and unique businesses. I am starting to enjoy Thief River Falls more and more.

What I am trying to say is, rumors hurt and damage the community and everybody involved. The only one who can stop them is yourself.

Sincerely,
Patti and Dick Zeman
Thief River Falls

To The Editor:

Just the other day I happened to overhear a conversation and what I heard made me want to throw up.

Why? They were talking about a Thief River Falls man arrested some time ago on drug charges and how he implicated some business and professional people who somehow were involved and which was supposed to come out in the paper shortly.

Has there been a change in law recently so that people are guilty until proven innocent? What damage can such awful gossip do to the people named and their families? They can never live down this type of rumor even when they have never been found guilty or even charged with doing anything wrong.

Sincerely,
Liz Carlson

Legion Observes 23d Birthday

"With members of the Legion auxiliary cooperating, Elmer J. Ecklund post of the American Legion Friday evening observed the 23d anniversary of the founding of the service men's organization. Mrs. Esther Plough, auxiliary president presented the Legionnaires with an attractive birthday cake, and Post Commander G. Schibred responded in behalf of the Legion. H. M. Hitterdal presided over the brief program, which included selections by the auxiliary trio, consisting of Mrs. Jeanette Wright, Mrs. Arthur Berg and Mrs. L. V. Johnson."

Math Barzen Company Asks Farmers to Meet

"Farmers of the surrounding community have been invited to attend a meeting at the Sons of Norway hall Saturday afternoon, March 28, sponsored jointly by the Math Barzen company and the Archer-Daniels Midland company of Minneapolis. Talks on hog, dairy, poultry and turkey feeding will be given by representatives of the Minneapolis firm, and colored motion pictures will be shown. Coffee and doughnuts will be served, it was announced."

Junior Chamber to Join Up with National Group

"The Junior Chamber of Commerce at a meeting last Thursday evening in the Palm Garden Cafe voted to make application for affiliation with the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, members expressing the view that the local group would be strengthened as a result of the action. Ralph Luhman, president, supplied a detailed report on a meeting last week of the directors of the state junior chamber in Minneapolis, which he attended. Brief talks dealing with the efforts of the war on local business and professional workers were also given by Dr. J. G. Hillard and Howard Myrom. President Luhman was authorized to appoint committees to work actively in cooperation with the county rationing and salvage boards, and with any similar bodies that may be established later on."

Lincoln High School Circus Friday Night

"Pupils in physical education classes in the Thief River Falls public schools will demonstrate the proficiency they have gained through their training when they appear in the sixth anual circus Friday evening at 7:30 in the Lincoln high school gymnasium. In charge of the classes and supervising the circus are Delver Daly and Miss Gladys Bemtsen, physical educational instructors.

"The program will open with evolutions by a large group of girl tumblers, followed by a flag drill by second grade pupils and tumbling by junior high school girls, after which a number of grotesque clowns will perform. The senior high school gymnastic team will present stunts on the high bar and parallel bars and on the flying rings, while junior high boys will offer a tumbling act and pyramid building.

"Fifth grade pupils will present a minuet and the boys' chorus and quartet will appear as 'The Galloping Gerties.' The program also will include an exhibition by the junior twirlers, a square dance by eleventh grade students and a performance by the senior high school tumblers, followed by the grand finale, in which more than 100 boys and girls will take part."

"Defense stamps with a total value of $204 were purchased last Thursday by pupils in the public schools, Supt. Morris Bye reported this week. The figure represents a slight decline from the preceding Thursday."

School News

"The school entertainment in the Norwegian Lutheran church last Friday evening was attended by a large crowd, the church being as full as it could hold. The programme passed off very pleasantly and was well rendered. Many of the children did exceptionally will and reflect great credit on their teachers. Twenty-five dollars was cleared which will go to start a school library."

RESIDENTS:

Delivery of the Northern Watch takes place on Friday after 7 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon. Please leave a screen door open for delivery.

The Times has received numerous complaints from residents about the Northern Watch being left on door-steps or in their yard in the past week. Much of the problem could be solved if a screen door was left open.

Carriers delivering the newspaper would also like to remind residents to leave their pets inside or chained away from the door so that the newspaper can be delivered.

STATE OF MINNESOTA — DISTRICT COURT
COUNTY OF PENNINGTON — NINTH JUDICIAL DISTRICT

TO ALL PERSONS WITH A LEGAL INTEREST IN THE PARCELS OF REAL PROPERTY DESCRIBED IN THE FOLLOWING DELINQUENT TAX LIST

A list of real property in Pennington County on which delinquent property taxes and penalties are due has been filed with the Court Administrator of Pennington County. This list is published to inform all persons that the listed property is subject to forfeiture because of delinquent taxes.

The property owner, taxpayer, or other interested person must either pay the tax and penalty, plus interest and costs, or file a written objection with the Court Administrator. The objection must be filed by April 10, 1992, stating the reason why the tax or penalty is not due on the property. If no objection is filed, a court judgment will be entered against the property for the unpaid tax, penalty, interest, and costs.

For property under court judgment, the period of redemption begins on May 11, 1992, and ends three to five years later, depending on the type of property and where it is located. The period of redemption means the time within which taxes must be paid to avoid losing the property through forfeiture.

To avoid forfeiture, taxes on property located within a township must be paid by May 11, 1997. Taxes must also be paid by May 11, 1997, if the property is one of the following types in a city: (1) residential homestead, (2) farm homestead, (3) private cabins, (4) resorts occupied by the owner, and (5) resorts in operation for not more than 225 days a year. Payment of tax by May 11, 1995, is necessary to avoid forfeiture of any property in a city which is not described in the preceding sentence.

To determine how much interest and costs must be added to pay the tax in full, contact the Pennington County Auditor's Office, Pennington County Courthouse, P.O. Box 616, Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701. The telephone number is 218-681-4011.

TRF third in speech meet here Saturday

Thief River Falls speech team placed third behind Fosston and East Grand Forks in its invitational speech tournament Saturday at Lincoln high school. Other teams competing were Mahnomen, Bagley, Crookston and East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

The invitational was another warm-up for the North Sub-Section 8AA speech meet which will take place this Saturday, April 4, at Bemidji. Sub-Section winners will advance to the Section 8AA event Monday, April 13, in Brainerd. State competition is April 24 and

At Saturday's invitational, Thief River Falls had two first place winners, two second, five third, one superior and three excellent ratings, according to speech coach Connie Stock.

First place awards were won by Angie Hasnedl in humor at the varsity level and by Andrea Campbell in creative expression. Second places went to Ellie Ehrenstrom in creative expression and Megan Browning in humor at the novice level.

Third place winners were Maja Turenne, prose (varsity); Becky Gaffaney, poetry (varsity); Rachael Marshall, drama; Kate Ihle, prose (novice); and Beth Natvik, extemporaneous reading.

Superior rating was received by Nikolas Kotz in humor (novice) and excellent ratings by Joe LaFriniere in humor (novice) and Jenny Saustad and Amber Peoples in prose (varsity).

Thief River Falls' speech team also competed the previous Saturday at Fosston's invitational. At that tournament Megan Browning placed second in novice humor, Joe LaFriniere earned a superior rating in novice humor, and excellent ratings were earned by Angie Hasnedl in varsity humor, Kate Ihle in novice prose and Beth Natvik in extemporaneous reading.

Math team is 11th in state meet Monday

Lincoln high school math team placed 11th among 34 schools and John Wallberg placed as fifth high individual among 328 students when the Minnesota State High School Math League tournament was held Monday at Brooklyn Center high school.

"I'm extremely proud of this group of students," stated coach John Wallberg. "We were in 24th place on total season points going into the state tournament and after four of the five events in the state meet were in fifth place and in position to challenge for fourth or fifth place. Unfortunately, we didn't do well in the fifth event."

By placing 11th, however, the team finished ahead of more than a dozen teams which had accumulated more points during the season.

"This shows me that the team worked hard and showed continued improvement past the end of the regular season," Wallberg said. "In the fourth event dealing with advanced algebra our team had the most points of any team in the state."

By placing in a tie for fifth place, John Wallberg paced his father's team and qualified for the AMRL national contest at Iowa State University. He was one of only two students to have perfect scores in the first two events of the state competition.

Other members of the Lincoln team are Allen Mehrkens, Joel Johnson, Brad Kragness, Allen Hedeen, Ingrid Morken, Danae Dekkers and Dustin Anderson.

Daylight Saving Time to begin Sunday, April 5

Area residents are reminded to set their clocks ahead one hour this Saturday evening in anticipation of Daylight Saving Time which goes into effect at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Daylight Saving Time is in effect from the first Sunday in April through the last Sunday in October.

Health care access bill draws fire in rural MN

Health care access is an increasingly important issue, but a bill in the state legislature that addresses the issue is drawing mixed reviews.

"Philosophically, we're opposed to how the bill is financed. I don't know anyone, however, who doesn't like the purpose of the bill," said Dick Spyhalski, chief executive officer for Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls.

Spyhalski believes education is a right, just as health care is a right. Education is funded through broad based property taxes, but the new bill proposes to tax health care providers to provide health care for those who can't afford health care.

"The bill requires hospitals and health care providers to pay taxes to fund a law that is really the responsibility of society and not the responsibility of providers," Spyhalski said.

He believes the legislation would have a disproportionate effect on rural health care where it is very difficult to recruit physicians.

But Minnesotans for Affordable Health Care believe the proposed bill helps, not harms rural Minnesota. The group points out that 27 per cent of rural Minnesotans are likely to be totally uninsured, 20 per cent more likely to have insurance only part of the time, and 50 per cent more like to have to purchase insurance on their own.

Senate File 2603 (Health Care Access and Health Right Plan), has many good things going for it, Spyhalski said. (A similar bill in the house, H.F. 2800, is also being proposed.) The bill offers uninsured residents who do not have employment coverage and are ineligible for medical assistance or medicare the ability to purchase health insurance on a sliding fee schedule.

The impact of proposed funding for the bill, however, would be devastating, according to Spyhalski. One impact of the bill would be its cost to the hospital in Thief River Falls — an estimated $100,000 to $120,000 per year.

Beginning on July 1, 1992, a five cent cigarette tax would be imposed and the revenue put in the general fund. On January 1, 1993, a two per cent tax would be imposed on freestanding surgical center revenues and hospital net operating in patient and outpatient revenues, excluding Medical Assistance and Medicare revenues. The proposal provides that the tax may be passed on to the patients, but cannot be itemized on the bill. On January 1, 1994, a one per cent tax on all health care providers, which includes physicians and any health care provider eligible to bill for Medical Assistance, would be imposed. The provider tax would increase by one-half of one per cent each year up to a maximum of two per cent.

Spyhalski believes the funding

La Verne Rondorf recalls World War II memories

by Donna Myhrer
Times Community Editor

March 1942: ...MacArthur leaves Bataan for Australia; Chinese attack Japanese troops in Burman; Japanese seize Andaman Islands; Pacific War Command established in Washington.

As the war in the Pacific was just beginning, La Verne Rondorf, who had entered the Army Construction Engineers on Sept. 3, 1941, left for Hawaii. His unit had originally been scheduled to leave on Dec. 8, 1941, but after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, this was postponed until December 26. The ship traveled from San Francisco, CA to Hawaii by what was known as a "rough route." The ship was zigzagging back and forth to avoid submarines and the 11 days on board the ship were extremely uncomfortable as the ship was tossed about on the huge waves. La Verne relates that the mess tables had boards built up around the edges. "You never had to ask for anything to be passed to you. You would just catch it as it slid by."

La Verne Rundorf

Shortly before the ship docked in Honolulu he tells that somebody "hollered 'Submarine!' and they dropped a depth charge. The boat rocked like a rubber ball in a bathtub." La Verne then had to disembark and he says that after getting used to the rocking ship, he felt sick all over again on the pier.

La Verne had actually been drafted earlier in the year, but as he had been farming with his father near St. Hilaire, he was given a temporary deferment until the crops were in. He took his training in Ft. Leonardwood, MO, but didn't finish basic training, before having to leave the country.

He described Pearl Harbor as "a mess, with the wrecked ships all over the harbor." He immediately moved into Scofield barracks and saw bullet marks in the cement walls under the windows. He was to spend about two and a half years on the island, during which he was moved around 26 times, as his unit was working on various projects on Oahu, such as building loading docks, roads, runways and even drilling wells. During this time, La Verne was a cook and by the end of the war had been promoted to the position of a mess sergeant.

He explains that there were six cooks for about 150 men and that, on Hawaii, they had "regular" rations much of the time. This meant cold storage was available for

Local sales tax issue works way through process

As versions of the proposed sales tax for Thief River Falls move towards a House and Senate tax conference committee, local representatives will be lobbying for the House version.

Both versions of the proposed one-half of one per cent sales tax have been placed in omnibus tax bills, and both have different language. Eventually, those versions will be discussed and one will be chosen or a compromise reached.

The House of Representatives version contains all the language proposed by the city. It allows the tax to be used for Area Recreation-Convention Facilities and related facilities. Projects in the bill include: arena-convention facilities and athletic complex renovation and improvements, recreational swimming facilities, rivers' beautification and reservoir management, tourist park expansion, River Walk facilities, Depot acquisition and preservation, youth activities facility, and related furnishings and equipment. It also includes total capital, administrative and operating expenditures.

The Senate version, however, allows a one-half of one per cent tax for Area Tourism-Convention Facilities. The term "recreation" was replaced by the term "tourism". Projects approved for the purposes of the tax include: convention facilities, rivers' beautification and reservoir management, tourist park expansion, River Walk facilities and Depot acquisition and preservation. It also includes total capital, administrative, and operating expenditures.

Such differences are typical of the "life of a bill". The next step is for the differences to be ironed out in conference committees.

Such differences also help explain why proposed legislation was not voted on by the public before it appeared before the legislature. Had the citizens, by vote and not elected officials, chosen specific language via a vote, it is possible that something entirely different could be approved by the state legislature. If no variation from what was approved by the citizens in a vote was allowed, the proposed bill might be dead before it reached the legislature.

In training under the rigorous schedule assigned by Lincoln high school marching band director Bruce Felt, senior tuba player Jarad Goldesberry prepares for the 14-hour band marathon this week by doing lip push-ups with his tuba. "We don't want any horn players pooping out in this event because of sloppy lip muscles," Felt said. "Even if none of the musicians will play for more than nine hours as individuals, we want them all in top condition. Pucker power is the name of the game. Never let it be said that band is for softies!" To raise funds for this summer's trip to Canada to compete in the Calgery Stampede parade, Lincoln band members are taking pledges for number of hours played during the marathon which starts Friday, April 3 at 8 p.m. and concludes Saturday, April 4 at 10 a.m. Persons who would like to make a pledge but have not been contacted may call Felt at 681-7433. To demonstrate his own commitment to conditioning, Felt—who will be conducting the band for 14 hours—has been doing extra sleep training for the past several weeks.

St. Hilaire elevator sets grain record

Report of record grain receipts and inventory will be given at the annual meeting of the St. Hilaire Co-Op Elevator association which will be conducted Friday, April 10, at the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls, beginning at 10 a.m.

Grain receipts and inventory for the fiscal year hit 19,975,000 bushels, according to Bob Miller, manager of the cooperative who will give his manager's report at the meeting.

Total sales for the cooperative in fiscal 1991 were $50,668,000, including about $32 million in grain, $10.5 million in sunflowers and $8 million in retail sales of various products.

Sunflower sales included about $9 million in bulk and bagged whole sunflowers which provided the cooperative with a net margin of $523,000. Hulled sunflower meats in various grades resulted in about $1.5 million in sales and had a $304,000 net, Miller said.

Retail sales included $2,330,000 in feed, $3 million in fertilizer, $750,000 in seed and $2,300,000 in other products.

Miller will also report that the elevator put together its first 100-car unit train in March when a 105-car shipment of spring wheat was made from the elevator at St. Hilaire. The 105-car train contained just over 350,000 bushels of

Fosston church holds Evangelistic series

Rev. Omar Gjerness, professor of systematic theology at the Lutheran Brethren seminary of Fergus Falls, will be the speaker for a series of Evangelistic services, April 8-12 at Calvary Free Lutheran church in Fosston. Services are at 7:30 p.m. nightly with the topic, "Prophecy in Our Day and Age."

Rev. Gjerness has been a pastor in New York, New Jersey, California, Montana and Saskatchewan. For the past 30 years he has been a professor at the Lutheran Brethren seminary, also serving as president of Lutheran Brethren Schools for seven of those years. He is currently involved with evangelistic services and Bible conferences which have taken him to Florida, Washington, New York and Canada in the past year.

Questions to be considered in this series are: What of glastnost and peristroika? Will they last? Are the Gulf nations dealt with in prophecy? Can we expect the coming of Christ soon? Everyone is welcome to attend.

Nursing service offers immunization clinic

An immunization clinic will be held April 11 from 9 to 11 a.m. at the Inter-County Nursing service office in Thief River Falls. Please call 681-5950 for an appointment. Impressions . . .

by
Beth Johnson

March was Women in History month. I thought of that this past week when one day I was laid low by a case of the 24-hour flu. How, you might ask, do Women in History month and a good case of the flu correspond?

Well, my mother lives about 700 miles away from me. The night before I had the flu I did not feel well and found myself going to bed many hours before I normally would go to bed. As luck would have it, my mother called.

Now, living many miles away, it's theoretically easy to get by with not telling my mother that I don't feel well. All one has to do is to put a smile in the voice and act somewhat healthy and not even a mother should be able to detect over the phone wires that her grown daughter has the flu. Not true!!! Mothers are mothers even if they are living 700 miles away. I had no sooner said "hello" in a supposedly cherry voice than from the far end of the phone line I heard "What's wrong, you don't sound so good"! So, confess I did to my mother my fears that I had the flu.

So, the next day, as I tried to recuperate from the flu, I thought how marvelous it is to have a mother in my history. My mother, insignificant as she is to the world's study of women in history, is truly significant in my history. My world would be a far scarier place without her. Just knowing that I cannot escape even at a distance her concern and care is cause for comfort for me.

My mother is not the only mother in this world. We all have been blessed with a mother. Many of us are mothers. The influence we mothers have on the history of this world is far-reaching. We do truly have the ability and power to change the world.

That power to change the world, though, comes one minute and one day at a time. As we deal with our children we use that power for good or evil. As we heal their bumps and bruises and as we heal their heartbreaks we use that would changing power. As we show our children examples of kindness and fairness and goodness we show them world changing powers. As we show them examples of pity and remorse and forgiveness we teach them world changing powers.

Little children are most easily shaped by us. They cling to what we are. They want us to be perfect. They see us as their protectors and keepers. As these little ones grow, they see us mothers for what we are, simply people being mothers. They do not see us as perfect. These older children of ours probably have all of the answers to life. They may even think that we have little that is of importance to them—except maybe money.

Yet, as Women in History month draws to a close, I wonder about the mothers of those famous women in history. The influence they had on their children must have been a part of the world changing effects their children had. It's a sombering thought to this mother to think that just maybe my children can touch the world for the better. How I teach my children will be a part of their history and just maybe a part of the world's history.

We women have a wonderful opportunity to try to make our world a little better. We can make our homes happier and healthier places in which our children can grow up. And by giving our children a legacy of a mother who cares for them we give our children that extra bit of courage they may need to face the challenges of their lives.

I do know that the mother in my history makes my tomorrows a lot less scary because I know that the love she shows me will be with me for all of my life.

Fosston church holds Evangelistic series

Rev. Omar Gjerness, professor of systematic theology at the Lutheran Brethren seminary of Fergus Falls, will be the speaker for a series of Evangelistic services, April 8-12 at Calvary Free Lutheran church in Fosston. Services are at 7:30 p.m. nightly with the topic, "Prophecy in Our Day and Age."

Rev. Gjerness has been a pastor in New York, New Jersey, California, Montana and Saskatchewan. For the past 30 years he has been a professor at the Lutheran Brethren seminary, also serving as president of Lutheran Brethren Schools for seven of those years. He is currently involved with evangelistic services and Bible conferences which have taken him to Florida, Washington, New York and Canada in the past year.

Questions to be considered in this series are: What of glastnost and peristroika? Will they last? Are the Gulf nations dealt with in prophecy? Can we expect the coming of Christ soon? Everyone is welcome to attend.

Impressions . . .

Both Johnson

March was Women in History month. I thought of that this past week when one day I was laid low by a case of the 24-hour flu. How, you might ask, do Women in History month and a good case of the flu correspond?

Well, my mother lives about 700 miles away from me. The night before I had the flu I did not feel well and found myself going to bed many hours before I normally would go to bed. As luck would have it, my mother called.

Now, living many miles away, it's theoretically easy to get by without telling my mother that I don't feel well. All one has to do is to put a smile in the voice and act somewhat healthy and not even a mother should be able to detect over the phone wires that her grown daughter has the flu. Not true!!! Mothers are mothers even if they are living 700 miles away. I had no sooner said "hello" in a supposedly cherry voice than from the far end of the phone line I heard "What's wrong, you don't sound so good"! So, confess I did to my mother my fears that I had the flu.

So, the next day, as I tried to recuperate from the flu, I thought how marvelous it is to have a mother in my history. My mother, insignificant as she is to the world's study of women in history, is truly significant in my history. My world would be a far scarier place without her. Just knowing that I cannot escape even at a distance her concern and care is cause for comfort for me.

My mother is not the only mother in this world. We all have been blessed with a mother. Many of us are mothers. The influence we mothers have on the history of this world is far-reaching. We do truly have the ability and power to change the world.

That power to change the world, though, comes one minute and one day at a time. As we deal with our children we use that power for good or evil. As we heal their bumps and bruises and as we heal their heartbreaks we use that would changing power. As we show our children examples of kindness and fairness and goodness we show them world changing powers. As we show them examples of pity and remorse and forgiveness we teach them world changing powers.

Little children are most easily shaped by us. They cling to what we are. They want us to be perfect. They see us as their protectors and keepers. As these little ones grow, they see us mothers for what we are, simply people being mothers. They do not see us as perfect. These older children of ours probably have all of the answers to life. They may even think that we have little that is of importance to them—except maybe money.

Yet, as Women in History month draws to a close, I wonder about the mothers of those famous women in history. The influence they had on their children must have been a part of the world changing effects their children had. It's a sombering thought to this mother to think that just maybe my children can touch the world for the better. How I teach my children will be a part of their history and just maybe a part of the world's history.

We women have a wonderful opportunity to try to make our world a little better. We can make our homes happier and healthier places in which our children can grow up. And by giving our children a legacy of a mother who cares for them we give our children that extra bit of courage they may need to face the challenges of their lives.

I do know that the mother in my history makes my tomorrows a bit less scary because I know that the love she shows me will be with me for all of my life.

Ella Nelson, 88

Thief River Falls — Ella O. Nelson, 88, died March 26 at the Northwest Medical center in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services were held March 30 at 10:30 a.m. at the Redeemer Lutheran church in Thief River Falls with Revs. Neil Gladen, Keith Knauf and Randy Nelson officiating. Special music was provided by Virgil and Marvel Hjelle, vocalists, and Joyce Halbasch, organist. Honorary casketbearers were Alvin Halvorson, Maynard Nelson, Wallace Nelson, Alvin Olson, Bertyl Pederson and Gerald Pederson. Active casketbearers were Todd Grindeland, Tim Grindeland, Jerry Jenkins, Mark Jenkins, Allen Nelson and Brad Nelson. The Green Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Ella O. Christoferson was born Jan. 12, 1904 in Thief River Falls, the daughter of Ole and Elvine (Jacobson) Christoferson. She was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith and attended school in Kratka township. She grew up there. She worked as a domestic worker for some time and, on July 28, 1923, she married Martin B. Nelson in Warren. They farmed in New Solum township, Marshall county. Her husband died on Sept. 12, 1946. She continued to live on the farm until moving into Thief River Falls in 1974 where she lived until her death. She is a former member of Bethlehem Lutheran church of New Solum township, its ladies aid and the Christian Women's club of Thief River Falls.

She is survived by two daughters: Mrs. Harlan (Dolores) Knauf of Minneapolis and Mrs. Glenn (Joanne) Grindeland of Burnsville, five sons: Dennis of Minneapolis, Marvin of Burnsville, Roger and Gordon, both of Milwaukee, WI and Raymond of Thief River Falls, 23 grandchildren; and 25 great-grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, one daughter, Violet Jenkins; three brothers: Engvald, William and Norman; and two sisters: Mabel Jennison and Inga Christoferson.

Myrtle Wantuch, 86

Thief River Falls — Myrtle Wantuch, 86, died March 29 at the Oakland Park Nursing Home in Thief River Falls.

Funeral services will be held March 31 at 7 p.m. at the Green Funeral Home chapel with Rev. Curtis Anderson officiating. Special music will be provided by Rev. Ployd and Pearl Dalzell. Interment will be in the Eden cemetery in Schilling Park, IL. The Green Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Myrtle Caroline Kraatz was born Mar. 10, 1906 in Cook county in Chicago, IL, the daughter of Fred and Elizabeth (Voels) Kraatz. She was baptized and confirmed at St. Peter's Evangelical church in Chicago, where she grew up. On Dec. 21, 1946 she was united in marriage to John Wantuch in Chicago. She worked for 49 years for the Mutual Trust Life Insurance company. Her husband died in June 1972. She moved to Thief River Palls in November 1988 and lived for some time at Valley Home. She had more recently been a resident of the Oakland Park Nursing Home. She was a member of the St. Peter's Evangelical Lutheran church in Chicago.

She is survived by special friends, the Walter Redinger family in Thief River Falls.

Dear Readers,

After a loved one dies, there is so much sadness and pain, but don't try to suppress your memories - build on them. It can be comforting and healing to remember the wonderful times spent together, and the deep feelings expressed. Recall the humorous times and laugh about them. Remembering with laughter is healing. Though you must accept your loved one's death, you need not sever all ties. Beautiful memories can help mend the broken heart.

Respectfully,

Belmont Funeral Home

Larry Belmont

Super Asthma Saturday is Set April 25

Northwest Medical Center's respiratory care department, in conjunction with the American Lung association, is sponsoring Super Asthma Saturday April 25 at the medical center.

Included will be the presence of experts on the condition, a panel on "Asthma and Medications," exhibits and door prizes.

Open to parents and children with asthma, the program will also be geared to those who work with asthmatic children, such as day care operators, school and public health nurses, teachers and coaches. Anyone who is interested in learning more about asthma is welcome.

Dr. Paul Kubic, pediatric pulmonologist at St. Paul Children's hospital and on staff at the University of Minnesota hospital will speak on "Asthma in Today's Society." Rick Contos, registered pharmacist at the medical center, will moderate a panel presentation on "Asthma and Medications." Penny Langland, M.D., will speak on "When To Go To The Emergency Room And What To Do When You Get There." Free T-shirts will be given to each child participating.

Space is limited and odvance registration is required. Registration deadline is Friday, April 17. Cost will be $3 per person or $5 per family. Each child with asthma must be accompanied by at least one parent. To register, send name, address and phone number, along with a check payable to Northwest Medical Center for family or individual registration, to Super Asthma Saturday, Respiratory Care, 120 South LaBree, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

There has been o growing concern with the escalating severity of asthma cases, according to Gail Holland, public relations coordinator at Northwest Medical Center, who points out that asthma can be monitored to predict and, in most cases, prevent a serious attack and that it can be treated and reversed.

"When fully educated about this condition and when this knowledge is utilized to control the disease, an asthmatic is completely capable of maintaining a full healthy and basically normal lifestyle," Holland said.

"We believe that education is the first vital step in decreasing the occurrence of severe, life-threatening asthma episodes," she added.

Burn barrels on state's black list

Backyard burning barrel will be the focus of attention among state and local fire prevention authorities during the spring fire season in Minnesota this year.

"Burn barrels and debris burning are the leading cause of wildfires in populated rural areas," said John Rodewald, regional forest supervisor with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR). "Where refuse collection has been available, the burning of household refuse in a burn barrel or home incinerator has been prohibited by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency. These regulations have existed for several years, but have not been enforced in most communities."

That will begin to change this spring, according to Rodewald. "Because of the potential for wildfire, fire officials all across the state will be on the lookout for burning-barrel hazards this spring," said Rodewald. "DNR foresters and conservation officers, along with local fire and law enforcement authorities, will be warning homeowners of unsafe conditions and issuing citations for violations of state or local fire ordinances."

"If a wildfire starts as a result of a burning barrel, the property owner can also be held liable for property damage and fire fighting costs," warned Rodewald. "Even with a burning permit, if your fire gets out of control, you are liable."

For years, homemade or commercially-built home incinerators were a legal means to burn household refuse. A barrel is still legal to burn vegetative matter if placed on mineral soil or a non combustible base, away from buildings, and constructed with openings in the cover and sides, no larger than one half inch. The reason is to diminish the possibility of wind blown ash or flaming debris escaping the barrel and starting a fire. The definition of vegetative matter is leaves, grasses, tree limbs, etc., not household refuse.

"Burning barrels were always a hazard, but especially so during the spring and fall fire seasons," explained Rodewald. "They are never 100 per cent safe. They usually rust and deteriorate over time, and fall out of compliance with legal standards."

"Even more critical, their use has not been restricted by the time of day or weather conditions. Burning at mid-day, with high winds and low humidity during a bad fire season, increases the risk of a wildfire dramatically," said Rodewald.

"When fires do escape, burning barrels are usually very close to homes and outbuildings, posing an immediate threat to life and property," concluded Rodewald. "Some of our most destructive fires have started from burning barrels."

For information about burning permits for open fires, and the legal use of burning barrels, residents and property owners should contact their local DNR forestry office. For information on recycling and proper waste disposal methods, contact the solid waste authorities within your county or city government.

Everyone is invited to attend.

Tech college faculties to vote on rep

Faculty members in the six technical colleges (including Thief River Falls) to make up the Northwest Technical College district which officially forms July 1 will vote soon on whether they will be represented by the Minnesota Federation of Teachers or the Minnesota Education association.

On March 19 the Federation of Minnesota Technical Colleges, MFT Local 4777 filed a petition with the state Bureau of Mediation Services for certification as collective bargaining agent.

According to the MFT, more than 50 per cent of the approximately 400 faculty members had signed cards asking the federation to be their representative. MFT wants to guarantee the faculty's right to vote before this school year ends, according to MFT representative Joe Stafki, a Wadena technical college instructor.

The next step will be a pre-hearing conference Thursday, March 26, where the BMS will sort out who is eligible to vote and where the balloting will occur.

School board supports city sales tax issue

At a meeting March 23, School District 564 board adopted a resolution of support for the enactment of legislation that would enable the city to impose a one-half of one per cent sales tax.

Thief River Falls City Clerk Jerry Wigness and Community Development Director Don Stewart presented information about the proposed sales tax legislation and asked the school board to support their endeavor.

The board adopted a resolution to support the city in seeking the enactment of legislation that would enable imposing a sales tax of one-half of one per cent to develop facilities as part of a community revitalization project in Thief River Falls known as the Area Recreation Convention Facilities.

Discontinuing, reducing and adding positions were on the board agenda for School District 564 at its meeting on March 23.

Authorization was granted to post for kindergarten through grade 12 summer school 1992 positions as follows: six ALC summer school instructors, two reading and chapter teachers, and one reading and chapter aide in addition to temporary pupil program support assistant at Washington. Technical College positions of community service job location development coordinator and a part-time remedial related communications instructor were added.

The resignation of Ann Donarski, cleaner at Northrop, was accepted effective March 26. Employment of Jane Olson as master student instructor at the Technical College was approved as was the employment of William Moreau as long term bus driver substitute.

A resolution was adopted for the discontinuing and reducing certified educational programs and positions as follows: 1.0 FTE auto mechanics, Center school; .5 FTE electronics, Center school, 1.0 FTE auto body, Center school, 1.0 FTE special needs support facilitator, Center school; .2 FTE drafting, Center school; 1.0 FTE English as a second language, K-12 district-wide; 1.0 FTE English/special education, ALC; .31 FTE administrative support at the Technical College; 1.0 FTE cosmetology, at the Technical College; .044 FTE development, Technical College; 2.0 FTE electronics, Technical College; 3.0 FTE farm business management at the Technical College; .244 FTE general studies at the Technical College; .36 FTE practical nursing at the Technical College; .5 FTE remedial related communications at the Technical College; 1.08 FTE safety and health at the Technical College; 1.17 FTE small business development center at the Technical College; and .44 FTE advanced electronics at the Technical College.

The board adopted a resolution declaring a 1.0 FTE area learning center English position available.

Glenn Espe and Myron Peterson gave a presentation on the elementary administrative structure status. They indicated they will be ready to come back to the board in the beginning of May with a recommendation on how to proceed with future plans.

In other business, the board: received reports from Business Manger Harry Nelson on investments, the fire marshall's reinspection, asbestos abatement and reinsulation, purchase of buses and sidewalk replacement project; Orley Gunderson reported on the TC President's meetings of March 18-19; Dennis Kiesow provided a summary of the regional board meeting of March 12; Al Mickelson, aviation director informed the board of the intent of the Aviation Facility to purchase computers and develop a computer library at the aviation center and Dr. Gunderson reviewed the discontinuance of positions of the Technical College; Superintendent Duncan reported and presented information concerning NWEL joint powers board and academic committee, the March enrollment, the K-12 calendar, facilities project including the financial consultant RFP, and the city finance committee meeting, accepted a grant of $2,500 for a proposal titled "paraprofessional grant" from the Minnesota department of education special education section; and approved a request for proposal for school district facilities project financial consultant as presented and discontinuing pairing of the wrestling program with Middle River at the end of the 1991-92 school year.

for the bill would do the following:

- Cause physicians to move to states that do not have taxes on health care providers.
- It would eliminate incentives for consultant physicians to come to communities like Thief River Falls. Consultant physicians would require patients to travel to communities outside of the state, such as Grand Forks. As a result, the community could lose retail sales from patients and physicians.
- Fewer physicians, could mean less work for individuals employed at hospitals in the community and as a result, there would be fewer employees.
- The cost of the tax would be passed on to consumers. This could cause insurance premiums for individuals who have insurance to increase. Spyhalski finds that instead of curtailing health care costs the plan would escalate health care costs.
- A tax on physicians would make it more difficult to recruit physicians. Currently, Northwest Medical Center is searching for five physicians.
- Funding sources will not be able to provide enough capital to provide assistance to the more than 200,000 people in the state who need assistance.

Spyhalski also believes it's a "bit heavy handed" because it would enforce mandatory participation by all doctors in medical assistance. The attempt to regulate people who are highly mobile because of their job skills, is a scary concept in Northwestern Minnesota.

Spyhalski is also opposed to the creation of state health care commission to establish statewide and regional limits on growth in total health care spending. The article also creates regional coordinating boards, a health planning advisory committee and a legislative oversight commission. Under this same article of the legislation, limitations are placed on provider conflicts of interest, physicians are provided malpractice protection, and mandatory Medicare assignment is required.

Although, Spyhalski likes the idea of malpractice protection, Spyhalski believes a commission would take away some of the autonomy of local hospitals and cause delays for needed projects.

Doctors and physicians at Northwest Medical Center would not be the only ones affected by the legislation. The term "Health Care Providers" refers to medical doctors, dentists, pharmacists, optometrists, psychologists, chiropractors, podiatrists, physical therapists, respiratory therapists, and occupational therapists, among others.

"It's bad news for this part of the state," said John Seaverson, DDS.

Seaverson says no matter how you look at it, it's a sales tax on health care.

Such a tax is also a jobs bill. Seaverson explained that many of the clinics and hospitals in northwestern Minnesota are affiliated with Dakota Clinic in Fargo, ND, or Grand Forks Clinic, or Fargo Clinic. Seaverson believes that if the tax is imposed, those clinics will begin to insist that patients travel to North Dakota where there is no tax. The impact would be to eliminate a lot of jobs in northwestern Minnesota.

Seaverson is also upset with a provision in the bill that doesn't allow itemization on the patient's bill. He wonders why the legislature is trying to hide the tax from the public.

Like many others, Seaverson doesn't have any reservations about the purpose of the bill — health care should be a right. However, it should be funded by a broad-based tax.

Spyhalski also suggests that a broad based tax such as personal income tax or sales tax to fund the bill. The cost per taxpayer would be insignificant, health care costs would not be artificially inflated by a new two per cent health care provider tax and there will be no impact on the distribution of physicians or patients being referred out-of-town or out-of-Minnesota.

Individual interested in expressing their opinions to legislators are encouraged to do so. Addresses of local representatives include: Senator LeRoy Stumpf, G-24 State Capital, St. Paul, MN 55155 or (612) 296-8660; Representative Wally Sparby, 351 State Office Building, St. Paul, MN 55155, or (612) 296-9918.

. . . 'Tis Spring, 'Tis Spring' Tra La' Tra La!

Notice those first sprightly sprouts of green appearing where there were none before, promises of carpets of green lawns and beautiful flowers in the near future. Tra la!

Remember the hours and hours of time it takes to mow that carpet of green and weed those beautiful flowers. Tra la!

As you awake in the early morning, listen to the twitter and warble of little birds, loudly welcoming the day and the return of warm weather. Tra la!

As you listen to the twitter and warble of the little birds welcoming the day, becoming louder and louder, glance at your clock and notice that it reads 4:00 A.M. and your alarm doesn't go off until 6:30. Tra la!

Hear the glad voices and laughter of children as they lift their little faces to the spring sunshine and play their spring games, happy that the long winter is over and summer is soon to come. Tra la!

Hear the glad voices and laughter alternate with hacking coughs as the children troop into the house after their spring games, soaking wet from head to toe. Wipe their noses while you are at it. Tra la!

Like a young child, lift your face to the sunshine and feel its warmth upon your face. It will erase the lines and cares of winter and bring fresh, glowing color to the cheeks. Tra la!

Do not lift your face to enjoy the fresh rays of the spring sun for any longer than a few minutes, however, for fear of skin cancer and rapid aging. Tra la!

Breathe deeply and smell the invigorating, exhilarating spring air, a delight to the senses, gladdening to the heart. The freshness will bring renewal and youth to both body and spirit. Tra la!

While you are breathing deeply, try to avoid standing downwind of the water purification plant, any place where they sell anhydrous ammonia, the neighbor with the large dog tied in his yard, or in the alley by the garbage bags. Tra la!

See the youth as they prance and caper, forgetting for a time the flippant, nonchalant attitude they maintain to demonstrate that they are no longer children. See the young adults, walking with children in tow, repeating the ritual of their own parents. See old men and women, monitoring their cautious, slow spring steps, careful lest they discover a patch of ice. Tra la!

While you are watching all of these people walking around, remember that you are liable for any accidents that happen on your property, so make sure your homeowner's insurance is up-to-date. Tra la!

Wash your car and then gather the family together to celebrate spring by taking a drive through town, enjoying the spring sights. Tra la!

Take your car to the shop the next day, explaining to the mechanic why the suspension, wheel alignment, tires, muffler and entire undercarriage of your car are out of whack from hitting all those pot holes on your drive around town. Tra la!

Take a sip of fresh, clear water to celebrate spring. Tra la!

Need I say more? Tra la! Tra la!

Mark Twain has Mathathon

Students in kindergarten through second grade at Mark Twain elementary school will be soliciting pledges for a Mathathon to assist St. Jude's Children's hospital.

The pledges will be based on the number of correct answers to math tests with 200 questions, according to Sue Froiland, who is coordinating the program at Mark Twain. This is the fourth year the Mathathon has been held at Mark Twain.

Cancer Society Daffodil Days brighten area

Approximately 19,000 daffodils blanketed Pennington county and area last week as Daffodil Days were observed by the Pennington county unit of the American Cancer Society, according to Sylvia Grindley and Maxine McEwen, who co-chaired the event.

Thirty-eight cases, each containing 500 of the showy yellow flowers of spring, were delivered by Hutchinson Transfer to Hall's Floral for storage and handling, then distributed throughout the county by many volunteers.

About three-fourths of the flowers were sold on an advance sale and the remainder at sales stands located at Pamida, Kmart, Northland Foods, Northern State Bank, Falls Mall and Norwest Bank. A total of $7,747 was raised through the flower sale for the American Cancer Society—an increase over last year's sales total.

"We are grateful to the people of Pennington county for their support of the society through the Daffodil Days project," Grindley and McEwen said. "Through their contributions we are able to bring renewed life and increased hope in the fight against cancer."

They said special thanks are due to Hutchinson Transfer and Hall's Floral for free delivery and storage of the flowers and to the business places which permitted on-site sales. Words of appreciation were also expressed for the "tireless efforts of our volunteers," who made it possible to realize another successful Daffodil Days campaign. "Our heartfelt thanks go to each one of you," the co-chairmen said.

Advance sales volunteer individuals or groups included Snooky Bondy, Cindy Cedergren, Clarice Collins, Judy Dimich, Jean Hansen, Nancy Hendrickson, Claudine Herber, Val Larson, Lincoln high school Key Club, Sylvia Olson, Wendy Olson, Marcia Padilla, Bonnie Pederson and Gelene Peltier;

Also Jan Peterson, Betty Roadfeldt, Audrey Rogalla, Phyllis Schoonhoven, Lorraine Seaverson, Alyce Sevre, Jan Strandlie, Dwight and Linda Tangquist, Pat Thompson, Darla Twomey, J. J. Womack and Jan Zimmerman.

On-site sales volunteers, coordinated by Linda Spyhalski and Julie Bakke, included the following: Vi Grant, Karen Johason, Carmen Larson, Pat Markstrom, Jan Kraemer, Paula Greelis, Peggy Kraemer, Sharon Hook, Anna Jorgenson, Irene Ellingson, Jeanette Hamerlinck; Judy Kotrba, Joyce Fox, Eunice Flynn, Evie Womack, Trisha Noel and Barb Restad;

Also Juanita Dahl, Marilyn Winters, Muriel Olin, Lois Amundgaard, Ruth Hanson, Betty Swanson, Willard Fleegel, Kay Fleegel, Helen Tri, Sunny Wold, Alice Patten, Lillian Ranum, Marcelene Orundhaus, Salma Halme, Fern Kranz, Helen Peterson, Vi Sullivan, Helen Bushaw, Myrtle Erickson, Arlene Folger, Gladys Johnson, Izzy Melin, Evelyn Peterson, Jan Haugen, Dan and Carol Rawertz;

Also Annabelle Cuppett, Virginia Buringrud, Dorothy Jung, Sharon Hamre, Eunice Munt, Lou Oen, Joni Jones, Jean Williams, Phyllis Miller, Kathy McKercher, Jan Upham, Ardie Botner, Pauline Aubol, Alvina Hanson, Arlene Kain, Jan Fessler, Sandy Sorter and Paul and Iris Furuseth.

Bookmobile notes change in schedule

Northwest Regional Library's bookmobile branch library will be stopping in Viking every other Tuesday instead of every other Thursday from 1 to 2:30 p.m. starting April 7.

Time change has also been made for the Newfolden school to 9 to 10:15 a.m. and the Strandquist school to 10:30 to 11:30 a.m., according to Margaret Moeglein, bookmobile branch librarian.

Trail date set in Beich case

Steven Mark Beich appeared in a Pennington county court Monday on charges of possession of narcotics.

The hearing on Monday was technically called an omnibus hearing. Beich waived the hearing and a trial date was tentatively set for May 12 at 9 a.m., according to the Pennington county court administrator's office.

Beich pled not guilty on March 16 to two counts of possession of a controlled substance in the fifth degree in Pennington county. On March 26, bond was reduced to $10,000 and he made bail.

Although a trial date was set, Beich faces charges in Kittson county and further hearings may come up in Pennington county that could change the date of the trial.

An omnibus hearing is a hearing at which the judge considers many matters including the legality of procedures followed in arrest or prosecution.

Karlstad Teen pageant seeking contestants

The Miss Teen Karlstad pageant is currently seeking contestants for this year's pageant. This year the pageant will be open to all area girls, grades 7-11 (completed). There are two winners chosen every year in the two different age divisions. They are the Princess title-grades 7 and 8, and the Queen title, grades 9, 10 and 11. The girls are judged in four different areas: personal interview, sportswear modeling, talent and party dress. Prize packages include: crown, trophy, a $200 savings bond, a pearl and diamond ring and much more. The pageant is set for Friday, June 26 at the Tri-County school. The deadline for entering is April 15. For factsheet and rehearsal schedules or further information, call Carolyn Anderson at 436-2370 or 536-2155.

Toastmaster change meeting for April 7

Northwest Toastmaster club will change its meeting place for the April 7 meeting only from the Thief River Falls public library to the meeting room of the Pennington county law enforcement center.

The club meets the second and fourth Tuesday of each month at 7 a.m. in the north conference room of Northwest Medical center and the first and third Tuesday at noon in the library meeting room.

Guests at recent meetings of the noon club were Ruth Wilkinson, Jackie Bertram, Roger Schmitz and Rev. Kleinwachter. Lana Sandahl was recently installed as a new member at a 7 a.m. meeting.

Anyone interested in joining the organization or attending a meeting is invited to call president Diane Freeman at 681-7129.

Peters, Dicken are student Rotarians

Kym Peters, daughter of Glen and Del Peters, and Lisa Dicken, daughter of Dr. Robert and Connie Dicken, are serving as student Rotarians for March with the Thief River Falls Rotary club.

They will attend the Monday noon luncheon meetings of the club at the Best Western Inn and report on the activities and coming events at Lincoln high school.

Both girls have been boys' basketball cheerleaders since ninth grade and are seniors this year. They are also high ranking students scholastically in the Class of 1992.

Lisa has been a band member for all four years at Lincoln, playing in the marching band the last two years and in the wind ensemble for three years. The 17-year-old also has been on the swimming and diving team since her freshman year and was on the girls' golf team as a freshman.

She said she likes to swim and dive, loves math and Spanish, enjoys participating in school activities, spending time with her friends and watching baseball. She has one brother, Jeremy, age 20.

This fall she plans to attend Concordia college in Moorhead to begin work on a four-year degree.

Kym, also 17, was a member of the mock trial team which finished second in the regional tournament and was undefeated going into the final trial. She is class co-president this year and a member of the student newspaper staff. She was in the Key club as a sophomore and worked on the yearbook and played tennis as a freshman.

Kym says she enjoys reading, writing, drawing, art, English, being with her friends, attending school activities, cross-stitching and watching tennis. She works part-time at Kmart and has no brothers nor sisters.

This fall she plans to attend college in Moorhead at either Concordia or Moorhead State University.

Viking . . . .

Leonard Larson of Viking, and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holbrok of Lowell, ID, were supper guests Tuesday evening at the Bruce Larson home of Thief River Falls.

Sunday Willis and Joyce Johnson visited at the Steve Zippa home in Argyle. The Johnsons and Zippas had their dinner together at the Sundbys restaurant in Argyle. Later Sunday afternoon Willis and Joyce Johnson visited at the Bront Magnor home of Newfolden.

The second reason language of the bill was not presented to the public for a vote before it reached the legislature, is because elected officials could not know what the legislature thought should be qualified projects.

The difference between the House and Senate version is a result of differences in policies. The Senate representatives who have looked at the bill believe city sales tax revenue should only be spent on specific projects, a list much more restrictive than the House version. The difference of opinion also helps answer why city officials have been spending so much time lobbying at the state capitol.

Community Development Director Don Stewart explained that last year, Mankato hired a professional firm at a cost of $20,000 to lobby for their proposed sales tax. It passed through the House and Senate, and was approved by the voters in an election after it was approved by the legislature.

Stewart said it is the intent of the city to lobby for the House version.

Thief River Falls' representative delegation last Thursday before the House of Representatives included: Mayor Robert Reeve, John T. Anderson, alderman at large, Darla Twomey, board of education representative, Ken Murphy, county board of commissioners, Jane Mattson, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Roger Reuter, representing Jobs Inc. and the task force, Jerry Wigness, city clerk, and Don Stewart, community development director.

If citizens prefer one version over another they are being asked to write letters to members of the tax committees. Names and addresses of these individuals can be obtained by contacting Rep. Wally Sparby, Sen. LeRoy Stumpf or Community Development Director Don Stewart.

Strandquist . . . .

Pearl Engen and Ruth Tostrup of Newfolden, visited Saturday at Wayne Stromgren's home.

Monday evening Janice Carlson and LaVoi Thun visited Hilma Carlson and other residents at the nursing home in Karlstad. LaVoi visited Anne Hanson in Thief River Falls on Wednesday.

State Representative Wally Sparby (left, back row) and State Senator LeRoy Stumpf of Thief River Falls (back row, center) were visited at the capitol recently by 4-H students from northwestern Minnesota. The students are from Red Lake, Pennington and Marshall counties. The students visited the Capitol for the day, toured the historic building, and observed the legislature as it met in floor Senate and House sessions and committee meetings.

State honors wastewater plants in area

Goodridge, Newfolden and Thief River Falls, were among 101 wastewater treatment plants in the state honored during the 55th annual Wastewater Operations Seminar in Bloomington on March 18. During the seminar, a record 101 plants were selected by the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) to receive Certificates of Commendation for outstanding performance.

The three-day seminar provides up-to-date training for treatment plant operators from around the state. MPCA staff started recognizing outstanding performance of treatment plants and operators in 1977. The awards ceremony has become a highlight of the yearly seminar, and the commendations are highly regarded by the communities and operators.

The 101 facilities getting awards had exceptional records of compliance with state and federal water quality standards during 1991. To be eligible for the awards, the facilities had to perform within their permitted discharge limits every month during the year, submit all monitoring reports correctly and on time, show no problems in compliance monitoring or in operations or maintenance surveys and be run by certified operators.

The MPCA also considered whether facilities were built and operated according to approved plans and specifications, and if efforts to properly treat wastewater were active and cooperative. The size of the community, institution or treatment plant was not a criterion. The MPCA said all of the more than 1,100 wastewater treatment facilities in the state are considered for the annual awards.

MEA meeting will attract 600

Area teacher-delegates will attend the annual Representative Assembly of the Minnesota Education association March 13-14 at the Radisson South hotel in Bloomington.

Attending will be Elaine Grovum, Christine Burnham and Edith Etter of Thief River Falls, Fay Ryden, Leanne Johnson, Patti Johnson, James Baron, Beth Duhoux and George Liapis representing the Kramer-Brown Cluster and Richard Churchill of Greenbush.

The delegates represent more than 45,500 members of the MEA statewide. They will debate MEA's legislative objectives, including support for early childhood education programs, reorganization of school districts to provide quality education programs for all students, support for the merger of higher education systems and retirement improvement for all public school employees.

Delegates will also hear updates on the possible merger of MEA and the Minnesota Federation of Teachers (MFT).

Warning given on soliciting

John Ellison, Pennington county veterans service officer, warns that phone solicitation has been done in the name of the Paralyzed Veterans of America (PVA), ostensibly for the USDVA medical centers.

PVA is not conducting such a fund raising program over the phone, Ellison said, and the public should be aware in the event they receive any such phone solicitation.

Worker's Comp meeting in TRF is rescheduled

Forum on Worker's Compensation has been rescheduled from March 31 to April 7. The form, designed to provide an update on the status of workers' compensation reform bills will be held 8 a.m. Tuesday, April 7, at the C'Mon Inn on Highway 59 South in Thief River Falls.

Speakers for the meeting include Joe Goggin, chair, workers' compensation coalition and the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce, and vice president of finance for Red Wing Shoe company. Also, Brad Ervin, director of Workforce Policy, Minnesota Chamber of Commerce.

The forum is free. Pressure is building to pass a meaningful workers' compensation reform bill this session. A number of bills have been introduced at the legislature. Only a couple of these bills are receiving serious consideration. While they contain some important reform measures, neither address the problem of long-term, permanent benefits and therefore fall significantly short of meeting the reform principles adopted by the Workers' Compensation Coalition. The real battle will be fought on the floors of the House and Senate. Continued support and pressure on legislators is absolutely essential.

Individuals wishing to attend the meeting are asked to contact the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720 or the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce at 612-292-4672.

The meeting is sponsored by the Theif River Falls Chamber of Commerce, the Workers' Compensation Coalition and the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce.

Don's Sewing and Vaccum Service opened for business in Thief River Falls in February. Don Conard received a First Dollar award from Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce Ambassadors Holly Haugen and Bob Bergan recently. Don provides sales and service on all makes and models. Don's is also an authorized representative for warranty and service on Kirby vaccume. The store, located at 307 East First in Thief River Falls, is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Farm Mgmt. lunch date set for April 8

Second Annual noon buffet luncheon and Farm Management Analysis summary meeting will be held beginning 12 noon Wednesday, April 8 at Lon's Restaurant on Oakland Park road in Thief River Falls. The banquet and program will conclude around 2 p.m.

Willis Eken of Twin Valley will be the featured speaker. Willis, a former state legislator and past president of the Minnesota Farmers Union is presently serving on Congressman Collin Peterson's staff. Willis will be speaking on how current legislative issues will effect agriculture in the 1990s. GATT, conservation and environmental issues will be a few of the areas he will discuss.

Verne Spengler, regional Agriculture program manager, will summarize the 1991 area FBM averages for earnings, as well as, crop and livestock enterprises.

Those farmers who have completed their farm records analysis for 1991 will receive their yearly summary book. Complimentary copies will be available for guests in attendance who have need for this summary information.

Concorida gives scholarship

Ellen Olson has been selected to receive a music performance scholarship from Concordia College in Moorhead.

Olson is the daughter of Ronald and Regina Olson of Thief River Falls. She is a student at Lincoln high school.

Established to recognize excellence in performance as well as potential for outstanding contributions to the Concordia community, this $6,000 scholarship is payable in annual installments of $1,500. The scholarship is not based on financial need.

A total of 30 music performance scholarships are awarded to incoming freshmen annually. While applicants need not be music majors to receive a scholarship, they are expected to enroll in private music lessons. Scholarship recipients are also required to participate in one of the organizations on campus in the area of their scholarship.

Selection is based upon proficiency in one of the performing arts areas and academic ability.

Missions conference at Covenant church

"Christ for a Changing World" is the theme for the 30th annual spring missions conference April 5-8 at the Evangelical Covenant church in Thief River Falls. The public is invited to attend any or all services scheduled for Sunday at 10:30 and 6 p.m. and Monday through Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Special music will feature Sylvia Rogers and youth musical groups. A fellowship meal will follow the morning service on Sunday and a fellowship supper will be served at 6 p.m. Wednesday prior to the service. Nursery care will be provided and there will be special youth emphasis meetings for primary children.

Featured speakers will be Dennis and Mary Lynn Carlson, Covenant missionaries from Zaire, Africa; Dennis and Amanda Anderson, Northern Canada Evangelical Mission workers from The Pas, Manitoba, Dan and Sylvia Rogers, Missionary Aviation Fellowship participants recently working in Haiti, and Rev. Oliver Urdahl of Viking along with members of a short term Haiti missions team.

About the Missionaries...

Dennis Carlson, a graduate of Seattle Pacific College and North Park Theological seminary, has a background in Christian camp work, several years of work with the church in Eastern Europe, and experience as pastor of a church in Kansas City.

His wife Mary Lynn, is the daughter of retired Zaire missionaries Gordon and Geneva Christiansen, a graduate of Moody Bible Institute and Kansas University and a short term missionary to Zaire prior to her marriage to Dennis in 1988.

Dennis and Mary Lynn worked in church planting, evangelism and discipleship in Kinshasa, Zaire, until their evacuation in September. Presently serving on the pastoral staff at Grace covenant church in Little Falls, they are hoping to return to Zaire this summer. They will speak Sunday morning and Wednesday evening.

Dennis Anderson is returning to his home church with his wife Amanda when he speaks in Thief River Falls at the Tuesday evening service. The son of Irene Anderson and a graduate of Lincoln high school, he also graduated from Bethany Fellowship in Minneapolis.

Amanda Anderson is originally from Morris, Man., Canada and is a graduate of Prairie Bible Institute at Three Hills, Alberta, Canada. They have ministered together to the Indian communities around The Pas, Manitoba, for the past 14 years and will be telling about their work.

Born and raised in Ethiopia and a graduate of Moody Bible Institute Flight program as well as Omaha Bible College, Dan Rogers has worked with Missionary Aviation Fellowship in both Suriname and Haiti along with his wife Sylvia, also a graduate of Omaha Bible college.

Returning to participate in the missions conference for Sunday evening, they will discuss the challenges of missionary flying prior to evacuation from Haiti in October. Along with their family of four they anticipate Spanish language study before being reassigned to a new field of service.

Rev. Oliver Urdahl of Viking will be joined for the Monday evening presentation by several team members who went on a missions trip to Haiti in January to work with one of the national pastors near the capital city of Port Au Prince.

Marshall Co. Historical Society meets

Marshall County Historical Society will meet 7:30 p.m. Thursday, April 9, at the Newfolden Community Center. Plans for the 1992 season will be discussed.

Memorials received from November through March include the following: in memory of Arthur Haugen by Minnie Haugen; in memory of Martha Olson by Leona Neegard, and Marilyn and Neil Mattson; in memory of John Englestad by Joan Englestad, Neil and Marilyn Mattson, and Leona Neegard; in memory of Vernon Flaten by Neil and Marilyn Mattson, and Rick and Nancy Mattson; and by Neil and Marilyn Mattson in memory of Ellen Hvidsten, Sam Anderson, Clarence Pearson, Clarence Nybakken, Ella M. Miller, Grace Swanberg, and Edwin Strong.

The memorials received are appreciated and are used to further the development of the museum.

The museum will officially open on Monday, May 4. During the month of May, it will be open from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The summer hours are from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The museum will be open on Sundays from 12 noon to 4 p.m. during the months of June, July and August.

CPR, first aid courses taught at tech college

Course in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) will be offered by the customized training and services division of the Thief River Falls Technical college Tuesday and Thursday, April 21 and 23, from 6 to 10 p.m. at the college. Cost will be $25.

The American Heart Association CPR course is designed to meet the needs of adults in the workplace. It will prepare the participant in the infant, child and adult CPR techniques and management of choking infants, children and adults. All students will gain experience through practice of techniques.

First Aid/CPR course will be taught Mondays, April 20 and 27, from 6 to 10 p.m. at the college, also with a $25 fee. The eight-hour standard first aid class is designed to assist persons in caring for accident victims and/or persons who suddenly become ill.

For more information or to preregister for either course, contact the technical college customized training and services division at 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

wheat and was loaded in about 48 hours.

Guest speaker for the meeting will be Dave Swenson of St. Paul, vice president of Harvest States Cooperative. Audit report on the financial operation will be summarized by auditor Bob Krugler of Fargo, ND.

Election of one director for a three-year term will be held with the term of Charles Naplin expiring. Dividends of approximately $100,000, representing 20 per cent of the dividends earned on 1991 fiscal year business with the cooperative, will be available for distribution at the meeting.

Door prizes will be awarded as well as a $25 early bird drawing among members present by 10 a.m. Dinner following the meeting will be served by Black River Lutheran church. Matching funds up to $450 will be provided by Lutheran Brotherhood Branch 8129, resulting in $900 being donated to three charitable projects.

BN to buy hopper cars

Burlington Northern Railway will purchase 500 new jumbo, covered hopper cars for its grain-hauling fleet from Trinity Industries, a manufacturer in Dallas, TX, for a purchase price of more than $20 million.

The cars will be delivered during the third quarter of this year and will be available for the peak of the 1992 harvest season. They will have extra capacity, allowing them to handle about 11 tons more grain than the 100-ton capacity of a standard jumbo covered hopper.

In 1991 BN was the largest rail transporter of grain in North America, hauling almost 40 million tons. The company currently operates a fleet of more than 24,000 covered hopper cars, including leased cars. In the recent peak demand period from September through February, the fleet grew to more than 27,000 cars.

PRAIRIE RAMBLING

by Gretchen Baito

Do you know anyone who arrived in Thief River Falls on an immigrant train? I didn't, and so when Olive Rehm told me about her husband's journey, I went to their place to talk with Bill.

At age seven Martin (Bill) Rehm moved here with his father, Otto, and eleven-year-old brother Allen, on an immigrant train, traveling in a boxcar. The year was 1917.

The Rehms were ranchers in Stratton, CO, where they had lived in a dug-out and then in an adobe house. They raised cattle on the free range, but when the government did away with the free range and opened it up for homesteading, the Rehms knew that a small farm of arid land could not support their livestock. They decided to sell their cattle, and Otto Rehm took a couple of carloads of livestock to Denver. However, no decent prices were being given there, so he went on to Omaha. There was nothing there either, so he went on to South St. Paul.

While he was in St. Paul, he met a man from St. Hilaire who told him that good land that homesteaders had given up was available there. That sounded so good that after Otto sold his livestock in South St. Paul, he went to St. Hilaire to look around. His new friend also knew a realtor in St. Hilaire who sold Otto five quarters of unimproved land, seven miles east of Hazel in Kratka township.

Earlier, three brothers and a sister had homesteaded this section and they had built a house where the four quarters joined so that one fourth of the cabin was on each quarter. This way they could prove up the land, yet live together. However, in 1915, a prairie fire had destroyed their buildings.

Otto made arrangements to have a granary built on the property that the family would use as a dwelling until a house could be built, and then went back to Colorado to move his family.

They decided that Bill's mother, Carrie, and the other children, Elsie, Marie and Joe, would come later when their house was ready and the spring farm work done. Carrie was expecting a child and so she and the children went to her parents' home in Nebraska to await the birth of her baby.

The Rehms moved their goods by using their team and wagon to Stratton where they shipped everything by train to Omaha. In Omaha the immigrant train was made up of many boxcars, each car assigned to an immigrant family and their goods. The Rehm family had use of an entire boxcar to transport all the things they would need at their new farm. One half of the boxcar was filled with wagons, household goods and farm machinery such as rakes, mowers and plow. The other half of the car was filled with their ten head of horses, hay, feed and harnesses.

Otto and young Allen and Bill lived in the "alley" between their goods and horses. The Rehms placed chairs in front of the boxcar door and when it was not too cold, kept the door open so they could see the countryside.

Bill remembers sleeping on blankets on the floor of the boxcar. They ate bread and butter and home-canned canned meats and fruits. Sometimes they would eat in a restaurant when the train stopped at a family's destination or when the train stopped to allow the animals to walk about.

One time the train derailed—the car ahead lost two wheels. That delay was long, but a passerby saw the children and their dad and took them to his home where they feasted on hot buckwheat pancakes and maple syrup.

The journey from Omaha to their new home in Minnesota took a week or more.

The town of Hazel, four miles east of St. Hilaire, was the Rehms' destination. Hazel had two stores, a school, post office, bank, blacksmith shop, creamery, a big new depot and dance halls.

At Hazel the Rehms' boxcar was backed onto a siding and the men took out one wagon and all of the horses. The train continued north with several other immigrant families.

The tree Rehms proceeded toward their new farm, horses in tow, but it was March and the ditches had not yet opened up. Water was everywhere, and landmarks were covered up. Somehow they found the old bridge, and drove the horses and team and wagon to one of their neighbors, Knute Johnson.

The next morning 11-year-old Allen rode over to another neighbor, asked for their help, and the neighbors took their wagons and teams to Hazel and helped unload the boxcar and move the Rehms to the farm. There were no fences, roads or fields. Drought and dust of Colorado were replaced by rain and swamps.

The three Rehms moved into the granary that had been built. That spring young Bill helped his dad and brother clear brush and trees from 12 acres and after they broke ground with a grub hoe, they planted oats.

Later that summer Carrie, month-old baby Dorothy and the other children arrived. By then Otto was hauling lumber from Thief River Falls. The big frame house, 28 feet square, went up with help from a neighbor.

Life wasn't all work. When a movie was shown in Hazel, the Rehm boys would hike seven miles to town to see it.

After Bill married Olive, the Rehms lived in Smiley township for many years and later moved to Goodridge. Today the Rehms live in Highlanding township where they are content to enjoy retirement and look out over fields that Bill once cleared.

Dolly Hallstrom

Hallstrom to chair state advisory unit

Recendy elected as chairperson of the Minnesota Cosmetology Advisory Council, a division of the Minnesota Department of Commerce, is Dolly Hallstrom of St. Hilaire.

Hallstrom, beginning her second four-year term, serves on the 11-member council as a salon owner. Kathy Winjum of Thief River Falls also serves on the board as a consumer representative. Stylists and instructors are also represented on the council and members are appointed by the Commissioner of Commerce.

Purpose of the council is to govern the practices of the profession of cosmetology, Mrs. Hallstrom said. Meetings are held in St. Paul annually or as needed during the year.

One of the concerns addressed at the recent annual meeting was a recommendation to extend the hourly training requirements for cosmetologists to be state licensed. Cited as reasons for the more extensive training were the increased spread of communicable diseases and the extensive use of chemicals in the industry.

Joining the council at its meeting were Commissioner Bert McKasy, Dennis Poppenberger and supervisor Jan Smith.

County names Outstanding Farm Family

Darrow and Shirley Lundeen and family of Trail were recognized as the Pennington County Outstanding Farm Family at a ceremony and banquet March 19 on the St. Paul campus of the University of Minnesota. Fifty-nine Minnesota farm families were recognized at the 12th annual event. Regent Jean Keffeler was the keynote speaker, and Richard Jones, dean of the College of Agriculture, was master of ceremonies.

The Lundeens were nominated by the Pennington County Extension committee for their achievements in farming and for contributing to local civic and agricultural organizations.

Their four-generation farm was homesteaded in 1904 by Darrow's grandfather, Frank Lundeen. The Lundeens grow mostly wheat, corn and sunflowers on 1,650 acres of owned and rented land. Their two sons, Kelly, 36, and Gary, 32, run the dairy portion of the farm. The couple also has two married daughters.

The award is sponsored by the university's colleges of agriculture, human ecology and natural resources, Minnesota Extension Service, Minnesota Agricultural Experiment Station, University of Minnesota at Crookston and the University of Minnesota at Waseca.

Our Savior's Academy lists honor students

Our Saviour's Christian Academy has released its honor roll for the third quarter of the 1991-92 school year.

Students on the "A" honor roll include the following: Becky Bray, David Bray, Rachal Bray, Rebecca Forsberg, Angela Kading, Adam Larson, Nikoli Larson, Jonathan Lee, Larry Myhrer, Marcy Myhrer, Tammy Myhrer, Jennie Novellino, Laura Ohlrogge, Esther Palmer, and Mandi Rodahl.

Students on the "B" honor roll include the following: Chester Dyrud, Rachael Forsberg, Cheryl Johanning, Felicia Patterson, Shawn McIntosh, and Becca Palmer.

RLF students begin Arctic adventure

Students in Red Lake Falls will begin an arctic adventure in early April when they join schools around the world in phase one of the International Arctic project. The classroom computer/science project will go on line April 4 as Ely native Will Steger and his expeditionary team leave Churchill, Manitoba, for a five week training session.

Classrooms at Lafayette high school and Hughes elementary will begin tracking Steger and his team as they travel by dogsled and canoe to Nueltin Lake, turning toward the Hudson Bay and returning along the Caribou river. Students will be in direct contact with scientists via an international computer network.

The technology director for Red Lake Falls public schools, Bryan Thygeson, says the district will join the network thanks to a relay provided by Bemidji State University.

"Bemidji State has been a critical partner. They've made this opportunity a reality for our students by providing the initial link with the Steger team. Information is accessed through a computer relay to the Northwestern Minnesota Global Studies Institute and our classrooms in Red Lake Falls."

Thygeson says the first step will be to introduce the Red Lake Falls school district to the 16 United States schools and the nine international schools which will share the network during the first stage of the pilot project. The second will be to consolidate information about the arctic into one question which will be relayed to and researched by Steger's team. Expedition members will attempt to answer questions in journal entries which are transmitted through the computer network to students in Red Lake Falls.

"This opens a whole new network of communication for us. Not only can we communicate with Steger's team, but we are also in direct contact with schools across the United States, Canada, Japan, Belgium, Saudi Arabia, Germany, Denmark, Northern Ireland, and France."

Initially, the IAP will be included in elementary programing, eighth grade earth science, and senior high math classes in Red Lake Falls. Thygeson says the next step is to draw other schools in the region into the network, possibly through a new inter-active television system, scheduled to go on line this spring.

Thygeson says education specialists will work on curriculum design involving the IAP during the Integrated Technologies seminar, sponsored by Bemidji State University at the Northwestern Minnesota Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls August 2-6.

TRF Foundation has $68,809 in student loans

Student loans receivable in the amount of $68,809 were reported at the annual meeting of the Thief River Falls Foundation Thursday afternoon in Thief River Falls.

The Foundation, a non-profit corporation established many years ago to assist area students with funds to attend post-secondary schools, had 29 loans in force in the fiscal year ending Nov. 30, 1991. Three new loans were made during the year, totaling $6,500.

Cash receipts of $12,264 during the year included payment of $4,105 in interest and $8,080 in principal. Pending additional loan requests, $4,000 was transferred to savings during the year.

Directors of the Foundation again approved providing $100 scholarships each to the Thief River Falls Technical college and Northland Community college.

Reelected to five-year terms on the board of directors were James Matson and Ronald Trontvet.

Reelected as officers of the foundation were Randal Noper, president, Marvin Lundin, vice president, and Ronald Hanson, secretary-treasurer.

The foundation actively solicits contributions which are tax deductible and which will serve students on a perpetual basis through loans and repayments.

Is HealthRight Right For Minnesota? Your Physician Doesn't Think So!

Minnesota deserves legislation for the uninsured that will preserve our quality health care and provide coverage for all. HealthRight will not do that.

HealthRight:

- Does not insure all Minnesotans
- Adds a 2% tax on your health care services which will increase your health care bill
- Mandates strict cost containment measures that would lead to rationing of health care
- Bans new medical technologies that haven't received prior state approval
- Will lead to hospital closures and physicians leaving Minnesota
- Imposes increased bureaucratic controls on your health care

Minnesota has a tradition of quality health care, and physicians have been delivering that care at a cost 18% below the national average.

Most Valuable Player Award honors went to senior Jodi Kruta, the Prowlers' all time leading scorer, during the recent Lincoln High School girls basketball banquet that capped the 1991-92 season.

Kruta, who finished a four-year varsity career with 1,771 points, was also named the Prowlers' top offensive player and earned the Take a Charge Award for leading the team in that special statistical category.

Multiple awards also went to sophomore Toni Chiodo, who was named the Prowlers' most improved player and top defensive player.

Junior Leslie Ammerman earned special recognition for winning the Prowlers' free throw shooting contest, hitting 91 of 100 attempts during the single-day event held during the year.

Chiodo and junior Amy Adams were named co-captains of the 1992-93 Prowlers, a role Adams shared this year with Kruta and senior Tank Koivisto.

Athletic letters were presented to Koivisto and Kruta, the only seniors on this year's squad; juniors Vanessa Anderson, Alison Peterson, Adams and Ammerman; sophomores Lori DeLap, Lisa Ulrich and Chiodo; along with student managers Jolene Gonsorowski, Jennifer Vigen, Angelique Goulet, Chris Soto and Daniele DuChamp.

Howard Thorson and Amy Roche presented junior varsity and freshman awards as participation certificates went to sophomores Nicolle Armstrong, Jami Dehnert, Lori Golightly, April Klinker, Danita Miller, Holly Miller, Stefanie Swanson and Karissa Walseth; freshmen Kara Boughton, Jessica Bugge, Sara Disterhaupt, Sally Hagen, Erika Jensen, Jana Johnson, Carie Lawrence, Jeanne Nelson, Lisa Rendulich, Kelly Skeim, Holly Stusynski and Jenny Wilde; plus student managers Wendy Davis and Becky Gallaney.

Jane Miller awarded varsity basketball cheerleader letters to senior Maria del Mar Martinez and sophomores Tara Larson, Charity Pederson and Sara Tyler.

Thief River Falls finished the 1991-92 season with a 14-10 record, beating Fergus Falls 55-51 in first round North Sub-Section 8AA tournament play before losing to Alexandria 54-36 in the semifinals.

"I think our record was excellent," said first-year Thief River Falls head coach Sally Wiltse. "It surpassed our expectations."

Moving up from the ranks of an assistant to head coach was a struggle at times, admitted Wiltse. "Everyone had to go through a year of learning," she said. "There was a lot to be learned by the players and the coaches. It was frustrating at times. It was kind of like my first year of teaching – you're glad it's over, but you want to get started on the next year right away so you can put all the things you learned into place and get on with the program."

Kruta averaged 19.6 points per game. Adams finished with a 12.2 scoring average and pulled down 9.1 rebounds per game.

Injuries and health problems that sidelined Adams and Koivisto during stretches of the season, plus the implementation of a new system under a new head coach made parts of the 1991-92 season a little less than smooth, admitted Wiltse, but the Prowlers battled through the rough spots. "The kids worked hard," said Wiltse. "They had a good year."

Thief River Falls' best basketball was played at mid-season, according to Wiltse, when they went from 4-4 to 12-7, an 8-3 stretch that included a forfeit loss to Fosston when the Prowlers' 68-53 victory was negative by a player participation rules violation (using a player in more than five quarters during a junior varsity/varsity doubleheader).

"All the kids struggled with different aspects of their game at various times during the year," noted Wiltse, "but during that stretch when we were really playing well as a team, we had three-four girls scoring in double figures most nights and everybody was contributing."

Post-season award won by Kruta, Adams

Thief River Falls' Jodi Kruta and Amy Adams were among the ten girls named recently to the 1991-92 All-North Sub-Section 8AA high school basketball team.

The team included players from Thief River Falls, Bemidji, Moorhead, Detroit Lakes and Fergus Falls, but did not feature selections from North Sub-Section 8AA member Alexandria because the Cardinals' regular season schedule includes only a couple of games against sub-sectional foes.

Mariucci picks are headed by Bemidji group

Bemidji placed three players on the Mariucci Conference high school all-conference hockey team announced recently to lead the voting for the post-season honors.

Lumberjacks named to the First Team were goalie Toby Kvalevog, defenseman Mike Donaghue and forward Andy Brink (who nevertheless spent most of the year on defense).

Roseau, Warroad, East Grand Forks and Moorhead all had one First Team pick.

Defenseman Marc Haugen and forward Jason Svir of Thief River Falls were Second Team choices, while the Prowlers' Barry Dowers, Aaron Brotea, Nathan Knutson, Rick Ostby and Carter Rogalla were all given Honorable Mention status.

Bryan Grand of Bemidji and Brian Vainsdal of Fergus Falls were named Mariucci Conference Co-Coaches of the Year.

TRF tennis starts Monday

Seven letter winners are back, but Thief River Falls boys high school tennis coach Jay Forney will nevertheless field a young squad when the 1992 season gets underway Monday with a dual meet match-up against Crookston at the Grand Forks Tennis Centre.

There 27 players reporting for the daily 6:30 a.m. work-outs, but none of them are seniors. Lettermen returning off a team that was 5-18 overall last year are juniors Trevor Haugen and Darin Feragen, along with sophomores Derek Dahlstrom, David Johnson, Kyle Jordet, Marc Seaverson and Jeff Twomey.

Others on hand include juniors Jared Goldesberry, Kyle Egenes, Jeremy Anderson, John Gunstad, Hans Helgenset and Corey Thorson; sophomores Tony Miramontes, Cory Anderson, Chris Bjornstad, Brad Flynn, Kent Larson, Jeff Lundgren and Corey Olson; freshmen Shane Dondelinger, Seamus Duffy, Dustin Eddleman, Scott Fogarty, Tony Jelle, Matt Johnson and Tom Stumpf; along with eighth graders Keith Anderson, Nick Chiodo and Robbie Stock.

Forney, who has worked with both the Thief River Falls boys and girls tennis programs over the years, returns as the boys' head coach this season, succeeding Rick Engelstad. He is being assisted by Kent Holmes, with Kim Maidment serving as coach at the middle school level.

Fergus Falls, Moorhead and Bemidji look like the top three teams in North Sub-Section 8AA this spring, according to Forney, who admits his squad faces a major challenge against the top teams. "Our goal," he said, "is simply to improve our overall game. We want the kids to go out and play good, solid tennis and give it a 100 percent effort every time they go on the court."

Blue Line Club to meet Wednesday

Thief River Falls Blue Line Club meeting will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium.

Everyone interested in the Thief River Falls hockey program is invited to attend.

TRF teams compete in Northwest Indoor

A still-quiet Thief River Falls spring sports schedule will be limited to a single track meet this week as the Lincoln High School boys and girls participate in the annual Northwest Indoor at the Red River Valley Winter Shows Building in Crookston today (Tuesday) beginning at 4:30 p.m.

It'll be the second outing for both teams, who participated in the Lions Club Indoor Classic at Bemidji State University March 21.

Three season openers are scheduled next week:

- Lincoln boys tennis team will meet Crookston Monday, April 6, at the Grand Forks Tennis Centre.
- Northland Community College baseball team, currently on a week-long spring training trip in Nebraska, will be in Bemidji Tuesday, April 7, for a doubleheader against the BSU junior varsity.
- Lincoln softball team will start the year at the Alexandria Invitational Saturday, April 11.

Rest of the Thief River Falls spring sports openers include:

- Lincoln baseball - Tuesday, April 14, at Ada/Borup.
- Northland softball Wednesday, April 15, at Brainerd.
- Lincoln girls golf - Monday, April 20, in a triangular at the Thief River Golf Club.
- Lincoln boys golf - Friday, April 24, at Fergus Falls.

Archery Club makes Food Shelf donation

Fifty-four participants wound up making a $239 cash and food items contribution to the Area Food Shelf during a Thief River Falls Archery Club Invitational fund-raising indoor tournament Saturday and Sunday.

Competition was held at the range located above the Old Arena. Entry fee was $5, or comparable-priced food items, with the donations going to the Area Food Shelf.

Sports Boosters Meet

Lincoln High School track coaches Glenn Chiodo (girls) and Tim Olson (boys) will be the guest speakers Thursday during the weekly 12-noon Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club luncheon meeting at the Rex Cafe.

Weight Lifting Meet

Seventh annual Lincoln High School weight lifting meet will be held Thursday beginning at 7 p.m. at the school.

Open to all Lincoln boys and girls, the bench press competition is designed as a fund-raising program for the LHS weight room, with entrants raising pledges for their efforts.

Trophies will be presented to the top three finishers in the various weight classes. Spectators are welcome.

Notes...

- Sports Editor Mike Lundgren is back as his desk following a one-week vacation.
- Section 8 high school hockey statistician Frank Fee reports that the Region 8A committee is expected to approve awarding of the 1993 Section 8 Tier I and Tier II hockey tournament semifinals and finals to Moorhead during its April 22 meeting. Thief River Falls hosted the 1992 games. Before the two-tier format the single-class Section 8 quarterfinals, semifinals and finals were rotated between Thief River Falls and East Grand Forks on a yearly basis.
- John Jacobson has resigned as Detroit Lakes head high school hockey coach.
- A retirement banquet for Crookston football coach and athletic director Les Drechsel will be held Saturday, April 11, at the Crookston Eagles Lodge. Social will start at 6 p.m., with a dinner and program set for 7. Tickets are $10, which includes the meal and a donation for a gift. Tickets are available at the Crookston Central High School office.
- Sara Walrath of Chippewa Falls, WI, whose grandparents – Glen and Mary Walrath – and an uncle – Chuck Walrath – live in Thief River Falls, has accepted an athletic scholarship offer from the University of Wisconsin. She has won state track titles in the 1600 and 3200 meters and was a state cross country runner-up. Sara, who carries a 3.94 GPA, was heavily recruited nation-wide. She is just the second Chippewa Falls athlete to earn an NCAA Division I scholarship out of high school – her sister was the first.

DNR News

Minnesota's Nongame Wildlife Program received bad news recently when an early report from the Department of Revenue cited a decrease in donations for the nongame wildlife checkoff. The report stated that 133,000 tax forms had been processed thus far, with checkoff donations down 2.4 percent.

Carrol Henderson, supervisor of the Nongame Wildlife Fund, said the decrease is significant "because the first people to process their tax forms usually receive a refund and have a tendency to donate to the checkoff."

Average donation dropped from $6.20 last year to $6.11 so far this year, with 8.2 percent of the general public giving to the Nongame Wildlife Fund.

Henderson said he hopes that awareness of the wildlife funding problem will help stimulate donations by taxpayers who file later in the tax season.

Minnesota's Nongame Wildlife Program has earned a national reputation because of its citizen's participation on the tax forms, according to Henderson. "There is still time to reverse the decrease in donations," he said. "Please make this tax season count for wildlife, too."

Prowlers find wins hard to come by

It was a tough way to begin a head coaching career, admitted Scott Brekke as he looked back on a 1991-92 Thief River Falls boys high school basketball season that produced just two wins. However, his first season with the Prowlers was not without positive points.

"The 2-21 record was certainly nothing to write home about," admitted Brekke, "but we were happy with the effort the kids gave us. We knew it would probably be a rough season as far as wins go, but they kept playing hard, game in and game out. They never quit."

Thief River Falls started the year with four losses, but then won two out of three starts in the Prowlers' annual Russ Smith Northwest Christmas Classic for a third place trophy.

However, they went 0-for-17 through January, February and March.

"We were inconsistent," pointed out Brekke. "We might play well for two-three quarters in a game, then we would have a total breakdown. You can't have mental letdowns like that and still expect to win ball games."

The Prowlers also lacked the size and strength needed to play top-caliber basketball, they began the year with little varsity experience, and they had to adapt to a new coaching staff that also included Myron Peterson and Kevin Nelson.

"It was a learning experience for both the players and the coaches," acknowledged Brekke. "We didn't start the season with a lot of experienced ball players, and they had to pick up a new system. But they stayed with it, and they never second-guessed the coaches – which would be easy to do when you're 2-21. They were a great group of kids to work with."

The Prowlers had trouble in both the scoring and rebounding categories this winter. They had just one player finish with a double figure scoring average – Tom Upham at 14.1. Darin Wald was close to a double digit average at 9.1, but nobody else was higher than 5.8. Kelly Swanson led the Prowlers in rebounding with 108 and Upham had 107, but that averages out to just 4.7 per game for both of them.

The 6-1 Swanson, 6-0 Upham and 5-11 Wald, along with 6-3 Nathan Egge and 6-2 John Wallberg, were seniors who played regularly this year. The underclassmen were led by 6-0 junior Tony Greene, a starter at forward or guard. Wade Evenson, Josh Balmer, John Gunstad and Shane Zutz were four other juniors whose playing time fluctuated during the year.

"We should have a pretty good nucleus coming back," said Brekke, "but those kids are going to have to work hard in the off season if we want to get back to the .500 level."

If the returning players and the newcomers dedicate themselves and put in the time during the off-season to become better basketball players, the Prowlers will be able to start rebuilding the program, explained Brekke. However, he acknowledged that climb may be a slow process. "We still may be a ways away from really being able to compete at the Class AA level the way we would like," he confessed. "We have to improve our skills, but we also need size and strength if we're going to beat those kind of teams."

DNR News

It's time for Minnesota anglers to renew their fishing licenses, according to officials of the Department of Natural Resources (DNR). March 1 is the beginning of a new fishing license year and a 1992 fishing license is required on that date.

Along with their new license, anglers will be seeing a new and improved synopsis of Minnesota's fishing rules.

"The fishing regulations synopsis is DNR's most widely circulated document, so we decided to make it easier to read," said Fish and Wildlife Information Officer Tom Dickson. "The look, the language, the layout – everything has been changed. That's why we're calling it new and improved."

Dickson is one of a five-member committee formed last May to revise the synopsis. The need for the revision has been clear for some time, according to DNR Marketing Specialist Sheila Gebhard. "The type size on the old snyopses was just too tiny to read for many anglers, especially seniors," Gebhard said. "Occasionally readers had so much trouble finding information in the synopsis that they gave up and called DNR Enforcement to get answers to their questions. Those who did find the information in the synopsis sometimes had trouble understanding it."

To ensure Minnesota anglers got the best fishing synopsis possible, Dickson obtained copies of the fishing rules from all 50 states and several Canadian provinces. Some of the best design features of these were incorporated into the revision. Fishing clubs were also consulted to find out what anglers found confusing in the old synopsis.

Lake Bronson Project

Heavy spring runoff and construction problems have delayed dam repairs and gamefish rehabilitation efforts at Lake Bronson State Park in central Kittson County. According to officials with the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR), the project experienced a number of setbacks throughout the winter, most of which involved higher-than-average precipitation and water levels in the Lake Bronson watershed area.

Last year, personnel from the DNR Division of Parks, Section of Fisheries and Bureau of Engineering collaborated on a plan that would have temporarily drained the lake reservoir, shrinking it from approximately 350 acres in size down to about 50 acres.

After the drawdown commenced, contractors started work last fall to repair cracks in the concrete base of the 56-year-old dam, and modify the under-water outlet structure. In the meantime, DNR fisheries personnel from the area office at Baudette were planning to take advantage of the lowered water levels to rehabilitate Bronson's fish population.

Initial plans called for a period of unlimited fishing, followed by a rotenone treatment in late October to remove all remaining gamefish and rough fish, and restocking with gamefish this spring. However, heavy rains in September and October of last year – nearly double the seasonal average – prevented a major drawdown of the reservoir and the DNR had to scrap plans for the rotenone treatment.

Underwater concrete repairs were completed in late October, but modifications to the outlet structure, located approximately 20 feet below the surface, where delayed by higher-than-anticipated water levels and technical problems with the design of the new outlet structure.

The reservoir continued to drain throughout the winter, and DNR fisheries managers hoped that water levels would drop low enough to bring on a natural winterkill conditions in Lake Bronson. Dissolved oxygen did drop to very low levels in January, and the lake was reopened to licensed, resident anglers for a period of unlimited fishing that will continue until April 15.

But again Mother Nature rewrote the plan with a stretch of unseasonably warm weather in early February, and again in early March, which increased runoff in the watershed, kept water levels high, and gradually increased dissolved oxygen. The effectiveness of the winterkill will not be known until a lake survey is conducted after ice-out this spring.

The DNR now hopes to install a newly designed outlet control. The flow of water from the reservoir will then be restricted and water levels will be allowed to return to normal, in time for the spring and summer recreational season at Lake Bronson State Park.

"Our efforts to rehabilitate the fish population in Lake Bronson have been plagued by environmental conditions beyond our control," said Robert Strand, DNR Regional Fisheries Supervisor at Bemidji. "After the ice-out population assessment is completed, we'll finish our spring stocking plans. After that, field and management staff from the Division of Parks and the Section of Fisheries will be getting together to discuss future fish management strategies for Lake Bronson.

INSURANCE Update

by Dee Schmidtgall

The major purpose of insurance is to protect your property against the large, severe losses that you cannot financially afford to absorb. Carrying a higher deductible encourages one to take care of the small affordable losses, and in turn, will keep insurance costs down. When purchasing business insurance, it's wise to review your exposures and select coverages on a priority basis. At times the cost to insure an exposed property may be extremely high, when compared to the value of property. These premium dollars could perhaps be better spent by applying the best possible coverage to the more valuable property, and "self-insuring" the property that is of little value.

Insurance is a vital ingredient for protecting your future. If you haven't reviewed your insurance coverages recently, stop at NORTHERN STATE AGENCY. We are prepared to survey your present coverages at no cost or obligation to you. NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is located in the Northern State Bank building. Office hours are from 8:30 - 5, Mon.-Fri. 8:30 - 6 Thursday.

meat or eggs. Other foods they prepared included many dehydrated vegetables, such as potatoes, which he says "should have been used for road topping." The best dehydrated foods were onion, cabbage and tomato juice.

During the summer of 1944, right after the fighting stopped in Saipan, La Verne was shipped there. There were still a lot of snipers in the hills and, as La Verne explains, "they could see you, but you couldn't see them."

In April 1945 La Verne was transferred again, this time to Okinawa. When the ships arrived at the port, however, they had the stay on the water for eight days, as they were shot at by Japanese planes and even once attacked by a Kamakase plane. La Verne says, "I dived under a truck and later found out it had ammunition on it. I was scared because I didn't know how to swim.

The cooks here worked in a kitchen tent and, on one occasion, La Verne recalls that a typhoon took the roof off the mess hall and kitchen while breakfast was being prepared. "The rain watered down the pancake batter and we had very thin pancakes that day." He also tells that there were some foods they preferred to get from New Zealand, like butter, because what they got from the United States "melted in strings."

In Okinawa, some of the natives who had been evacuated had left their saddle horses. These were sometimes rounded up by the servicemen who then used make-shift harness and wheels to race them.

Some of the other animals, such as cattle and pigs, were also rounded up and butchered for fresh food by the cooks. La Verne recalls, however, that there was no refrigeration.

La Verne came back to California at the end of the war by ship, then took a troop train to Camp McCoy, WI, and a bus back to Minnesota.

While he was stationed overseas, La Verne began receiving letters from Olive Jorde, whose brother was married to his sister. She was then the first person to meet him as he got off the bus when he arrived home and, he says, "we were engaged by that evening." The couple have now been married for 46 years. After his return, he worked briefly for Peterson-Biddick, then bought a farm north of Thief River Falls, where he and his wife still live.

While the war was going on the Europe, Africa and the Pacific, people at home were constantly aware of what was going on, by its affect on their daily lives in the form of rationing. Dorothy (Gunstad) Hanson, who had grown up in St. Hilaire and is now a resident of Thief River Falls, was a first grade teacher in Wahpeton, ND, during World War II. As a teacher, she was asked to spend periodic evenings helping to collect rationing applications and fill out the ration books for sugar. It was a bookkeeping function, according to Dorothy. The rationing of sugar and other foods, however, didn't affect her much, as she lived in a "room" and ate out most of the time. The restaurants didn't have many sweets of course, but most foods were available.

Dorothy Hanson

Dorothy also recalls the rationing of leather shoes. People were only allowed to purchase one pair per year, although she soys that shoes made of other materials were available. She is not sure exactly what these other materials were, but speculates that one material was cardboard. "They looked like leather, but didn't wear very well. It they got wet, the material separated."

She also tells that children were encouraged to bring their nickels and dimes to school once a week to purchase war stamps which were put into a book and accumulated until the child had enough to trade the book for a war bond. Children sometimes felt the war in other ways, as in one occasion, Dorothy remembers, when a student of hers, volunteered his dog for the Canine Corps. The class wrote stories about this "dog that went to war" and it event was reported in the local papers. Dorothy's young student and his family were very proud that their pet, a large dog that resembled a collie, was chosen for this duty.

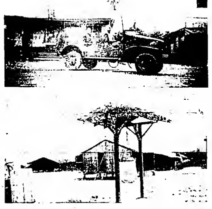
Dorothy, being as far from home as she was when she was teaching, also experienced the difficulties of gasoline rationing. She states that public transportation was very crowded and that on one occasion she remembers standing in the aisle of a bus all the way from Fargo to St. Hilaire and feeling fortunate she got on at all.

In an interesting coincidence, both La Verne Rondorf and Dorothy Hanson had opportunities to see another St. Hilaire resident, Robert Rosendahl, who had served in the Philippines before the war and was captured by the Japanese at Bataan. He was in what is known as the Bataan Death March and was later a prisoner of war in Manchuria until the end of the war. After Robert's release, he was transported to Okinawa, where La Verne was then stationed. There the Red Cross announced that if any of the service personnel knew any POWs, they could leave their names, home towns and company telephone numbers and the names and former addresses of the POWs with the Red Cross office. La Verne gave Robert Rosendahl's name and was contacted to meet him one evening. Robert, who had been a student at the St. Hilaire high school in the same class with La Verne's brother, Alvin, met La Verne in Okinawa and the two spent an evening together.

Later, after Robert had returned to the states, he was allowed to return to St. Hilaire shortly before Christmas. He was a passenger on the some Soo Line train, Dorothy Hanson was riding to come home for the holidays from a teaching job. The train was due to arrive in Thief River Falls at 5 a.m. and when Dorothy, who also had a brother in Robert's high school class, recognized Robert and spoke to him, he said that he didn't know if anyone would be there to meet him. She relates that when he looked out of the window of the train at the depot and saw his father he was overjoyed.

Next month, The Times will relate Robert Rosendahl's story about the surrender of Bataan and the time he spent as a prisoner of war.

While serving in Hawaii during World War II, La Verne Rondorf of rural Thief River Falls is pictured here standing in front of a large air compressor Cummins engine which was set up on the top of a hill. The machine was used to run jack hammers which the men used to build a tunnel through a mountain in Hawaii.



These photographs taken by La Verne Rondorf of rural Thief River Falls while he was stationed in Hawaii during World War II. The top picture shows a jeep-like vehicle which was commonly used during the war, but not in use after the war was over. In the bottom photo, a "lister" bag is shown. This type of canvas bag with a spigot at the bottom was hung outdoors as shown here and kept filled with water which the soldiers were required to drink in tropical climates. The water contained quinine for malaria and possibly other medications needed to prevent illnesses common to these areas. The men would fill their canteens from the spigot on the lister bag. According to La Verne the water tasted bitter from the quinine but it was necessary if one didn't want to get sick.

On the sea route to Hawaii a few weeks after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, La Verne Rondorf of rural Thief River Falls tells of a rough ride, with the ship zigzaging to avoid possible submarines. At one time, he relates that a depth charge was released from the ship which made "the boat rock like a rubber ball in a bathtub." This photo, from the collection of Rufus Olson of Thief River Falls, shows a depth charge being released from a ship.

Discrimination workshop

"Disability Discrimination" is the title of a workshop on Friday, April 10, from 9 a.m. to 12 noon over interactive television at Thief River Falls, Crookston and East Grand Forks.

An instructor will teach the class at the Thief River Falls Technical college and she can be seen and heard via television at the other two sites. The program will deal with the new Americans With Disabilities Act which will become effective July 26.

Registration fee is $15. Pre-register by April 6 by calling the Small Business Development center at the Thief River Falls Technical college at 681-5424 or 1-800-222-2884.

MEMORIAM
In loving memory of Deanne Nelson who passed away on April 4, 1989.
Because of love we can bear our sorrow
Because of love there's strength for tomorrow.
For God is love and he shares our pain
And with that love brings peace again.
Sadly missed by Dad, Mom, and family

Legal Notices

March 31, 1992
PUBLIC NOTICE

In accordance with Title 40 of the United States Code of Federal Regulations Sections 271.21, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (U.S. EPA) is hereby giving notice of its decision that the State of Minnesota's revised hazardous waste management program satisfies all of the requirements for authorization under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) as amended. In its application, Minnesota seeks authorization for the following elements:

Reportable Quantity Adjustment-Methyl Bromide Production Wastes, October 6, 1989 (54 FR 41402)

Reportable Quantity Adjustment-Chlorinated Aliphatic Hydrocarbons, December 11, 1989 (54 FR 50968)

Double Liners Correction, May 9, 1990, (55 FR 19262)

Mining Waste Exclusion I, September 1, 1989 (54 FR 36592)

Mining Waste Exclusion II-(Bevill), January 23, 1990 (55 FR 2322)

Modification of F019 Listing, February 14, 1990 (55 FR 5340)

Financial Responsibility, Settlement Agreement as amended, June 26, 1990 (55 FR 25976)

Corrections: Definition of Solid Waste, April 11, 1985 (50 FR 14216), and August 20, 1985 (50 FR 33541)

Correction: Biennial Reports, August 8, 1986 (51 FR 28556)

These State program revisions are necessary to maintain equivalency of State and Federal programs due to changes in U.S. EPA's regulations. U.S. EPA intends to grant final authorization to the State to operate its revised program, subject to limitations on its authority imposed by the Hazardous and Solid Waste Amendments of 1984 (HSWA).

Authorization of Minnesota's program revision shall be effective unless U.S. EPA publishes a prior notice withdrawing this action. Such a notice would also be published in this newspaper. All comments on Minnesota's revised program application and U.S. EPA's decisions must be received by the close of business April 20, 1992. Comments should be sent to Ms. Christine Klemme, U.S. EPA Region V, Waste Management Division, Office of RCRA, Program Management Branch, 77W. Jackson Boulevard, HRM 7J, Chicago, Illinois 60604, telephone number (312) 886-3715.

Copies of Minnesota's revised program application are available during the business hours of 8:30 A.M. to 4:30 P.M., at the following addresses for inspection and copying:

NOTICE OF HEARING ON
TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN

Notice is hereby given that the City Council of Thief River Falls will conduct a hearing on Thursday, April 9, 1992, at 7:00 p.m. in the basement meeting room of the Thief River Falls City Auditorium, to consider the making of the following improvements, pursuant to Minnesota Statutes, Sections 429.011 to 429.111:

GREENWOOD STREET - HWY 59 TO 1,600 FEET EAST OF HWY 59

The recommended improvements would be placement of a 12 inch thick layer of aggregate base, 3 inch thick layer of bituminous surfacing and aggregate shouldering upon the existing rural sectioned roadway. The improvements are meant to satisfy the immediate access needs of the adjacent properties. In the future when areas east of the project area are developed, it will be necessary to improve the entire roadway to a more permanent urban design with curb and gutter.

The estimated project cost for upgrading the existing rural sectioned roadway is $38,000 and the City Council has recommended that properties benefitted by the proposed improvements be assessed for 100% of the cost. The roadway segment proposed for improvements and corresponding areas to be assessed are indicated on attached Exhibit B.

The total estimated cost of all proposed improvements is $38,000. Such persons as desire to be heard with reference to the proposed improvements will be heard at this meeting.

Rep. Sparby reminds First-time homebuyers of low-interest loans

People who live in Greater Minnesota who are buying a home for the first time are reminded that low-interest loans are available through the Minnesota Housing Finance Agency (MHFA), state Representative Wally Sparby said this week. The loans are available through the Build It Now! mortgage program that is expected to provide 230 families with financing. The interest rate on the loans is fixed at 7.45 percent for the life of the loan, and has a maximum term of 30 years.

"Anyone who wants to buy a home in our area should look into this program as soon as possible. My experience is that these low-interest loans, targeted at homebuyers who want to live in rural areas, go very fast," Rep. Sparby said. "The income limit to apply for this loan is $34,500, and it's being offered at an interest rate below today's prime rate."

Additional assistance is available to lower income homebuyers. Through the MHFA's Homeownership Assistance Fund, certain borrowers can receive up to $2,500, interest free, to help pay for entry costs for new homeowners, such as a down payment or closing costs. Some borrowers who need help with monthly costs may also be eligible for $20 to $120 per month, depending on their incomes.

According to Rep. Sparby, to qualify for financing under this program, a home, townhouse or condominium's purchase price must not exceed $85,000. Borrowers must meet mortgage industry credit underwriting criteria and must use the home as their principal residence within 60 days of loan closing.

These loans are available from the following lenders throughout northwestern Minnesota: the Inland Mortgage corporation of Grand Forks and the Norwest Mortgage, Inc. of Thief River Falls.

Rep. Sparby said people who have additional questions or need more information about the Build It Now! mortgage program should call the Minnesota Housing Finance Agency toll-free at 1-800-652-9747 or they may contact their local banker.

SWCD receives funds to seal wells

About $4,000 in state money is available in Pennington county in 1992 to help deal with the problem of abandoned wells, according to Ron Harnack, executive director of the Minnesota Board of Water and Soil Resources.

"These wells can pose a groundwater contamination risk and the state certainly wants to encourage counties to identify and seal them," Harnack said.

The $4,000 is expected to seal abut eight wells and the SWCD is reapplying for funds to seal additional wells. Although most grant applications were due December 2, 1991, some counties are still eligible for further funding for sealing specifically identified abandoned wells under the Abandoned Well Sealing Cost Share program.

About $950,000 was available this year in state funds through two different programs dealing with abandoned wells—The Abandoned Well Sealing Cost Share Program and the Abandoned Well Inventory Program. The Abandoned Well Sealing Cost share Program will distribute abut $750,000 to counties to pay up to 75 per cent of the cost of sealing a well, not to exceed $2,00.

About 45 counties were awarded funds from the programs. Combined grants from both programs range from about $3,000 to about $65,000.

Unsealed abandoned wells can provide a path for contaminants to enter into groundwater and later show up in drinking water, Harnack said. Estimates on the number of abandoned wells in Minnesota range from 800,000 to 1.6 million. The programs were created as part of the Ground Water Protection Act of 1989.

Slow Drains?
You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again!
The secret? Clean drains don't run slow. Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are signals that a thick layer of "gook" is choking your pipes. This gook coats the entire length of your pipe- from sink to sewer, or septic.
Conventional drain openers cannot remove this build up. Even a small tunnel through the waste lets them flow through the pipe, leaving the gook behind!
Now, with just a few minutes each month, you can easily clean out your pipes like new... and KEEP them clean with Plumb Clean. Its totally unique formula clings, and penetrates deep into the gook. That allows it to liquefy even years of build up. Plumb Clean will clean the entire length of your pipes. It will make your drains run like new, when used as directed. This penetrating action is so revolutionary, Plumb Clean is money-back guaranteed!
Save Money. A 1 lb. container of Plumb Clean holds up to 41 drain treatments. Even if drain openers could fix slow drains, you would have to buy over 10 quart bottles to get the same number of treatments. Plumb Clean costs about 35 ¢ per treatment. We don't know of anything that cleans drains for less.
Safety. Conventional drain openers are dangerous chemicals. They can injure eyes on contact. They can release deadly vapors, in some situations. Some, may damage your fixtures. Plumb Clean will not burn skin, or eyes. It will not release harmful fumes When used as directed, it is 100% safe for people, and of course all plumbing.
So, if your drains are signalling you, get safe, guaranteed Plumb Clean today! Available at:

THANK GOD FOR WHAT YOU HAVE BEFORE YOU ASK FOR MORE

There are many ways of saying our prayers, according to our faith and our personal style of doing things, and most of them are acceptable; as long as we are sincere and don't turn the prayer into a "shopping list" of unnecessary material things. We should begin by thanking God for all the blessings He has already granted us, including every day of our lives. Then we should pray for the health and well-being of our loved ones and friends, for the sick and the bereaved, for the cure of disease, for world peace and harmony, and for freedom and friendly cooperation among all nations. Beyond that, let us remember that God will grant only the requests that are right for us, because in His infinite wisdom He knows what is best, far better than we do.

Prayer is the opening of the heart to God as to a friend.
— E. G. White

Sylvia Fieteland and Bertha Woods were shoppers in Fosston on Thursday afternoon.

Vi Radniecki and Adeline Prevost of Oklee, were visitors with Rose Aaknes on Thursday afternoon.

Glen Aaknes of Franklin, WI, called his mother, Rose Aaknes, to let her know that his wife, Judy Aaknes had surgery. She is at the St. Frances Hospital in Wisconsin. We wish Judy a speedy recovery.

Congratulations goes out to the Clearbrook and Gonvick Bears. They took the championship from the Roseau Rams on Tuesday night at 6:30, at the UMC gymnasium at Crookston. They defeated Roseau 70-66. Good luck Bears. Go Bears Go.

Word was received here that Bennie Schmidt, age 73, of Ada, died Thursday, March 12, in Valley Lutheran Hospital, Mesa, AZ. Bennie Schmidt was born on October 12, 1918 in Borup, the son of Ernest and Johanne (Hruby) Schmidt. He farmed with his parents, and later on his own near Borup. On September 24, 1944 he married Doris Baker in Ada. They lived and farmed in the Borup area until they moved into Ada in 1953. From 1955 to 1975 he operated the Schmidt Flying Service, crop spraying, and from 1965 to 1975 he operated Schmidt flying Service and Trucking, both in Ada. After starting the trucking firm, he hauled the first load of sun flowers shipped by Ada Farm and Seed. For many years they have owned a home on White Earth Lake, and since 1970 they have spent winters in their home in Apache Junction, AZ. Survivors are his wife, brother, Walter of Jamestown, a sister, Frances (Mrs. Orlin) Norby of Alabama, and several nieces and nephews, and a number of cousins. He was preceded in death by his brothers, Emil and Ernest, and a sister, Marie and his parents. Services were held on Wednesday at 1 p.m. at the Grace Lutheran church in Ada.

Local piano students win

This is the fourth time Yonie has won at the MMTA state contest.

Heidi Dyrud, 12th grade daughter of Avis and Phil Dyrud of Middle River, was also a winner in this division. Heidi performed "Foxtrot" by Paul Hindemith. Heidi's winning score was 96. This is the fourth time Heidi has won at the MMTA state contest.

Winner in the Senior B category (ages 19-20): Kristie Field, 11th grade daughter of Donna and Bill Field of Stephen. Kristie performed "Sonata, Op. 10, No. 1, Second Movement" by Ludwig von Beethoven. Kristie's winning score was 96. This is the fifth time Kristie has won at the MMTA state contest.

Alternate winners in the Junior Young Artist division (grades 7, 8 and 9):

In this category contestants must choose repertoire representing at least two stylistic in music history. Students are to prepare at the minimum a seven minute program. The repertoire chosen must demonstrate the student's musical ability, versatility and technical facility.

Heidi Johnson, 7th grade daughter of Judy and Dr. Peter Johnson of Thief River Falls was one of the alternates. Heidi performed "Sonata No. 8, Op. 13, Second Movement, Adagio Cantabile" by Ludwig von Beethoven and "Hungarian, Op. 39, No. 12" by Edward MacDowell. Heidi recieved a winning score of 94. This is the seventh time Heidi has won at the MMTA state contest.

Kendra Dimich, 8th grade daughter of Judy and Dr. Tom Dimich of Thief River Falls, was another alternate winner. She performed "Nocturne in Eb Major, Op. 9, No. 2" by Frederic Chopin and "Sonata Op. 13, No. 8, Grande Pathetique, First Movement, Grave, Allegro molto e con brio" by Ludwig von Beethoven. Kendra's winning score was 94. This is the fifth time Kendra has won at the MMTA state contest.

When a piano student wins at state competition she or he is automatically moved into the next age division regardless of his or her current age. This explains why a number of younger piano students are competing in older age categories.

In the event that a state winner is unable to perform in the Student Honors Concert, the alternate winner is called upon to perform.

Hi, Ho, Come To The (Health) Fair

The Family Health Fair this Saturday in the National Guard armory in Thief River Falls will provide those who attend with an opportunity to have some basic health screening done and to receive a lot of information on how to promote their personal well-being.

An advertisement in today's issue of the Times lists the learning center booths which will be in operation at the health fair as well as a schedule of activities and a listing of video topics for tapes to be shown throughout the day.

We commend the local people and organizations which have taken upon themselves the responsibility to arrange and sponsor the Family Health Fair. Such events do not just happen. They require a great deal of planning, making contacts, securing commitments and obtaining funding.

Deb Zak has done an extraordiary job of organizing while serving as chairman of the Pennington County Health Promotion Network which is sponsoring the health fair. She has succeeded in bringing together a representative committee which has responsive and enthusiastic members willing to share in the effort to make the health fair a success.

The groundwork has been done and it now remains to be seen if enough people care enough about themselves and their families to attend and make the effort of arranging the health fair worthwhile for all concerned. You can help show your appreciation for the effort in your behalf by taking some time and attending the health fair between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. Saturday.

Footnotes on Farming

Agriculture Month wraps up today and we recently came across some information that is worthy of note regarding agriculture and how it relates to all of us.

For instance, less than two per cent of the U.S. population currently lives on farms. More than half of all farms in the United States have at least one person working a second job off the farm.

More than three billion dollars was invested in conservation measures for U.S farmland by American agriculture in 1989.

American agriculture produces 11 per cent of the world's food grains, 15 per cent of the feed grains, 25 per cent of the world's beef and 11 per cent of the world's pork.

An average of only eight per cent of the average American's household budget is spent on food, compared with 19 per cent in Japan.

The Minnesota Agricultural Statistics service suggests that everyone can appropriately thank a farmer for lunch.

Don't Like Crowds? Wait 'til The Year 2020!

When you get out of bed well before dawn, fill the vacuum bottle with coffee, drive to that secretive waterfowl hunting spot and find another vehicle already there, you get the feeling that the world is getting a little too crowded.

In quest of upland game birds and in company of a Montana friend a few years ago, we drove to a huge draw several miles in length and saw a lone hunter and dog as mere specs on the far side. "Oh (expletive deleted)!" our companion exclaimed. "Somebody's here. Let's go someplace else."

His idea of being crowded didn't match our own, but the idea of shoulder-to-shoulder living doesn't appeal to us very much. According to the U.S. census bureau, however, when it comes to world crowding, we ain't seen nothin' yet.

Current population of the world is estimated at 5,422,900,000 and it is expected to grow by 52 per cent to 8.2 billion in the next 28 years. On average—to take a few liberties in extending the percentage increase—that would mean another pickup at your favorite duck slough every other day.

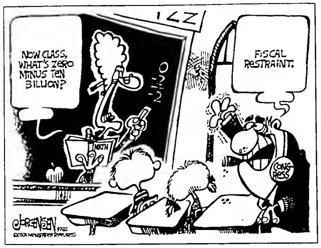
Worldwide right now the population density is 107 persons per square mile. That would be a lot of people for a farmer to drive around when plowing the southeast quarter. The former Soviet Union had only 34 people per mile while in Bangladesh the density was up to 2,200 persons per mile. Furthermore, the latter number is expected to nearly double by 2020.

Crowded? We think so. But the population density in Los Angeles, CA, is 9,000 people per mile and in New York City the average is 11,000. To us that is really crowded!

Can't imagine living in Los Angeles or New York City because of the crowded conditions? How about trying to live in Lagos, Nigeria? Population density in that urban entity is 143,000 people per square mile!! That would give each person a total average living area, if our calculations are correct, of something less than 10x20 feet.

Since sub-Saharan Africa has an average birth rate of 45 per 1,000 population and death rate of 14 per 1,000 population, net growth is 31 people per 1,000 population each year. In 28 years the population in Lagos would more than double at that rate, and individual share of space reduced to less than 10x10 feet.

With all the ramifications of global crowding, exhaustion of resources, impact on environment, spread of disease, ability to provide food and attendant concerns, it makes that second vehicle at the duck slough a little more tolerable.



LETTERS

To The Editor:

I am writing this letter as a personal thank-you for assistance in raising money for the Gary Rux Heart Transplant fund. I have now been waiting 16 months for my transplant and it appears it will be awhile yet before I receive the "Gift of Life." The medical expenses are very high, and the longer I must wait the greater the total cost. I simply don't know what we would have done without your help.

I am sure many of you read the thank-you which was published in the November 8, 1991 issue of the Thief River Falls Times, but some of you may not have seen it. As I indicated at that time, I have not given up and I fully intend to thank you again after I receive my new heart.

The road ahead will not be easy, but rest assured, my tough "Norwegian Constitution" will get me through. After all, fate is what life gives me....destiny is how I choose to respond to it, and I will respond! I have enclosed a picture from Jan. 2, 1992, which illustrates how I "responded" on that day. Unfortunately, I don't feel well enough to do that every day or I would send you fish instead of just a picture.

Finally, it is my intention to work very hard after my transplant to raise money for the Heart Transplant Fund. Someone much wiser that I once said, "The best way to use life is to do something that will outlast it." I want this fund to outlast me. There will be others in the future with the same, or perhaps worse, heart conditions than mine. They, too, will need help. I plan to be their friend and I hope you will, too.

Once again, on behalf of my wife Shirley, my daughter Tari, my son T.J., my dog Buffy, and myself, thank you. Please have a great '92 —I fully intend to!

Sincerely,
Gary Rux

P.S. This letter is being mailed from Abbott-Northwestern hospital in Minneapolis were I am being screened for a new experimental heart drug.

This photo is mentioned in the letter from Gary Rux, after 16 months still awaiting a heart transplant at Abbott-Northwestern hospital in Minneapolis.

THIEF RIVER FALLS TIMES

Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota April 2, 1942

Full Time County Nurse Discussed

"At last Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Civic and Commerce association, Mrs. C. M. Adkins, chairman of the nursing project sponsored by the Pennington county chapter of the American Red Cross, spoke in support of obtaining the services of a full-time county nurse. Following a discussion, President Roy Oen appointed Dr. O. F. Mellby chairman of an association committee to consider the matter and to appear before the county board to present its recommendation."

High School Gives Lively Circus

"A large audience last Friday evening enjoyed the presentation of the fourth annual Lincoln high school circus staged in the gymnasium under the supervision of Delver Daly and Miss Gladys Berntsen, physical education instructors. Students gave an effective demonstration of their proficiency in tumbling, pyramid building and stunts on the parallel and high bars and flying rings. More than 100 grade and high school pupils participated in the process. A group of members of the Lincoln high school band provided musical accompaniment."

Norwegian Sailor To Speak Wednesday

"Coming to Thief River Falls on the invitation of Rev. E. L. Tungseth and under the local sponsorship of the Sons of Norway lodge, Finn Burnby, second officer in the Norwegian merchant marine, will give a lecture dealing with his experiences next Wednesday at the Sons of Norway hall. Continue Campaign for Books for Service Men

"A total of 278 usable books have been donated to date for the use of men in the armed services, Mrs. Hazel Halgrim, Carnegie librarian in charge of the collection, announced today. She added that the quota has not yet been attained, and that the campaign is being continued, as the need for suitable books is urgent."

Tire Rationing Board Gets Clerk

"An office for the Pennington county tire rationing board has been established in Room 204 on the second floor of the Northern State bank building with Miss Barbara Votava in charge as clerk, George W. Werstlein, board chairman, announced today.

"Office hours will be from 9 to 12 and 1 to 6 each day, except Saturday when the office will be open from 8 in the morning until noon. Application blanks and other necessary information will be available there, Mr. Werstlein stated, adding that the board will meet each Friday afternoon on the applications. The April allocation allots to the county eight tires and eight tubes for light trucks and passenger cars, while available for heavy trucks and buses will be 35 tires and 29 tubes and 29 retreads or recapped tires."

Trade-in Plan Ordered on Tooth Paste Purchases

"The war production board in Washington Tuesday prohibited retail merchants from selling tooth paste or shaving cream in tubes to any customer who fails to turn in some type of collapsible tube for each new one purchased. The board placed drastic restrictions on future use and production of collapsible tin tubes and prohibited their use for foods, cometics and most toilet preparations."

—Of course, you didn't pick up any pocketbooks yesterday: it was April Fool's Day.

—In the present war the Allied Nations have so many fronts it keeps the amateur strategist dizzy.

—The fact that his colleagues cleared Senator Langer of the numerous charges against him seems to indicate he is in good company.

—Since March 30, man's trousers are being made without cuffs by order of the War Production Board. They picked as good a place as any to save on woolen goods.

—We agree with the colleague who suggests that the quicker we forget about Pearl Harbor and concentrate on the job ahead, the better off we will be.

—Summing up the discussion as to what this country stands for, the Lund Press says it stands for too much.

—Governor Stassen and Hjalmer Petersen, who would like to be governor, have been arguing about who buys the most defense bonds. The chances are that neither of them is going hungry as a result of his purchase.

—Says Bachelor Billy Noonan of Baudette, "A baby is an alimentary canal with a loud voice at one end and no responsibility at the other."

—And another thing: By preventing hoarding, the rationing program will make buyers more rational.

—We learn, via Les Nelson of the Mahnomen Pioneer, that Secretary of War Stimson is a third cousin of Lincoln and John Arnold.

—The fellow who never demanded much has the edge on his neighbors when it comes to getting along with rationed commodities.

—A state of war contributes to peace in one respect, at least. The manufacture of juke boxes has been ordered halted as of May 1.

ST. HILAIRE SPECTATOR

St. Hilaire, Polk County, Minnesota April 6, 1892

From Newspaper Files of One Hundred Years Ago

From the Social Page

"We are informed that one of St. Hilaire's fair young ladies is devoting considerable of her spare time lately to practicing with a revolver, with a view to exercising her leap-year prerogative and asking her devoted swain to declare his intentions. It is rumored that the young man, like 'Davy Crocket's coon,' will cry, 'Don't shoot; I am yours,' and there is small probabilities of blood being shed."

F. Myrtle Vagle
436-2133

Hazel Anderson celebrated her birthday starting on Friday when Geneva Nordin, Issac Thompson and Myrtle Vagle were there. On Saturday Mary and Donna Renstrom, Pastor Evenson, Walter Thompson, Elsie Lefrooth, Peter and Pearl Thompson, Issac Thompson, Paul and Shirley Anderson and Jennifer, Kristopher and Kenrick, Keith and Kathy Britten and Joshua, Jared and Allison, and Roy and Myrtle Vagle, helped celebrate her birthday.

Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. George Monroe, LaVoi Thun and Arnold and Vernice Larson helped Leonard Torkelson celebrate his birthday.

Among those who have visited Elsie Lefrooth this past week are "perky 86-years young, Peter H. Thompson," Mary and Donna Renstrom, Shirley Lefrooth, Isaac and Betsy Thompson, Melanie Lefrooth, Pearl Thompson, Michelle Johnson and Myrtle Vagle. Elsie accompanied Pearl Thompson to the farewell program for the Barwicks, that was held at the Center on Sunday afternoon.

Earl and Ebba Sihlberg are glad to see this nice sunny day that we are having today. Ebba says it has been so dark and gloomy, it has almost ruined her sunny disposition, and it has been difficult to see the mailman when he comes, so Earl has made a few trips for nothing, to the mailbox. This week their visitors have been Pastor and Mrs Roley from Warren, who are at the present time serving in Strandquist also. Toni Kasprowicz and Donovan Donarski and Kelly have called on Earl and Ebba.

Morris and Hazel Anderson and Myrtle Vagle went to Grand Forks on Sunday, to attend the ceremony honoring Cindy Wetterlund, for the completion of her training in Missionette leadership. She received congratulations and a certificate from the Assembly of God headquarters in Springfield, MO, and a lovely bouquet of long-stemmed roses. A birthday dinner party for Cindy and her mother, Hazel Anderson, was held in the afternoon, at the home of Jim, Cindy and Christy Wetterlund in East Grand Forks. Besides the honored guests there were Ken and Janet Kuhl, Kevin Kuhl, Morris Anderson, Leland and Delores Anderson of Alvarado, and Myrtle Vagle.

The Strandquist Senior Citizens were saddened this week by the death on Thursday, of one of their faithful workers, Mrs. Ruth Harper. Many attended her funeral on Monday. Our sympathy goes to all her friends and relatives.

Sunday evening another lady from Strandquist, also passed away. Mrs. Bertha Holmstrom, at 102 years of age, had resided at the Karlstad Nursing Home for some time. She was one of the first babies born in Marshall County.

Phillip and Yvonne Boen visited Willis and Margie Wollin on Sunday, and helped Margie celebrate her birthday. Corey Boen of Moorhead, spent the weekend with the Philip Boens.

Sunday visitors at LaVoi Thun's were Mr. and Mrs. George Monroe, Ella Thun, and Don and Vangie Carlson and Ron.

Drugs don't go away. Users do.

It would be great if the drug problem on our streets and in our schools would just fade away, but it will take more than wishful thinking to get things under control.

Fortunately, there are anti-drug efforts going on in every town. Do your part to help save lives. Get involved.

Janelle Homme reaches to rinse her brush while working on a watercolor painting in the Lincoln high school art department. Some 30 to 40 items by about 20 art students will be displayed Sunday, April 12, during "An Afternoon with the Arts" at Lincoln high school from 2 to 5 p.m. The public is invited to view the art, listen to music or watch drama during the afternoon.

Afternoon with Arts events at LHS on April 12

by Conale Stock

It's spring — a time when creativity seems to burst open in all corners, with performances choreographed by budding trees, running rivers, frolicking newborn calves, glad-to-be-outside children, and glad-to-be-alive people of all ages. It is also a time when the fine arts departments of Lincoln high school are combining creative efforts to produce an "Afternoon With The Arts" on Sunday, April 12, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Lincoln high school cafeteria.

For the first time, choir, band and orchestra ensembles, visual arts displays such as sculpture, painting and drawing, graphic arts designs done on computer, original student literary works, and a music theatre production will be presented together for an afternoon filled with diverse creative expression. This arts event will take place in the cafeteria where "the audience" is invited to sit at tables while being served refreshments and enjoy performances by vocal, instrumental and theatre groups, or to leisurely stroll around and view works originating from the visual, media and literary arts departments.

The following schedules have been prepared:

Band Ensembles from 2:10 to 2:30 p.m.

Orchestra Ensembles and theatre production "Whispers on the Wind" from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m.

Vocal Ensembles from 4:30 to 5 p.m.

"Whispers On the Wind" is the title of the theatre production directed by Connie Stock. In an intimate performance containing music and shared memories, the actors guide the audience through familiar passages of their lives from birth, childhood, and times of major decision about education and careers to marriage. The cast includes Dan Lavalier as the narrator, Mitch Scramstad as the central character and Heather Thornton, Marie Lubitz, Rodney Joppru, Keith Baune, Jeremy Hulteen, Jami Fremstad, Samantha Olson, Maja Turenne, Rachael Marshall, Miranda Miller, and Jolene Gonsorowski as the other characters in the passage of his life. Vocal interludes are sung by Angelique Goulet and Lars Dyrud. Kari Krankkala is the student director and Guy Drevlow

Orchestra and bands in concert

Lincoln high school orchestra and bands will be presented in concert Thursday, April 9, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for students or free with the coupon from the marching band coupon book.

The concert is being held in preparation for the Section 8AA large music group contest to take place April 14 in Bemidji.

Performing the two selections each will use in the contest will be the orchestra under the direction of Constance Haus and the jazz band, ninth grade band, concert band and wind ensemble under the direction of Bruce Felt.

LHS band members win awards

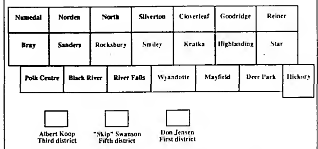
Many Lincoln high school band soloists and ensembles earned superior and excellent ratings at the Section 8AA solo and ensemble contest Tuesday in Fergus Falls, according to Bruce Felt, band director.

Soloists receiving superior ratings were Sanna Torgerson, oboe; Christie Halsa, flute; Jodi Kruta and Alison Peterson, trumpet; Traci Lindberg, alto saxophone; Andrea Campbell, clarinet; Lori Golightly, horn; Linnea Dimich and Rachael Marshall, trombone; Dan Spielman, baritone; Jared Goldesberry, tuba; and Reed Braaten, snare drum.

Ensembles earning superior ratings were: Clarinet trio—Lisa Dicken, Brenda Lutovsky and Ellie Ehrenstrom; trombone quartet—Linnea Dimich, Brett Peterson, Scott Stanina and Nathan Egge; and the percussion ensemble—Joann Bruzek, Heidi Thompson, Reed Braaten, John Gunstad and Scott Grand.

Excellent ratings were received by Jenny Altendorf with her bass clarinet solo; the flute quartet including Heidi Berning, Christie Halsa, Wendy Stokke and Lydia Morken; and the jazz band.

Proposed Pennington County Commissioner Districts



Public Hearing on Proposed Re-districting Boundaries
5 p.m. April 14, 1992

Precincts and townships for Pennington county commissioners under the proposed re-districting include the following. Don Jensen, first district — 1A, Cloverleaf, Deer Park, Goodridge City, Goodridge township, Hickory, Highlanding, Mayfield, North, Reiner, Silverton and Star; Ken Murphy, second district — 1B, 2A, and 2B; Albert Koop, third district — 3A, Black River, Bray, Norden, Numedal, Polk Centre, River Falls, Rocksbury West, Sanders, and St. Hilaire; William Penning, fourth district — 3B, 4A, and 4B, "Skip" Swanson — 5A, 5B, Kratka, Rocksbury East, Smiley, and Wyandotte.

Hearing April 14 on county re-districting

Pennington county board of commissioners will hold a public hearing on the proposed re-districting plan. The meeting will be held 5 p.m. Tuesday, April 14, in the county boardroom located in the Pennington county courthouse.

If the proposed re-districting is approved, several changes are in store for county residents. One of the major changes that had an impact on how the lines were drawn involved the reduction of the number of precincts in the city from three each ward to two in each ward.

The 1990 census also determined that there are 13,306 residents in Pennington county. As a result, redistricting became necessary to ensure equal representation. If each of the five districts could be broken down into equal parts, there would be 2,661 residents per district. The law, however, allows the numbers to be plus or minus 10 per cent.

The proposed re-districting has the following results: Don Jensen, in the first district will represent 2,724 people. Ken Murphy in the second district will represent 2,418. Albert Koop in the third district will represent 2,829 people. William Penning in the fourth district will represent 2,430 people. "Skip" Swanson in the fifth district will represent 2,905.

Precincts and townships for each district are listed on the map. However, they are as follows: First District (Don Jensen) — 1A, Cloverleaf, Deer Park, Goodridge City, Goodridge township, Hickory, Highlanding, Mayfield, North, Reiner, Silverton and Star. Second District (Ken Murphy) — 1B, 2A, and 2B. Third District (Albert Koop) — 3A, Black River, Bray, Norden, Numedal, Polk Centre, River Falls, Rocksbury west, Sanders, and St. Hilaire. Fourth District (William Penning) — 3B, 4A, and 4B. Fifth District ("Skip" Swanson) 5A, 5B, Kratka, Rocksbury east, Smiley, and Wyandotte.

Individuals interested in re-districting should attend the public hearing.

The new map will not affect where citizens vote for the primary.

Newfolden superintendent is 'Administrator of Excellence'

R. Gene Busch selected by Region VIII administrators to receive award

by Marvin Lundin
Times Editor

This has been a busy school year for Supt. Gene Busch of School District 441 at Newfolden, recently selected among 54 Region VIII administrators in the Minnesota Association of School Administrators (MASA) as "Administrator of Excellence."

Not only has he been involved with successfully directing a $250,000 special levy referendum, rallying support to allow replacement of a high school destroyed by fire, arranging community facilities for high school classes, planning and directing reconstruction, and planning restructuring of elementary schools in addition to normal superintendent duties, he has also been looking for a job.

Supt. Busch was notified about the end of October last year that the board of education did not intend to renew his contract as superintendent. That intention was reaffirmed by the board at its March meeting.

Busch has headed the School District 441 operation—which includes Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden and elementary schools at Viking and Newfolden—for the past 21 years. He has been a teacher, coach, principal or superintendent for the past 33 years.

The award plaque symbolizing his selection as "Administrator of Excellence" was presented at the 1992 spring conference banquet of the MASA March 19 in Minnea-

Steve Johnson, construction manager for Kraus-Anderson Construction company, reviews the flow chart for reconstruction of the Marshall County Central high school with Supt. Gene Busch. Approximately 45 people have been working on rebuilding the school which was destroyed by fire November 7, providing a payroll and related expenses of about $12,000 a day, exclusive of materials used. Supt. Busch was the recent recipient of the "Administrator of Excellence" award for Region VIII of the Minnesota Association of School Administrators. He has been superintendent of Newfolden for 21 years.

Tamara Reierson & Erik Livingston wed Feb. 29

Tamara Sue Reierson and Erik Frank Livingston were united in marriage February 29 at the Evangelical Free church in Thief River Falls. Rev. Curtis Anderson and Rev. Frank Livingston officiated at the 3 p.m. double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Wallace and Ivadell Reierson of Thief River Falls. Parents of the groom are Frank and Beatrice Livingston of Roseau.

Special music was provided by Ruth Christensen, cousin of the bride, who sang "Savior, Like a Shepherd Lead Us" and Daren Blanck, friend of the couple, who sang "I Love You" and "The Lord's Prayer." They were accompanied by Polly Reed, friend of the bride, on the piano. Helen Dahlstrom, aunt of the bride, served as organist, with Polly Reed, playing "Sheep May Safely Graze" as the processional and "Ave Maria" during the lighting of the unity candle. The bride sang "I Prayed For You" to the groom. The recessional "Prince of Denmark's March" was played by trumpeters Mark Lehrer, friend of the bride, and Bill Reierson, brother of the bride.

The church was decorated with navy candles, navy bows, babies' breath and greenery and navy pew bows.

The bride chose a white satin gown styled with a V neck front and back with long sleeves. The fitted bodice was accented with satin embroidery, hand sewn pearls and sequins. The full flared skirt extended to a cathedral train with placement of satin embroidery at the center of the back and portions of the edge of the train. The bride complemented her gown with an alencon floral bandeau with pearl and crystal accents, with a pouf at the back and waltz length veil. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses, stephanotis, white heather, pearl sprays and greenery.

Flower girls were Elizabeth Shaka of Bemidji and Kelsey Reierson of Lakeville, both nieces of the bride. They wore floral dresses of navy and burgundy with white lace trimmed collars. They wore carnations in their hair and carried baskets trimmed with navy and burgundy ribbon.

Jodi Lehrer and Colleen Johnson, friends of the bride, served as the bride's personal attendants.

The groom was attired in a dark grey tuxedo with tails and white vest and bow tie. His boutonniere was white roses, pearl sprays and greenery.

Peter Livingston of Roseau, brother of the groom, served as best man. Groomsmen were Daren Blanck of Nisswa, Matthew Manz of Alvarado, Todd Bride of Roseau and Jason Carter of Roseau, all friends of the groom. They wore dark grey tuxedos with tails, with grey bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnieres were fire and ice roses with greenery.

Ushering the guests were Robert Jacobson, cousin of the groom, and Scott Hutton, cousin of the bride. They wore dark grey tuxedos with grey bow ties and cummerbunds. Their boutonnieres were burgundy roses and greenery.

For her daughter's wedding, the mother of the bride chose a burgundy suit with a white blouse. The groom's mother wore a royal blue suit with cream blouse. Each wore a corsage of fire and ice roses and greenery.

Honored guests at the ceremony were Louise Shefveland of Thief River Falls, great-aunt of the bride, and Henry and Ruth Larson of Lakeville, grandparents of the groom.

A reception was held for the couple following the ceremony. Host couples were Clyde and Verna Christensen, uncle and aunt of the bride, and Duane and Carolyn Blanck, friends of the couple. Jodi Lehrer, friend of the bride, presided over the guest book.

Highlighting the serving table was a three-tiered wedding cake, [illegible] The cake was [illegible] Alice [illegible] It was [illegible] aunt of the bride, and Sandra Anderson, friend of the bride. Coffee was [illegible] aunts of the groom. [illegible]

Gift carriers were Dylan Swanson, Kevin Swanson, Andrew Reierson, Brian Shaka and Jayme Swanson, all nephews of the bride. The wedding was videotaped by Paul Dahlstrom and Curt Christensen, both cousins of the bride. Sound technician was Mike Shaka, brother-in-law of the bride.

Serving at the head table were Denae Blanck and Dawson Blanck, both friends of the couple. Waitresses were Meggan Anderson, Danyelle Gregor and Felisha Patterson, all friends of the bride, and Jennie Dahlstrom, cousin of the bride.

The couple is at home in Bemidji. The groom, a graduate of Roseau high school, is a senior at the Bemidji state university. The bride, a graduate of Lincoln high school, Northland community college and Bemidji state university, is employed by Northern National Bank.

Dear Readers,
We would like to share a poem with you, written by Robert Browning, entitled,

Along The Road
I walked a mile with Pleasure, She chattered all the way
But left me none the wiser–For all she had to say
I walked a mile with Sorrow, And ne'er a word said she
But oh, the things I learned from her–When sorrow walked with me!

Respectfully,
Belmont Funeral Home

Easter coloring contest entries due by April 16

Entries in the annual Easter coloring contest sponsored by The Times and participating Thief River Falls area businesses are due prior to judging on Friday, April 17.

Pictures to be colored were printed in the Tuesday, March 31 issue of The Times. Open to all children in northern Minnesota, the contest has separate divisions for children ages four through seven years and eight through 12 years.

Each business place sponsoring a coloring contest entry will award a $3 cash prize to the winner in each age group. Children must bring the pictures they have colored to the business places named on the picture. No entries by mail will be accepted. Winners will be notified by the business at which they were selected.

Extra copies of the coloring contest pictures are available at participating businesses. Judging will take place on Friday, April 17, and all pictures must be entered before then. A list of winners will be published in the Tuesday, April 21 issue of The Times.

Runners and Walkers' club plans meeting

Runners and walkers interested in forming an area-wide club are encouraged to attend a meeting at the Lincoln high school track in Thief River Falls 7 p.m. Thursday. The track will be open for individuals who wish to use it. The meeting will also give participants an opportunity to workout with individuals who have the same or similar interests.

The club is for anyone and of very ability and age. This is an excellent opportunity to find someone to help you make it through workouts that can be tiring and boring. If you need some help spicing up your workout this is the place to be. The group also looks forward to planning a variety of fun events to take place during the year.

For more information about the club contact Tom Ronchetti at 681-3782.

(population still 8,010): Alma and her daughter, Patty, served as hostesses . . . Debbie, the president, opened the meeting by having everyone recite the Garden Creed in unison . . . . Debbie then explained how to get "Extra Early Tomatoes in Seven Easy Steps." . . . Mabel won the prize for guessing the closest in the count-the-crackers game. . . . Alma and Patty served a very delicious lunch."

Group sponsors spring tree sale for Mother's Day

Celebrate Mother's Day by ordering a packet of 12 trees and shrubs especially selected to attract wildlife and add color to the landscape. The Agassiz Environmental Education Committee representing Northwest Minnesota is sponsoring its 9th annual spring tree sale. Each tree packet contains three each of the following species: Red Splendor flowering crab, Redosier dogwood, Little Leaf Linden and Wayfaring Bush. These bare root seedlings are two to three feet tall and will be wrapped in moist cedar shavings and plastic. The seedlings can easily be transported in a car.

The packets are available for $10 for each packet of 12 trees and shrubs. Trees will be available for pick up on Saturday, May 9 from 9 a.m. to noon at one of five locations in the region which should be specified on your order form: Crookston, Fertile, Roseau, Thief River Falls, and Warren. Pick up at Roseau will go until 3 p.m. A confirmation letter will be sent upon receipt of an order with directions to the pick up sites. Assistance and information on the trees will be available at each site.

Orders will be taken on a first come first served basis until May 1, 1992, or as long as quantities are available. For more information and order forms contact Martha Marquardt at rural route 4, Box 122, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, or call (218) 681-2733 after 5 p.m. Proceeds from sales are used to support environmental education programs in Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Norman counties.

Both were listed in stable condition as of Tuesday morning. The Blazer was considered a total loss. Above, law enforcement and ambulance personnel are attempting to get the Matzke's out of the Blazer.

Red Lake Co. burglary reports

Red Lake County sheriff's department has received several reports of burglaries and break-ins during the past week.

On April 5 they received a report that someone had broken into Art's Body Shop in Red Lake Falls, which is now owned by Brad Scheie. Entry was gained by cutting the lock. A sander and welder were taken.

At 1:30 p.m. on April 5, the sheriff's department received a report that a vacant farm north of Oklee had been vandalized. A door had been forced open and windows on the first floor had been broken out and items damaged inside.

On April 5 at 10 p.m. the sheriff's department received a report that someone had broken into the Harvey Riendeau residence in Poplar River township. Several items were taken including a heater, oil and Arctic Cat equipment.

On April 6 Randy Kroeplin reported that a building on the Fladeland farm on Minnesota 92 had been broken into. Several items were taken.

The Red Lake county sheriff's department is continuing its investigation into the incidents and is asking for any assistance from the public. Their phone number is 253-4282.

Warren man killed Monday

A Warren city employee was killed Monday in an accident.

According to a Marshall County sheriff's department spokesperson, Randy Ray Hill, 34, Warren, was working on a highline power pole Monday for the city of Warren when there was an accidental shock. The sheriff's department was alerted to the accident at about 1:10 p.m. Hill was taken by Warren ambulance to the Warren hospital where he was later declared dead.

The Marshall County sheriff's department and OSHA will be conducting an investigation into the incident.

Legislative materials at local C of C

The Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce has announced that it will offer materials and a communications kit on key issues important to businesses and job creation that will be addressed in the last weeks of the 1992 legislative session. These materials, available at no charge to area businesses, are produced by the Coalition of Minnesota Businesses, Inc.

The Coalition, which was formed more than a year ago, is conducting a public education program to communicate with the public about state public state public policy issues and business' contribution to Minnesota's quality of life.

As part of the long-term, grassroots program, the Thief River Falls Chamber is distributing to its members and their employees materials including the newsletter, "Minnesota. It's Everybody's Business." More than 200,000 copies are distributed in workplaces throughout the state, according to Bob Bergan, executive vice president of the chamber.

In addition, the Coalition has made available posters and issue sample ballots that address critical issues facing Minnesota's future.

These materials are available at the chamber office. To request copies call 681-3720.

"This program is a positive and action-oriented public education effort," said Bergan. "The chamber is working with more than 100 other chambers of commerce and business trade associations around the state to communicate with the public on public policy issues, particularly those that relate to business' ability to create and retain jobs. We are also making a greater effort to recognize business' contributions to our community's quality of life."

The Coalition of Minnesota Businesses Inc. is a non-partisan group of business organizations including local chambers of commerce and trade associations working together to enhance and protect the economic vitality of Minnesota and its people. The Coalition was founded by the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce, Greater Minneapolis Chamber of Commerce, Minnesota Business Partnership, and the St. Paul Area Chamber of Commerce. Collectively, the coalition represents more than 7,000 businesses with 1.4 million employees in the state of Minnesota.

Over 500 attend Red Lake co-op annual meeting

More than 500 people attended the 54th annual meeting of Red Lake Electric cooperative Wednesday, April 1, at the Lafayette high school gymnasium in Red Lake Falls. Meeting theme was "On a Mission of Quality."

Reports by president Veral Mosbeck, general manager Ron Kennedy and office manager Roger Johanneck indicated that 1991 had record high energy sales and total margin of $413,899 as well as good service continuity due to absence of sleet storms. The cooperative has 2,563 miles of electric distribution line, assets of $14.1 million and 23 employees.

Reelected to three-year terms on the board of directors were Mosbeck, District 9; Henry Wieland, Red Lake Falls, District 6; and Tom Yutrzenka, Viking, District 3.

At the board reorganization following the meeting, Mosbeck was reelected president, Norman Dufault, vice president; and Wieland, secretary-treasurer. Other directors are Yutrzenka, Robert Olson, Kermit Finstad, Verner Arveson and Michael Bachand.

Safe worker awards to employees without lost time accidents were presented to Beverly Schmitz, 25 years; Shirley Bregier, 20 years; Mike Wavra, 10 years; and Dick Gervais, five years.

Speaker for the meeting was Bill Svendsgaard, Hennepin county extension agent and native of Pennington county, who showed slides and told about his experiences while in Russia to provide information on the 4-H club program.

Free prizes were awarded and lunch served by the Red Lake Falls Presbyterian church. Music prior to the meeting was provided by the Lafayette high school stage band and show choir with the choir opening the meeting by singing "The Star Spangled Banner." Music after the meeting was presented by the Oklee accordion band.

RESIDENTS:

Delivery of the Northern Watch takes place on Friday after 7 p.m. and on Saturdays until noon. Please leave a screen door open for delivery.

The Times has received numerous complaints from residents about the Northern Watch being left on door-steps or in their yard in the past week. Much of the problem could be solved if a screen door was left open.

Carriers delivering the newspaper would also like to remind residents to leave their pets inside or chained away from the door so that the newspaper can be delivered.

Plummer

Effie Vigstol
465-4375

Wavell Sorenson attended the 5th grade plays given at school, entitled "Mother Goose Olympics" and "Forlorn at the Fort" in which her granddaughter, Tricia Willett had a part. Later she visited at the Willett and Art Froland homes.

Lloyd and Wavell Sorenson visited son Russell Sorenson of Roseau on Sunday afternoon, and were supper guests of Karl and Rita Sorenson of Wannaska.

Eugene and Willa Prestegaard visited Monday at the Lloyd Sorenson and Tony Gerardy homes.

Art and Avis Froland, accompanied by Wavell Sorenson, attended the RLE meeting on Wednesday at Red Lake Falls.

Snowbirds

It's good to welcome back our people who have wintered in the Southlands. Mr. and Mrs. Myrl Vettleson, Mr. and Mrs. Art Fossum and Dorothy Myhre have all returned within the last few days and we're glad to have them back.

Word has been received of the death of Mabel Eshe, nee Hemstad, former resident of Plummer area. Her funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at Victor, MT. She was a sister-in-law of Hilma Hemstad and an aunt of Howard and Loren LaFayette. Her only close survivor is a brother Art Hemstad of Park Rapids. Sincere condolences to those who knew her.

Sympathies are extended to the family of Lucille Meyer, who died on Wednesday. She had been a resident of a Fosston special care home. Her husband, Al Meyer, son Jim and daughters Marlys and Jeanne, as well as brothers Howard and Loren LaFayette are all a part of this community and need our support in this difficult time.

Our sympathy also goes out to the Duden family, in the loss of their father and grandfather George Duden, whose funeral was on Wednesday at St. Bernard's in Thief River Falls.

Karl Vigstol spent Sunday afternoon and evening with his grandmother, Effie Vigstol, while his parents made a trip to Fargo.

On Sunday Rosella and Eugene Pietruszewski of Stephen and Dwight, Stella and Amanda Howard visited at the home of Clarice Amberson of Trail. Also there were Bernard and Pam Asselin, Duane, Pat and Vicki Asselin, all of Oklee. They were all supper guests of their mother and grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Coffin and granddaughter of Arvada, CO were Monday overnight guests at the Howard Greenwald home.

Linda Luxenburg, who has been visiting with the Ollie's and other relatives, left on Monday for Ft. Bragg, NC to resume her duties with the 82nd Airborne Division.

Teen's Retreat

Michelle LeFebvre, Lisa Howard and Kim Magers spent from Saturday morning until Monday evening attending the Teen's Encounter with Christ (TEC) retreat held in Crookston at the Agassiz Valley Tech. Jerry and Jan Frietag also attended on Sunday afternoon as youth leaders.

Idella Rewertz and cousin Gary Hofius went to Red Lake Falls to visit Howard Hanson at the Northwood home. Failing to find him there, they visited at the Virgil Patnode and Ted Pahlen homes.

Supper guests on Wednesday of Edna Hyde to observe belated birthdays of Adelaide Naas and Lorraine Brown were Leonard and Eleanor Hodgson, Chet and Lorraine Brown, Adelaide Naas and Dorothy Myhre.

Lloyd and Wavell Sorenson visited at the Monte Marquis home a week ago Saturday evening after attending the turkey supper at Faith church of Goodridge.

Inga Linder returned home last week from a trip to Belle Fourche, SD where she visited her sister, Gladys Magnell, for a couple of weeks.

Cheryl Greenwald and Dixie Koskela toured Jamestown College last Friday, returning home on Saturday. Dixie was an overnight guest of her cousin Melissa Arntson, who is a student there; Cheryl stayed with Terri Efteland of Thief River Falls who also attends Jamestown College.

New Arrivals

Jan and Jerry Frietag proudly announce the arrival of two new grandchildren. Sarah Ann, born July 11, 1988 and Samuel Alan, born January 16, 1990, were adopted by Alan and Val Mattison of Thief River Falls, son of the Frietags. The children were born in India. After months of waiting the children arrived here March 21. Other grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Harley Knutson of Thief River Falls.

Bridal Shower

The Mary Elizabeth Circle hosted a bridal shower for Karen Traxler Wilson on Sunday afternoon at Immanuel. A short program was given by Deb DuChamp, Carole Wright and Arlene Froiland. Karen opened her gifts assisted by her mother Ann Traxler, sister Nancy Rominski and daughter Miranda. A nice crowd attended and the hostesses served a dessert lunch.

Karen, who serves in the US Navy was recently married to Mario Wilson, who is a Marine. They were married in Woodbine, Georgia, but will be stationed in California shortly.

Impressions . . .

by
Beth Johnson

Spring has finally come to northern Minnesota. The evidence of spring is everywhere.

The tulips and daffodils are beginning to poke their leaves through the soil. The peonies are showing early evidence of their return to life. The lilacs are just beginning to look like branches with buds, not just dead sticks. The irises and daylilies are just barely poking through the ground. The living plants are beginning to show their life once again.

The birds have returned in full force to our area. Each morning we are awakened to a multitude of birds singing in the lilac bush. They have found our feeder and are busily emptying it. Last week I saw robins for the first time this spring. Spring is surely evident.

The temperature is definitely warming. We have even had readings in the 60s. The warmish smell of early spring is in the air.

It must be the warming temperatures and with it the evidence of spring in nature which has brought people once again out of doors. Everywhere one looks these days there are people enjoying the first pleasant spring days in the out of doors.

Many of us have started tackling our yards. Raking up the left over leaves from last fall and uncovering some of our gardens has kept many of us busy. Just to be able to walk on grass, now snow, is a pleasure we seem to revel in. Wouldn't it be nice if this pleasure lasted throughout the days of summer when we wish we didn't have to cut that grass so often?

Many of us, particularly of the younger age groups, are not tackling yards, but reveling in the warm spring weather by rollerblading and bicycling and skateboarding. It seems that every corner and every street has some child or not so young person trying out his or her wheels.

So, to those of you who have the talent for rollerblading and skateboarding and bicycling, please take a moment and listen to a Mom – Be Careful!!!

I have witnessed many dumb activities involving these fun modes of transportation. Intersections are not for flying through. Intersections are for stopping and looking — both ways – and then proceeding through cautiously. It seems to me to be those of the older young people — the teenagers – who are most likely to be oblivious to intersections. Stop, look, listen and then cross the intersection — your safety depends on your taking the time to stop, look and listen.

Teenagers are old enough to know enough to watch out for vehicles and pedestrians. But, the young children out riding their bikes and trikes and big wheels and rollerblades need to be cautioned repeatedly by their parents to be careful. They need to be reminded to slow down, and to stop, look and listen. These young children cannot be expected to be able to watch out for the dangers that could befall them. Parents need to take the responsibility to know where these little children are, and to not only know where they are but also to be with them as they gamely try out their wheels.

Spring has sprung, the grass has riz, but let's not wonder where our children are in these lovely days of spring. Know where your children are. If they are little children, see that responsible adults are with them. If they are teenagers, know that they are acting responsibly. Teach your little children to safely operate the wheels they use. Expect your older children to operate their wheels safely.

Spring brings us to the out of doors once more. It brings us sunshine and flowers and rain. It brings us enjoyment. Let's be watchful and careful this spring as we enjoy our escape from the long days of winter.

Jansen graduates from Interstate

Travis Jansen, son of David and Mavis Jansen of Thief River Falls, graduated March 20 from Interstate Business College in Fargo, ND, after completing the business management course.

Sculpture does not always involve marble statues or bronze castings. Lincoln high school student Rhonda Jorgenson is using a pair of scissors, corrugated cardboard and a bottle of glue to create texture and depth for this relief sculpture. Art objects from Lincoln art classes will be on display Sunday, April 12, from 2 to 5 p.m. at Lincoln high school during "An Afternoon with the Arts." Also featured will be music, drama and other arts.

Men's quartet including (left to right) Lars Dyrud, Russ Bjorgaard, Thane Espe and Tony Gustafson will be among vocalists performing Sunday afternoon during "An Afternoon with the Arts" at Lincoln high school. The event is free for the public. Band ensembles will play from 2:10 to 2:30 p.m., orchestra ensembles and theatre production of "Whispers in the Wind" will be from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. and vocal ensembles will perform from 4:30 to 5 p.m.

Blood drive at Northland is successful

United Blood Services of Fargo reports a good turnout for the blood drive held at Northland Community College and Thief River Falls Technical College on March 31. Fifty-nine people volunteered to donate blood, and 54 were actually able to give. Twenty-eight of the donors were first-timers.

Bev Willits, community relations representative of United Blood Services, said, "this is a clear example of concerned people in this area responding unselfishly to a great need — the need for blood. You can all feel proud that these volunteer donors are your friends and neighbors."

Dean Dalen and Avis Dyrud coordinated the drive. Others who assisted with the drive were: Dolores Wengeler, Mildred Hurien, and Clorice Collins registered donors the day of the drive. Space to hold the drive was provided by Thief River Falls Technical College.

Donations will help meet the blood needs of many patients in more than 50 hospitals served by United Blood Services of Fargo.

Etter lobbies in Washington for education

Edith Etter, a teacher at Mark Twain elementary school and a representative of the National Education Association's Congressional Contact Team, called on Congressman Collin Peterson of Minnesota's Seventh District in his Capitol Hill office in Washington, DC, March 31.

Etter said Congress must provide the leadership to ensure substantial increases to such initiatives as Chapter 1 reading and math programs and to provide local school districts additional funds to help them create programs to reach the national education goals.

She said it is time to reinvest some of the $300 billion continuing to be spent annually "on defense against a threat that no longer exists" into addressing critical needs here at home.

Abuse

Abuse is a bad thing. I can't think of anything worse.

Abuse is a word that covers a multitude of wrongs. Webster's New World Dictionary defines the word as "to use wrongly, to mistreat, to insult, revile, wrong use, mistreatment, a corrupt practice, insulting language."

We've been hearing a lot about abuse lately. Most of the time we hear about the more violent, physical type of abuse and the more sensational types of other abuse.

Lately, sexual abuse hearings have been televised into our homes. Last week we heard that statistics show that child abuse is rampant in this country. Spousal and companion abuse and assault are reported in every issue of our local newspaper.

Sexual abuse is a form of powerful against the powerless. The powerful wants to prove his or her power by action, such as outright rape or even by touching, suggestive gesture or "accidental" touches.

Child abuse is horrible, and it is happening all the time. There is no doubt that an adult is more powerful than a helpless child. How sad a situation when the abusing adult is a parent, someone a child should turn to for help. Where else can a child think to turn for help?

Spousal and companion abuse happen all the time, right under our noses, as we can see in the newspaper. Time and time again we see the same names repeated for fifth degree assault, or worse. How pathetic for one person to live in constant fear of another, especially when that person is a loved one.

Abuse by persons of influence and position, whether employers or others, happens every day. We hear charges of some new abuse or another daily against government officials and political candidates. Many workers are striking against companies that they feel are abusive to them, often with good cause.

However, there are many other types of abuse. The other types of abuse are often ignored or overlooked, and people may not even be aware that some of these things do constitute abuse.

Subtle abuse is mostly verbal or psychological. It is often performed by a person in power against someone less powerful, but not always. Sometimes it is a way for a less powerful person to feel that he or she has power over another.

Parents can abuse children in this manner. Telling a child he or she is "no good," that he can't do anything right, calling him names, all of these are forms of abuse. How easily little feelings are hurt; how easily bruised, sometimes permanently damaged, the little egos. Ignoring a child is a form of abuse, too. Children need attention and guidance and ignoring them is neglect, another form of abuse.

Oddly, children can also abuse their parents. Very often, adolescents are abusive to their parents by being disobedient, defiant, insolent. They abuse their parents by ignoring rules and chores.

Children can be abusive to other children, as well. Making fun of a classmate, calling him or her names, not being friendly – these are forms of abuse. Sometimes this abuse hurts the other person more than an outright punch in the nose.

Children can also be abusive to parents after they are grown. All too often elderly mothers and fathers are left alone, ignored, no one making sure they eat correctly or live in a clean home. Sometimes children place their parents in nursing homes long before it is needed, simply to get rid of them. Often the elderly are physically mistreated. Life is funny, isn't it? One day children are being taken care of by parents; the next day children are taking care of their parents. But it is a good thing to do.

Employers are often culprits when it comes to the subtle type of abuse. During working hours, some employers treat their employees as chattel, slaves, bought and paid for. They treat them accordingly, humiliating and embarrassing them in front of co-workers, and taking out their frustrations or problems at home on the employee.

But workers, too, can abuse their employers. Although they do not have power, the employee uses the abuse to rebel against the power of the employer. This abuse consists of sly words and deeds, the so-called, "Blue Collar crimes," petty theft of office materials, personal use of office machines, and wasting of times by the employee, doing tasks unrelated to work at hand.

Teachers abuse students by shaming and belittling them in front of their peers. When a student is told he is stupid or "dumb," in front of the class, the student is being abused. When a student is punished for actions over which he has no control, he or she is being abused. When a student is subtly ignored or led to believe that his input is not important, he or she is being abused.

It works both ways, and students can certainly abuse their teachers, too. This abuse can take the form of rude conduct and actions, insolence and disrespect, sneaky mockery and ridicule. Students who don't do their work and don't pay attention in class are abusing their teachers.

Business can abuse, too. I wrote about abusive receptionists and secretaries a while back, and about rude sales clerks some time ago. There are other forms of business abuse, however, one of which is the nasty little notes some businesses send on their bills when the total amount due is not paid in full, even though regular monthly payments are being made. This embarrasses the person who owes the bill; it is a rude thing to do, and creates bad feelings toward the business.

Some businesses "go for the gold." What this means is that they treat people with money differently from people without it. The wealthy are treated with kid gloves, while the middle class and poor are given different treatment entirely. Most ordinary people get the abusive message quickly and go elsewhere with their business.

Some businesses treat people by the way they look. People who do not look influential seem to be buried by the wayside at these businesses. Sometimes the people are even verbally abused, but, at the very least, they are not afforded the respect to which they are entitled. How very sad such selective business practices.

This is National Prevention of Child Abuse month. I'd like to call it National Prevention of (Everyone) Abuse month, wouldn't you?

"It is not the program or administration that there is [illegible] of dissatisfaction with performance," states nine year board member Mark Carlson, "but that is not the case.

"Gene Busch has done a great deal for Marshall County Central school. He handles financial matters extremely well, he hires good staff and he pays a lot of attention to curriculum. He works well with other districts as illustrated by his dedication to the Northwest Regional Inter District Council (NWRIDC), a special education cooperative headquartered at Newfolden and the Northwest Vocational Center located in Thief River Falls.

"But it is a matter of overall cost to the school district," Carlson said. "We are one of the last school districts of our size to have its own superintendent, and while I believe we have benefitted from that circumstance, we are projecting a cost saving of $20,000 by going to an alternative arrangement."

Board chairman David Bakke said that the board is as yet uncertain as to what that alternative will be. Preliminary conversations have been held about administrative sharing with another area school. Both high school principal Ron Paggen and elementary principal Jim Hodny have superintendent certification and a combination position may be possible.

Gene Busch began his career in education as a secondary teacher and coach at Flasher (ND) high school in 1959 after graduating that spring from Valley City State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education with majors in math, social science and physical education.

In 1961 he became high school principal in Fairview, MT and in 1962 received his Master of Education degree in secondary administration from the University of North Dakota. From 1964 to 1966 he was superintendent at Richey high school and from 1966 to 1968 at Scobey high school, both in Montana.

In 1968 he returned to the rank of principal, moving to Hardin high school in Montana, a 130 teacher system. He left that post in 1971 to take the superintendent post in Newfolden.

All three of the Busch children have graduated from Marshall County Central high school. Jeff, a 1977 graduate, lives in Belgrade, MT. Lisa, a 1981 graduate, works in the graphic arts field in Minneapolis. Karen, a 1986 graduate, has a degree from Bemidji State university and is a graduate assistant in freshman English at BSU. Gene's wife Marge is a computer merchandiser at Kmart in Thief River Falls.

The current school year began in a rather routine fashion for Supt. Busch, except that a shortage of funds made it necessary for the district's administration to seek a special levy for future operations. The decision was made to ask the voters for a $250,000 annual special levy for a five year period beginning in 1994. The levy passed at the November 5 general election with 71 percent of the voters in favor.

It was during the drive for the special levy that the board informed Busch of its intention not to renew his contract when it expires June 30, 1992. The early notification was intended to give him time to seek other employment.

With the special levy effort behind him, he had only two days to catch his breath before fire destroyed most of the high school building. Investigators traced the fire cause to a coffeemaker in the faculty lounge area. Gene turned his immediate attention to finding space for high school classes in community facilities.

Despite the turmoil caused by the fire and ensuing scheduling, all did not look bleak. The district had paid extra premiums for replacement insurance for years, and it appeared that the approximately $6 million replacement could be completed by the fall of 1992.

Then Minnesota Commissioner of Education Gene Mammenga informed the board that he would not permit rebuilding of the school. His position was that the district's school population was too small for long term continued operation.

Again Supt. Busch's activity was refocused. Assistance was sought and received from area legislators and from the office of Minnesota's Attorney General. Community support came in a groundswell that made a strong impression in the governor's office and elsewhere in St. Paul. In a meeting with school officials, Education Commissioner Mammenga relented and gave his approval to reconstruction.

With that approval came the necessity to select architects, hire a general contractor, coordinate ideas and suggestions, prepare plans for reconstruction and oversee the work underway.

While the furor regarding reconstruction was raging, the state fire marshall's office inspected the elementary school and didn't like what it found in the original part of the building built in 1913. The district was given three years to expend large amounts of money to bring the building up to current code or to abandon it. As is so often the case, the original building is sandwiched between a 1943 gymnasium addition and a 1953 classroom addition.

To prepare for closing of the 1913 portion of the building, a plan for restructuring of the elementary schools had to be devised. Tentative plan is to locate kindergarten through third grade in Viking and fourth through sixth grade in Newfolden. First public meeting on that plan was held Monday evening in Viking. A second session is planned for Monday, April 13, at the Newfolden elementary school.

Through it all, Busch has tried not to lose sight of the ideals he has striven to maintain through three decades of administration.

"I have always believed in keeping extra-curricular activities at a high class level and in providing support to maintain that attitude," he said. "I encourage all of our coaches and directors to convey to the students a pride in their school, themselves and their performance. Over the years I believe that our students have taken that instruction to heart and have been exemplary representatives in all areas."

Jim Hodny has worked with Busch for all of his 13 years as elementary principal. He said he has appreciated Gene's advice and counsel, especially in the early years of his first administrative post.

"Mr. Busch has to be one of the best money managers of any superintendent around," he said. "He is willing to listen to our needs for funds and although we don't always get what we ask for he is willing to help in any way he can. He puts a lot of emphasis on curriculum and seeing to it our students have up to date materials and equipment."

Quality of students the Marshall County Central school produces is a point of pride for Busch. "There were three classes in a row in the 1980s where 40 per cent of the graduates or more earned bachelor degrees or higher in college," he states proudly. "That high a percentage is almost unheard at any school."

Jeanette Reierson was the first female bus driver in the district and pre dates Supt. Busch by a year in service to School District 441. She recalls that 22 years ago when she started driving the bus she drove used two quarts of oil for half a trip.

"It's not that way any more," she said. "Our buses are well maintained, and I've had three new ones in the five I've driven regularly. Supt. Busch is a lot like me—when he thinks something needs to be said he says it."

"And that's it—then it's over," adds Gerald Pederson, mechanic in the transportation department. "We have 12 buses and three cars that the district operates. There are nine bus routes and we have three spares. When activities take students out of town, all the buses are in use."

Supt. Busch has a radio base station in his home and if a bus has mechanical problems or gets stuck on the morning route he is frequently the driver to bring out another bus. Often the response is quick enough that the students on the stranded bus aren't even late for classes.

Faculty members at Marshall County Central schools are quick to point out that Supt. Busch has been a staunch supporter. Mary Anderson, in her 20th year of teaching kindergarten at the Newfolden elementary school, said the superintendent was always fair, stood behind his staff and had a good working relationship with them.

"You can always be assured that if you tell him something in confidence that the confidence will be honored," she said.

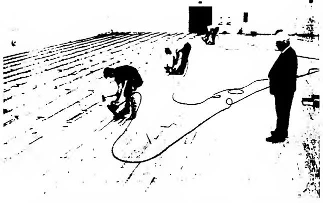
Ron Ueland, for 25 years a teacher and coach at MCC, said Busch was always supportive of the athletic programs and was willing to provide a buffer between young coaches and the public. As a result, coaches and directors have been willing to serve in those positions for a number of years.

Ueland was junior high volleyball coach last fall, head varsity boys basketball coach last winter and is currently girls track coach this spring. He has also been head baseball and football coach at some time during his tenure at MCC.

"One of the things I have appreciated is that he has never interfered in my coaching," Ueland said, "even when his son was on my basketball team."

Sheila Nelson, music instructor who has directed the school musical for a number of years, recalls that it was Supt. Busch who arranged for the start of the annual musicals by the music department shortly after he came to Newfolden.

With rebuilding of the high school well underway, there is hope that the gymnasium will be ready for high school graduation ceremonies on Friday, May 29, at 7 p.m. It will be a first for the district and a finale for the superintendent—an "Administrator of Excellence" and a victim of circumstance.



New maple floor was being placed in the Marshall County Central high school gymnasium late last week as the building was being renovated following a fire which destroyed much of the school last November. The crew used air-powered staple guns to fasten the strips of maple flooring which lay on a double thickness of plywood. Watching the operation is Supt. Gene Busch, who says construction is expected to progress to the point where the 1992 graduation ceremonies will take place in the gym.

Reconstruction of the Marshall County Central high school building is well underway. Watching the progress is Supt. Gene Busch, recently honored by Region VIII of the Minnesota Association of School Administrators as its "Administrator of Excellence." Change is being made in the entryway to the building (as shown in the background of the above photo), although much of the building will be similar to the way it was before the fire.

Entrance to Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden will have a new look following reconstruction of the school necessitated by a November 7 fire. Workmen were busy late last week placing roofing material on the entrance area. Much of the exterior block and brick work has been completed and large sections of the interior concrete floors were being poured last week. Preparations were also being made to lay terrazzo floors in the hallways in some sections of the building.

Animals held in city animal control pound

Two dogs and a cat are being held in the animal control pound in Thief River Falls. They can be adopted or claimed by their owner.

Each animal will be kept for a minimum of five days from the date of impoundment. Animals may be claimed by proving ownership. Pound fees, license fees and any other expense incurred by the department will be assessed prior to release.

The following described animals are being held in the animal pound: a black long-hair dog caught March 28 in North township; a golden lab cross caught April 3 near St. Hilaire; and a gray and white cat caught April 5 in Thief River Falls.

For more information contact the police department at 681-6161.

Norwest Vice president speaks at TRF meeting

Last Thursday, Ken Murray, executive vice president of Community Banking for Norwest Corporation, visited with investment and banking customers of Norwest in Thief River Falls. Murray spoke about Norwest's focus on community banking.

Norwest Bank in Thief River Falls is one of many banks that belong to Norwest Banks in 12 states. Murray explained that the company began focusing on being a holding company made up of many smaller community banks with major emphasis given to serving each community where their banks are located. This local focus added value to the bank because they have become customer orientated in each of their market places and offer the additional benefits of a bigger bank when called for.

Their emphasis on customer needs has led to the development of 45 investment and financial products that they didn't offer three years ago.

INSURANCE Update

by Dee Schmidtgall

Often times potential loss exposures are ignored with the hope that "it can't happen here". An unrecognized or unaddressed exposure can bring unexpected and sometimes devastating results. No one is better informed about your business than you are. By allowing your insurance representative to become equally informed, you can work together in seeking out and identifying any potential problems. A plan can be developed to cover these potential losses economically.

Regardless of your insurance needs, NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is here to provide you with the protection you require. It is important to see to it that you are adequately protected before a mishap occurs. NORTHERN STATE AGENCY is conveniently located in the Northern State Bank building. Office hours are from 8:30-5 Mon.-Fri.; 8:30-6 Thurs.

NOTE: Your insurance company should also be aware of all exposures, so there are no "surprises", should a loss occur.

Pat Kjenerud, head cook at the Newfolden school, places a pan of buttered bread on the serving counter in preparation for a horde of hungry students looking for noon lunch. She is shown with Gene Busch, superintendent of the Marshall County Central school system who was recently selected as the MASA Region VIII "Administrator of Excellence."

Jeanette Reierson, Marshall County Central school's first woman bus driver and a full-time driver for 22 years, discusses a potential problem with her bus with Gerald Pederson, head mechanic for the school, and Supt. Gene Busch. Supt. Busch has a two-way radio base station at his house and is often the bus driver to respond when one of the district's buses gets in trouble on the route.

Strandquist

F. Myrtle Vagle
436-2133

The Strandquist junior citizens have been busy collecting soup labels to acquire sports equipment for their school. Any help in saving labels is always appreciated. Here are reports from them, of their activities.

Mr. Westberg is happy to report we have soon reached our goal of collecting 10,000 soup labels. We now have 9,554 labels. We hope that we can get many more over 10,000 and maybe reach 15,000 by the end of the year. Thanks to all of you for saving labels for us.

Mrs. Rodahl's class is studying about gliding in science. It is very interesting. We are learning about measurements in math and also the metric system. The winner of the Soil and Water Conservation coloring contest in the first grade was Danielle Langehaug. Danielle was given a T-shirt for her nice work.

Mrs. Schindele's class has a new student. His name is Jonas Boda. Winners of the Soil and Water Conservation coloring contest in the second grade were Breanna Wojciechowski, Anna Levenhagen, and Tyler Foss. Each of the winners received a T-shirt.

Another Strandquist Senior Citizen, Bertha Palm, passed away on Friday, and her memorial service will be held in the Bethesda Lutheran church on Tuesday afternoon.

Those who stopped at Frank and Judy Kleinwachter's Thursday, after Bertha Holmstrom's funeral were Robert, Denise, Nils and Jens Berggren, Mason City, IA, Carol Thompson of Red Lake Falls, Bud and Marie Steffen of Argyle, Vance, Kelly and Amanda Lofrooth of Cedar, Kaye Turnwall of St. Hilaire, Elmer, Anna and Alvin Holmstrom, Larina and Paul Berggren, Ben, Brian, Kari and June Kasprowicz, Ellen Stromberg and Frank Grochowski.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Storeby from Inver Grove Heights, were here for their grandmother, Bertha Holmstrom's funeral on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Raum and Justin and Chad Helgeson were also here for Bertha's funeral.

On Tuesday the 24th, some of the friends and neighbors who came to celebrate Ella Boen's birthday were Betsy Thompson, Mildred Anderson from East Grand Forks, Mavis Krohn and Jean Anderson from Viking, Alice Hodne, Jerome, Dob, Melissa and Madeline Boen. Happy Birthday, Ella!

June and Brandon Kasprowicz, Kaye Turnwall, Ellen Stromberg and Elmer Holmstrom stopped in at Frank and Judy Kleinwachter's on Wednesday. On Friday Kelly and Amanda Lofrooth and June Kasprowicz visited them.

Tips on organic gardening given at district meet

Tips on organic gardening were given by Janese Thatcher when the 13th District Horticultural society met for its spring workshop recently in Viking. Theme for the workshop was "Wake Up! It's Spring!"

"Just because you see a bug doesn't mean it is doing harm," Thatcher told the group. She said it is important to identify the insect because there are many beneficial ones that are needed in gardens.

"Learn something about the life cycle of the bug," she suggested. "Find out if it feeds by chewing or sucking on plant parts. Is the larval stage the real problem? Then find out how to control pests during the various stages of their life cycle. Some of the organic control methods available on the market kill insects by upsetting the way they digest their food."

Outstanding district gardener awards were given to Beverly Carlson of Williams Gardeners and Jeannie Hamness of the Roseau Four Seasons club. Gold medal award winners were Generva Nelson of the Green Thumb club at Warroad and Lew Wallace of Middle River and the Gro-Rite garden club.

Each club attending brought a banner and those attending selected "People's Choice" awards. Banners selected as winners were made by the Deer Park, Argyle and Gro-Rite garden clubs.

Leona Rapacz, president of the Argyle garden club, gave a demonstration of soaps, lotions and cosmetics she makes from herbs (mainly rosemary) and other things grown in the garden. Musical selections were provided by Jessica Anderson of Viking with a piano solo and Laura Lahine of Argyle with a flute solo.

Mrs. Ardelle Anderson, council member from Viking, welcomed the society members to Viking and complimented them on the job they do to beautify their communities. A welcome was also given by Joyce Kron, president of the Viking Town and Country garden club.

LaVonne Radniecki, district historian, gave the awards for club program books. Championship went to the Williams Gardeners and blue ribbons to Green Thumb and Ladyslipper clubs. Red ribbon was received by Gro-Rite, white ribbons by Argyle and Roseau clubs and participation ribbons by NaChur, Deer Park, Moccasin and Baudette garden clubs.

There was a display of various types of bird houses. The host Argyle and Viking Town and Country garden clubs served a silver tea to close the afternoon's events.

Platting process at Southwoods addition set

Red flags and stakes were noticeable near the C'mon Inn last week. Those flags and stakes were not indications of new buildings, or proposed structures but of a final plat of Southwoods Addition being prepared by Widseth, Smith and Nolting, Engineers, Architects and Land Surveyors.

Affected landowners were notified and hearings were held before the Thief River Falls city council approved a final plat of Southwoods Addition on February 25. Most of the property is still zoned agricultural. More hearings will have to be held if all of the property is to be zoned commercial. Notices will be published as required, if and when the owners decided to request a zoning change. The property is owned by Kenneth Berg and others.

Prowlers' all-time leading scorer closes out high school basketball career...

Kruta will play in all-star series

■ TRF senior plans to attend Northern Montana next year

Thief River Falls senior Jodi Kruta will [illegible] her outstanding high school basketball career this weekend when the 5-6 guard [illegible] in the 1992 Minnesota Metro/Outstate All-Star Basketball Series.

Kruta is the first Thief River Falls girl [illegible] in a post-season all-star game. The Outstate team will have [illegible] match-ups against the Metro squad Friday at the Target Center in Minneapolis and Saturday at Halenbeck Hall on the St. Cloud State University campus. The Outstate-Metro doubleheaders will include boys games at 8 p.m.

Jenny [illegible] of East Grand Forks and Kim Hanson of Fergus Falls will be among Kruta's Outstate teammates.

Eldon Sparby of Middle River will be one of the coaches for the Outstate boys team that includes Jeff Brunsberg of Clearbrook-Gonvick, Aaron Molacek of Warren and Kevin Pearson of Fergus Falls.

Tickets, priced at $7, will be available at the door.

Kruta was a four year varsity performer for the Prowlers – playing the first three under Tom Hunt, then for Sally Wiltse. She joined the prestigious 1,000-Point Club as a junior and wound up with a school-record 1,771 career points. The only other Thief River Falls girl to crack the 1,000-point barrier is Michelle Olson, who graduated in 1985 with 1,062 points.

"Jodi is a very gifted athlete," pointed out Wiltse. "She has put a lot of time and energy into becoming a very good basketball player, and it shows. And she's not just a scorer. She has very good ball handling skills, and her passing is probably the best part of her game. You put her into a college environment where she is surrounded by talent and her passing will really show."

But Kruta's scoring has produced the most attention at the high school level. She scored 253 points and carried a 13.4 scoring average as a freshman, netted 534 points and had a 21.9 average as a sophomore, came up with 514 points and wound up with a 21.4 average as a junior, then finished with 470 points and a 19.6 average as a senior.

Those numbers add up to a school record 19.25 scoring average over 92 varsity games. She also owns the Prowlers' career records with 300 assists, 303 steals, 1,626 field goal attempts, 649 field goals, a 39.9 field goal shooting percentage, 528 three-point field goal attempts, 183 three-point field goals, 422 free throw attempts and 290 free throws.

Team MVP as a sophomore and a senior, a co-captain as both a junior and senior and the Prowlers' leading scorer each of the past four years, Kruta also owns school single season records with 514 points, 89 steals, 471 field goal attempts, 186 field goals, a 41.2 field goal shooting percentage, 168 three-point attempts and 55 three-point shots.

A 35-point game against East Grand Forks during the 1990-91 season tops a batch of single-game school records set by Kruta. The list also includes 34 field goal attempts, 13 field goals, a 63 percent field shooting mark (7/11), 11 steals, 13 three-point attempts, five three-point baskets and a 71 percent shooting eye from three-point range (5/7).

A 1991-92 St. Paul Pioneer Press All-State pick, Kruta has been the Prowlers' top offensive player each of the past four years, an All-North Sub-Section 8AA pick as both a junior and senior, a Brainerd Invitational All-Tournament selection the past three years, a First Team All-Star at the Minnesota Elite Basketball Camp the past two years and the Grand Forks Herald Minnesota Area Player of the Year.

"Jodi is really special," said Wiltse. "She is a very strong, very durable athlete."

Because of the talent and years of hard work honing her game, Kruta will have the opportunity to continue her basketball career in college at Northern Montana in Havre. The 3,000 student NAIA school is located in the north eastern part of the state.

Kruta was contacted by numerous NCAA Division II and Division III schools. Talent-wise, said Wiltse, Kruta has the ability to play at a higher level, but at 5-6, she comes up short in the size department that influence the recruiting decisions by the coaches in the major college programs.

"She's short. There's nothing she can do about that," said Wiltse.

But she can play basketball, and the folks in the Frontier Conference will find that out next year. "The people I met when I visited Northern Montana were really great," said Kruta.

The Skylights have a top-notch basketball program, pointed out Kruta. They were 30-2 this year under first-year head coach Sherry Winn, who coached Kruta when she played in the Elite Camp. "They like to run, and they play ten kids," pointed out Kruta, whose creative talents should fit nicely into that type of game.

Tennis team beats Crookston...

TRF wins opener

A sweep in doubles helped carry Thief River Falls past Crookston 4-3 Monday in season-opening dual meet high school tennis action at the Grand Forks Tennis Centre.

The Pirates' Paul Johnson, Chris Martin and Scott Isaacson won at 1-2-3 singles, but the Prowlers picked up a victory at No. 4 singles from Tony Miramontes, then won all three doubles matches – Jeff Twomey/Kyle Jordet at No. 1; Derek Dahlstrom/David Johnson at No. 2; and Jared Goldesberry/Kyle Egenes at No. 3.

Four of the match-ups were three-set tie-breakers, and the Prowlers won three of them.

Goldesberry and Egenes are juniors; the other Thief River Falls winners were sophomores.

"There were the normal ups and downs of a first match," reported Thief River Falls coach Jay Forney. "We saw a lot of unforced errors and a lot of mistakes, but we also saw a lot of good things, too. And it's always nice to start the year with a win. We'll just build from there."

The Prowlers will be in East Grand Forks Thursday for a 2 p.m. double-dual that will also include Moorhead.

TRF 4, Crookston 3

Singles - 1. Paul Johnson (Crookston) def. Trevor Haugen 6-3, 6-0. 2. Chris Martin (Crookston) def. Marc Seaverson 6-0, 6-2. 3. Scott Isaacson (Crookston) def. Darin Feragen 5-7 (7-0), 6-2, 1-0 (7-0). 4. Tony Miramontes (TRF) def. Trent Fischer 6-7 (7-3), 6-1, 1-0 (7-2).

Doubles - 1. Jeff Twomey-Kyle Jordet (TRF) def. Don Montague-Chris Tiedeman 6-4, 1-6, 1-0 (9-7). 2. Derek Dahlstrom-David Johnson (TRF) def. Troy Magsam-Bryon Morris 4-6, 7-5, 1-0 (7-5). 3. Jared Goldesberry-Kyle Egenes (TRF) def. Jeremy Hanson-Jarrod Cameron 6-4, 7-5.

Davis heads award winners

Joel Davis led a group of special award winners announced Sunday night at the annual Thief River Falls post-season high school wrestling banquet held in the Franklin Middle School cafeteria.

Davis was selected the Prowlers' most valuable wrestler and was presented with the Irv Wilson Memorial Award as Thief River Falls' most dedicated wrestler.

Davis was also recognized for leading the team in wins (36) and pins (24).

"Joel is a blue-chipper," pointed out Thief River Falls head coach John Anderson. "I wish I had 15 Joel Davis' on my team. He's such a hard worker, the rest of the kids improve themselves just tying to keep up with him."

Rob Bakken was selected as the Prowlers' most improved wrestler; Matt Kaushagen was presented with the Coaches' Award; and Lee Nieland was recognized for leading the team in takedowns (57).

Nieland was also named captain of the 1992-93 Prowlers, succeeding Jason Kainz, Davis and Kaushagen, who served as tri-captains this winter.

Athletic letters went to the three seniors on the team – Davis, Kainz and Kaushagen; juniors Dan Lavalier and Nieland; sophomores Jon Parish, Tom Swantek and Bakken; freshmen Steve Burslie, John Davis, Dusty Eddleman and Max Radniecki; eighth graders Nick Dee and Kyle Miller; seventh grader Luke Davis; and student manager Mandy Sjaaheim.

Participation certificates were given to sophomores Mark Sullivan, Tony Timm and Travis Torblaa; freshmen Scott Danielson, Chris Hornbeak, Jeremy Nygaard, Chad Panek and Mark Spyhalski; seventh graders Brian Green, Shannon Hageman, Darwin Klemetson, Adam Kuck, Billy Lubitz and Aaron Sjaaheim; sixth graders Joshua Hagen and Ryan Viktara; plus student manager Lauren Lavalier.

Anderson gave recognition to assistant coaches Mark Davis and Troy Jangula and introduced guest speaker Gregg Stensgard, an assistant coach at North Dakota State University.

Cheerleading advisor Jill Tunberg was also on hand to present letters to junior Jennifer Saustad; sophomores Jennifer Blackberg, Trisha Dessellier, Jennifer Klos and Dana McGeary; along with freshman Jami Fremstad. McGeary was given the cheerleading leadership award, while spirit awards went to the others. McGeary and Dessellier were the cheerleading co-captains this winter.

The Prowlers were 12-11 in dual meet competition in a 1991-92, a season that extended into the Class AA state tournament for Kaushagen and Joel Davis.

"It was a successful year," said Anderson. "Even with just three seniors, it was our second straight winning record. We'll be young again next year, but we'll be an experienced young team."

Anderson said he feels the program is making steady progress. "I think we're getting better and better – we've just got to give it time," he explained. "We've got to get physically stronger and mentally tougher."

Quality of the Thief River Falls wrestling program will continue to develop as interest grows, offered Anderson. "It takes a certain type

Sports Boosters meet

Lincoln High School coaches Jay Forney (boys tennis), Dick Tyler (boys golf) and Charlie Cornell (girls golf) will all address the Thief River Falls Sports Boosters Club Thursday during the group's 12-noon luncheon meeting at the Rex Cafe.

Youth Hockey

Thief River Falls' Wade Chiodo and Keith Anderson participated in the Minnesota Selects Classic Hockey Festival Friday, Saturday and Sunday in St. Cloud.

Based on observations during the regular season, or participation during previous Festivals, Minnesota Selects officials drew up rosters for North, South, East and West squads in six different age groups – players born in 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979 and 1980. Round robin scheduling Friday and Saturday produced championship and third place game match-ups Sunday.

Chiodo was a first-year participant in the event. His 1980 North squad went 1-2-1.

Anderson was playing in the event for the third time. His 1978 North squad was 3-0 in round-robin play before losing to the South in the finals. The North rosters included players from communities across the entire northern part of Minnesota, stretching from Moorhead to Duluth, though the Brainerd area.

Chiodo was named to the event's 1980 All-Academic team with a 4.0 grade point average, while Anderson was listed as a 1978 All-Academic Honorable Mention choice with a 3.75 GPA.

Jump Rope for Heart will be held Saturday

Students in Thief River Falls will be participating in Jump Rope for Heart, an event that emphasizes the benefits of aerobic exercise, on Saturday, April 11, in the Franklin Middle School gym. The event, coordinated locally by Howard Thorson, Myron Peterson and Scott Brekke, begins at 11 a.m.

Jump Rope for Heart promotes cardiovascular fitness and reinforces the need for a quality exercise program, while raising funds for the American Heart Association, Minnesota Affiliate in its battle against heart disease.

Serving as the program's honorary chairman this year is the Minnesota Vikings' Henry Thomas. A standout defensive tackle, Thomas offers two very good reasons why he is excited about working with the Jump Rope for Heart program:

"Not only do you have fun with the jump ropes, you learn about your heart," he said. "You learn about what you should do to keep your heart in its best condition. It's just a lot of fun and (participants) can help spread the message to other kids who are unaware."

Jump Rope for Heart events across Minnesota raised $450,000 for the Minnesota Affiliate in 1990-91. Funds raised at Jump Rope for Heart in Thief River Falls will help support the Minnesota Affiliate's programs of research, community service and education.

As a result of the efforts of the American Heart Association, Minnesota Affiliate, the age-adjusted death rate from coronary heart disease decreased by 30 percent from 1979 to 1989. Unfortunately, 46 percent of all deaths in Minnesota are still caused by diseases of the heart and blood vessels.

Thief River Falls boys high school basketball banquet...

Upham earns top award

Tom Upham, Darin Wald, Kelly Swanson, Tony Greene and John Wallberg were presented with special awards Sunday during the annual Thief River Falls boys high school basketball banquet in the Lincoln cafeteria.

Upham was named the Prowlers' most valuable player, Wald and Swanson were selected co-most improved, Greene was announced as the top defensive player and Wallberg was voted Mr. Hustle.

Green is a junior; the other special award winners are seniors.

Head coach Scott Brekke and assistant coaches Myron Peterson and Kevin Nelson made the presentations.

Letters were also awarded by basketball cheerleading advisor Jane Miller to seniors Heidi Berning, Lisa Dicken, Jocelyn Goldesberry, Ellen Olson and Kym Peters, plus sophomores Heather Thomtoo and Kelly Gould, the mascot.

NCC opens baseball season

Northland Community College baseball team, fresh from a four-day spring training trip to the Omaha area was scheduled to open its 1992 season today (Tuesday) with a 2 p.m. doubleheader against the Bemidji State University junior varsity in Bemidji.

The Terry Wiseth-coached Pioneers begin Minnesota Community College Conference play with a pair of weekend doubleheaders as they host Fergus Falls Saturday and entertain Hibbing Sunday. Games are scheduled to get underway at 12-noon both days at the Northland diamond.

"We had a super trip," reported Wiseth upon the Pioneers' return from Nebraska. "It was cold when we first got there Wednesday, but the weather was great Thursday, Friday and Saturday. We got a lot done. We did a lot of scrimmaging and our kids were able to do a lot of throwing and hitting. It was baseball from 9 a.m. to 5-6 p.m. every day. The kids really enjoyed it."

In addition to intra-squad work, the Pioneers had scrimmage sessions against Dana College and the Bellevue College junior varsity.

Wiseth said there will be some experimenting with the Pioneers' line-up until he finds the right combinations. "We basically know what our sophomores can do from last year, but we've got a lot of freshmen and we still have to find out just how they'll fit in," he explained.

Dan Boushee, a left-handed sophomore from East Grand Forks, and Ryan Bothum, a right-handed freshman from Karlstad, have looked sharp on the mound in early work-outs, noted Wiseth, who will also look for starting pitching from Kevin Hanson, a sophomore from Kennedy; Nate Carlin, a freshman from East Grand Forks; Mike Swanson, a freshman from Thief River Falls; and Kelly Gray, a freshman from Warroad. Dennis Carpenter, a sophomore from Oslo, and John Clark, a sophomore from Waubun, might lead the Pioneers' relief staff.

"Our kids got a chance to pitch a lot of innings in Nebraska," noted Wiseth. "They did a pretty decent job. Offensively we were a little streaky. We saw from pretty good pitching. We hit the ball well at times, but we weren't real consistent."

Defensively, the Pioneers have key positions to fill with freshmen, who will handle the catching and shortstop duties. "We've got three-four kids to look at in both positions," said Wiseth. "The positions are there to be won."

Grade school program completed

A Friday swim meet capped the week-long Thief River Falls elementary school swim clinic at the Franklin Middle School pool.

Boys and girls in grades 1-5 took part in the event. Ryan Lokken, who coaches both the Thief River Falls boys and girls high school swim teams, served as the clinic director.

Members of the Thief River Falls swim teams volunteering their time as instructors were Amy Adams, Theresa Giauque, Maja Turenne, Matt Carlson, Tony McEnelly, Daryl Klesow, Ryan Browning, Simon Krystosek, Guy Drevlow, Nicole Kaspari and Laura Follett.

1991-92 Grygla-Gatzke boys high school basketball...

Eagles have memorable season

It was exciting. And it was fun. That's the way Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson is going to remember the 1991-92 boys high school basketball season.

The Eagles wound up 14-9 during a year that included seven wins by four points or less and three two-point losses. Three games went into overtime – one was a double overtime affair and another contest went into triple overtime.

The season ended in that type of fashion, too, as the Eagles dropped a down-to-the-wire 52-50 Section 8A Sub-Section 4 tournament quarterfinal decision to Argyle. "We would have liked to gone further in the playoffs, but the way the season went, I guess it was a fitting way to end," said Johnson. "We came pretty close to where I thought we would be this year. We were in just about every game – and that's always our goal. It was one of the most exciting and most enjoyable years of coaching I've ever had."

A balanced Grygla-Gatzke attack featured three double figure scorers as 5-10 senior Mitch Bernstein averaged 14.4 points per game, 6-3 junior Jeremy Engelstad 13.0 and 6-3 senior Ryan Bakken 11.7.

Joining Bernstein, Engelstad and Bakken in a group of six players used as starters by Johnson were 6-1 juniors Scott Rindahl (8.7 average) and Rick Warne (5.2), along with 5-9 senior Justin Lunsetter (6.0).

"We had great balance," pointed out Johnson. "We had six kids capable of scoring 20 points. It seemed like a different player would step forward at any given time to get the job done. And the kids we had coming off the bench all did their role, too."

The Eagles' season took a solid turn toward the positive in late January, explained Johnson, when they bounced back from a disappointing 68-41 loss to Goodridge that put them at 5-6 with a 70-68 overtime victory over eventual Section 8A Sub-Section 4 champion Roseau that started an eight-game winning streak.

"We had some good, solid athletic talent to work with," acknowledged Johnson, "and we had outstanding leadership from our seniors, not only in athletics, but in areas like academics and other school activities."

The seniors will be missed, admitted Johnson, but three front-line juniors return, a junior varsity team made great strides as the season progressed and the Eagles' seventh/eighth grade team showed great promise in going 27-4 this winter.

"We'll certainly miss the seniors," said Johnson. "Someone like a Mitch Bernstein comes along once every 15 years; he's a real gem. But I have to believe that our program is solid enough that we should remain competitive."

Tim Olson named is Nordics' MVP

Tim Olson was named most valuable, Jeremy Tallum was selected most improved and Robbie Anderson was tabbed the outstanding defensive player for the 1991-92 Marshall County Central boys high school basketball team.

The awards were announced at a recent banquet when recognition also went to Ivan Hirst as the Nordics' top rebounder, Anderson for leading the team in steals and Olson for team-leading figures in scoring, free throw shooting percentage and assists.

The 6-2 Olson averaged 16.9 points and 8.3 rebounds per game this winter, while tha 6-4 Hirst scored 10.7 points and pulled down 8.4 rebounds per game. They are both juniors.

Anderson, a 6-1 senior, came close to giving the Nordics three double figure scoring averages for the year with a 9.5 figure. Two other seniors filling out the starting line-up at tournament time were 6-2 Jerod Olson and 5-10 Chad Bjorgaard, although the 6-3 Tallum and 5-9 Shane Borg, a pair of juniors, also played extensively.

Olson and Hirst were North Border All-Conference picks, while Anderson was given Honorable Mention status.

The Nordics wound up 12-14 for the year – just the third losing season in Ron Ueland's 25 years as head coach at Newfolden.

But eight of those losses were by five or fewer points, and many of them were frustrating down-to-the-wire setbacks.

And while Ueland didn't want to use it as an excuse, the fire that destroyed the Newfolden school in November and left the basketball team without a home court for the 1991-92 season had to play a role in the Nordics' below-par finish. Practice was generally confined to a small, antiquated elementary school gym in the community, and the entire 26-game schedule was spent on the road. The 'home' portion of the season included five games in Middle River and five in Thief River Falls – four at Northland Community College; one at Lincoln High School.

"We don't normally finish below .500," noted Ueland, "but we weren't really that far from winning 15-16 games. It was a frustrating season," he admitted, because of the string of closes losses and the facility situation. "A basketball season is a test of endurance in itself, and when you add all of the travel to it like we did, you could see where we ran out of gas at times."

One of the bright spots for the Nordics was a school-record single-season team rebounding performance, pointed out Ueland. "We weren't big, physically, but we had some decent height and we had some good jumpers," he explained. "They did a real nice job on the boards."

With the rebounders in place, the Nordics rolled when their outside shooters were on target. "When we shot well from the outside, we were almost unbeatable because our inside game was solid," said Ueland. "But we didn't have the consistent outside shooting. When we didn't hit from the outside, we struggled."

After a 10-12 regular season finish, the Nordics made a post-season

Swim Club program is underway

Thief River Falls Swim Club spring swim program began Monday, April 6 at the Franklin Middle School pool.

Open to swimmers of all ages, the program is designed primarily to improve skills and fitness of elementary and middle school swimmers. Coaching will be given in the four competitive swim strokes, starts and turns.

Practices will be held Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 5 p.m. until May 8 when the pool will close for annual maintenance.

Swim meets will be held with other area swim programs.

Thief River Falls Swim Club coach Ryan Lokken will be instructing the elementary school swimmers, while Clint Armstrong coaches the older swimmers.

Interested swimmers can register at the pool during practice times. Registration fee is $28 for the spring program, or $35 for both the spring and summer programs.

For additional information contact Lokken at 681-4942, or Jim Langland at 681-7332.

Golf Club will have meeting

Semi-annual meeting of the Thief River Golf Club will be held Wednesday at the club house.

Social is set for 6 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7 and the meeting starts at 8.

Financial report, the 1992 budget, expansion update and 1992 operations update will be items of discussion.

Middle School

Franklin Middle School boys and girls track teams opened their 1992 season Monday at the Crookston Winter Shows Building.

Michelle Erickson and Rhonda Rothschadl coach the sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls. Steve Heggen and Alan Mitchell coach the Franklin boys.

Next outing for the Franklin track teams will be at the April 23 Crookston Outdoor.

1991-92 Grygla-Gatzke boys high school basketball...

Eagles have memorable season

It was exciting. And it was fun. That's the way Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson is going to remember the 1991-92 boys high school basketball season.

The Eagles wound up 14-9 during a year that included seven wins by four points or less and three two-point losses. Three games went into overtime - one was a double overtime effort and another contest went into triple overtime.

The season ended in that type of fashion, too, as the Eagles dropped a down-to-the-wire 52-50 Section 8A Sub-Section 4 tournament quarterfinal decision to Argyle. "We would have liked to gone further in the playoffs, but the way the season went, I guess it was a fitting way to end," said Johnson. "We came pretty close to where I thought we would be this year. We were in just about every game - and that's always our goal. It was one of the most exciting and most enjoyable years of coaching I've ever had."

A balanced Grygla-Gatzke attack featured three double figure scorers as 5-10 senior Mitch Bernstein averaged 14.4 points per game, 6-3 junior Jeremy Engelstad 13.0 and 6-3 senior Ryan Bakken 11.7.

Joining Bernstein, Engelstad and Bakken in a group of six players used as starters by Johnson were 6-1 juniors Scott Rindahl (8.7 average) and Rick Warne (5.2), along with 5-9 senior Justin Lunsetter (6.0).

"We had great balance," pointed out Johnson. "We had six kids capable of scoring 20 points. It seemed like a different player would step forward at any given time to get the job done. And the kids we had coming off the bench all did their role, too."

The Eagles' season took a solid turn toward the positive in late January, explained Johnson, when they bounced back from a disappointing 68-41 loss to Goodridge that put them at 5-6 with a 70-68 overtime victory over eventual Section 8A Sub-Section 4 champion Roseau that started an eight-game winning streak.

"We had some good, solid athletic talent to work with," acknowledged Johnson, "and we had outstanding leadership from our seniors, not only in athletics, but in areas like academics and other school activities."

The seniors will be missed, admitted Johnson, but three front-line juniors return, a junior varsity team made great strides as the season progressed and the Eagles' seventh/eighth grade team showed great promise in going 27-4 this winter.

"We'll certainly miss the seniors," said Johnson. "Someone like a Mitch Bernstein comes along once every 15 years; he's a real gem. But I have to believe that our program is solid enough that we should remain competitive."

Tim Olson named is Nordics' MVP

Tim Olson was named most valuable, Jeremy Tallum was selected most improved and Robbie Anderson was tabbed the outstanding defensive player for the 1991-92 Marshall County Central boys high school basketball team.

The awards were announced at a recent banquet when recognition also went to Ivan Hirst as the Nordics' top rebounder, Anderson for leading the team in steals and Olson for team-leading figures in scoring, free throw shooting percentage and assists.

The 6-2 Olson averaged 16.9 points and 8.3 rebounds per game this winter, while the 6-4 Hirst scored 10.7 points and pulled down 8.4 rebounds per game. They are both juniors.

Anderson, a 6-1 senior, came close to giving the Nordics three double figure scoring averages for the year with a 9.5 figure. Two other seniors filling out the starting line-up at tournament time were 6-2 Jerod Olson and 5-10 Chad Bjorgaard, although the 6-3 Tallum and 5-9 Shane Borg, a pair of juniors, also played extensively.

Olson and Hirst were North Border All-Conference picks, while Anderson was given Honorable Mention status.

The Nordics wound up 12-14 for the year - just the third losing season in Ron Ueland's 25 years as head coach at Newfolden.

But eight of those losses were by five or fewer points, and many of them were frustrating down-to-the-wire setbacks.

And while Ueland didn't want to use it as an excuse, the fire that destroyed the Newfolden school in November and left the basketball team without a home court for the 1991-92 season had to play a role in the Nordics' below-par finish. Practice was generally confined to a small, antiquated elementary school gym in the community, and the entire 26-game schedule was spent on the road. The 'home' portion of the season included five games in Middle River and five in Thief River Falls - four at Northland Community College; one at Lincoln High School.

"We don't normally finish below .500," noted Ueland, "but we weren't really that far from winning 15-16 games. It was a frustrating season," he admitted, because of the string of closes losses and the facility situation. "A basketball season is a test of endurance in itself, and when you add all of the travel to it like we did, you could see where we ran out of gas at times."

One of the bright spots for the Nordics was a school-record single-season team rebounding performance, pointed out Ueland. "We weren't big, physically, but we had some decent height and we had some good jumpers," he explained. "They did a real nice job on the boards."

With the rebounders in place, the Nordics rolled when their outside shooters were on target. "When we shot well from the outside, we were almost unbeatable because our inside game was solid," said Ueland. "But we didn't have the consistent outside shooting. When we didn't hit from the outside, we struggled."

After a 10-12 regular season finish, the Nordics made a post-season

Swim Club program is underway

Thief River Falls Swim Club spring swim program began Monday (April 6) at the Franklin Middle School pool.

Open to swimmers of all ages, the program is designed primarily to improve skills and fitness of elementary and middle school swimmers. Coaching will be given in the four competitive swim strokes, starts and turns.

Practices will be held Monday through Friday from 3:30 to 5 p.m. until May 8 when the pool will close for annual maintenance.

Swim meets will be held with other area swim programs.

Thief River Falls Swim Club coach Ryan Lokken will be instructing the elementary school swimmers, while Clint Armstrong coaches the older swimmers.

Interested swimmers can register at the pool during practice times. Registration fee is $28 for the spring program, or $35 for both the spring and summer programs.

For additional information contact Lokken at 681-4942, or Jim Langland at 681-7332.

Golf Club will have meeting

Semi-annual meeting of the Thief River Golf Club will be held Wednesday at the club house.

Social is set for 6 p.m. Dinner will be served at 7 and the meeting starts at 8.

Financial report, the 1992 budget, expansion update and 1992 operations update will be items of discussion.

Middle School

Franklin Middle School boys and girls track teams opened their 1992 season Monday at the Crookston Winter Shows Building.

Michelle Erickson and Rhonda Rothschadl coach the sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls; Steve Heggen and Alan Mitchell coach the Franklin boys.

Next outing for the Franklin track teams will be at the April 23 Crookston Outdoor.
